ORGANIZATION'S FORCES ARE AGAIN IN CONTROL

Presiding Officers and Heads of Street and Fire Committees the same as in 1904.

ALMOST IGNORE TYLER

MacMurray Unanimously Reappointed City Clerk—Daniel Chairman of Finance Committee.

Without any unnecessary delay the 1906 Common Council met promptly last night to organize for the year. All of the new members were present. The only absent councilmen being W. S. Tyler and Leslie M. Daniel. Many friends of the new body occupied seats in the lobby and watched the opening proceedings with considerable interest. Aside from perfecting an organization and referring matters left over from last year to the new committees, little else was done.

The first business was that of electing a president. Ralph I. Tolles was chosen and Councilmen Daniel F. Ginna and Herbert Buxton were appointed to escort the new presiding officer to the chair. Upon his arrival there a handsome basket of roses awaited him. It was the gift of the genial president's First ward friends, and a hearty handclapping was accorded Mr. Tolles upon its presentation. The president thanked his friends for the remembrance.

Mr. Gloak introduced several resolutions, the first of which was that appointing James T. MacMurray city clerk for a term of three years. He received the unanimous vote of the Common Council, as did also Jacob T. Dunham, who was appointed janitor for the coming year. Mr. Gloak gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would move that the rules of order for 1905 be the by-laws of the Common Council for 1906, with a few amendments where repetition occurred and which were unimportant except in the case where the license and police committees were separated, the former being composed of three members and the latter of five members.

George B. Wean was appointed stenographer and copyist for the coming year at a salary of $400, and the city clerk was authorized to secure the committee cards and other supplies for the year. On Mr. Gloak's resolution The Daily Press and the the Courier-News were made the official newspapers of the city for the coming year.

President Tolles announced the committees for the years as follows:

Finance—Leslie M. Daniel, chairman; Henry D. Hibbard, Herbert Buxton, Charles C. Randolph.

Streets and Sewers—William L. Gloak, chairman; Leslie M. Daniel, Daniel F. Ginna, Charles C. Randolph, Herbert Buxton.

Fire and Buildings—George P. Mellick, chairman; Frank D. Randolph, Francis L. Montgomery, Herbert Buxton, William L. Gloak.

Public Affairs—Herbert Buxton, chairman; Leslie M. Daniel, George P. Mellick, William L. Gloak, Frank D. Randolph.

Lights and Trees—Henry D. Hibbard, chairman; Francis L. Montgomery, William S. Tyler.

Alms—Charles C. Randolph, chairman, Francis L. Montgomery, William S. Tyler.

License—Francis L. Montgomery, chairman; William S. Tyler, Daniel F. Ginna.

Auditing—William S. Tyler, chairman; Charles C. Randolph, Henry D. Hibbard.

Mr. Gloak offered a resolution appropriating $3,000 for the use of the streets and sewers committee, until the regular appropriations are fixed for the year. This was adopted.

A lengthy communication was received from Mrs. Mary M. Lane regarding a former petition presented by her to the Common Council to change the name of Lane avenue to Laing avenue, in honor of a relative, Captain Benjamin Laing, who performed conspicuous service in the Revolutionary War. She urged that the change be made and offered to stand any expense that might be incurred thereby. Mrs. Lane is the widow of W. B. T. Lane, and in her communication she gave a brief historical sketch of her ancestors showing her reasons for her request. The matter was referred to the street committee.

CONVULSIONS END LIFE OF WM. R. STANBERY

FANWOOD MAN PASSES AWAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

From the effects of epileptic convulsions that seized him a week ago William Runyon Stanbery died at his home in Fanwood at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. His condition had been alarming from early Friday morning and his death had been expected momentarily.

When first taken ill Stanbery was advised by his physician, Dr. E. W. Westcott, to remain in bed. He did so until Thursday, when he dressed and left the house despite the protests of his attendant. He went to Newark on business and then returned to this city, spending a short time calling on friends. Feeling ill, he started for home, and while on the way was again seized with convulsions. One succeeded another and he had difficulty in reaching the house. Dr. Westcott was again summoned and remained with him almost constantly, while Dr. Zeglio was called in consultation. Nothing could be done for the patient, although the physicians resorted to every method to relieve his sufferings.

Stanbery was forty-eight years old and was born at Scotch Plains, always living in the village or at Fanwood. He was educated at Rutgers College and engaged in various business pursuits in this city and Newark. He was one of the organizers of the Watchung Silk Company, which has a factory on Chatham street, and was its manager until a short time ago. He was also assessor for Fanwood borough for many years, holding the office at the time of his death. He was a member of Fanwood Council, Royal Arcanum, and other fraternal organizations.

Surviving him are is father, William C. Stanbery, of Scotch Plains, and a son, William R. Stanbery, Jr., now living with his grandfather. Mrs. Stanbery took her life two months ago by drinking carbolic acid while in a fit of melancholia.

The funeral will be held from his late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

NEW TAX COLLECTOR ASSUMES HIS DUTIES.

John W. Murray, Jr., Gathering City's Revenue.

Tax Collector John W. Murray, Jr., assumed the duties of his office this morning, succeeding Robert L. Lee, whose term expired yesterday. Mr. Murray was occupied most of the day in becoming acquainted with the duties of his new position. A few delinquents dropped in to settle their taxes. Many of his friends happened in and extended congratulations. Mr. Murray seems perfectly at home in his new office and anticipates no trouble.

Mr. Lee will remain at the office for at least a week, as it will require that much time for him to finish up the business left over from last year.

T. A. B. Annual Masquerade.

St. Mary's T. A. B. Society gave its annual masquerade ball in T. A. B. Hall, last night. The affair was largely attended and was one of the most successful the organization has yet conducted. The committee that had charge was composed of Miles Wilson, chairman; David Doyle, Michael Higgins, Thomas McInerney, Joseph Kennedy, Clarence Waldron and Thomas Hines.

Orange Field Club Dance.

The Orange Field Club has issued invitations for a dance to be given at the former I. C. T. Hall Thursday night. Burlin Banks is chairman of the committee to have charge and Suhr's Imperial orchestra will furnish the music.

Rasores Club Meeting.

The Rasores Club met this morning at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Yates, of East Seventh street.

PLAINFIELD MOTORMAN HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

HIS CAR STRUCK AND KILLED SMALL BOY AT NEWARK.

A main line Elizabeth-Plainfield trolley car, in charge of Motorman Frederick G. Freshett, of West Fourth street, this city, and Conductor Robert Winans, of Cranford, struck and killed a small boy at Clinton avenue and Broad street, Newark, Saturday night. The victim was Theodore Debus, twelve years old, of Newark, who attempted to steal a ride on the back platform of a Clinton avenue car and jumped off directly in front of the main line car. His skull was fractured and he lived but a few minutes afterward.

A patrolman placed Freshett under arrest and took him to the William street station, where he was paroled for the night. Afterward a formal charge of manslaughter was preferred against him and he was held in $1,000 bail, the amount being furnished by Dr. Charles F. Underwood, surgeon of the Public Service Corporation.

Freshett admitted to the police that he had been driving his car pretty fast but claimed he did not see the boy until he jumped directly in front of the dashboard and that it was impossible to escape hitting him.

A large congregation attended a watch-night service at Grace P. E. church. The service began at 11 o'clock and ended shortly after the new year came in.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson, the rector, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector-emeritus, and Rev. Mr. Miller, the colored curate. The rector delivered a brief new year's sermon. His theme was the greater value of looking to the future rather than dwelling on the past.

The girl was in the employ of Dickenson until two week ago, when she changed her position. After she left, Mr. Dickenson alleges, the jewelry was missed and suspicion fell on her. A warrant was sworn out yesterday. Officer Kelly arrested the girl at her new place of employment on East Front street this morning. She took her arrest quietly.

NEW YEAR'S USHERED IN ACTIVELY AT Y. M. C. A.

BOYS' EXHIBIT, ENTERTAINMENT, BASKETBALL, TUMBLING AND STAR COURSE

Open house was observed at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday, in accordance with an annual New Year's Day custom. A large number of visitors were entertained throughout the day from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon with a varied programme of sports and music.

An exhibition of gymnasium work by the boys' department was the initial feature of the day, beginning shortly after 10 o'clock. The exhibition included wand drill, led by Charles Line; dumbell drill, led by Donald Mortimer, Albert Miller, Charles Line and Clarence Steiner; pyramids, and a basketball game between pick-up fives.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon visitors were entertained in the upper hall by the Musical Stewarts. The entertainers rendered a thoroughly enjoyable bill of musical specialties and melodious nonsense.

A lively game of basketball was played at 4 o'clock by the ex-High School five and the P. H. S Scrubs. The Scrubs worked hard, but the young men with the basketball past were a little too much for them. That this is letting the Scrubs down is evident from a glance at the score—40 to 18. Scull, ex-High School, was the villain who chiefly pursued the innocent Scrubs. Line-up and summary:

High School.	Ex-High School.
Smith	Gavett
Collier	Neal
Leggett	Scull
Gavett	Browning
Caldwell	Letson

Goals from field—Scull, 15; Browning, Gavett, 3; Neal, Doane, 3; Collier, Caldwell. Goals from foul—Browning, Neal.

Walter McNaughton, champion amateur high diver of the State, was to have given an exhibition between halves, but he was not in condition to appear. His place was taken by Bert Hanson, who proved entertaining as a substitute with a string of tumbling moves.

The Lotus Glee Club, in the star course, at night, rounded off the day at the association admirably. With Mrs. Minnie Marshall Smith, with whose work as a dramatic reciter Plainfield is familiar, the well known quartette presented a programme that delighted a full house.

The singing was unusually good, and the numbers were all most enjoyable. "An Act of Up-to-date Opera," written by George Ade, with the music arranged by F. J. Smith, the Glee Club conductor, was particularly delightful. C. L. Lewis, of this city, is still with the quartette, and his bass is a decided factor in the finished volume of sound that rolls from it. The other members of the club are H. W. Hindmeyer, G. Morgan Stricklett, tenors, and E. V. Goodwin, bass.

Mrs. Arnold's Mother Dead.

Mrs. Ellen B. Hunt, widow of the late George W. Hunt, and mother of Mrs. William F. Arnold, of Third place, died Thursday, December 29, at her home in Gates avenue, Brooklyn, in her 83d year. She was one of the oldest and most prominent members of the Nostrand Avenue M. E. church, Brooklyn, and a faithful Christian. Besides Mrs. Arnold, she is survived by two other daughters, Dr. Ida B. Hunt and Mrs. B. J. Beel, and one son, George W. Hunt, of Brooklyn. The funeral services were held from the late home Sunday, December 31.

Repeated Christmas Music.

The choir of the First Baptist church repeated its Christmas music on Sunday night before a large congregation. The entire programme was rendered, including the various anthems and these with the solo parts were greatly enjoyed. Miss Florence Wohlfert assisted on the violin, besides playing the prelude, with organ accompaniment. The pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, preached an impressive sermon, appropriate to the occasion, and at the close he wished everyone present a Happy New Year.

Day Nursery Opening.

The date for the formal opening of the proposed King's Daughters' day nursery will be settled definitely at a meeting to be held Thursday morning at the Y. M. C. A. The general character of the opening has been decided upon. It will be held in the afternoon and take the form of a combined tea and "package party." The Daughters will send invitations to a large number of friends, with the request that each visitor bring a package of some dry grocery.

Grace Church Carol Service.

The Sunday-school of Grace P. E. church held its Christmas carol service on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The rector, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, who is superintendent of the school, spoke on a Christmas theme.

COCK FIGHT IN A LANE ON WASHINGTON STREET

DARING YOUNG SPORTSMEN CAME NEAR BEING ARRESTED—MAY BE YET.

Two well known young men started the New Year in a decidedly sporty way. They held a cock-fight in a lane on Washington street early yesterday afternoon.

The fight was between a bantam owned by one of the young men and a game cock belonging to a Washington street man. The bantam's owner brought the bird to the other man's house and challenged him to let the fighters come together. The man was as game as his feathered fighter and brought the cock out. The main was marked out in the lane beside the house, almost on the street.

The birds fought well, cheered on by their owners. They were not shod and the contest ended in a draw. Although the young men did not know it they came very near being arrested, and may be yet. An indignant woman watched the fight from the rear window of a neighboring house, and she was on the point of telephoning to the police when her husband interfered. She knows all the men connected with the affair, and is spunky enough to make a complaint and appear in prosecution of it.

GREET THE NEW YEAR SINGING DOXOLOGY.

Monroe Avenue Church Bell Peals Forth As 1906 Appears.

The closing day of 1905, which marked the ninth anniversary of the history of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, was fittingly celebrated on Sunday by the members and friends of that organization. In the morning the Rev. George Mooney, pastor of the church, preached an appropriate sermon. In the evening, beginning at 9 o'clock, the services continued until midnight.

Walter M. McGee conducted the early service at night for the Epworth League, using as his subject the regular Epworth League topic, "What Have You Learned During the Past Year?" He closed the meeting by reading an interesting historical sketch that had been prepared by N. M. Smith. At 10 o'clock Mr. Mooney received the following persons on probation: Mary Matthews, Carrie Brower, Sadie Brower, Mrs. Aaron Brower, Mrs. Thomas McNeill, Ethel May Bush, Chauncey Lant, John Gray, Victor Houston, Clarence Heaume, John W. Daub. In addition to these the following united with the church by letter: Daniel Heaume, Mrs. Daniel Heaume, Mrs. Arthur S. Mosher. The celebration of the Lord's Supper followed, after which a covenant meeting was held, lasting until 12 o'clock, when the congregation joined heartily in singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," while the church bell pealed out its welcome to the new year.

Mrs. Margaret Powers Dead.

Mrs. Margaret Powers, for many years a resident of this city, died Sunday night at the home of her son-in-law, Edward C. Searing, on Park avenue, following an illness of five weeks. She underwent an operation on the foot, and owing to her advanced age she did not improve. Death was due to acute Bright's disease. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Searing. The funeral services were held this morning at 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's church and the interment was in St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were F. S. Moore, William Waglow, Hugh Reilly, Fred Shepherd, Louis Feiring and Thomas Buckley.

Honor for Dr. Browning.

Dr. W. Kempton Browning, of Park avenue, received a professional New Year's honor in the shape of an appointment as assistant gynaecologist at the New York Polyclinic Hospital, under Dr. J. Riddle Goffe, surgeon. Dr. Browning is specializing on women's diseases, and his post-graduate studies in New York won him the appointment. He will continue his practice here, his duties at the hospital calling him into the city twice a week.

Gathered About the Fireplace.

The annual New Year's eve log-fire sociable of the Y. M. C. A. was enjoyed by fifty or more young men Saturday night in the spacious parlor of the association. With big logs roaring and crackling in the great fireplace, the young men spent a delightfully informal evening. Martin B. Stutsman recited; Walter Sampson played flute and piano solos; and Otto Meuck and P. R. Collier played piano selections.

Supper for Choir.

The members of Grace P. E. church choir who sang at the watch night service were entertained at supper in the parish house after the evening service, by the parish, Sunday night.

CITY'S HEALTH IN 1905

Death Rate Low But Increase of Tuberculosis Calls for Attention.

SANITARY INSPECTION

Births and Marriages — House-to-House Examination Milk and Water Investigations.

The annual report of the Board of Health presented at the first meeting of the 1906 Common Council, last night, by Health Officer L. R. Thurlow, supplemented with a summary of the work by President C. J. Fisk, shows that Plainfield's health condition was never better and that during the past year a great amount of work has been accomplished by the board and its assistants. The salient features of the report are as follows:

Finances.

Receipts—Balance January 1, 1905, $82.01; appropriation from Common Council, $4,500; fees collected, $882; total, $5,464.01; disbursements—General expenses, $4,546.45; fees paid to city treasurer, $880; annual report to State Board of Health, $2; balance January 1, 1906, $35.56; total, $5,464.01.

General Outline.

The following detailed report will show a marked improvements in the sanitary condition of the city. The general health for the past year, so far as it may be judged by the total mortality and communicable diseases, has been better than the average for many years. The milk supply has shown an improvement as may be seen by referring to the table of milk analysis.

The one great need of the city at the present time is: Some proper collection and disposal of the garbage and ashes under municipal control. A glance at the results of the house-to-house inspections will show the great need of having the garbage removed. I would strongly recommend, both from a sanitary and economical standpoint, the adoption of some proper collection and disposal system before the summer of 1906. Our population for 1905 as given by the census reports is 18,478. Of this number 16,628 are white and 1,850 colored.

Deaths.

The total number of deaths recorded in 1905 was the same as in the previous year. There were 286. This represents a death rate of 15.48 per thousand population. Ninety-six of the total number of deaths were among persons over sixty years of age; this is about thirty-three and one-third per cent.

There were 367 births reported in 1905, representing a rate of 19:32 per thousand population. Births by sexes—Male, 175; female, 182; total, 357; births by color—White, 307; colored, 50; total, 357.

One hundred and forty-four marriages were reported during the year, giving a rate of 7.79 per thousand population. Of the 144 marriages, 125 were white and 19 colored.

The folowing is a summary of the returns made to this office during 1905: Marriages, 144; births, 357; still-births, 24; deaths, 286; total, 811.

Communicable Disease.

Plainfield was particularly fortunate in 1905 in having but few cases of communicable disease. There were 360 cases reported, 40 of which resulted in death.

Diseases.	Cases.	Deaths.
Scarlet fever	47	0
Diphtheria	23	1
Tuberculosis	23	35
Chicken pox	15	0
Measles	215	1
Typhoid fever	22	2
Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis	1	1
Whooping cough	14	0
Totals	360	40

This dreaded disease—tuberculosis—the chief cause of death—was not properly reported during the year by the physicians. Only 23 cases were reported and there were 35 deaths.

We are endeavoring in every way to prevent the spread of this disease. Disinfection was made compulsory after deaths from tuberculosis and steps were taken to enforce our ordinance against spitting in public places.

During this coming year we hope to more fully control the spread of tuberculosis.

Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis.

On September 5, 1905, cerebro-spinal meningitis was declared by the Board of Health to be contagious and dangerous to the public health, and physicians were required to report cases within twenty-four hours.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Rev. S. K. Doolittle preached to two good sized congregations in the Methodist church Sunday. His morning text was Cor. 1:3:21, "For all things are yours;" his evening subject was from Hebrews 12:1, "Let us run the race that is set before us."

A number of young people from the borough attended the watch night service at Monroe Avenue church.

Union meetings in observance of the week of prayer will begin in the Methodist church next Sunday night, the Presbyterians and Methodists taking part. Rev. W. W. Casselberry will preach. The services will continue all week, alternating between the two churches. They will conclude with a communion service on the fourteenth. Rev. S. K. Doolittle will be in charge.

The tax bills of the year for the building and loan association amount to $1,304.

The Christmastide musical programme at Holy Innocents' church Sunday morning was of unusual beauty. "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" was the principal number, in which D. W. Lapham, Jr., rendered the baritone solo with fine effect. The congregation was large.

Prof. Howard D. White, who has been spending his vacation at his home at Carlisle, Pa., has returned.

The first day of the year passed here very nicely. The usual midnight welcome was to a certain extent cut out on account of the day being Sunday. The stores closed part of the day and the citizens in general passed the day in brushing up last year's good resolutions, which had been laid away early in 1906.

The annual election for fire department officers will be held tonight in the company headquarters. Last year, through lack of interest manifested by the members of Excelsior H. and L. Co., the B. and E. Co. walked away with the prize. This year the older company intends making a strong bid for the honors.

The public school reopens tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, after a ten days' holiday vacation.

America's Greatest Furniture Store

Inauguratas Its Immensely Important

Annual January Sale Today.

This is without question the biggest trade movement this or any other house in New Jersey undertakes. In its influence on the home lives of the people of the State, in its effect on trade, in the money value of the stock involved, in the positive savings to the public, this sale has an importance that cannot be over-estimated.

A Quarter Million Dollars' Worth of Furniture

Will Be on Sale at Decisively Reduced Prices

There is a constant procession of trains bringing furniture to this establishment. There are new arrivals daily. The stock is always immense, always complete, always unmatched and well nigh unmatchable. But, now, on the eve of this great January movement, the choice is more diversified than ever. Contemplate for a moment what it means to have two acres of floor space.

No Two Pieces Alike; Every Piece Different.

And—most noteworthy fact—every piece in the wonderful collection is desirable, dependable, up-to-date. The stock surpasses in completeness, in quality, in variety the combined stocks of the furniture stores of the State. No store in New York City surpasses it in any respect. No department store anywhere equals the display we make and none sell at lower prices.

Every Piece in the House Reduced.

With but the insignificant exception of Prairie Grass Furniture, every piece of furniture in the store is offered at a reduced price—a reduction that is as real as it is reasonable.

Parlor Furniture, Dining Room Furniture, Library Furniture, Bed Room Furniture, Music Room Furniture, Den Furniture, Living Room Furniture, Odd Pieces of Many Sorts—all in such generous variety as to almost bewilder you—will be here at reduced prices.

The sale lasts throughout January, but prospective buyers are urged to take the earliest opportunity to come in, look over the stock, make comparisons, make selections, think it over, talk it over between husband and wife—finally buy to your profit.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

In "As Ye Sow," the new play by the Rev. Dr. John Snyder, of Boston, which had its premier at the Garden theatre, New York, Christmas, William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grimser believe they have another popular success of the type of the "Old Homestead," "Way Down East" and "Shore Acres." It will be recalled that the last named plays gradually grew to great popularity after having been at first received with some skepticism by the more severe critics, and that they still—years after their initital presentations—are potent and profitable attractions throughout the country. That "As Ye Sow" has many of the qualities which made famous "Way Down East" is conceded and its reception in New York is much the same as that which characterized the advent of that immensely successful play here some nine years ago. "As Ye Sow" will not satisfy those who revel in the risque or who rejoice in the unclean in the drama. It is a play built on simple and altogether wholesome lines, but withal intensely interesting throughout, with strong love interest, pathos, and comedy situations blended. It is a play which appeals to the "average citizen" and is not intended for the edification of those who seek only the frivolous things which the stage offers. The success with which the piece met in Boston and Chicago was indeed phenomenal, but ere the engagement terminates at the Garden Messrs. Brady and Grimser expect to see the records in those two cities duplicated in New York. In addition to the interest aroused among the regular patrons of the theatre much attention has been given "As Ye Sow" among those who seldom are seen in places of amusement. The fact that the piece was written by a minister has brought many church folk to the Garden theatre during the present week and it is likely that the work of the Rev. Dr. Snyder as author will receive formal recognition by the clergy of New York during the engagement. A special matinee of "As Ye Sow" will be given New Year's Day and regular matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday during the engagement.

The final performances, at least for the time being, of "The Walls of Jericho," the great Alfred Sutro play, with James K. Hackett and Mary Mannering, which has been for four months the leading attraction in New York, at the Savoy theatre, are announced, as Mr. Hackett, in conjunction with Miss Mannering, will be seen in another new play at the Savoy theatre, on Monday, January 22. This new play, called "The House of Silence," is by Herman K. Viele. At the time that Mr. Hackett took the Savoy theatre last spring, it was his intention to produce, along with "The Walls of Jericho," several other plays, and with that end in view made arrangements with his authors in accordance. "The Walls of Jericho," however, found such great success that Mr. Hackett, not wishing to interefere with its run, succeeded in the postponement from time to time of the production of these other plays. He now finds further delay of "The House of Silence" cannot be made, hence the announcement of its production on January 22. It is Mr. Hackett's intention, however, to retire only for a time "The Walls of Jericho," as immediately after the run of "The House of Silence" the Sutro play is to be again restored. Another interesting announcement is that the limited co-star arrangement between Mr. and Mrs. Hackett (Mary Mannering) is to be continued further and Miss Mannering, in addition to appearing in "The House of Silence," will be seen in her present role in "The Walls of Jericho" when that play is again resumed.

LITERARY.

Pearson's Magazine for January contains eight unusually bright and sparkling short stories and no less than six special articles, among which is the inside story of the recent famous Jerome campaign. This article, anecdotal, and written in an inimitable style, is the work of Robert Adamson, who was at the elbow of Jerome from first to last throughout the memorable contest. The National Ravages of Alcohol is an astounding article which every person—be he teetotaler, or temperate or excessive in the use of alcoholic beverages—should read. This article, based on Government statistics, is far from being a tract. "A Sailor of Fortune," with Farragut on the eve of running the forts, is highly interesting. "Shark Hunting" is entertaining, while "The Power of the Press" and "A Day in a Premier's Life" are of the light, instructive sort, fit for the log-fire and the long winter evenings. Among the stories is an extremely funny one, "The Senorita and the Great Goat Syndicate." But, most important of these tales is "The Scar," which is the first of a series of absolutely true experiences taken from the diary of Monsieur Goron, until recently the chief of the Paris Detective Bureau—the most famous body of sleuths in the world.

Edward B. Rynder, of the F. L. C. Martin Automobile Company, has returned from a southern business trip in an auto.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Durkee, of Doylestown, Pa., have returned home after a visit with Mrs. Durkee's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Aaron, of East Fifth street.

Plainfield, N. J., January 2, 1906.

BAIRD DIRECTOR OF SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS

CHOSEN AS SUCCESSOR TO WILLIAM J. LOGAN.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders met at the Court House, Somerville, this morning, for reorganization. John V. Bunn, of Bernards; John G. Smith, of Bound Brook, and Joseph Fitzga, of Somerville, were sworn in as new members. Although W. J. Logan's term as director has not expired, he is no longer a member of the board, and it was necessary to choose his successor.

Henry W. Baird, of North Branch, was elected director over R. W. Hoagland, the vote being six to five. Mr. Baird will serve until the annual meeting of the board the first Wednesday in May. W. J. Logan, the retiring director, had been a member of the board twelve years, nine of which he served as director. He was presented with a Morris chair, T. E. Gibson, of Rocky Hill, making the presentation on behalf of the board. At this afternoon's session of the board the committees will be announced by the new director.

OBSERVANCE OF WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalman Rothberg and Son Celebrate Together.

Louis Rottberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kalman Rottberg, was confirmed at the synagogue, Congregation of the Children of Israel, on Saturday, the young man having attained his thirteenth year.

Sunday afternoon he was given a reception at Vardon's Hall on West Front street, and the occasion was of unusual interest because with it was combined the twentieth anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kalman Rottberg. This was a surprise to many of the guests. They were married in New York twenty years ago and moved to Plainfield a year later, where they have continued to reside. At the celebration a supper was served, speeches were made and Naylor's orchestra played for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Rottberg received many handsome gifts, including a diamond ring and a pair of gold cuff buttons from their sons Samuel and Harry. The other son, Louis, also received many gifts.

Frank Bonner Dead.

Frank Bonner, one of the old Crescent League baseball players, who made an enviable record here in the game several years ago, died in a hospital in Kansas City Sunday night from blood poisoning brought on by quinsy. He was forty-one years old and for twenty years was a professional ball player. He played with the Baltimore Orioles when that team won the pennant three years in succession, played for Louisville before being transferred to Kansas City, and last season was considered one of the best second basemen in the American Association. His nearest relative is a brother at Worcester, Mass.

Entertained at Whist.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tallamy, of West Front street, entertained the Dunellen Whist Club, of which they are members, at their home last night. There were three tables. After the play refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in a social manner.

Mrs. Matilda Dunham Dead.

Mrs. Matilda Ann Dunham, wife of Joseph Dunham, colored, of Plainfield avenue, died yesterday. She was in her seventieth year. The funeral service will be held at Mt. Zion A. M. E. church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

bakeries in Plainfield was made this past year. Very few violations of the laws of the State and those of this Board were found.

Ice Supply.

The ice supplied in Plainfield during 1905 came exclusively from Watchung Lake and was of good quality.

House-to-house Inspection.

The survey commenced about the middle of May and brought to a close the first of September. In this time 1,638 houses were inspected, which, with the inspections made a year ago, cover a section of the city bounded by Green brook, Clinton avenue, West Sixth street, Park avenue, Prospect avenue, Woodland avenue, South avenue and Berckman street.

Diseased Meat and Butcher Shop Inspection.

A thorough inspection of every butcher shop in the city was started, special attention being paid to the pork then in stock and the general sanitary condition of the shop. No meat was found which seemed diseased and the shops themselves were in fair condition.

Nuisances.

The total number of nuisances investigated during the year was 203; of these 164 were abated and in the remaining cases either there was no cause for complaint or no action could be taken by the Board.

Garbage.

To a person considering making Plainfield their place of residence, one of the most noticeable features of the manner in which our city is cared for is the system, or rather lack of system, of garbage collection. Hundreds of cities and towns of the size of Plainfield, and in many cases much smaller, have a municipal system of collection and disposal of garbage and ashes. Why the present method used in our city is unsatisfactory, unsanitary and expensive has been thoroughly discussed in previous reports. We urged then the great need of establishing some system whereby the garbage could be removed frequently from every house in the city and disposed of in a sanitary manner.

Such a system could be installed in Plainfield under municipal control and maintained at a less cost than is now being paid private collectors for removing the garbage and ashes from only a part of the houses; and the citizens would no longer be subjected many times a day to the sight of broken down garbage wagons and the odors emanating from them. The city already owns the land and a building in which a crematory could be installed. I would strongly recommend and urge the adoption in Plainfield of some municipal collection and disposal of the garbage and ashes before the summer of 1906.

Disinfection.

Disinfection has become an important branch of the work of the board. During this past year more disinfection has been done than in any former year. Householders, realizing the necessity of disinfection, now ask for it, even in cases where we do not require it. Two hundred and fifty-six permits to do plumbing work were granted.

Milk Supply.

About 8,000 quarts of milk are sold in the city by seventy-two retailers. This milk comes from 119 dairies situated in all directions from Plainfield, from within the limits of the city itself to a distance of over fifty miles.

During the year many changes were made in the source of supply, which were, in the majority of cases, a decided improvement. Some of the men whose dairies were of the poorer class went out of business, as it was easier to do this than to comply with the rules of ordinary cleanliness required by this board; others who showed no intention of improving their dairies so that they would comply with our ordinances, were refused a permit to sell milk in the city.

Water Analysis.

The water supply of Plainfield has maintained, during the past year, its excellent quality. During the coming year I am in hopes of having the public supply analyzed periodically.

The water of numerous wells was analyzed and in some cases condemned and the wells ordered closed.

Holiday Offering a Hit.

A. J. Spencer's melodrama, "At the World's Mercy," pleased a capacity audience at the New Plainfield theatre last night. It was presented by a superior cast while the scenic mounting was the heaviest and most elaborate carried by any similar production that has yet appeared at the local playhouse. A waterfall shown in one act was produced with such natural effect that the spectators applauded tumultuously. The audience at the matinee yesterday afternoon was also very large.

Wedding Reception.

A wedding reception was given to Mr. and Mrs. William Hearn at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Leonard Bunn, of West Third street, last night. There was about fifty friends in attendance. Supper was served. Vocal and instrumental music were provided. The feature of the evening was a duet by Mrs. Katherine Bowers and Louis Sutline and the dancing of Fred Stillger, of Dunellen.

Mrs. Charles Duvier and her daughter, Miss Emily J. Duvier, of West Fifth street, have returned home from a stay in Brooklyn.

TUBERCULOSIS.

Dr. T. Bassett Keyes, of Chicago, read at the International Congress of Tuberculosis, St. Louis, 1904:

"I shall now give my results in the cure of Tuberculosis by the subcutaneous injection of oil. The oil which I have selected in the treatment of my cases has been Olive Oil of a very HIGH GRADE, thoroughly sterilized, using OLIVE OIL in PREFERENCE to other oils on account of its being non-irritating and very readily accepted by the system. I give my results thus early, believing that the cure of tuberculosis is solved and that by so doing, many lives will be saved. I hope and trust that physicians will at once take up this method of cure."

MAYOR SMALLEY SITS AS BOROUGH JUDGE

THOMAS DOUD'S TERM AS RECORDER EXPIRED YESTERDAY.

Recorder Doud's term as borough magistrate expired at noon yesterday and from now on Mayor Smalley will meet out punishment to offenders. He had his first chance this morning when three colored men were arraigned before him for reckless driving on Somerset street yesterday. The names and the verdict were George Randolph, $3 or five days, paid; Charles Harrison, $5 or seven days, paid; Charles Scott, $5 or seven days, waiting for friends to get the money.

Newspapermen who were in court were impressed with His Honor's magisterial dignity and the way he conducted the cases showed that he has mastered all the details necessary to fill the office. The prisoners were arrested by Marshals Weiss, Flack and Emmons.

WIFEY ANNOYED HIM.

That Was Why He Hit Her, Explains Michael O'Brien.

Michael O'Brien, arrested on complaint of his wife, who charged him with beating her, was arraigned in the city court this morning. When O'Brien was arrested his wife accused him of being drunk. O'Brien acknowledged hitting his wife, but said she provoked him to it. He denied being drunk, and insisted that he struck the blow because she nagged him.

Cop Higgins, who made the arrest, testified that O'Brien did not seem drunk when he got him and volunteered further testimony to the effect that Mrs. O'Brien was said to possess a temper of her own. As Mrs. O'Brien didn't appear, Judge Runyon decided the benefit of the doubt as to blame should be given the prisoner. Sentence was suspended.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT THE PARK CLUB

RECEPTION AND DANCE WERE TWO OF THE FEATURES.

The annual New Year's Day reception yesterday afternoon at the Park Club was the most successful in the history of the organization. Throughout the afternoon the clubhouse was thronged with members and friends and the affair was a brilliant social function. The tea and reception was from 3 to 6 o'clock, those in charge being Mrs. Henry C. Irons, Mrs. E. H. Ladd, Jr., Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows and Mrs. Frederick G. Mead.

The clubhouse was prettily decorated in holiday fashion, and especially attractive were the tea tables. Mrs. James R. Joy and Mrs. Henry A. McGee poured at one table and Mrs. A. V. Heely and Mrs. Townsend Rushmore at the other, while a bevy of young women assisted in serving.

A feature of the afternoon reception was the presentation of Jerome K. Jerome's comedy, "Sunset." The characters were taken by Miss Louise Saunders, Mrs. S. Fullerton Weaver, Miss Van Deventer, Walter H. McGee, Clifford W. McGee and Morgan T. Townsend. Generous praise was bestowed upon the participants for the successful production.

Last night the annual Junior dance was held, the children being allowed the privileges of the floor from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, when supper was served. From that hour until 1:30 this morning the older members enjoyed the dance. The patronesses for this dance were Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Henry C. White, Miss Munger, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore, Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mrs. A. W. Kleinecke and Mrs. Charles A. Reed.

The informal dance at the club on Saturday night was largely attended and proved to be a delightful affair.

MR. AND MRS. KARMER MARRIED 50 YEARS

VENERABLE COUPLE HOLD AN INFORMAL RECEPTION NEW YEAR'S DAY.

The fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Karner was celebrated New Year's Day at their home on Bradford avenue, near Clinton avenue. The rooms of the house were prettily decorated. The color effect in the dining room was yellow and white and in the parlor and library red and green.

At 2 o'clock a good old-fashioned dinner was served, of which friends and relatives from Nutley and Brooklyn partook. Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Nelson, of Nutley; Rev. and Mrs. Geo. N. Karner, of Brooklyn, with their four children, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cadmus and Mrs. Lizzie Osborn, of Brooklyn.

The gathering was not large on account of the illness of Mrs. Karner, who had a stroke of paralysis some months ago and has not since left her bed.

A. B. Karner was born in Berkshire County, Mass., February 8, 1825. Mrs. Karner is a native of the same county and is ten years younger than her husband. The venerable couple were married at Pittsfield, Mass., in 1856, and that same year came to New Jersey.

Mr. Karner was a public school teacher for twenty-five years, teaching at Allentown, Heightstown, Kingston, Rocky Hill, Ten-Mile-Run and Sayerville, New Jersey, and for the last twenty years have been a resident of Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Karner have three children living, Rev. Geo. N. Karner, of Brooklyn; Miss Clara I. Karner, the trained nurse, and Miss M. Lou Karner, teacher at Elizabeth, New Jersey. They are members of the First Presbyterian church and until recent years have always been active in church work.

During the afternoon and evening several neighbors and friends called to congratulate the aged couple. Among the numbers were Rev. and Mrs. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. William Shotwell and Mrs. Alvin Hoagland.

The gifts were suggestive and useful, a golden cake by William H. Shotwell and nearly seventy-five dollars in gold coin, besides letters of congratulation and flowers being conspicuous.

COUNTRY CLUB HOLDS DINNER AND DANCE.

One Hundred and Sixty Present at Affair at Casino Last Night.

The third of the series of dinner-dances under the auspices of the Plainfield Country Club was held at the Casino last night, being postponed from Saturday night so as not to conflict with the dance at the Park Club. The affair was even a greater success than the preceding two, there being about eighty couples present to enjoy the attractive programme of dances by Wetton's orchestra.

The elaborate decorations used during the holidays and for the charity ball remained and added to the brilliancy of the occasion. Many patrons of the dance had dinner at the Casino throughout the day and evening and much praise was given Mrs. Lena Hellstrom for the excellent menu and service.

CELEBRATORS SEPARATED.

John Meehan, driver for a wealthy New Yorker, who has a summer place near Bound Brook, drove into town yesterday with a friend in one of his employer's very swell rigs. John made friends with Edward Washington, colored, and the trio had a real good time until fate and booze separated them. Meehan and Washington were reunited in the city jail, but the reunion was not joyful.

Meehan and his friend dropped into Washington's house in the afternoon, and they struck up a friendship right away. After a graphophone and mixed ale party they drove away in Milhau's rig.

At Watchung and North avenues, near 6:30 o'clock, Washington withdrew from the party by falling out of the carriage. He was arrested a few minutes later by Patrolman Overbaugh.

Further along in the evening Patrolman Higgins observed Meehan, alone, steering a devious and uncertain course in the carriage on Watchung avenue. What became of the friend no one knows. Higgins took Meehan in to keep him safe.

In court this morning Judge Runyon pieced the tale together from the parts furnished by the prisoners. He was in an indulgent mood and suspended sentence.

Miss Reinhart's Wedding Date.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Mary Anderson Reinhart, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, of Belvidere avenue, to Matthew Maury Corbin, of Cincinnati. The ceremony will take place at Grace church on Wednesday evening, January 31, at 8:30 o'clock, to be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

From Our Society Correspondent.

Mr. Ike Cinch, of this city, better known in the world of art as "Citizen Fixit," is reported as being deeply interested in one of Cincinnati's fairest daughters. We have so far been unable to confirm this rumor, but no doubt will soon hear the merry tinkle of wedding bells.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Unusual interest is being taken by the general public in the production of Denman Thompson's companion play to the "Old Homestead," on Thursday evening at the New Plainfield theatre. There is but one company in existence playing "The Two Sisters," and that one appears as alone with its splendid metropolitan cast and scenic effect. Two excellent and handsome actresses appear as the "two sisters" "Martha" and "Mary" Howard, who leave their country home to search for work in great New York City, the maelstrom in which so many young women have been swallowed up in its merciless grasp is being besieged with all kinds of dangers and difficulties. Harry Pepper as the Montana hero and fearless man proved a friend of the stanchest kind, and one whose reward in marrying Mary makes a happy ending to the play.

Theatregoers of the city will have the pleasure of witnessing on Saturday afternoon and night at the New Plainfiel dtheatre "Running for Office," the musical play in which Geo. M. Cohan, who is now so prominent in the public eye, met with his great success. "Running for Office" is described as a rural musical comedy. It is entirely unlike most musical plays inasmuch as it possesses a plot and characters so original and so widely different from the average musical piece as to give it the deserved credit of being one of the most entertaining and original productions yet conceived by Mr. Cohan, who has written and produced several of America's most pronounced musical successes.

"Too Proud to Beg" is the title of Lincoln J. Carter's eminently successful melodrama, which will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. The piece is interesting and consistently honest as to real life, and so told as to meet the approval of the most critical of play goers. It contains an absorbing story that holds up to the last and keeps one on edge impatiently awaiting the numerous situations and climaxes that reveal the outcome of the plot. There are no steam boat explosions, railroad wrecks, pile driving devices and the other mechanical effects, that the average melodrama contains, but the success of the piece is left entirely to the dramatic value and action which relies solely on the splendidly harmonious cast to bring out its ever interesting feature. Those in the production number some of the cleverest artists on the stage and include Mary Servoss, Fred Eckhart, Jake Simons, Arthur Lynds, and the clever Boylan children, whose acrobatic work is said to be the neatest on the stage, marvellous and wonderful in the extreme. In their acting parts they speak with naturalness, tenderness and truthful candor that elicit the sympathy of all.

In "Over Niagara Falls," the new melodramatic sensation, Rowland & Clifford will offer at the New Plainfield theatre tonight, several scenes and ideas new to the stage will be presented, Lake Chatauqua, recognized as the most beautiful of any of the American lakes, is most elaborately pictured, also the interior of the Pan American Indian Congress, a complete and picturesque scene, but the act that attracts the most attention is the one in which the world famous cataract Niagara is depicted. Never before have the Falls been shown in all their pristine grandeur, and it was only after many weary months of ceaseless toil and discouraging experimenting that perfection was finally attained. Electricity is an important factor and without its aid a picture that is so perfect as to be startling could never have been produced. The ingenuity of the scenic artist and carpenter has also been taxed and several inventions new to the stage are the result.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whittingham, of Baltimore, are visiting Mrs. Whittingham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus VanDeventer, of Washington avenue.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.
Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.
Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.
"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

UNION CO. PLEASED WITH CO. K'S SHOWING

PLAINFIELD COMPANY MADE BEST SHOWING IN REGIMENT.

General Breintnall says in his annual report: "The improvement in the status in the Second and Third regiments, in the respect of percentage of yearly duty and present at muster, has so brought up their figures of general merit that now the Third Regiment ranks the highest in general average of all the regiments, and the second is only 4-10 per cent. behind it."

Of the companies in the Second Regiment which show 85 per cent. or better in general merit, Company K, of Plainfield, commanded by Captain William B. Martin, of Elizabeth, has the highest record, 87 2-10 per cent. The people of Union county will be pleased with this excellent showing of their local guardsmen, and Gen. Breintnall's comment is indeed high praise and reflects credit upon the officers and upon the men for their appreciation of their responsibility to strive for soliderly efficiency.—Elizabeth Journal.

Behind the Scenes of Newspaperdom.

Readers of daily newspapers seldom realize the arduous work that has been put into every issue of their favorite sheet. Arduous, when everything is running smoothly, but when in the systematic chain there is a weak link, then indeed the difficulties to be overcome are stupendous. No man likes to be kept waiting for his morning news—and no newspaper likes to keep him waiting. So in the smallest fraction of time the link must be renewed and the paper must go to press if everybody belonging to it, from editor to office boy, drops in his tracks. A very real incident is related by Caroline A. Huling in her story in the January Lippincott's called "The Strike in the Clarion Office." It is written from the inside, for Miss Huling is herself an editor, and it shows how a strike was averted and the paper printed on time, all through the coolheadedness of its society editor. Sympathy is never wasted when offered to the newsgatherers who turn flight into day to feed a voracious public.

TEA IN COMPRESSED TABLETS THE LATEST.

Department of Agriculture Is Elated Over Its Latest Experiment in This Line.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The latest novel experiment to be made by the Department of Agriculture is that of compressed tea into tablets, one of which will make a delicious cup of tea. As a result, what would ordinarily make a big package of tea can by this new and unique method be placed in a space about the size of a safety match box. The tea is grown at the department's experimental tea gardens at Summerville, S. C.

The department has been engaged in this experiment for some time, and and last week a large box of sample packages of tea tablets was received by Dr. Galloway, director of the bureau of plant industry, for inspection.

Each little box if compressed tea contains twenty tablets about the size of a penny, but about twice as thick. They are dark green. Dr. Galloway states that the most favorable reports have been made by those who have tried the tablets. The tablets are said to contain no adulterant. It is explained that the taste of the tea is in no way bettered by the form of tablets, but the chief value lies in the fact that it is compressed and takes up less room.

It has been the object of the department for some time to find means of providing food for the army and navy which could be prepared in such a way as to save space, but so far all attempts have proved unsatisfactory. It is now believed by the officials of the department that these tablets will fill not only government requirements, but those of general merchandise and family use.

$2,000,000,000 IN NEW CHARTERS.

Total Company Capitalization in Eastern States for Current Year.

New York, Jan. 2.—Charters taken out in eastern states during 1905 represent a total capitalization of well over two billions; the exact figure is $2,153,334,811. During December the big companies incorporated totaled $118,909,100, bringing the total for the year to $1,674,105,211, compared with $1,003,242,20 last year and $1,572,204,000 in 1903. Companies having an authorized capitalization of $100,000 and less than $1,000,000 represented a total of $39,322,000 this month, a slight increase over November; for the year the total is $479,229,600.

The December total of incorporations having capital stock of $1,000,000 and over is distributed among the various states as follows:

New York	$66,659,100
New Jersey	32,650,000
Maine	17,000,000
Miscellaneous	2,000,000
Total	$188,909,100

Th largest individual item is the increase of the Southern Bell Telegraph and Telephone Company, $29,000,000; several telephone companies are increasing their capital, with a view to extending operations consequent upon keener competition. Another large amount, $10,000,000, is represented by an increase in the capital of the American Cigar Company. Mining interests are well represented, as also are railways.

With one of the largest crowds in attendance the society has yet entertained, the Gesang and Turn Verein conducted its annual New Year's reception in Saengerbund Hall Sunday night.

In the early part of the evening an entertainment was given which comprised the following numbers: Selections by the Singing Section; monologues by August Wolf and Frank Neidig; vocal selections, Alexander Dresselt and Joseph Laible; violin selections, B. A. Paroubek; violin and piano selections, Frank and Otto Linke; zither and violin selections, Frank Jellig and Hugo Maul; zither selections, the Misses Jellig.

The leader of the singing section, Herman Eichorn, was presented with a parlor clock, the presentation speech being made by William Gardner, president of the society. Following the entertainment, which concluded at midnight, the singers ushered in the New Year with song and dancing was taken up, continuing to an early hour yesterday morning.

PRESIDENT RANDOLPH ON COUNTRY'S FUTURE.

Refers to General Prosperity and Tells How to Maintain It.

In the annual financial and commercial review of the New York Herold yesterday, former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, president of the Consolidater Stock Exchange, points the way to maintain the country's prosperity. He says:

"Peace, freedom, ingenuity, education, good crops, unequalled enterprise and unsurpassed industry have combined to produce in our country at the close of the year 1905 a prosperity of which our fathers would hardly have ventured to dream. Gold money and paper money have stimulated the enormous development of American resources.

"We would do well to remember that the use of stimulants is attended with danger. Overcapitalization there has been. Overtrading may come. Extravagance and waste are widely prevalent, as is also that unconscionable rapacity for wealth which is ever the most serious danger to a nation.

"If our citizens could but experience what Mr. Charles E. Hughes has recently and aptly termed "a new baptism of self-respect and manhood" then our prosperity would indeed have an added charm and a value inestimable."

In Honor of Her Son.

In honor of his return from college for the holidays, Mrs. Stevens gave her son, Raymond Stevens, a card party at his home on Saturday night. There were ten guests, intimate friends of Mr. Stevens and there were many features to make the affair a highly enjoyable one.

Members of Congregation Meet to Exchange New Year's Greetings.

Observing the annual custom, the Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel held "open house," last night, for the purpose of greeting members of the congregation and exchanging New Year's greetings. The reception was held in the Sunday-school rooms and the attendance was large throughout.

During the evening an informal programme was given, among the contributions being piano selections by Miss Mary Radford; vocal solos by Mrs. J. M. Millar; violin selections by Miss Agnes McInness, accompanied by Miss Mary McInness, and selections by a quartette composed of Mrs. Millar, Miss Edna Eckert, Thomas Hendry and James McKnight. Rev. L. R. Howard made an appropriate address. Refreshments were served by members of the Young Women's Bible class.

The committee which arranged and had charge of the affair consisted of Charles Vincent, Mrs. William Gray, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Harry Corlies.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL.

Abram Q. Fine Dies As Result of Fall Downstairs.

From the effects of injuries received by falling downstairs at his home on West Third street, several weeks ago, Abram Q. Fine died at Muhlenberg Hospital, Saturday. A pipe which he had in his mouth was driven upward, piercing the roof, and he was hurt internally.

Mr. Fine was seventy-three years old and was employed for many years as a machinist at the Potter Press Works. He was connected with local fraternal organizations and was widely known throughout the city. He leaves a son.

The funeral service will be held at Runyon's undertaking parlors this afternoon and the interment will be at Hillside cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. A. P. Smith.

The funeral services of Mrs. Ann Palmer Smith, mother of William Palmer Smith, were held this morning from her late home in East Seventh street. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, of which Mrs. Smith was an active member for many years, officiated. Mrs. Smith was eighty-seven years old and was a resident of Plainfield for over thirty-seven years. The services were largely attended. Interment was at White Plains, N. Y., today.

Wedded at Parsonage.

Robert M. Morley, of South Second street, and Miss Josephine Madden, of Muhlenberg place, were quietly married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. R. SENATOR KEAN HOLDS ANNUAL RECEPTION

CONGRESSMAN FOWLER ALSO ENTERTAINS—PLAINFIELD REPRESENTED.

Politicians of all degrees journeyed to Elizabeth yesterday afternoon to attend the annual New Year's Day receptions held by United States Senator John Kean and Congressman Charles N. Fowler. These receptions are the two social functions of the year of politicians in Union county.

Among those who were unable to attend Senator Kean's reception at Ursino were Governor Stokes, Senator-elect Everett Colby, Mayor Fagan and George L. Record. Before the reception there was a conference between the Senator and his brother, Hamilton, Gen. P. Farmer Wanser and Samuel Dickinson, Secretary of State and Republican leader in Hudson county. It is believed that this had in view a possible adjustment of the Dickinson-Record fight in the county.

Among the Plainfielders in the gathering of 300 attending the reception of the Senator were Mayor J. F. Buckle, State Factory Inspector Andrew McCardell, County Registrar F. H. Smith, Charles W. Runyon, Councilmen W. L. Gloak, and Herbert Buxton, Postmaster E. H. Bird, James Stewart, Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, Sandford G. Robinson, Official Stenographer George B. Wean, City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, Joseph Noonan, John Bowman, J. J. Kenney, Charles H. Dunham, T. C. Smith, J. P. Mosher, Edward T. VanWinkle, former Police Commissioner Amos Andrews, Harry P. Dumont, E. C. Westcott and President of the Board of Trade L. B. Wooiston. Most of them also visited Congressman Fowler.

FIRST SUNDAY COURT.

Larry Wallace Calls Judge Out for First Hearing Under New Ruling.

Lawrence Wallace, whose record at police headquarters is nearly as long as that of Charley Williams, dean of the drunk corps, was arrested again Saturday for soliciting money. City Judge Runyon was surprised to see Larry in court Sunday morning, because he signed the pledge for a year a month ago, and, as Larry himself acknowledged, he wouldn't have asked for money on the streets if he "hadn't had the stuff in him." The judge was surprised because Larry is something of a thoroughbred and usually keeps his pledges.

"A christening in Brooklyn started me," explained Larry, simply. "I was godfather and they gave something to drink the kid's health. I was off after that."

"I've got faith in you yet," said the judge. "I'll give you another chance; try and keep that pledge without denting it again."

The hearing is worthy of particular note, because it was the first Sunday court held since Chief Kiely's conviction on Counts One, Two and Three, which compels the judge to hold Sunday hearings to save prisoners arrested for minor offenses on Saturday, and who haven't the means to secure $100 bail, from staying in jail until Monday. Sunday hearings will be regular city court features now.

JOHN GRENNAN DEAD.

Former Member of N. Y. Police Force Passes Away.

John Grennan, aged sixty-eight years, a retired member of the New York police force, and a brother-in-law of Thomas Hyland, of this city, died Sunday night at his home in Rahway road. He had ben ill during the past six months with a complication of diseases. He was a member of the metropolitan police force for many years, being retired about five years ago. He then moved to this city, where he continued his residence.

He is survived by two sisters, a brother, Patrick Grennan, and a brother-in-law, Thomas Hyland, all of this city. The funeral services will be held from the late residence tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and from St. Mary's church at 9:45 o'clock. Interment will be at St. Mary's cemetery.

Broken Resolutions.

James F. Parker, of this city, spoke on "Broken Resolutions" at the Y. M. C. A. weekly meeting Sunday afternoon. He urged his hearers to cultivate moral and physical courage, simply to fit themselves for keeping good resolutions. Otto Muller played 'cello solos, accompanied by E. H. Guest, cornetist. W. C. Leek led the singing and rendered a baritone solo.

Returns to Old Stand.

Horace M. Sherwin, the shoe dealer, whose store has been located on East Front street for some time, is removing today to his former location on West Front street, the store formerly occupied by David Dreier. Mr. Sherwin is one of the oldest shoe merchants in the city.

On the Grand Jury.

The Plainfielders chosen to serve on the Grand Jury for the January term of the Union County Court are Ralph I. Tolles, from the First ward; Charles H. Hand, from the Second ward; B. Frank Coriell, from the Third ward, and Dr. Ambrose K. Brennan, from the Fourth ward.

FORCES AGAIN IN CONTROL

berg Hospital, petitioned the Common Council to lay a stone walk on Park avenue, near Randolph road. This was referred to the street committee. P. J. Reville objected to an assessment for a dog tax, claiming that he never owned a dog, and he also protested against a tax levied on his mother for cleaning the sidewalk of ice and snow, claiming that the city never performed such work for her. The matters were referred to the proper committee.

Mayor James F. Buckle appointed Dr. T. S. Davis and F. W. Dunn for full terms of two years to succeed themselves as members of the Board of Health, and Dr. Charles B. Lufburrow for full term of three years as city physician, to succeed himself. The appointments were confirmed.

The Mayor also returned with his veto the southside sanitary sewer ordinance adopted on third reading by the last Common Council, giving as his reasons therefor that Joseph O. Osgood, the consulting engineer, is new engaged on certain plans for this improvement and that an important legal point had been raised which might necessitate a considerable change.

Mr. Mellick wanted to know if the matter could not be laid on the table until another meeting, and the president suggested that the ordinance and veto be received and filed. It will be disposed of later.

The Board of Health, through its president, Charles J. Fisk, asked for an appropriation of $5,000 for the coming year and also that $1,000 be set aside for its use until such appropriation is made. The matters were referred to the finance commitee.

This finished the business and an adjournment was taken to Monday night, January 8.

Miss Florence G. Hawkins, the superintendent, presided.

Review of the year's work as seen by the secretary, treasurer and librarian, was then given, to which was added remarks by the superintendent and the pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn. The superintendent then read greetings from friends, including Mrs. David M. Runyon, of this city; Mrs. Isaac Dunn, of Stelton, and Rev. J. W. Richardson, of Stamford, Conn.

On behalf of the school, George E. Hall read and presented to the retiring superintendent, Miss Hawkins, a letter expressing its appreciation of her services.

The orchestra, which is now a fixture of the Sunday-school, assisting in the rendition of music, is comprised of G. W. V. Moy, violin; Martin Stutsman, mandolin; Miss Arline Brown and Miss Marjorie Brown, violin; Miss Mary Clark, piano, and Whitney Frazee, cornet. Throughout the service the school sang appropriate hymns and carols.

FIRE NEAR GAS TANK

Proximity to Big Receptacle Lends Touch of Excitement to Afternoon Blaze.

DAMAGE IS ONLY $200

Barn Filled With Hay the Seat of the Conflagration—Quick Work of Department Prevents Spread of Flames.

Fire from an unknown cause broke out in a small barn belonging to the Public Service Corporation, situated at the rear of the former Ivins' lumber yard on Watchung avenue, at 4:20 yesterday afternoon. The building is within twenty feet of two oil tanks and the main gas tank of the company and the fire department worked with feverish energy to prevent the flames spreading in the direction of the receptacles. The loss will reach $200, of which $150 is on the structure. It is insured for $800, with a like amount on the contents.

Though Chief Doane has conducted a strict investigation he has been unable to define the origin of the blaze. A farmer had just completed placing two tons of hay in the upper loft, the Public Service furnishing an Italian to help him. It is possible one or the other might have dropped a watch on the floor or else have been smoking.

The flames were first noticed by William Chamberlain, who turned in an alarm from box 21. The chemical engine was on the scene inside of a minute afterward and before another had passed, had a stream directed against the barn on the side nearest the tanks. With the arrival of the other apparatus two hydrant streams were put at work and the danger was soon removed. The firemen had to work for two hours, however, pitching out the entire two tons of hay and it was after 6 o'clock before the recall was sounded. The flames did not reach the lower part of the building and the damage to the upper part was practically confined to the roof, the firemen having to cut holes into it in order to let the smoke out and then soak the burning mass.

The proximity of the gas tanks had the effect of bringing hundreds of persons to the scene but it also kept them at a respectful distance and the firemen had the entire field of operations to themselves.

THIEVES WORKED BOLDLY.

Entered Front Door of Scotch Plains Store in Daylight.

A small store kept by Nicholas Delnero on Forest avenue, Scotch Plains, was robbed of $30 and several boxes of cigars, Monday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. The thieves gained entrance while the proprietor and the members of his family were absent. They removed a pane of glass that had previously been cracked and were thus enabled to slide back a bolt in the front door.

The matter was reported to the Scotch Plains and also the local police, but they have practically no clue to work upon.

Searching for Highwaymen.

A force of detectives has been scouring the woods below South Plainfield for the highwaymen who robbed the paymaster of the Delaware Construction Company of $5,000 last week. The company has offered a reward of $1,000 for their capture and all Middlesex county is practically under surveillance at the present time. It is the belief of the officials that the robbers are still in the vicinity.

Frustrated a Burglar.

Returning from a party at an early hour, yesterday morning, Albert Springer, of South Plainfield, formerly of this city, came upon a man trying to force an entrance to the home of William Humphrey, who occupies half of a double house in which Springer lives. Springer drew a revolver and made for him but the fellow scurried off at top speed and disappeared in the darkness.

A REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

Present Day Prosperity a Good Omen of the Future in L. V. F. Randolph's Opinion.

SOME DANGERS AHEAD

Extravagance a Vice of the Times As Is the Rapacity of the Pirates Commonly Called Leaders of High Finance.

In the New York Commercial, former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, president of the New York Consolidated Stock Exchange, reviews the year just closed not only from a financial standpoint, but in a much broader scope. He also takes a cheery aspect for 1906, but draws attention to the dangers that confront us as a people.

Mr. Randolph says:

"The growth and prosperity of the American nation have had no parallel. The chief moving force has been freedom. Every citizen, and even every immigrant, while respecting his neighbor's rights, could do his own pleasure and pursue his own plan of action. Along with liberty, and largely as its outgrowth and result, the development of science and industry, on a scale heretofore undreamed of, has enormously augmented the nation's wealth and well-being.

"No war nor important internal dissension has obstructed the path of progress. Providence has given us generous crops. Our surplus of products from the soil and of products from the factory has more than enabled us to pay for imports and for American foreign travel. A large reserve of gold has accumulated in the treasuries of the nation and of its banks. The year 1905 is closing under circumstances of unprecedented prosperity.

"It will be strange indeed if in a sky so bright as that above us no cloud appears. Such danger as exists grows out of the very conditions that make for our success; the conditions, namely, of freedom, vigor, alertness and strength, which characterize a nation made up of the more intelligent and enterprising inhabitants of many countries (and of their descendants) who have here established their homes and marked out their destinies. If all the details of human activity were perfectly directed, only good results would ensue; but this is impossible. In these days of manufacturing and commercial competition, over-trading and over-capitalization of industries must almost inevitably follow (or be a part of) unusual prosperity.

"By way of stimulating this natural human tendency to overdo trade and to create dangerous situations, the development of the world's gold mines and the great increase in our country of bank paper money have come along as powerful factors in assisting the enlargement of business and in augmenting a danger which may ultimately become serious. The cost of living is greatly increasing. Wages necessarily advance. Schemes of industry and of investment are enormously explained.

"The influences extend beyond America, but have here their largest illustration and power. On the other side of the world is an old nation which has, within the memory of many of us, been reborn, and has chosen to a certain extent and in its own way to sit at the feet of occidental wisdom. But this old nation thus reborn may yet prove wiser in its day and generation than we are. If Japan, coming victorious out of its war with Russia, can learn to do as well as or better than ourselves the things on which we pride ourselves, and can teach her great neighbor, China, to do the like, we may discover, in greater degree than we have yet realized, the advantage possessed by a race which has not learned the indulgences and vices incidental to extravagance and which, in the ordinary economies of its daily existence, can do work as skilfully and as well as our American people can do it, and at a far diminished cost.

"The great vice and danger of the American nation is the extravagance which breeds waste. Next to this, broadly speaking, are the dangers created by the audacity and rapacity of the so-called leaders of 'high finance.' Along with these go the perils of an exaggerated optimism, which lead on to over-trading and the assumption of ill-considered responsibilities and obligations tending toward disaster.

"The outlook for the New Year is bright indeed all over our favored land. Even in Wall street, tribulations have been few and seem but temporary. If we should be blessed with good crops in 1906 our national wealth would still further increase; but we are reaching a point in the development of our industries, finances and commerce where the note of caution will be highly important."

Rudolph Bleyer, of Grandview avenue, sails tomorrow for his former home in Austria to visit his parents.

MORCOM GIRL CONFESSES

Pretty Seventeen-Year-Old Domestic Acknowledges Theft of $400 Worth of Rings.

GAVE TWO AWAY

Police Recover All the Jewels Through Her Statement and Return Them to Dickensens.

Under the searching examination by Chief Kiely, seventeen-year-old Amy Morcom, the pretty domestic arrested yesterday for the alleged theft of jewelry from her former employers, Mrs. Townsend Dickensen, broke down a few hours after her arrest and confessed her guilt. She made a full statement, and all the jewelry, amounting in value to $400, was recovered before last night and returned to Mr. Dickensen.

When the girl was first arrested she denied her guilt. She intimated that the arrest was due to Mrs. Dickensen's pique over her departure from the household, and insisted that she knew nothing of the missing rings. Chief Kiely could not break down her denial at a preliminary examination and had her locked up in a cell. After the bolts and bars had been given an opportunity to work their peculiar influence the chief had the girl brought before him again and it required only a very little of the third degree to knock the props from under the denial. She made full acknowledgment and told the chief where the stuff was to be found.

Amy said she took all the rings at one time about a month ago. An opal and diamond ring, worth $150, she gave to a young man, and a ring with four diamonds in it, valued at more than $100, she gave to a girl friend. The rest she kept, hidden most of the time. The chief sent men out after the rings and recovered them all.

Amy was arraigned before Justice Mosher this morning, who held her for the Grand Jury under a charge of grand larceny in $500 bail. Having no counsel, the girl entered a formal plea of not guilty. Mr. Dickensen appeared at the hearing and identified the rings.

The prisoner has been in the hands of the police before. About two years ago she was taken into custody for obtaining expensive candies by the fraudulent use of her employer's name. At that time the charge was not pressed on account of her youth, and because it was hoped she might overcome her tendency to take things that attracted her without regard to the morals involved. She takes the present affair quietly. She did not carry on in her cell and was composed when arraigned before the justice. She is hopeful of securing bail.

PLAINFIELDER SAID TO HAVE BEEN FATALLY HURT.

Despatch from Chicago to New York Papers Gives His Name as Charles J. Johnson.

The New York papers of last night's issue contained the following despatch dated from Chicago:

"Charles J. Johnson, of Plainfield, N. J., while endeavoring to board a cable train this afternoon was thrown under the wheels and received injuries from which it is thought he will die. He was taken to the Chicago Emergency Hospital. Johnson's hurts include a mangled wrist, a fractured skull, a badly cut face and internal injuries."

The city directory shows there are several Charles Johnsons in Plainfield, but none with the middle initial "J." A canvass of the others failed to reveal the identity of the man mentioned in the Chicago despatch. It is possible the name has been misquoted or else it is another Plainfield.

FANWOOD'S NEW OFFICERS.

T. J. Nicholl Re-elected Chairman of Committee.

The Fanwood Township Committee met last night to organize for the coming year. T. J. Nicholl was re-elected chairman; Theodore Bruchman, treasurer, and William R. Codington, township counsel. W. Scott Terry, the new member, took his seat for the first time. There will be no change in the police force for this year.

BAR HONORS MR. MARSH

County Association Insists on His Serving Third Term as President.

MAKES PRECEDENT

Tribute Affects the Lawyer Deeply—No Call to the Bench, He Said, Could Touch Him More.

In re-electing Craig A. Marsh president for the third time, yesterday, the Union County Bar Association paid Plainfield's leading lawyer an unusual tribute. An unwritten law that a president serve but two terms has been in force in the association, but the members unanimously insisted that Mr. Marsh remain in the chair.

Mr. Marsh, when first asked to serve another term, declined a renomination, but his fellow members would not hear of his declination. The demand that he serve another term was unanimous, Judge Gilhooley, Judge Atwater, Prosecutor English and Surrogate Parrot voicing the desire of their fellow members in earnest speeches. By a standing vote in which every member present—and it was the largest meeting the association has ever held—voted aye, the organization insisted that Mr. Marsh stay at its head.

The tribute affected Mr. Marsh deeply. In accepting the honor he was hardly able to control his voice. In view of the manner in which the demand was made and the vote taken, he said, he thought no higher honor could ever come to him; that certainly no call to the bench would touch him as this call.

The association voted $500 for new books. It was decided to hold a bar dinner the latter part of this month and the following committee was appointed by Mr. Marsh to arrange it: E. S. Atwater, W. R. Codington, J. Kiernan, A. S. Swift and N. R. Leavitt.

J. R. Connolly read a legal paper on the history of the growth of representative government.

Plainfield Court Cases.

The list of cases on the court calenders for the present term, which began yesterday, includes the following of interest to Plainfielders: Supreme Court, Annie A. Guinn and husband against the E. P. and C. J. Railway Co., in tort, Craig A. Marsh for the plaintiffs; George Ball against E. P. and C. J. Railway Co., in tort, Craig A. Marsh for the plaintiff; William Egan against W. J. Ryan, on contract, Coddington & Swackhamer for the plaintiff; Mary Stevens against the E. P. and C. J. Railway Co., on contract, Coddington & Swackhamer for the plaintiff; Julia Agocheek against Joseph Stanachef, on contract, William Newcorn for the plaintiff and J. P. Owens for the defendant; Hezekiah Hand against M. J. Ginsberg, on contract, William Newcorn for the plaintiff. Circuit Court, E. M. Wood against E. P. and C. J. Railway Co., in tort, Craig A. Marsh for the plaintiff.

New Factory for Somerville.

The Somerville Board of Trade has been negotiating for some time with the American Manufacturing Company, which has decided to locate its plant in East Somerville and will begin the erection of a big factory there about March 1. This concern will manufacture staple hardware, such as mechanics' tools, specialties and light machinery. It has an authorized capital of $750,000 and 7,000 leading retail hardware dealers located in as about as many towns and cities in every State and Territory in the United States have pledges themselves as subscribers to the shares of the company.

Library Grateful to Benefactors.

Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert and Mason W. Tyler, who defrayed the expense connected with the placing of transparancies presented by O. T. Waring, in the Plainfield Library, were tendered a vote of thanks at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the institution, last night. A similar vote of thanks was extended to former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph for the defraying of the expense of protecting with fertilizer the plants and hedge around the library grounds. It was reported that arrangements have been made for installing a telephone in the library building.

Preparing for Big Sale.

The dry goods store formerly owned by Hill & Shupp, and sold to A. E. Force & Co., is now closed preparatory to taking account of stock for a big sacrifice sale. The clerks at the store are now engaged in arranging the stock for this sale.

MAYOR TAKES SEAT AS A HOSPITAL GOVERNOR

CHARITY BALL NETTED $1,717 FOR THE INSTITUTION.

It was announced at the meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, held at the Casino last night, that the net profits from the chairty ball for the benefit of the hospital were $1,717. The very gratifying report was made by the committee in charge, accompanied by a check for the amount named.

Mayor James F. Buckle, as the city's representative, an ex-officio member of the board, took his seat for the first time and seemed much interested in the discussions.

The greater part of the meeting was occupied in adopting a new set of rules and by-laws, amended throughout and intended to meet the present extended work of Muhlenberg Hospital. Some of the amendments occasioned a lively discussion, but finally the rules and by-laws were unanimously adopted, and it is believed that they will more fully meet present-day requirements. It was decided to have the Nurses' Home connected with the gas main and this work was ordered done.

L. T. L. FESTIVAL.

Christmas Tree, Candy and Oranges for the Children.

The annual Christmas festival of the Loyal Temperance Legion was held in the W. C. T. U. rooms, last night. There was a large attendance of children and friends. The programme, in charge of Mrs. Alvah TenEyck, superintendent, was a good one. There was the usual Christmas tree, elaborately decorated and filled with gifts for the children.

The programme included the singing of Christmas carols and recitations by Hazel Godown, Grace Vandenburth, Elsie Perrine, Harold Wahlig, Marion Strader, Anna Vail, Helen Vanderburg, Ruth Wahlig and songs by Marguerite Higgins and Ethel Vail. After the entertainment there was a distribution of candy and oranges. Miss May E. Howlett, treasurer of the Legion, assisted in the entertainment.

Leaders for the boys gymnasium class were chosen at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon after a vigorous test by points. Twenty-one boys took part in the test, which was conducted by Kenneth Robbie.

Clarence Steiner won first honors with 87 2-3 points out of a possible 90. Charles Line was a very close second, 1-3 of a point behind. Those two, with Russell Conroy and Russell Morris, who finished next in order, were appointed leaders. They will wear special emblems on the floor and have advanced teaching in gymnasium work.

BOWLING ALLEY OPENING.

Individual Tournament Will Be Arranged Among Y. M. C. A. Rollers.

It will be open night on the Y. M. C. A. alleys Friday, to inaugurate the new season. The alleys have been repaired and refinished and are in the best shape they ever have been.

Within a week an individual tournament will be arranged, and on the results of the competition the make-up of the representative team will be based. As soon as the tournament is over a league will probably be organized among the alley enthusiasts, to be conducted independently of the crack five. The latter will be matched against leading teams of this vicinity.

Boys' Club Fully Launched.

The mechanical drawing class will start at the Boys' Club tonight, and with its commencement the complete educational course of the institution will be in full swing for the first time this season. About fifty boys are enrolled, as many as the club can handle.

Mr. Robbie Takes Hold.

Class work under the new regime, with Mr. Robbie as physical director, was resumed at the Y. M. C. A. after the Christmas recess last night. Mr. Robbie has led the classes a number of times, and had no difficulty in carrying the work on.

President Fisk Says That It Is Up to the Common Council to Remedy Conditions.

MATTERS NEGLECTED

Annual Report of Health Board Makes It the Chief Feature—Other Matters of Prime Importance.

Following is the report of President Charles J. Fisk, of the Board of Health, which has been submitted to the Common Council:

The Board of Health of the city of Plainfield, in submitting herewith their seventeenth annual report, would respectfully call your attention to the following very important matters:

"First, the general condition of our city.

"A careful reading of the health officer's report will show the sanitary conditions very greatly improved in every way over previous years; the general health better than the average for several years in the past. The report shows that during the year 1906 only five deaths from communicable disease, excepting tuberculosis, occurred; many nuisances have been abated; privy vaults and cesspools abolished and filled; defective plumbing systems corrected; the various owners and tenants forced to generally clean up and comply with our ordinances so far as practicable and the money at the disposal of the board would permit.

Garbage.

"The importance of a proper and sanitary system for the collection and disposal of garbage cannot be too forcibly brought to the attention of the public and before your honorable body. The Board of Health is doing everything in its power that can be done to remedy and bring about some improvement and do away with the great menace to the health of the city now exisiting, due to present unsanitary methods. The matter, however, is entirely in your hands, your body has the power to act. The importance of this matter has been called repeatedly to the attention of the Mayor and your honorable body. Now we ask that you either do something to abate this trouble or give the Health Board the power and money to act. Every day this matter becomes more and more serious and a greater menace to the health of the city.

House to House Inspection.

"The results of the inspections of the last two years show very plainly the necessity for this branch of the work. Violations of all kinds are constantly occurring and only the untiring work of our officers and inspectors in following up and looking after these matters will keep our city in a good, sanitary condition.

Milk and Food Inspection.

"The report of the health officer is very full on this subject. More and better work has been done than ever before. There is no question but that Plainfield is supplied with as good, and in many cases better, average of milk than any city in the State. Great attention is paid to this important part of the work, but only constant care and vigilance on the part of the inspectors will insure the continuance of the present conditions.

Financial.

"For the report of the finances of the board we would refer you to the treasurer's report, which shows in detail all receipts and expenditures. The total amount of fees collected and turned over to the city treasurer was $882.

"It is estimated that the amount of money required for health purposes for the year 1906 will be $5,000, and we trust your honorable body will be able to make this appropriation as requested in the formal petition from the board.

"In conclusion we wish to thank you for your attention and co-operation in the work of this important department of the city government.

"Respectfully submitted,
"CHAS. J. FISK,
"President.
"B. VanD. HEDGES, M. D.,
"Secretary."

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Rev. W. W. Casselberry's sermon Sunday morning is creating comment among the churchgoers of the community. He reproved his congregation for reluctance in giving to the church, using unequivocal language. Not much more than three or four members, he said, gave to the church as they should. Collections, he declared, have been much too skimpy as a rule, and one Sunday not long ago the plates made him ashamed for the congregation. The Biblical injunction as to tithes, he held, should be religiously observed, and he urged his people to give at least one-tenth of their yearly earnings to the church. Mr. Casselberry, it is said, is about to inaugurate a determined effort to clear the church property of all debt.

Miss Alice Fenner, Clifford Fenner and Mr. and Mrs. John Fenner spent Monday at the old home in Pluckamin. There was a general reunion of the family.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

More real excitement was stirred up last night over the election for fire department officers than could be started over an election for township officers. Both Excelsior H. and L. Co. and B. and E. Co. were out in full force; the former determined to carry the ticket headed by former Chief William B. Noble; assistants, William H. Lake and Philip Blank, while the smaller company worked equally as hard to elect their favorites, William Jamison for chief, assistants, Henry Guerrier and Horace Pangborn. The campaign was a good natured one, however, and no bad blood was manifested. The polls remained open one hour. The result of the vote was a tie, twenty votes being cast for each company's candidates.

Private funeral services of William R. Stanbery were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in the borough, Rev. Mr. Mulford, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, having charge of the services. Interment was made in the family plot at Hillside cemetery.

The Township Committee met for organization last night in the town rooms. T. J. Nicholl, who has served as chairman of the committee for several years, was re-elected. Theodore J. Bruchman also succeeds himself as treasurer of the township.

Rev. Mr. Hoffman will continue the meetings at the Methodist church every night this week. Last week's meetings were attended well and the result has been very gratifying to the pastor.

School reopened this morning at 9 o'clock with a full attendance of scholars, happy, yet sorry, that their ten days' vacation had come to an end.

Old Central Employe Dead.

German Valley, Jan. 3.—The funeral of Alvin A. Scott, a prominent timberman of this village, who died at his home in Mountain avenue Sunday night, will be held tomorrow. Mr. Scott, while superintending the cutting of a large chestnut tree near James Anthony's, one mile west of this village, on December 18, was struck upon the head by the limbs of the falling tree, and one side of his skull was badly crushed. For many years he was supervisor of the High Bridge branch of the Central Railroad, with an office in this village. After resigning the supervisorship he became proprietor of Hotel DeCamp, at Succasunna. He disposed of this business about fifteen months ago and embarked in the timber business. About twelve years ago he married Miss Meda Gillen, of this village, whom he now leaves with one son, about eight years old. Mr. Scott was fifty-five years old and was one of the charter members of Evening Star Lodge, No. 147, Knights of Pythias, of this village.

Hairpins Reveal Woman Burglar.

The Jersey City police are looking for a woman burglar and her man companion in crime. It transpired yesterday that the home of Mrs. Sarah Nathan in Mercer street, Jersey City, had been entered early on Sunday. An overcoat and a set of furs were stolen. The evidence that a woman was implicated was the finding of several hairpins in the rear parlor, the room from which the furs were taken, and the fact that a man and woman were seen loitering in front of the house late at night. Entrance was effected by raising a front parlor window.

ELIZABETH COUNCIL FIGHT.

Members Meet, but Fail to Reach Agreement as to a President.

Elizabeth, Jan. 3.—City Council took twenty-five ballots Monday night to organize by the election of a president. At the expiration of two hours, during which a vain effort was made to harmonize upon the election of one of three candidates, an adjournment was taken until Friday night. Because there was no president appointed, the annual message of Mayor Berry was not read.

The struggle was the result of the Ford-Collins feud of long standing. Three candidates were in the field. The Ford adherents, consisting mostly of the downtown representatives, nominated George A. Ford, whose term as president expired Sunday night. The "solid seven," as the uptown Democrats have been called, nominated Colonel D. F. Collins. The Republicans' candidate was assistant prosecutor and councilman from the Eleventh ward, John K. English, who was made temporary chairman.

The difficulty hinges upon the personality of the two Democratic candidates. Collins has ten members and he needs three more for election. Ford has six and needs seven more votes. The Republican members hold the balance of power. The question is whether they will flop to the Ford side or support Collins. If the Republicans in a body go over to the Ford side he will be the next president of Council. If there is a split, to which the indications now point, and three of them support Collins, he will succeed Ford as the alderman-at-large. Collins' chances for a split are better than Ford's hopes of a united flop to his side. His popularity uptown is not as strong as it is downtown.

The result of Monday night's balloting was: Collins, 10; John K. English, 7, and George A. Ford, 6. There was no change noted in the results of any of the twenty-five ballots taken.

It is estimated that there were $200 worth of flowers displayed upon the desks of the members when City Clerk John F. Kenah called the members to order.

ALL GAME PLENTIFUL, DECLARES COMMISSION.

More Stringent Legislation Urged in Report of Commission.

Trenton, Jan. 3—Game of all sorts is more plentiful this season than for many years, according to a report submitted to Governor Stokes today by the State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners.

The report urges the necessity for a strict observance of the present laws for the protection of fish and game, and in some instances suggests the importance of more stringent legislation. This is particularly true of pound fishing along the Atlantic Coast, and the protection of migratory and game fish.

The game refuge experiment, begun last year by the establishment of a refuge at Oradell, Bergen county, has proved a marker success, and the commission believes that with the establishment of more refuges Mongolian pheasants can be added to the game birds of the State, at a relatively small cost. The commission asks that these birds be protected for at least three years.

Deer have multiplied rapidly. Eighty-three deer were liberated in nine of the southern counties. Sixteen deer were recently reported in one herd at Barnegat, and twenty-three were seen in another field in the same county. In other counties numerous does with fawns have been seen. The commission says that an extension of the closed season for a period of two years from next April, when the present closed season expires, would insure plenty of deer. When the open season does begin it is urged that the shooting of does and fawns be prohibited.

More than eight thousand quail were purchased last December and liberated in the spring. They have bred well, and birds are more numerous than for years. To save the quail, the commission has arranged for the distribution of unthrashed grain during the present winter.

The commission distributed last year more than 25,000 brook trout in the headwaters of streams, and 40,000 more will be placed in the waters this winter. Wall-eyed pike, channel catfish, calico bass and crappies have been introduced successfully in various waters.

Among the recommendations of the commission is one that there be a law to require every non-resident to obtain a license to hunt any kind of game. Others are that the law concerning black bears be changed to make the open season begin June 15, instead of June 1; that woodcock shooting be prohibited in July and October; that a law be enacted prohibiting the sale of game; that the shad fishing season close June 1, instead of June 15; that a bill be passed prohibiting the taking of baitfish out of the State and that wild lands be bought for the propagation of wild game.

Also Advocates New Issue of Bonds for Beach Improvements—Pays Compliment to His Predecessor.

Asbury Park, Jan. 3.—Mayor Charles L. Atkins, of Asbury Park, has taken his seat and Mayor Ten Broeck has retired from public office, after having for eighteen years been chief magistrate of the city. The retiring Mayor was complimented for his services to the city. His successor in an address outlined the policy of the new administration.

He recommends a new issue of bonds for beach improvements, a more strict observance of the Sabbath, the continuance of the newly organized convention bureau and the appointment of a permanent convention committee, the restoration of the Asbury Avenue Casino, recently transformed into a theatre, to the public at the earliest practical moment; earlier and later boardwalk attractions extending from Decoration Day to October 1; the extension of the beach, and a just conservative and amply protective high license law for the benefit of the hotel proprietors, properly safeguarded, and that law to be used only for the purposes of such accommodations as hotel proprietors are expected to give to their patrons at other high class resorts.

At the reorganization of council, James D. Carton, councilman-at-large, was elected president, to succeed T. Frank Appleby, who retired from the board. George R. Hillier was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Mayor Atkins' retirement. The new members seated were: Jesse Minot, Mr. Hillier and Thomas J. Winkler, the latter having been re-elected. The desks of the new members were liberally decorated with floral contributions.

—Under the direction of William Holmes there was a rehearsal for "The Pirates of Penzance," at the Casino, last night.

—Harry G. Adams, of 202 East Front street, the hustling accident, life and fire insurance agent, has just been appointed district manager here for the Tobacco Growers' Society of the Antilles, and will carry in stock a full line of fine imported cigars, selling direct from plantation to the smoker.

Freeholder William A. Westphal, who has been quite ill at his home in the Jackson building, is slightly improved.

America's Greatest Furniture Store

Inaugurates Its Immensely Important

Annual January Sale Today.

This is without question the biggest trade movement this or any other house in New Jersey undertakes. In its influence on the home lives of the people of the State, in its effect on trade, in the money value of the stock involved, in the positive savings to the public, this sale has an importance that cannot be over-estimated.

A Quarter Million Dollars' Worth of Furniture

Will be on Sale at Decisively Reduced Prices

There is a constant procession of trains bringing furniture to this establishment. There are new arrivals daily. The stock is always immense, always complete, always unmatched and well nigh unmatchable. But, now, on the eve of this great January movement, the choice is more diversified than ever. Contemplate for a moment what it means to have two acres of floor space.

No Two Pieces Alike; Every Piece Different.

And—most noteworthy fact—every piece in the wonderful collection is desirable, dependable, up-to-date. The stock surpasses in completeness, in quality, in variety the combined stocks of the furniture stores of the State. No store in New York City surpasses it in any respect. No department store anywhere equals the display we make and none sell at lower prices.

Every Piece in the House Reduced.

With but the insignificant exception of Prairie Grass Furniture, every piece of furniture in the store is offered at a reduced price—a reduction that is as real as it is reasonable.

Parlor Furniture, Dining Room Furniture, Library Furniture, Bed Room Furniture, Music Room Furniture, Den Furniture, Living Room Furniture, Odd Pieces of Many Sorts—all in such generous variety as to almost bewilder you—will be here at reduced prices.

The sale lasts throughout January, but prospective buyers are urged to take the earliest opportunity to come in, look over the stock, make comparisons, make selections, think it over, talk it over between husband and wife—finally buy to your profit.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold its business meeting on Tuesday night, January 9.

Probations of the First M. E. church who are entitled to full membership includes Albert Coddington, Miss Margaret C. Nash, Miss Grace B. Martin, Miss Blanche D. Beekman, Miss Effie Beekman and Miss Violet E. Knight.

The Christmas exercises at Marconnier chapel on Friday night, December 22, were largely attended by members of the Sunday-school, as well as parents and friends. The little children, as well as the older ones, acquitted themselves well in a programme of recitations, carols, mandolin solos, while the presentation of gifts was not the least enjoyable. Each member of the school was remembered, as was also Mrs. Schenck, the superintendent. The chapel was prettily decorated for the occasion with greens and flowers, while the Christmas tree was a happy feature.

LOST THEIR MONEY 3 WOMEN MAROONED

PLAINFIELDERS BORROW FARES IN NEW YORK POLICE STATION.

"We've lost our money and can't get home," said one of three fashionably frocked women who entered the East Fifty-first street police station, New York, Sunday afternoon in quest of advice. "I carried the money for all of us in my purse, and I either left it in church or it was stolen from me."

"Are you New Yorkers?" asked Sergeant Bingham, interestedly.

"No," said the spokeswoman; "we're from Plainfield. We came in this morning to attend service in the Broadway Tabernacle."

"And you have no return tickets?"

"They were in the purse with the money. Can't you telephone to our friends in Plainfield to send us money?"

"Entirely unnecessary, madam," returned the sergeant, gallantly. "I have $2 in my pocket, and I'll lend it to you with pleasure."

The ready aid so affected all the women that their eyes filled and one of them sobbed half-hysterically. Evidently they had been distressed by their predicament and had not known how to get to their homes without risking placing themselves in a false light. It was 2 o'clock when they appeared in the station. The church service had been over at least an hour and a half.

"Let me leave you this as security," said the woman who cried, as she started to take off her wedding ring. But Bingham wouldn't hear of it, although the $2 he had given her chanced to be the last he had at the time, and when the women had gone he had to borrow money for his luncheon.

EDGAR B. WARD RESIGNS.

Will Retire from Second Vice-Presidency of Prudential.

Edgar B. Ward, second vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company, who has been in continuous service as an officer of that institution for more than thirty years, yesterday announced his determination to decline a re-election at the annual meeting of the company next week. Mr. Ward has had his retirement in contemplation for some time, in fact had decided upon it a year ago, but it met at that time with so much opposition on the part of his associates that it was postponed. Now, however, Mr. Ward has made his decision final.

"It is all my own choice," Mr. Ward said today. "A considerable absence, especially during the winter, is imperative. I cannot believe a divided attention to the business to be fair to the company or to the other officers. Therefore, I take the course of retiring altogether.

"There are no differences between the other officers and me. Indeed, it would be strange if there were—when we remember that the other senior officers—Senator Dryden and Dr. Ward—and I have been together in the company since its organization in 1875 and all the time in perfect harmony. The worst of it all is now the severing of these relations."

Mr. Ward organized and has been at the head of the Prudential's legal department from the first, and the investment of the company's funds has also been largely in his charge. His advice has always been sought in making loans on real estate and collateral security, and his judgment has been relied upon in the purchase of bonds.

The vacancy in the list of officers will be filled at the annual meeting, but it has not yet been announced who will take Mr. Ward's place.

AND DID YOU GET ONE OF THESE CARDS?

P. R. R. Sends Facetious Cards to Those Formerly Favored.

Instead of their annual passes on the Pennsylvania Railroad, those who have long enjoyed these favors received the following cards today:

The Scripture Versus Passes:
"Thou shalt not pass."—Numbers xx., 18.
"Suffered not a man to pass."—Judges iii., 28.
"The wicked shall no more pass."—Nahum i., 15.
"Though they roar, yet can they not pass."—Jer. v., 22.
"He paid the fare and went."—Jonah i., 3.

A politician who is a trifle provoked over the anti-pass order, suggested that the Pennsylvania's New Year cards be returned with this indorsement:

"It will be remembered that Shylock draws upon Holy Writ to make a point in 'The Merchant of Venice,' and that Bassanio retorts that 'The Devil can quote scripture to his purpose.'"—New York Sun.

Preparatory services will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Friday night and the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday morning, when it is expected that several new members will be received.

Plainfield, N. J., January 3, 1906.

Speaking of Mayor McClellan, the number of his evictions proves the courage of his convictions.

In his annual report as president of the Board of Health, former Mayor Fisk puts it up to the Common Council to provide a remedy for the unsanitary condition produced by the present system of garbage collection. Just as he says, the matter has been brought to the attention of the city fathers repeatedly and it is time that something be done. The health authorities have pointed the way. Let the Common Council act.

Everyone will agree that State Road Commissioner Hutchinson has struck the right idea in making the novel suggestion that automobiles be taxed on the basis of the damage they occasion to the public highways. Apart from the fact that high speed machines constitute a nuisance on the famous thoroughfares of New Jersey, many of them play havoc with the roadbeds for which the State has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to get into good condition. In his annual report the road commissioner makes it plain that unless something is done the vast amount already expended will be wasted. His suggestion is that if high speed automobiles are to be allowed on the highways, they should be taxed in proportion to their maximum speed limit, which he holds is also a fair measure of their powers of destruction. Governor Stokes will no doubt give his attention to Mr. Hutchinson's recommendations, and we may hope to see them favorably acted upon by the incoming Legislature.

SPRAYING THE TREES.

Experts At Work on the Grounds of Well Known People.

The work of spraying the trees to check the ravages of the maple scale is going on steadily. The experts in charge of the apparatus worked on the Yates place, East Seventh street, last Thursday, and on Councilman Hibbard's grounds Saturday. They sprayed the trees on the Clawson place, Front street and Norwood avenue, yesterday, and are at work in Scotch Plains, on the Nichol place, today.

The experts have no idea how long they will be kept in the neighborhood. New commissions are constantly being given to them.

Dr. Maxson's View of Wages.

Prof. H. M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield Public Schools, addressed the High School, this morning, when the pupils returned to their studies after the holiday vacation. He spoke on the subject of "Wages," and declared that it is not the highest pay that is always to be sought. He urged honest, straightforward endeavor as the only means to success.

Principal I. W. Travell followed with a few remarks in which he reviewed the success of the past year and spoke of the excellent prospects for 1906.

SPEAKER-TO-BE ROBBINS AND HOUSE COMMITTEES.

Finds Placing of Members Difficult Task—Lawmakers Get Pennsylvania Railroad Passes.

Trenton, Jan. 3.—Members of the Legislature were scarce about the State House yesterday morning, but their absence was not, as many supposed, due to the absence of passes, for the passes have been sent to the members of this House as usual. All of the lawmakers who were here had passes, and most of them received these last Saturday.

It was said by one of the statesmen that last week the Pennsylvania Railroad authorities in Philadelphia asked an opinion from the company's counsel in this State as to whether, under exisiting laws, the road was obliged to carry any State officials free. The counsel, it is said, replied that, while under the charter of most of the lines making up the Pennsylvania system in this State, free transportation to State officials was not provided for, it would be well to respect the general railroad law and issue the passes to the members of the Legislature and the State officials enumerated therein as entitled "to pass and repass on all roads organized under this act."

Some of the officials who were not mentioned in the law, but who have heretofore received the benefit of this chance, have received no passes yet and think they are to receive none.

Speaker-to-be Robbins was among those in the corridors yesterday, and said he was having the worse job of his life in making up the House committees. To place the various members on the committees in the places for which they were best adapted and where they would do the best work was a difficult task, he declared. He expected, however, he said, to have the list all ready to be announced next Tuesday, when the House organized, so that if they felt so disposed the committees could consider bills, also the Legislature get down to real work the week after.

THIEVES IN AUTO TAKE SILVER WORTH $2,000.

Were Seen in Front of House Just Before Property Was Missed from an Upper Room.

An automobile stopped about dusk last evening close to the residence of Franklin Brooks on North Broad street, Elizabeth. Several persons saw it, including Annie Moore, cook in Mr. Brooks' family. At about the same time the silver which had been used at the New Year's dinner was sent to the upper floor and left on a tray on Mrs. Brooks' bed. It was worth $2,000.

Mr. Brooks had occasion to go to the room and seeing the tray empty sought to find out why the silver was not on it. Then it came out that the silver had been stolen by a thief who had climbed a porch pillar and entered the room. The family and guests on the floor below did not hear him.

There were three men in the automobile and it remained standing for some little time, while at least two of the men were absent. They did not make a stop at any of the nearby houses, so it is believed the men were the thieves.

LANDLORD BARS WOMEN RENTERS.

Will Do Business With Men Hereafter Or Not At All.

George M. Gerhard, of East Millstone, who owns several houses, has inserted the following advertisement in the county papers:

"Houses leased only to families where this is attended to by the men. I am tired of petticoat government."

Gerhard says it used to be easy to rent houses, but now the women want so many conveniences and do so much fussing, that he is going to cut them out of his list.

"If I can't rent to men," says Gerhard, "I will let the houses stay empty. Women kick about closets, they don't like the stairs, they want some windows where there are none and don't like them where the carpenter puts them in. They never, never like the wall paper."

Neighbors who know the old gentleman believe he will make good his promise to keep the houses empty rather than to lease them to women.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

(By Merry Tom.)

Three best bets: Ezra Kendall, James O'Neill and "Little Johnny Jones." All under the wire at the New Plainfield theatre within two weeks.

The song, "Everybody Works but Father," introduced by Lew Dockstader, has driven a man away from his home in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The words described his case so accurately that he lit out for fairer pastures.

Manager Counihan has organized a local branch of the "Muff Mads," a theatrical society that has a great foothold in the West. Jack Hall was ushered into its mysteries last night and he says it beats anything he ever joined.

A straw ballot taken today indicates that "Running for Office" will do a landslide business Saturday afternoon and night. First impressions always count, and the hit made by the show when it appeared here in September has not been forgotten.

"Bob" Whittaker, who recently returned from Cuba with his world-famous horse "Dahl," will be one of the features of the Elks' minstrel show next month. "Bob" wears the antlers and to help make the affair a big success has offered his act just as he has put it on in the best vaudeville houses throughout the country.

Walter Sherwin, of this city, was a member for two seasons of the drama "Over Niagara Falls" that appeared at the New Plainfield theatre last night. He played the part of "Starlight," the Indian, and made the hit of his career with it. His picture, taken in the Indian costume, hangs in a neat frame over the entrance of the theatre lobby.

Rumor has it that Miss Dorothy Tennant, who created the title role of "The College Widow," and who is still playing the part, is to be married to George Ade, who wrote the piece. The report is of local interest from the fact that Miss Tennant is the niece of a prominent West Seventh street woman and has been a frequent visitor to Plainfield.

George L. Apgar and William Thorn, who were on a camping trip in Sussex county last summer, with Eddie Redway, the actor, were his guests during the performance of "The Gingerbread Man" at the Liberty theatre, New York, New Year's night. Redway heads the big cast, but found time outside of his appearances before the footlights to show the Plainfielders what a vast amount of energy is expended in putting on a musical show.

MUST NOT STAGGER IN PUBLIC IN JERSEY CITY.

Police Chief Murphy Issues Order that All Unsteady Persons Shall Be Arrested.

Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City, issued last night a general order directing the police to arrest any person found staggering upon the street or in a public place.

"It appears," said Chief Murphy in the order, "through information brought to me, that cases of public intoxication are increasing throughout this city to an alarming extent. In future any person who staggers upon the street or in any public place, or makes of himself a menace to public decency, must be arrested."

The order excited considerable comment among city officials as well as the general public.

McMillan was captured at South Plainfield about a month ago and is charged with being one of the people who broke into several stores at Bound Brook, securing a great amount of plunder.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"Too Proud to Beg" is the title of Lincion J. Carter's latest effort and will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. The plot is a good one, consistently told in such a manner as to thrill one from the beginning to the finale. It tells the old story, but with much newness and novelty, of an unscrupulous character falling in love with another man's wife; his conniving schemes in getting the husband out of the way, his eager words of love to the wronged wife, his reception of scorn and contempt by the noble woman, and finally the discovery and his ultimate imprisonment.

In the announcement of the coming of "The Two Sisters" Company at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night it may well be said that Denman Thompson has played his "Old Homestead" in every important city on this continent and has achieved a national reputation not equaled by any actor in theatrical records. More than this, he has personally endeared himself to the general public and the announcement of his appearance in any city is sure to awaken enthusiasm and attract overflowing and delighted audiences—composed of the best people, regular Orthodox church attendants as well as the usual theatre patrons. This statement is made in view of the appearance here of "The Two Sisters," a companion piece to the "Old Homestead"—written by Denman Thompson. His name is an assurance of its unusual merit, and in the very few places where Denman Thompson has not personally appeared "The Two Sisters" will be welcomed as a representative of the best work of our beloved comedian.

Ezra Kendall, in a revival of his successful play, "The Vinegar Buyer," will appear at the New Plainfield theatre Monday, January 22. After all, the purely American play is the thing for American people, a fact oft demonstrated and now emphasized anew in the cordial reception with which Ezra Kendall's play, "The Vinegar Buyer," has been meeting on its tour. Kendall's popularity is so extensive and firmly established that he would probably be accepted in almost any sort of a vehicle, but in "The Vinegar Buyer" he is doing something for the American stage as well as adding to his individual reputation as a comedian. To the public that has known Kendall's work in the past it may be rather difficult to picture him drawing tears as well as laughter, but it is said that there are moments in "The Vinegar Buyer" when he grips the heart-strings as effectively as he elicits merriment in the lighter scenes. Liebler & Company have given Kendall an unusually fine cast and production this season.

The new musical drama, "The Street Singer," with dainty Florence Bindley in the title role, which comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night, under the direction of B. E. Forrester, speaks directly to the human heart. The drama is true to nature and throbs so intensely with human interest that it has scored a success which is at once and at the same time emphatic and gratifying. In the true drama—the drama which correctly pictures the exciting and thrilling incidents of the life of a man and woman, while preserving the delicacy of the good elements, is a variety, but the rule is proved the exception of "The Street Singer," which is justly considered by students of the American drama as one of the best examples of what a drama should be.

G. H. Bellis, of Elmwood place, who has been quite ill with pneumonia, is slowly recovering.

Robert Crane, Yale '07, has been spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. B. Crane.

Miss Maizie Gray, of Elmwood place, who has been detained at home by illness, is much improved and hopes to be out again soon.

—The Criterion Club has issued invitations for an informal dance to be held at the Casino January 11.

—W. M. Nevius, of Elmwood place, who received severe cuts in the head a few days ago, when an iron door was blown over as he was delivering goods at L. W. Randolph's drug store, is much improved.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.
Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.
The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Selected list of books added to the Library during December. Part 1. Part 2 will appear in next week's issue.

Brudno, E. S.—The little conscript.

"A story of the reign of Nicholas I, Emperor of Russia from 1825 to 1855. A Jewish boy of fifteen, a precocious student of the Talmud, is drafted for the army. Because he will not forswear his religion he is cruelly persecuted. . . The conditions of the Jews in Russia are described with startling realism."

Bryant, S. C.—How to tell stories to children.

"A practical little book which will be of great assistance to those who have the pleasant task of telling stories to the children."

Call, Annie Payson.—Freedom of life.

"Many of the chapters contain comfort, and good advice, and are the result of sure insight: among them are 'Self-consciousness,' "Human sympathy,' 'Dependence' and 'Independence,' 'Self-control,' "About Christmas' and 'To mothers.' '

Clark, J. B.—Leavening the nation.

"There has been felt among all church workers a need of a careful history of American home missionary work. Foreign missions have had many historians, but home missions have had none."

Darwin, Leonard. — Municipal trade.

"No other book on the principles underlying municipal ownership or trade can compare with this for exhaustive, judicial presentation of municipal analysis and for fairness to both sides of a hotly controverted question. . . It will be a pleasure then, to all who desire light and truth to read this carefully prepared, exhaustive, judicial presentation of municipal ownership, even for those who do not wholly agree with the findings of the judge."—Engineering news.

Dawson, W. J.—Makers of English fiction.

"The author's powers of analysis are considerable, his sympathies are broad, and he has, what is an extremely valuable gift, the historic sense."—N. Y. Times.

Duncan, R. K.—The new knowledge: new physics and the new chemistry in their relation to the new theory of matter.

"It is not too much to say that no intelligent person can afford to permit this book to go unread. . . For the general student who desires to keep abreast of the discoveries of science, Mr. Duncan's book is quite invaluable. It states, as it stated nowhere else, the significance of the scientific discoveries which the newspaper press have made familiar by name the world over. We have failed to find in the book any important inaccuracy, despite the fact that the field covered is so large and the subject mater so difficult."—Educational Review.

Eggleston, G. C.—Daughter of the south.

"A romance of the last months of the Civil War. . . There are descriptions of lawless speculators and plundering merchants, who made the most out of the United States government and the ruined Southerners."

Fish, C. R.—Civil service and the patronage.

"The most valuable part of the book is the second section, dealing with the genesis of the spoils system. This is a genuine contribution to the history of the subject."—American Historical Review.

"This book is distinctly a history of the patronage, and as such deserves recognition as a valuable contribution in this particular field."—W. W. Pierson in Annals of the American academy.

Foote, A. H.—Africa and the American flag.

"The author was Lieut. of the U. S. Brig. Perry, on the African slave trade, and its observations on the manners and customs of Africa make it of very real value."

George, H. B.—Oberland and its glaciers, illustrated with photographs.

Gissing, George.—Private papers of Henry Ryecroft.

"It is difficult to speak too highly of this delightful book. To those who know anything of the literary life its appeal will be irresistible."—Contemporary review.

"A piece of pure literature and an almost perfect expression of his singular temperament and genius."—Churchman.

Gordon, S. D.—Quiet talks on power.

Gordon, S. D.—Quiet talks on prayer.

Graham, Mrs. M. C.—Wizard's daughter, and other stories.

Contents—The wizard's daughter: Marg'et Ann: At the foot of the trail: Lib.: For value received: The face of the poor:

"The scene of most of the stories is in California. Mrs. Graham is known as the author of 'Stories of the Foothills.' "

Gulick, M. A.—Evolution of the Japanese, social and psychic.

"Mr. Gulick's work is marked by sane, constraint and critical acumen. At the same time, though he does not attempt any vivd descriptive writing, Mr. Gulick leaves with the reader a picture of life in Japan that is clear and convincing."

Gulick, S. L.—White peril in the far east.

"After seventeen years of constant intercourse with men in all stations in Japan he is able to give us, not only a highly interesting interpretation of the fundamental character of Japanese civilization and life, but also a thoroughly convincing statement of the attitude of the Japanese toward the outside world today, especially as revealed in the conduct of the war with Russia. . . While in no way profound, it is rich in novel and suggestive points of view. It contains one of the best statements of the real causes of the war with Russian yet published."—Dial.

Hammond, Capt. Harold.—Pinkey Perkins: just a boy.

"Is a little different from most boys' books. He is never montonous, however."—N. Y. Times.

Hanson, J. H.—Lost prince.

"A book of curious interest in which the author seeks to prove the identity of Eleazar Williams, priest and missionary, with Louis XVII of France."

Hill, D. J.—History of diplomacy in the international development of Europe. v. 1.

"The results of investigation are handled with a narrative skill that invests the driest facts with the interest of freshness; the tone throughout is scrupulously impartial, and the requirements of perspective are unfailingly observed."—Outlook.

Huntington, Emily.—How to teach kitchen garden; or, object lessons in household work, including songs, plays, exercises and games illustrating household occupations."

Ireland, Allyne.—Far eastern tropics.

"His subject is of unusual interest, and is one to which hitherto far too little attention has been paid. . . Mr. Ireland's style is conspicuous for clarity of reasoning and expression, and his criticism is so eminently characterized by sound common sense, and acute observation that he should carry conviction in the minds of most of his readers. . . The book may be cordially welcomed as an interesting study in outline of what is practically a novel subject."—Geographical journal.

Kendall, G. W.—Narrative of the Texan Santa Fe expedition, and an account of the capture of the Texans.

"The character of the Texas expedition was commercial, with the ulterior intention of bringing the eastern portion of New Mexico under the protection of the then President of Texas, Gen. Lamar." As the text and the quaint engravings both picture a phase of life in the west which no longer exists, beside the interest of the narrative which is considerable, the book has real historical value.

Knox, G. W.—Japanese life in town and country.

"In this readable volume Dr. Knox has succeeded in compressing into small space a great deal of interesting matter about Japan."—Independent.

WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away—Plainfield People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Plainfield testimony to prove it.

Mrs. J. Mottley, of 546 Sixth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "About two months ago I was seized with a severe backache and dull pains in the back of my head. I could not rest nights, and had little desire to do housework and my strength seemed to be about all gone. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Randolph's drug store and can truthfully say that they gave me relief from my sufferings. My back and head do not ache and I am strong and vigorous, rest well at night, and have some ambition again. I am convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills are a first-class remedy for troubles arising from the kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Woman Physician for Girls' Home.

Trenton, Jan. 3.—Dr. George Parker, for ten years visiting physician at the New Jersey State Home for Girls, this city, was displaced Monday by Dr. Mary H. DeHart, of Jersey City, who has been named by the board of managers as resident physician at the institution. The managers declare that a resident physician has become necessary at the institution, and that they deem it best to have a woman treat the girl inmates.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

I. N. Wyckoff, the painter and decorator, does the best work and his estimates are reasonable.

The fruits sold by Alex. Lusardi, West Front street, are always the best to be obtained in the market.

The year 1906 will be far happier for you if you resolve to use Thorp's foot relief. It gives the weary feet instant relief.

If your clothes need pressing or cleaning, call on A. LeVine, of Watchung avenue, and the work will be done satisfactorily.

There is no tailoring establishment so careful in its execution of the work entrusted to it as that of H. Solomon, Somerset street.

If you are desirous of having your clothes cleaned or dyed, send them to G. O. Keller's place, Park avenue. They will be sent back in perfect condition.

Don't forget that William Hand & Sons, of East Second street, do a general trucking business and goods are moved carefully and promptly to all parts of the country.

Painting and decorating work done by J. C. Hanson, East Front street, satisfies the most artistic taste. His staff of workmen is made up of experts in every department of their work.

A. M. Griffen, the hardware merchant, starts the new year with a large and desirable stock of hardware, household utensils and builders' materials. Contracts for heating, tinning and sanitary plumbing are made on the best terms and all work guaranteed.

As during 1905, the firm of Woodhull & Martin will, during the coming year, continue to give its patrons full value. The firm's stock will be just as large and every department will offer attractive bargains. The past year was one of the best in the history of the firm and has encouraged it to even greater effort this year. No better goods are sold anywhere and the prices are such that it is useless to trade in New York. Resolve to trade with this firm and you will never regret it.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Exciting the wonder and delight of great throngs at each of the two daily performance, "A Society Circus," the New York Hippodrome's newest and grandest production has proved to be, as foretold, the greatest success in theatrical annals. During Christmas week not less than 75,000 persons, an unprecedented record, visited the national playhouse. In "A Society Circus" is witnessed, as never before in the world, such a beautiful example of stage pageantry, gorgeous costumes, dazzling ensembles, bewildering ballet and circus, the whole culminating in the beautiful tableau, "The Court of the Golden Fountains." The acts in the circus are the best ever shown in this gigantic place of amusement. Claire Heliot and her marvelous lion act; Miss Marquis and her ponies; Marguerite and Hanley, in wonderful acrobatics; the Sisters O'Meers, in their beautiful high-wire specialty; the Sisters Powell and Robert Cottrell in bareback feats; the Four Marnos, clever acrobats; Albert Crandall and his trick mule; the Meras Family, skillful acrobats, Barlow's elephants and the remarkable juggling specialty offered by the August family constitutes a catalogue of interesting and skillful numbers hard to beat. Matinees are given daily.

QUIET NEW YEAR'S EVE.

Sunday Spirit Hushed the Greeting of Plainfield's Public to 1906.

Hushed by the Sabbath spirit, New Year's eve was a quiet affair in this city. Church bells rang a decorously joyous greeting, but the public, unable to shake the Sunday calm from their spirits, watched 1905 go out in silence. In Newark, New York, and other places big enough to disregard the Sunday idea, had noise and joyousness aplenty, but Plainfield's usual Sunday night quiet was scarcely ruffled.

One or two sporadic shots sounded on the still air, but the noise died away quickly, as though abashed by the surrounding silence. There were few people on the streets, and most of those came from the congregations in churches where watch-night services were held. New Year's Day itself was very quiet as holidays go. There was no disorder, and tipsy youths and men were no more numerous than in past years.

Union County Courts Open.

The Union County Courts opened at Elizabeth yesterday with Judge Fort on the bench. His address was very brief, saying that there are now no matters of importance to which he desired to call the attention of the Grand Jury. He intimated that he might call the jurors back later to speak to them about a matter of great concern. The list of causes were read and the dates fixed for trial. Yesterday the Union County Bar Association met and re-elected all of the old officers. Craig A. Marsh, Esq., of this city, was re-elected president for the coming year.

Miss Nellie Clarkson, of East Second street, is entertaining Miss Frances Cline, of Bound Brook.

"CURRENT MONEY OF NEW YORK" PAID FOR LAND IN OLD DEEDS JUST FILED

Three time-stained and tattered deeds, each 100 years old, their contents barely decipherable, were placed on record in the register's office today, the papers having been in the possession of the present occupant of the land described in the documents, Mrs. Sarah W. Jeffrey, who, in an affidavit attached to the papers, vouches to having held title to the realty, by virtue of the deeds, for the past forty years. One of the deeds, executed December 20, 1805, sets forth the transfer of 16 and 30-100 acres of land from John Johnson and Josiah Johnson, executors of the estate of David Canfield, to Edward Earl. The property involved is described as "the long hill, beginning at the westermost corner of John Johnson's land, on the south side of the road leading from the Bound Creek to Camptown." The deed further declares the property "is bounded on the east by John Johnson, west by Edward Earl and north by the road."

The price paid to the executors by Mr. Earl, who bought it at public vendue, is given as "the sum of 252 pounds and thirteen shillings, current money of New York."

In the other deeds, both executed December 24, 1805, Sarah Canfield, widow of David Canfield, releases her share in the property for the sum of $5, and Joseph and Nathan Canfield do likewise for a consideration of $10.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Mrs. A. E. Finn will lead the Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the Park Avenue Baptist church Friday night. The topic will be "How Finding Christ Changes the Life."

During his stay in Plainfield, conducting evangelistic services at Faith chapel, Rev. C. C. Luther will be the guest of the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, of West Front street. Mr. Luther conducts special meetings every afternoon and evening, except Saturday. The services will continue for two weeks.

There will be communion and reception of members at the First M. E. church on Sunday morning and the pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea, requests that all the members of the church attend. Those desiring to unite with the church either by letter or on probation are urged to see the pastor as soon as possible.

THE FORUM.

Children's Home Grateful.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The ladies of the Children's Home wish most cordially to thank the Elks for their entertainment given out children December 23; also all churches, Sabbath schools and personal friends whose generous gifts made our "Christmas tree," given by Misses Kenyon and Arnold, and lighted by electricity through the kindness of Mr. Lafng, the first one we ever had.

(MRS.) M. E. KIMBALL.

Fays Here Again.

The wonderful Fays, who appeared at the Casino last November and presented a series of experiments called "Thaumaturgy," with which they mystified all Plainfield, will be at the Casino again next week and give everyone who missed seeing them last time another chance to see them and those who did not go a chance to go again. Commencing Monday night they will present their marvelous and weird entertainment every night except Thursday for a week. The ladies will have special matinees for their exclusive attendance Wednesday, Thrusday, Friday and Saturday. The advance sale will open at 9 o'clock sharp tomorrow morning in Rowley's drug store, 218 West Front street. In order to get the best seats for any performance next week it would be wise to be there on hand when the sale opens. The sale will continue each day for the rest of the week at the same hour, until nightfall.

The Misses Randolph, of East Randolph road, entertained company from New York New Year's Day.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Wetumpkah Tribe will have an initiation tomorrow night. A social time will follow the meeting.

District Deputy Wolfskeil, of Elizabeth, installed the recently elected officers of Jerusalem Lodge, F. and A. M., last night. Coffee and sandwiches were enjoyed after the installation.

Court Watchung, No. 3871, Independent Order of Foresters, held its annual installation of officers last evening in Columbus Hall. The following having been re-elected were not installed: Chief ranger, Charles S. Hays; past chief ranger, John Knight, Jr.; vice chief ranger, Charles A. Haring; recording secretary, Clarence Brouard; treasurer, Andrew M. Vanderbeek; court deputy, John J. Praed; organist, Allen F. Squier; senior woodward, Charles Leighs; junior woodward, Arthur G. Beekman; court physicians, Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, Dr. W. Kempton Browning; court druggists, Peter B. Hodge, Dudley S. Miller.

Those installed were: Financial secretary, James D. Macnab; orator, Frank W. Woodruff; senior beadle, W. Kempton Browning; junior beadle, Marcus L. Clawson.

District Deputy Lewis T. Titsworth was the installing officer and after the administration of the obligation to the new officers, gave a very inspiring talk on the good and extension of the order with special reference to the new office of court organizer. The entertainment committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, has arranged a good time for the next meeting, Jan. 16.

Stars for the Opera.

William Holmes, who has charge of the rehearsals and production of "The Pirates of Penzance," at last night's rehearsal announced the names of those who will take the leading parts. Mrs. F. M. Ward will take the part of "Ruith," Miss Tabb, of New Market, that of "Kate," and William N. Runyon will be the "Pirate King." Elmer D. Cutting will be the "Major-General," and Joseph C. Martin the "Sergeant of Police." The rehearsal on Monday night will be held at Reform Hall, owing to an arrangement whereby the Casino will be engaged.

James Keenan's Funeral.

The funeral of James Keenan, who died Saturday morning, was held from his late home on East Fifth street yesterday afternoon. Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, had charge. Interment was made at Hillside cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs. Taylor, Sharkey, Jardot, Keenan, Miller and Koch.

The general conditions were found to be good. Fifty-two of the dairies complied absolutely with the ordinances and in the remaining thirty only a few minor changes were necessary.

ANGRY BOY TRIED TO BLOW UP HOME.

Disliked His Teacher—Was Committed to State Home.

For trying to blow up the Arthur Home in Summit Monday, because he disliked one of the teachers, William Featherline, fifteen years old, of Parrow street, Orange, was committed to the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg yesterday afternoon by Judge Ten Eyck in the Court of Quarter Sessions. The boy was committed to the home February 15 of last year, having then been adjudged incorrigible.

He developed a violent antipathy to one of the instructors in the home. For some time, it is said, he nursed his fancied grievances, but did not show any active hatred until Monday, when, after a reprimand, he went to the furnace in the cellar, drew off the hot water from the boilers and let in the cold suddenly, anticipating an explosion. Instead, after considerable water had flooded the cellar, the cause was discovered and Featherline found to be the culprit. The boy was turned over to Probation Officer John J. Gascoyne yesterday morning.

HUMAN "HUNGERS."

English Professor Tells of Yearnings from Infancy to Old Age.

Professor Earl Barnes gives the following list of "human hungers" and the ages at which they can first be noticed, say the New York Press.

Hunger for food and drink—Infancy.
Hunger for action—Infancy.
Hunger for knowledge—Infancy.
Hunger for companionship—Six weeks.
Hunger for property—Two years.
Hunger for self-aggrandizement.—Five years.
Hunger for beauty—Two years.
Hunger for reasoning—Seven years.
Hunger for worship—Thirteen years.
Hunger for righteousness.—Fifteen years.

The natural desire for food and drink is strongest, said the professor, at birth. After twenty the appetite should, if not misused, become less and less, till at seventy a man or woman ought not to require one small meal a day.

The "hunger" for property is very strong at about fifteen—the "collecting" age, when boys will amass anything, from stamps to beetles. When all others "hungers" fail, the "property hunger" still exists, and a man is most likely to be a miser when he is nearest his grave.

The "hunger" for beauty—that is, the real "beauty hunger," which means the admiration of art for art's sake—is the most uncommon of all.

No child can be said to have the "reason hunger" still he or she asks how it is that Santa Claus manages to get down a narrow chimney with a bag of toys. Then "reason" is beginning to dawn. This is quite different from the "hunger" for knowledge, which is mere curiosity.

"Hungers" must be kept as necessities, or they will become vices. The "action hunger" is liable to develop into globe-trotting, the "property hunger" into meannes, and the "food and drink" hunger into gluttony and drunkenness.

On the other hand, "hungers" must be developed sufficiently. If, for example, self-aggrandizement is not advanced enough, it becomes apathy. In short, we must keep our "hungers" at the happy medium.

LAWYERS FAVOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A DISTRICT COURT IN THIS CITY WITHOUT DELAY

They See Many and Important Benefits to Litigant and Counsel in the Proposed Tribunal.

OPINIONS AS TO LAW

Disagreement Over Interpretation of the Statute Covering the Creation of the Court.

If the matter were placed in the hands of the lawyers to decide, the proposed district court for this city would speedily become an established fact. Practically every legal luminary of Plainfield is in favor of the court. Daily Press reporters got their views on the subject this morning. They were asked, first if they favored the establishment of the court; second, if the law covering its establishment was mandatory; and, third, what benefits the court would give to lawyers and clients.

There was the time honored disagreement as to the interpretation of the statute, but they were pretty much in accord as to the benefits to be derived. It was the general consensus of opinion that the court would do away with much useless litigation, save litigants expense and save lawyers time and bother. Ex-City Judge W. A. Coddington, of Reed & Coddington, is emphatically in favor of the court.

"Certainly, I would like to see one here," he said. "It is a question in my mind whether the provision governing its establishment is mandatory, but I would most certainly like to see a district court in Plainfield. It would make for speedy trials in small causes, a consummation most devoutly to be desired. It would be a benefit to the people at large, I think. Many cases are taken to Elizabeth now, to insure speedy trials. The court would be of particular benefit to litigants in that their cases would be tried before a judge versed on the law, doing away with much of the appeal evil. It would be satisfying even to the defeated litigant to know that the case was decided by a man who knows the law. The lawyers certainly would not lose anything, and no lawyer who wants to conserve the best interests of his clients would regret the establishment of a court that would do away with the necessity for appeals."

Another former city judge, W. R. Codington, of Codington & Swackhamer, was as decided in his support of the proposition to establish the court as Judge Coddington.

"Most assuredly I think we should have a district court here," he said. "It would be a decided benefit. As to the law covering its establishment, my interpretation of it is that it is mandatory. I base that opinion on a reading of the law of 1900 covering the subject. It should be acted upon without delay. The court's greatest benefit to the community—to the clients in particular, let us say—would lie in the saving of litigation. The judge has got to be a lawyer of standing and ability, a factor that must make for equitable and satisfactory decisions. The justices before whom our small causes must now be brought do not even pretend to be versed in law. Again, there will be a great saving in the costs of actions with a district court in Plainfield. The higher courts have much higher costs. For instance, a judgment of $250 in the Supreme or Circuit Court would cost $30 to $35; in the district court the cost would be between $5 and $6. There is a cogurt argument for the court just on that."

Former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer, the judge's partner, expressed practically the same views. He read the law over and said he could see no interpretation but a mandatory one.

"The court would certainly tend to cut down litigation," he said, "and that is a very great benefit in its favor. Both sides would take the satisfaction in feeling that the cause had been passed upon or the action controlled by a lawyer of recognized standing and ability. A justice of the peace may be an estimable and eminently sensible man, but still lack the training and practice necessary to bring a proper legal view to bear on the cause and the questions involved. Whether or not the court should be established at once is a question I am reluctant to give a

JOURNEYMEN MASONS TO GET $24.20 A WEEK

UNION MEN WILL RECEIVE $4.40 FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

The Bricklayers and Masons' Lodge, No. 14, in regular session last night granted an increase of five cents an hour to the journeymen. This will give the men a wage of $24.20 a week, comprising forty-four hours, also the Saturday half holiday. Heretofore the men received fifty cents an hour, and they made a request for the additional five cents.

There was not a full attendance of boss masons at the meeting, but the question was discussed in a lively manner. Several bosses thought that fifty cents an hour was good pay and that the request of the men was unreasonable. However, when the vote was called for it was found that those who favored the increase were in the majority. The new rate will go into effect at once.

J. D. BAILEY LESSEE OF GLENSIDE PARK.

Former Plainfield Hotel Man to Continue Place As Summer Resort.

John O. Bailey, formerly manager for the Park Avenue Hotel, now Truell Inn, has leased the twelve cottages and 300 acres of land at Glenside Park, in New Providence Township, formerly occupied by Thomas Malloy. The change was made at the sale a few days ago, when Justice Hand, auctioneer, sold the contents and farming implements at the park. The sale realized about $1,600, Mr. Bailey purchasing about one-third of the contents. He intends to farm the land and continue the place as a summer resort, opening June 1 next.

This place was originally known as Feltville, being named after a man named Felt, who operated a mill in that vicinity and erected the cottages for his men. Afterward it was known as the "Deserted Village." Twenty years ago the late Warren Ackerman purchased the property, which comprised about 1,100 acres and it is now a part of the Ackerman Estate. Mr. Malloy and his family have moved to Newark.

Day Nursery Work.

Because of the lack of a quorum the Day Nursery Committee from the City Union of King's Daughters was unable to hold a meeting this morning to fix the date for the opening of the nursery and transaction of other important details. The date will be set at a meeting to be held Thursday morning, January 11. The work of getting the nursery in condition is progressing favorably. The stoves are in place, some of the rooms furnished and the coal has been put in the cellar.

Mrs. Henrietta Eugenia Hawley, of New York, has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Miss Henrietta Eugenia Hawley, and Joseph Lawrence Myers, also of New York. The wedding will take place Tuesday afternoon, January 23, at 2:30 o'clock at St. Thomas' church, and a reception will follow at the home of the bride's mother. Mr. Myers was a resident of this city for several years and his many friends here will be interested in the above announcement.

REVIVALS HAVE BEGUN

Special Services at Grace M. E. Church and Hope and Faith Chapels.

MUSIC A FEATURE

Rev. C. C. Luther at Faith—Rev. George R. Lunn Coming to Hope—Good Results Expected.

The revival services are being held in several of the local churches.

The preparatory services at Hope chapel have been in progress the past week and from the size of the gatherings they are attracting much interest. The meeting last night was in charge of William D. Murray and tonight it will be led by E. E. Parvin. Special music will be a feature.

On Sunday morning the evangelistic services will be started at the chapel, and many believe they will play a large part in the religious life of the city for the coming year. The attention of all New Jersey residents has been attracted by the remarkable meetings which have been in progress in Paterson, Newark, Elizabeth and other places and local people hope that there may be a general awakening in Plainfield.

The services at Hope will be in charge of Rev. George R. Lunn, who recently accomplished great results during a campaign at Schenectady, N. Y. He is pastor of the First Reformed church in that city and has recently been preaching to thousands nightly.

Mr. Lunn is a young man about thirty years of age. He was a resident of the Middle West up to the time of his graduation from college. He studied for the ministry at Princeton Seminary and then for two years at Union Seminary, New York, being in the same class there as Rev. L. R. Howard. After graduations he became assistant to Dr. Daniel Gregg, of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, whence he was called to succeed Rev. J. S. Zelie, D. D., at Schenectady, having been prominently mentioned also in connection with some of the most influential churches of the country.

The evangelistic services which began at Grace M. E. church on Tuesday night under the direction of Evangelist Alfred Hines, of Canada, are proving a great blessing to the members of the church and congregation. Harry Rines, a brother, who will assist in the services, has been detained on account of illness, but will be present at the services tonight.

The evangelists are not only interesting and able speakers, but are fine singers. They accompany themselves on various instruments. The attendance at yesterday's meetings was not so large on account of the weather, but there was a deep spiritual feeling. Last night Mr. Rines spoke on "Promises, and the Proof of Promises," and he held the close attention of all throughout his discourse. There is evidence of a strong awakening in Grace church and greater activity. The meetings will be continued every afternoon and evening up to and including Sunday, January 14.

There is increased interest in the evangelistic services being held at Faith chapel by Rev. C. C. Luther, of Connecticut, and several conversions have resulted already. The services began on Sunday night and have continued afternoon and evening. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon a mother's meeting is held and at 3:15 a service for children. The evening services begin at 8 o'clock.

On Monday night there was one conversion and two more on Tuesday night. Last night another person began the Christian life, after Mr. Luther preached a powerful sermon, using for his subject the story of the woman who sought Jesus to plead for her demoniac daughter, who could not be brought to Him. In illustrating this subject he showed

ASSAULTED BY A WOMAN

Mrs. J. V. Taylor Knocked Down and Badly Injured In the West End.

MRS. SUYDAM ACCUSED

Police, To Whom Assault Was Reported As a Mystery, Say She Is Assailant and Has Motive.

J. V. Taylor, who lives in Wolverton street, brought a tale of a mysterious assault to police headquarters yesterday afternoon. The police said this morning that they unravelled the mystery without much trouble, but wouldn't explain. They said the hearing of the assailant would make good reading.

Mr. Taylor was much excited when he came into headquarters. He told Chief Kiely that his wife had been "held up and assaulted" by an unknown woman in the West End the night before.

"My wife was knocked down and kicked," he said, "and is so badly injured that she can't leave her bed."

He said his wife had no idea of her assailant's identity. He called it a holdup, but nothing was taken from Mrs. Taylor and no attempt had been made to take anything.

"It's funny your wife has no hint as to her assailant's identity," said the chief. "Is she sure it was a woman?"

"It was a woman, all right," said Mr. Taylor. "And she doesn't know who she was."

Chief Kiely sent Detective McCarthy down to the West End to sleuth out the mystery. McCarthy had no difficulty, the police say, in learning who the assailant was, and pretty much all about the motive. When the detective returned to headquarters a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. George Suydam, of Pond place, was sworn out.

The police say she is the assailant. Mrs. Taylor was as badly hurt as her husband had said. A certificate from Dr. Brakeley, of Dunellen, informed the police this morning that she would not be able to leave the house for two or three days. Mrs. Suydam had been summoned to appear in court this morning, but she sent a certificate from a doctor also.

"We know why the assault was made," said Chief Kiely this morning, "but this is not the time to give it out. The hearing will disclose the whole story."

HEARSE DRIVER FALLS BENEATH HORSES FEET

ANIMALS KICK HIM INTO UNCONSCIOUSNESS BEFORE HE COULD ESCAPE

While returning from the Stanbery interment at Evergreen cemetery yesterday afternoon, John Stevens, a driver for George Cole, was seized with a fit of vertigo and fell from his seat on the hearse as the vehicle reached West Fifth and Division streets. He landed on the ground beneath the horses' heels and before he could roll out of the way the animals had kicked him about the head and body repeatedly. They stopped of their own accord and when drivers of other vehicles following hurried up they found Stevens unconscious and bleeding from several bad gashes on the face.

He was taken to a nearby residence and the ambulance was summoned, but he had recovered his senses before it arrived. He refused to go to the hospital and was removed to his home. An examination by a physician showed that he had received no broken bones, but his body is a mass of bruises where the flying hoofs struck him and his face will bear several bad cuts for a long time.

CRANFORD'S FIRST TRIP

Sister Boat of the Somerville in R. R.'s Fleet Now in Commission.

VERY NEWEST TYPE

Launched in November—Cranford People Aboard—Description of the Vessel.

The new Central Railroad ferryboat, "Cranford," built by the Harlan & Hollingsworth Corporation, at Wilmington, Del., which was so successfully launched at the shipyards on November 11, 1905, has arrived in New York harbor, and made its initial trip on the Twetny-third street ferry this morning, connecting with the 7:45 train from Cranford. Members of the Cranford Township Committee, members of the flag committee, Miss Lucile D. Woodling and Miss Gladys Hall, the sponsors for the "Cranford," and many commuters were on the boat.

The "Cranford" and "Somerville" are the last two boats of a fleet of eight built for the Central Railroad to replace the ferryboats formerly in service on the North River. These vessels are of a newer, better and swifter type.

The "Cranford" is 207 feet in length by 65 feet in width and draws eleven feet of water, and has seating accommodations for 600 people, or a total capacity of 1,500 passengers. The hull of the vessel is constructed of the best ship steel, and is divided into five water-tight compartments. Motive power will be furnished by four-cylinder, triple expansion engines, with a stroke of thirty inches. The high pressure and intermediate cylinders are fitted with piston valves, while the low-pressure cylinders have double-posted slide valves. The engine drives a continuous shaft, having an eight-foot propeller at each end. Steam is supplied by three cylindrical boilers of the gunboat type, each being eight feet nine inches in diameter by twenty feet long, and constructed to pass inspection for steam pressure of 170 pounds. The equipment is complete.

There are two cabins on the main deck of the vessel, and from these wide stairways lead to a large saloon on the upper deck, outside of which there is a spacious promenade. The vessel is equipped with four lifeboats, four life-ring buoys and an ample supply of cork life jackets. The main fire-fighting equipment consists of a large fire pump in the engine room, connected to eight lines of hose, located at convenient points on all the decks and in the cabins.

The interior decorations of the new boats are of oak, the floors of hard wod, covered with tiled linoleum. No expense has been spared to make the "Cranford" a fit representative of the ferryboat-makers' art at its best, embodying the three essentials—speed, comfort and safety.

STREET CAR VICTIM WAS R. T. JOHNSTON.

Dispatch from Chicago Mentioned "Chas. J. Johnson."

Robert T. Johnston, formerly of this city, but now of Chicago, proves to be the man who was injured while endeavoring to board a cable train in the latter city a few days since, as exclusively told in The Daily Press. The press dispatches gave his name as "Charles J. Johnson, of Plainfield."

His brother, John Johnston, has received word from the victim of the accident, who is still in the Chicago Emergency Hospital, that his injuries are not as bad as at first reported. His arm is broken, but he did not suffer a fractured skull nor internal injuries. Mr. Johnston is engaged in the printing press business in Chicago and has many friends here, where he formerly resided.

MOUNT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE IS INCORPORATED

Institution of Sisters of Mercy to be Located Here on Ground Donated By Mr. Kenney.

TO BUILD A SCHOOL

Site is on Watchung Mountains—Superioress M. Gabielle is President—A Bit of Interesting History.

Articles of incorporation were filed at Trenton yesterday for Mount St. Mary's College, to be erected on the Watchung Mountains back of Plainfield on the ground recently donated the Sisters of Mercy of Trenton Dioces by David T. Kenney, of the borough. The incorporators were named as follows: Superioress M. Gabrielle, president; Sister M. Joseph, vice-president; Sister M. Cecelia, treasuren; Sister M. Raymond, secretary; Sister M. Philomena; directors, Sister M. Philomena, Sister M. Mercedes and Sister M. Immaculatta.

It is understood that plans are now being prepared for the erection of the new college building, which will be the finest of its kind in the State and which will rival Seton Hall as a seat of learning. Surveyors started work on the grounds yesterday, laying out roads and drives, and it is hoped to begin the construction of the building early in the spring. According to those directly interested it will take a full year to complete it. When it is ready for occupancy it is proposed to abandon the present school at Bordentown and the students will thereafter receive their education in full at Mount St. Mary College.

The location of the institution in the borough is of much importance to the two Plainfields, as aside from the honor it will be the means of bringing in many strangers who would otherwise, perhaps, never see either place. The Sisters of Mercy is an organization with a present membership of 150, and the strongest of its kind in New Jersey. It conducts numerous missions at different periods of the year, and these will all be held here in the new building. The directors will be aided in all their plans by Mr. Kenney and also by prominent Catholic clergymen.

In connection with the plans to change the location of the college there is an interesting incident. This college was founded originally in St. Patrick's parish, Jersey City, many years ago, and for several reasons it was thought best to move the institution to a more convenient point.

Archbishop Corrigan strongly urged that it be established in Plainfield, believing that it had natural advantages that would be of great benefit to it. This was thirty years ago, and about the time it was almost decided to place the college here a tract of land at Princeton was given for the purpose, and the college was located there. It remained there five years, when more room was needed, the accommodations being limited. It was then moved to Bordentown, where it has continued ever since. The tract given by Mr. Kenney is about forty acres.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN WATER AT GREENBROOK

NOTHING ON REMAINS TO INDICATE IDENTITY, BODY AT BOUND BROOK.

The body of an unidentified man was found in Greenbroog, near the old electric light station at Sebring's Mills, yesterday morning. It was fully dressed, but nothing in the clothes gives any clue to the man's identity. The discovery was made by C. P. Sebring.

The body was found face downward, in two feet of water. It is believed the man had been dead at least three days, and might have been for as long as ten. There are no marks on the body to indicate foul play, but the absence of papers or other things that might serve as means of identification makes the authorities uneasy over the case. An investigation has been ordered.

The man appeared to be a workingman. He was about forty-seven years old, and nearly six feet in height. The body was taken to Bound Brook yesterday afternoon, where the coroner will examine it today.

In the meanwhile the place is closed.

OAK TREE MAN'S CREDULITY LOSES HIM A FIVER

William Kelley, the well known Oak Tree resident, was separated from a five-dollar bill by a new dodge adopted by a nice appearing swindler at Jersey City Tuesday.

Kelley was hurrying to catch a train in the Jersey Central sheds, when a stranger stopped him and asked if he knew George Cole, the undertaker, at Plainfield. The Oak Tree man said he did and the questioner exclaimed:

"Well, say, I'm an undertaker, and I've got a body to go to Plainfield on this train, but I'm short $5 of the necessary expense. If you let me have the amount, when you get to Plainfield Mr. Cole will return it."

The train was almost ready to start and sizing the stranger up quickly Kelley decided he was all right and produced the money. When he arrived in this city he went to Mr. Cole's office and told an attache of the place of the occurrence. The man in charge declared at once that Kelley had been victimized, as Mr. Cole had no arrangements to receive a body from out of town, and he could not place the man who borrowed the money.

Kelley accepted the inevitable, but has made a vow that he will no longer play the role of the ever-ready lender no matter what the circumstance.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The result of the election for fire department officers, held Tuesday night, shows both companies were hustling, each ticket receiving twenty votes. The tie will no doubt be settled by the Township Committee, either appointing the officers, dividing the honors between both, or allow the old officers to carry over. The latter would mean the appointment of one anyway. Charles Meyers, who was head of the department until last fall, when he removed to Watchung, left James Johnston acting chief and made one vacancy in the board.

Harry Schaffer left yesterday for Austin, Texas, where he has accepted a position with the Austin Tribune as pressman. Mr. Schaffer has been one of the Walter Scott Company's most efficient roadmen for several years past.

The friends of Miss Emma Adams, formerly a teacher in the public school here, are pained to learn of the death of her mother, which occurred at her home at Middletown, N. Y., on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Nancy Wade, who has been spending the two weeks' holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wade, returned yesterday to her position as teacher in the Milburn school.

The Borough Council held its first 1906 meeting last night in the borough rooms. Considerable business relating to the work of the new year was transacted.

Miss Marion Johnston, of Westfield avenue, has returned from a visit with her cousins, the Misses Johnston, of South avenue.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company held its first meeting of the new year, last night, in the company rooms.

This has hardly been a winter that would make the blacksmiths or icemen smile, but it has suited the majority.

No home for the child could be found here and as Dr. Brock believes that the boy has relatives in Waterbury who will provide for him, he took the lad there.

SAYS WE SHALL SOON FLY.

Professor Bell Declares Methods of the Eagle Can Be Copied.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, who has just returned from successful aerial navigation experiments in Nova Scotia, where he succeeded in lifting a 185-pound man thirty feet above ground with a kitelike apparatus, declared today that mankind was on the threshold of successful aerial navigation. It may come in a few months or a few years, but is assured.

"Man will be able in due time," he said, "to soar much after the manner of the eagle, which utilizes the energy of the wind against which it flies for its own propulsion without using its muscles other than directively."

Prof. Bell expects that airships propelled by engines will come first, but later men will soar after the manner of the eagle. He points out that his own kites in some cases sailed against the wind, then circles around and a second time rose against the current.

It appears that one of Prof. Bell's kites sailed so realistically that eagles in the vicinity attempted to attack it.

SHE'S A BUSINESS WOMAN.

Began at 12 and Made a Fortune of $500,000—Now She Weds Again.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 4.—Harry Carson, a broker of Shelbyville, and Mrs. E. Flora Davis, known as the most successful business woman in Indiana, were married last night.

When only twelve years old Mrs. Davis opened a millinery store in Shelbyville through the assistance of a friend, and soon became known as the fashionable milliner of that city. In order to educate herself she attended school in the mornings, but as her business grew and required more of her time she confined her study to the night.

Several years ago she purchased the largest business block in the city and enlarged her business. She has made a fortune estimated at $500,000, and is known among travelling salesmen and wholesale dealers as one of the closest buyers in the trade.

NEARLY BLED TO DEATH.

Rahway Baker Almost Severed Arteries in His Wrist by Fall.

Rahway, Jan. 4.—Charles Ludwig, proprietor of a bakery, fell in his shop last night, stunning himself. At the same time he nearly severed the arteries in his wrist and almost bled to death.

When he recovered consciousness he was alone in the building, but managed to crawl to Dr. E. B. Silver's office, leaving a trail of blood. A tourniquet was applied to his arm to stop the bleeding. He is barely able to move today because of weakness.

Opens Its Session with Prayer.

Rahway, Jan. 4.—The Board of Education organized last night as follows: President, William B. Durie; vice-president, Percy Destanley; city superintendent, Edward C. Broome, Ph. D.; secretary, Fred M. Williams; chief attendance officer, Thomas W. White; standing committees, instruction, Destanley and Martin; buildings, Hodges and Woodruff; finance and supplies, Martin and Woodruff; members of board of school estimate, Bush and Destanley. The board now opens its sessions with prayer. This is the only city organization that does.

ADDITION TO N.J. CAPITOL

Will Give Necessary Room For Housing All the State Officers.

IT WILL COST $75,000

Matter to Come Before Legislature —Three Propositions Being Considered—More Space Needed.

It is probable that before the Legislature adjourns definite steps will be taken to provide an addition to the State capitol at Trenton. The present structure, it is claimed, is totally inadequate for the housing of all the State departments, and twice a year, before and at the close of the legislative session, Custodian John W. Weseman is put at his wits' end to find accommodations for all the State officials.

Two State departments, created within the past three years, have absolutely no permanent quarters in the capitol, and none can be provided for them. These are the departments of labor, and charities and corrections. Between sessions of the Legislature they have been occupying Senate committee rooms in the Senate wing of the State house. Then the week before the session opens it has been necessary to move the departments bodily and crowd them into rooms already occupied by other departments, thereby seriously handicapping the latter.

The adjutant general's department has completely outgrown the offices assigned to it, and has also occupied a committee room of the Senate. This necessitates a removal similar to that mentioned.

On the Assembly side of the State House the conditions are no better. The State Board of Agriculture is crowded into an Assembly committee room—has no other home. The State fish and game commission also occupies an Assembly committee room, because there is no other place for it in the building. The department of roads is crowded into offices unfitted for the work of these offices, and under the new school law the duties assigned to the State Board of Education have been so multiplied that more office help was employed and that greatly overcrowds this branch of the State government.

The laboratory of hygiene of the State Board of Health is crowded entirely out of the building. This is charged with chemically testing the food supplies sold under State regulations, and similar operations. This department occupies rented quarters in the Broad Street Bank building, which cost the State $75 per month. This is 5 per cent. on $18,000, a sum more than would be necessary to pay the cost of one proposed addition.

Custodian Weseman will be compelled to make the necessary changes this week to secure the vacation of the committee rooms and get them in readiness for the opening of the Legislature next Tuesday. The departments of labor and charities and corrections will be located in the new court room in the Senate wing, the only division between them being temporary screens. The removal of the heavy filing cases, desks and other furniture from the first to the second floor is no small job. Similar temporary accommodations, inconvenient and ill-adapted for good work, will have to be provided for the other departments mentioned as occupying committee rooms.

Three propositions are being considered for the enlargement of the capitol. State Treasurer Briggs, it is said, is in favor of increasing the accommodations. It is understood that Comptroller Morgan will not oppose the project, and Governor Stokes has consented to give it his attention. These three constitute the State House commission, which has charge of the capitol, and it is thought likely that the matter will be gotten in such shape at this session that an addition will be a reality before the time for the session of 1907.

The proposition which meets with most favor among certain State officials is to rebuild the wing containing the offices of the State Board of Taxation, asessors and custodian on the first floor and the Chancery Court room and ante-rooms on the second floor. If this is done the wing will be practically torn down and extended to Delaware street, giving it a much greater length. It would also be made three stories in height, with a large basement under the whole.

This basement would make an ideal document room, and as Delaware street is low at this point, a door from the room would open directly on the street. This would admit of taking the documents from wagons into the room without transferring them through the main corridors, as at present.

On the first floor would probably be the same offices as at present, but more commodious, and there would be room for additional offices to house another department. On the second floor it is planned to place a new Chancery Court room and offices for the department of the attorney general. This would be a practical change, for it would bring the State's legal department alongside the courts. Then the present offices of the attorney general in the rear of the building could be used for other purposes. The third floor would be divided into offices for which there is need.

It is estimated that this addition would cost $75,000.

Another proposition is to put an additional story over the Assembly chamber. At present there is a loft over the cnamber and either side of this the wing is but two stories high. The loft is lost space. By running the whole wing up another story considerable additional space would be provided for offices. This could be done, it is said, for about $12,000.

Still another proposition is to build an entirely separate building across the water power from the main capitol on ground already owned by the State. If this plan was adopted a large and ornamental bridge would be erected over the stream in place of the present foot bridge.

This structure would be devoted to the museum and biological departments, permitting the present museum to be remodeled into offices. The State museum board is at work on plans for this building, but it has not yet progressed far enough to permit of an estimate of the cost.

If this building is erected as proposed, it would occupy a commanding position on the new riverside drive when the latter is completed.

GROWTH OF STATE TRUST COMPANIES.

There is a strong sentiment in banking circles in this State favorable to a revision of the laws governing trust companies at the coming session of the Legislature.

The law applying to State and savings banks limits the amount of loans that these institutions can make. The statute says: "The total liabilities to any bank of any person or of any company, corporation or firm, for money borrowed, including in the liabilities of a company or firm the liabilities of the several members thereof, shall at no time exceed ten per centum of the aggregate amount of the capital stock of such bank actually paid in, and of the permanent surplus fund of such bank."

There is no such limitation placed on the trust companies, and the national, State and savings bank people think that a law "considered good" for them should be as good for the trust companies. Attempts have been made in the past looking to the revision of the law along these lines, but the trust companies have been able to prevent the change.

During the past ten years several trust companies and State banks have gone to the wall in New Jersey, to the great distress of their depositors, and investigation has shown a lack of vigilance on the part of directors.

The business of these establishments, it has been shown, is often left almost wholly to some trusted official who has more than once taken advantage of his opportunity to use other peoples money for his personal benefit.

When the crash comes, the directors, to escape the penalty of negligence by making good the deficiency in the treasury of the broken bank or trust company, enter a general denial of negligence of duty, and, in some instances, charge the department of banking and insurance with responsibility for the failure.

THEY COME AGAIN.

The Fays Will Be at the Casino Next Week.

The Fays, wonderful, marvelous, mysterious, and their company of high class vaudeville artists will be in this city again next week, appearing at the Casino theatre, where they entertained such large audiences some ten weeks ago. The experiments which Mrs. Fay introduces under the name of Thaumaturgy—meaning "wonder working"—are without doubt the weirdest things that Plainfield has ever seen. The only thing which we have ever heard of that bears any comparison to it is the occult science of ancient India and Hindostan, in which the Mahatma, the Yogi, the Adepts, Sevras and other cults of holy men were so versed. From what was seen at the former appearance, Mrs. Fay's work seems to be along the same lines as that which was manifested in India years ago. It has now degenerated, for the view of the tourist, into a demonstration of a certain power to perform curious tricks, such as the famous mango trick, the planting of a mango seed and the instant sprouting and growth of the tree and the bearing of fruit. Also the basket trick, which is so well known by repute and which Herrmann has recently added to his collection. But the work of Mrs. Fay appears to be a facsimile of that power which was exerted by the advanced cholas in the hidden recesses of India, and which is still doubtless exerted, though the eye of the white man has not seen any manifestation of it for many years.

The Fays will open their work Monday night, January 8, and they will appear for a week and will also give some social matinees for ladies only. The advance sale will open tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock prompt, in Rowley's drug store, 218 West Front street, and in order to get the best seats it would be advisable to be on hand at that hour. The demand is likely to be great and you can get the best seats by going there in person or sending some one to represent you at that time. No telephone orders or mail orders will be filled until 12 o'clock on that day, so you had better come down and get in line.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

At the New Plainfield theatre tonight Denman Thompson, famous the world over in his "Old Homestead" portrayal of life in New England, will give to the amusement patrons of this place one of the prettiest American plays ever seen in any city in the production of "The Two Sisters." The plot is not at all complicated; there are no thrilling climaxes requiring red fire or a couple of shots. It has a vein of sympathy pervading it that makes a simple story most effective. Martha and Mary Howard, two New England girls, leave their country home near Fall River, Mass., after the death of their mother, to seek work in New York City. Martha joins the great throng living frivolous life which so often attracts the thoughtless, while Mary, in her modest and practical way, seeks honest work and finds its happy reward. In due time Martha finds the error of her course and the loving arms and heart of Mary and steadfast and faithful friends welcome her to their hearth and home. During the action of the play specialties are introduced with excellent effect, particularly on the "roof tops" in New York, where one act of the play takes place.

B. E. Forrester has a fine reputation as a producer of high class melodrama, but in "The Street Singer" he is said to have surpassed all previous efforts and given this musical drama a production that has won instant favor from its first presentation. This attraction comes to the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night with the dainty little Florence Bindley as "The Street Singer," supported by a large singing and dramatic company.

Florence Bindley in "The Street Singer," at New Plainfield Theatre Tomorrow Night.

One of the most notable attractions booked for the current season is "Running for Office," a rural musical play from the pen of the distinguished and successful young writer, Geo. M. Cohan, whose work as a playwright and composer of songs has won for him during the past few years a foremost position in the ranks of successful authors. "Running for Office" is regarded by many as one of the most original and best written plays of the musical comedy kind. It possesses a concise, clean cut and amusing story introducing various characters that we are thoroughly familiar with from long acquaintance, so immensely human and natural they are. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night.

Bobby Harrington, with "Running for Office," at New Plainfield Theatre Saturday Matinee and Night.

The clever humorist-comedian, Ezra Kendall, will be at the New Plainfield theatre Monday, January 22, in his three act comedy, "The Vinegar Buyer," which was written by Herbert Hall Winslow, aided and abetted by the comedian himself. The scenes of the play are laid in Indiana, and Mr. Kendall will play the part of Joe Miller, one of those nondescripts who, after he is worthless in all other occupations, becomes a vinegar buyer. Liebler & Co. have picked a good one in Kendall. He is a funny man and the play is replete with humorous sayings and situations. Messrs. Liebler & Co. have given Kendall a splendid supporting company, including such capable people as Thurlow Bergen, Frederic Malcolm, John D. Garrick, Harold Russell, Philip Bishop, Clem Langdon, H. T. Kennedy, Sumner Gard, James Bevins, Ethel Brandon, Mary Stockwell, Rita O'Neal, Edith Taliaferro and others.

YEGGMEN IN SOUTH JERSEY.

Scared Off While Trying to Enter Woodstown Postoffice.

Camden, Jan. 4.—Yeggmen made their annual visitation to South Jersey last night. At Woodstown they had sulphur, dynamite and fuses ready to blow the safe in the postoffice, but were scared off before they accomplished the deed. Before leaving, however, they succeeded in getting $30 worth of stamps which had been left in a wooden drawer.

The robbers next visited Harrisonville, where they broke into the office of the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad and carried off some railroad tickets and small change. From here the members of the gang went to Swedesboro, where they broke open a toolhouse and secured a handcar. They worked this up the railroad to Tomlin Station, where they abandoned it and then made their escape.

COURT MAKES THEM GUESS.

Justice Fort Tells Grand Jury He May Have Something Special to Say.

When Judge Fort charged the Union County Grand Jury yesterday he made a mysterious reference to some case that may require their attention before the January term ends and said he might have to call the jurors back to address them upon it. There were several guesses among the members of the legal fraternity and others as to what the case might be.

The judge's charge was the briefest on record in a Union county court. There is not a serious case to come before the jury so far as mention was made of cases. The jail list is exceptionally small, comprising about a half dozen cases for larceny, assault and such charges.

Former Sheriff Benjamin F. Coriell is foreman of the Grand Jury.

Plainfield, N. J., January 4, 1906.

Members of the bar almost without exception are strongly in favor of the establishment of a District Court in this city. Their views, published in this issue, are based on arguments that will be hard to refute. The present system is antiquated, unsatisfactory and costly. On the other hand, a District court, presided over by one versed in the law, will prove beneficial alike to the lawyer and client. It remains for the Common Council to take the formal steps preliminary to the introduction of the much desired court.

In calling attention to the sentence of a New York druggist for refilling mineral water bottles with other water, the Retail Grocers Advocate says "this should be a warning to the grocers who are in the habit of refilling milk bottles." The druggist in question got three months in the penitentiary, the charge being "selling material under false labels." The punishemnt meted in his case is none too severe for unscrupulous milkmen who make it a practise to refill the bottles of others engaged in the same trade and there is room for an investigation right here in Plainfield.

Well-founded rumor has it that coupled with the promotion of Second Assistant Chief Andrew Jennings to the position to be vacated by First Assistant Chief John W. Murray, Sr., a decided change will be made in the constitution of the fire department. The innovation promised is the abolition of the office of second assistant chief, whose duties will be performed by a senior captain. This may mean a saving of $200 to the department and the doing away with a somewhat needless office. The second assistant chief's pay is now $800, while that of the first assistant, which is today much of an honorary position, but $200. When Mr. Murray steps out, Mr. Jennings will receive the same pay as his present office gives him, and the senior captain will get just what he does now unless it is decided later to divide the $200 among the chief, his assistant and the head captain.

$150,000 FOR HENDRICKSONS.

Comes from Grandfather's Estate—In Litigation Over Fifty Years.

Asbury Park, Jan. 4.—Tunis V. and Barcalow Hendrickson, brothers, residing here, have been notified that they are soon to receive a fortune estimated at $150,000 or more, which has been in litigation for more than fifty years.

When their father, Clark Hendrickson, died at Freehold, he willed his interest in his father's estate to them. William Hendrickson, the grandfather of Tunis and Barcalow, was a wealthy German immigrant, who settled in Upper Freehold township. After his death various branches of the family contested his will in the courts, and after long litigation it has been decided so that the local men will get their father's share.

Both are comparatively poor.

Engagement in Burma.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Julia G. Shinn, of Kemondine, Burma, to Professor Wallace St. John, of Rangoon Baptist College, will interest many Plainfield friends. Miss Shinn was connected with the mission work of the First Baptist church for two years before entering on her work in Burma, where she has been a most successful teacher. She is at present in charge of the large Girls' School in Kemendine.

TWO MAYORS, TWO COMMON COUNCILS.

Sit in the Same Room, Have Two Roll Calls and Then Have to Adjourn.

Washington, N. J., now has two Mayors and two Common Councils. This is due to the failure of Dr. C. B. Smith, the Mayor-elect, and his two councilmen, W. D. Gulick and Edward Shurts, to qualify for their offices ten days after election as borough law prescribes.

When spring elections were abolished the Legislature changed the terms of office and declared that all officers should take their seats at noon the following January 1.

Dr. Smith defeated Mayor B. M. Petty, and Gulick and Shurts were elected over Jesse Bell and Charles E. Vass.

Mayor Smith and the new Council organized at noon Monday and then adjourned until 8 p. m. The old Council and Mayor Petty were accustomed to meet on the first Monday of the month and did so last Monday. The members of the old and new Councils sat at the same table, with the two Mayors at opposite ends.

At 8 o'clock Mayor Petty ordered the old clerk to call the roll, and the latter, in obeying, ignored the new councilmen. When Mayor Petty ordered the clerk to read the minutes of the last meeting, Mayor Smith said:

"Mr. Petty, I have been elected Mayor and we organized at noon today and are now here to do business."

Mayor Petty replied that Mr. Smith had failed to qualify within the proper time and had therefore forfeited his right to the office. Mr. Petty said that he did not care to retain office, but that it was the duty of the old Council to hold over until their successors had been legally installed.

After a long wrangle Judge Shipman, of the Warren County Court, advised Mayor Smith to order the clerk to call the roll, but Clerk Christie refused to comply with Mr. Smith's order, saying he had already called the roll. Then A. J. Craft was elected temporary clerk, and he called the roll, the old councilmen refusing to respond.

Mayor Smith announced an adjournment would be taken. After the new Mayor and councilmen had departed the old Council continued its session and after transacting some business adjourned to January 15.

It is expected the squabble will have to be settled by the courts.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

"The Heir to the Hoorah" comes to Plainfield on Monday night, January 29, with the entire company that presented it during the recent long run in New York.

Al. Woods, the well known manager, is out with an offer of $10,000 for an original American play from the pen of George Cohan, Augustus Thomas or George Ade. That's a sure sign that all three will be rather busy for some time to come.

The weather was responsible for a small house at the New Plainfield last night, but those in the audience were greatly pleased with "Too Proud to Beg." The acrobatic specialty by the clever Boylan children was worth the price of admission alone.

It seems like old times to have Digby Bell with us again. He is booked for next Thursday night in Augustus Thomas' success of two seasons, "The Education of Mr. Pipp." Mr. Bell's last appearance in Plainfield was at Music Hall in "The Silver King."

Lottie Blair Parker's dramatization of "The Redemption of David Corson," which had its premiere in this city, begins an engagement at the Majestic theatre, New York, Monday night. The principal parts are to be taken by other artists than those seen here.

The DeRuyter (N. Y.) Gleaner, in a recent issue, had the following paragraph: "The entertainments all this week at the Opera House by the Kennedy Comedy Company are certainly first class. Every one of the company is a star. In fact it's the best medicine show ever in our town." Ain't that a scream?

Manager Counihan recently received the following letter from Henry W. Savage, who witnessed the first performance of "The Galloper," which he produced, in this city: "In the confusion of our performance with the new Hitchcock piece, I did not get a chance to express to you my appreciation of the interest taken and the excellent treatment received at the hands of yourself and employes. With thanks for the same, I am," etc. There's no use talking, that there Savage fellow is all O. K.

A recent morning's mail brought Maude Adams a very charming but perplexing letter. It was from a little boy who had been to see "Peter Pan," in which Miss Adams is now appearing at the New Empire, and, like most of his playmates, was chiefly absorbed by the flying of the Darling children, which only takes place after Peter Pan has blown the fairy dust on their shoulders. The letter contained a ten-cent piece with a request for some fairy dust, and the postscript added that if "I hafent sent enuff I haf sum more in the bank."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mighton, of East Seventh street, have returned from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where they spent the holidays.

CELEBRATES 95TH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. DuBois is Daughter of a Cousin of Commodore Vanderbilt.

Catherine Vanderbilt DuBois celebrated yesterday her ninety-fifth birthday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. J. Randolph Appleby, at Leonia. Her father was Aaron Vanderbilt, a cousin of the old Commodore. She remembers the Commodore calling on him.

Mrs. DuBois had five sisters and two brothers. She was first married when she was sixteen, and later when she was twenty-five. She had a daughter by her first husband and a son by her second. He lived to be sixty-three, and left four children. She has four living grandchildren. They are Mrs. Kate Kohler, of New York City; Mrs. J. R. Appleby, of Leonia, N. J.; Mrs. Arthur D. Bogert, of Leonia, and William DuBois, of the same place.

Mrs. DuBois has lived with Mrs. Appleby sixteen years. She is now in the best health and looks forward to completing her century of life. For her ninety-fifth anniversary there was a host of friends and descendants at the home of Mrs. Appleby.

Town Has Been Without a Marshal.

Freehold, Jan. 4.—At the meeting of the newly elected town commissioners Tuesday night the fact that since May last the town was without a marshal and assistant marshal was disclosed. This was something of which but few of the townspeople were cognizant. The appointment of town officers has heretofore been made in May, but the law passed last winter changed the date of the annual meeting to January 1. Last May the town commissioners appointed William T. Sherman as special policeman. No appointment was made for marshal or assistant, however. At the annual meeting last night it was found that under the town charter a marshal and assistant marshal must be appointed. Mr. Sherman was then appointed special policeman, with the duties of assistant marshal. The appointment of a marshal was deferred to a later date.

FAVOR DISTRICT COURT

final opinion on at this time. So many things enter into that question that I consider it should be thought over before passing an opinion on it."

City Judge Runyon was somewhat non-committal.

"I thing it might be desirable to establish a district court in Plainfield," he said. "Practically every justice's court case is appealed, I believe, and I guess the district court would do away with much of the 'carry-it-up' evil. As to the question of the interpretation of the law providing for the court, I am not prepared to give an opinion. I have not looked it up and cannot say whether it is mandatory or not. So far as the benefits of such a court for clients and lawyers goes, I suppose it would be a decided benefit to have causes tried before a counsellor of five years' standing. I don't know, but I imagine the court would do away with the tendency to appeal. It might not have that effect on a lawyer who likes to keep his clients in litigation to make all he can out of them."

William G. DeMeza, who has had much experience in handling small cause cases, expressed enthusiastic support of the proposal.

"I certainly do favor the establishment of a district court here," he said emphatically, "and it can't come too soon. I am very glad The Press has taken the matter up. I don't see how the council can avoid creating the court. The law, it seems to me, is undeniably mandatory; I can see nothing else in it. The benefits of such a court here are plain. It would save clients much in money and save lawyers much in time. Moreover, it would have a decided tendency to cut off litigation. As Plainfield is now situated it costs litigants from $30 to $35 to secure a judgment of, say, $250; with a district court here the same judgment could be received in less time at a cost of not more than $10 at the most. I can't see why Plainfield shouldn't have a district court. Perth Amboy and New Brunswick have them, and are we less progressive and prosperous than they are?".

W. L. Hetfield, Jr., one of the busiest young lawyers in the county, who has naturally had much to do with small causes courts, was as emphatic as Mr. DeMeza in speaking in favor of the court, although differing from him as to the provisions of the law governing its establishment. He does not interpret the law as mandatory, but has hopes that such a law will be passed by the present Legislature.

"Very decided benefits would accrue to clients and lawyers from a district of our own," said Mr. Hetfield. "It would eliminate the appeals, for one thing. A case would only be tried once and that, generally speaking, would settle it. Case can only be appealed from a district court on a certiorari or a question of law. Appeals may be taken from justices' courts on a question of fact, which involves all of, and more than, the original expense for witnesses and other things and means simply a retrial of the case. There is much to be said of the fact that the district court would be presided over by a counsellor of five years' standing, a lawyer who would know the law and decide points and cases in accordance with it."

Counsellor I. P. Runyon could see no real reason for having the court established here, and saw one big one, from the taxpayers' viewpoint, why it should not be.

"It would be a nice thing for the lawyers," he said with a laugh, "and I, personally, wouldn't mind seeing one here. But, frankly, it would be an unwise thing for the city. Really, the only benefit would lie in the saving of lawyers' trips to Elizabeth. Litigants can get all a local district court could give them in the court at Elizabeth. It would be a very nice thing for the lawyers, but a sad thing for the taxpayers. Take the Elizabeth court, to cite an example on that point. There is a court in a city at least three times the size of Plainfield, and with all the county to draw from for business, and it doesn't pay expenses. I calculate that a Plainfield court would take in about forty per cent. of its expenses, and that is a big guess. And don't worry about the law compelling the city to establish the court. It doesn't. I was reading up on that the other day, and I have a very decided opinion that it is not mandatory in its provisions as regards cities of the size of Plainfield."

Mr. Runyon was the first lawyer the reporter had interviewed who expressed such views, and he was interested. He wanted to hear more about the other side to the proposition.

"How about the standing such a court would give the city, and the consequent advertisement of it?" he suggested.

"It's a very poor advertisement for a city when its Common Council creates a needless office that must receive sixty per cent. of its support from the taxpayers," said Mr. Runyon tersely.

H. C. Runyon is anxious to see a District Court in Plainfield without delay.

"Yes, I certainly am in favor of the change," he said. I think we ought to have the court whether it is mandatory on the Council or not. I don't think the law is mandatory, but that does not change the fact that the court should be established. It would certainly be a fine thing for lawyers and clients to have a competent jurist pass on the actions. As things are now, clients are mulcted of large sums, in the aggregate, each year through the decisions of ignorant justices. The court would dispose of the cases more rapidly than under the present state of affairs."

Counsellor Francis J. Blatz, who has made a study of justices and their ways, said a District Court couldn't come too quickly for him.

"That I favor the establishment of the court here is well known. I have argued for it before. I think the act covering those courts is mandatory, and expect to see one opened here very soon. The benefits of the change will be many and great. The clients will get more justice and quicker justice at less expense. The lawyers will save lots of valuable time. Much needless and bothersome litigation will be done away with."

BRUTALLY BEAT HIS INFANT.

In Sentencing Him Justice Says He Should Be Thrashed.

With the remark that he ought to go out and find an able-bodied man to fight with and get a good thrashing, Police Justice Bray, of Orange, sentenced yesterday Edward Baker, of 29 Hayward street, to six months in the penitentiary for beating his little daughter, fourteen months old.

Baker went home drunk Saturday night. The baby's crying annoyed him. Mrs. Baker was heating some food for the baby. Baker snatched up the infant, struck it on both sides of the head and kicked it until it was black and blue. The wounds made by the father were shown in court.

"I'm sorry I did it. I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been drunk," the father said after the charge had been read to him.

"Did you ever fight a man?" asked Justice Bray.

"Yes, sir," Baker replied.

"Well, you ought to be taken in hand by somebody and soundly thrashed until you couldn't stand," the justice remarked.

"Let me off this time, judge, and I'll promise you I'll never do it again," Baker pleaded.

"The penalty for this offense is $50 fine and one year in the penitentiary. You'll get off when you have served six months," the justice announced.

Mrs. Baker said her husband also had brutally treated their four-year-old son. She said she was afraid to interfere Saturday night because she had suffered at her husband's hands and had made a complaint against him May 15 last.

WEDS SCHOOLMA'AM.

Original "Virginian" Takes a Bride to "T. O." Ranch.

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—John Henry Hicks, manager of the great "T. O." cattle ranch, near El Paso, and the original of Owen Wister's "Virginian," was married here on Sunday to Miss Katharine Adams, a school teacher and daughter of a leading editorial writer on the Chronicle.

Hicks first met Miss Adams two years ago, when she was teaching school at Tempe, Ariz.

Wister spent several months on "T. O." ranch, and found in Hicks most of the traits depicted in the "Virginian." Friends of Hicks sent him as a wedding present a box of dolls representing twelve characters in Wister's novel.

For eleven months of each year the couple will be "at home" at some camp on "T. O." ranch, 100 miles from a postoffice.

Starts Counter Divorce Suit.

Stephen S. Mapes, of Westfield, who was recently unsuccessfully sued for divorce by Mrs. Carrie Mapes, has begun a suit against his wife on the ground of desertion. In the petition, filed by Lindabury, Depue & Faulks, it is set forth that Mr. and Mrs. Mapes were married on June 12, 1895, and that Mrs. Mapes left the petitioner on December 28, 1900, since which time she has not lived with him.

The officers-elect of Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., will be installed tonight. Hope Canton, a branch of the order, will hold a drill in connection with the installation.

PREPARING FOR LONG'S EXECUTION.

Condemned Man Hears Moving of Scaffold and Grows Nervous.

Preparations are being made for the hanging of Charles Long, who is sentenced to die on the gallows at Trenton on January 12. The scaffold owned by the county has been taken from storage and is being put together.

The execution will take place in the basement in the rear of the Mercer county court house and some little excavation has to be made in order to get the drop deep enough.

Long heard the moving of the scaffold, and although he did not know positively what was being carried from the jail, he surmised what it was.

The condemned man grew rather nervous, but otherwise his condition is as good as ever. He seldom makes requests and does not appear so downcast. The witnesses to the hanging will be limited to the smallest possible number. Only the sheriff's and court's juries and newspaper men will be allowed to witness the execution.

NO STAY IN DUKE CASE.

Vice Chancellor Pitney Declares Suit Should Be Settled Quickly.

Vice Chancellor Pitney in Jersey City yesterday denied a stay pending an appeal in the suit for divorce brought by James B. Duke, the millionaire tobacco president, against his wife, Lillian M. Duke.

The case came upon Dec. 21 last in Newark, over the question of jurisdiction of the New Jersey courts, and at that time the vice chancellor decided that Duke was a resident of New Jersey, and that the suit for divorce must be tried in that State. Duke, on the stand, said he had lived and voted in Somerville, and that was his home.

Counsel for Mrs. Duke alleged that Duke's home was in New York, and that the Jersey courts had no jurisdiction in the matter.

The vice chancellor in denying the stay said if he allowed it the case would undoubtedly drag along in the courts for five years, and he thought the matter should be settled quickly.

Chance for Boston Hotels.

Boston, Jan. 4.—A member of the Boston Police Board announced yesterday that if the four hotels which have closed their bars because of alleged violations of the screen law will acknowledge to the board that they have broken the law and thereby voided their franchises the Police Board will at once issue new licenses to sell liquor. The hotels include Young's, Parker's, the Adams House, and the Hotel Essex.

Patrick Kane, of Cottage place, returned last night from Ohio, where he spent the past week on business.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 7.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—How finding Christ changes the life.—Matt. xiii, 44-46. (Consecration meeting.)

The supreme mission of every human life should be to find God in our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. The greatest desire of the wisest men that have ever lived in this world has been to find God. When the wise men of the east realized that the Redeemer of the world had been born they came hundreds of miles under the most difficult circumstances in order that they might find Him and pay to Him the honor and worship of their hearts and present to Him the most valuable gifts. The desire of every human soul has been to find God, and it should be a matter of great thanksgiving and gratitude to us that He has been so clearly and freely offered to us in the gospel and that the promise has been given by the Master Himself that those who seek shall find.

That the finding of Christ should naturally and necessarily change the life cannot be doubted or disputed, and we may well ask ourselves the question of the topic, What change should finding Christ make in our lives?

1. Finding Christ should change the inward life. Without such a change it is absolutely proved that Christ has not been found. Christianity is a life. It is the life of the Lord Jesus Christ in the human heart. No man can become a Christian without having a change of heart. Christ Himself said to Nicodemus, "Ye must be born again." The inward motives and principles of our lives must be completely changed by our becoming Christians.

2. Finding Christ changes the outward life. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." The outward life, if a man be honest, is simply a reproduction of the thoughts of his heart. His conduct is inspired by the motives and the principles which govern him within. Before we have found Christ we may live for self or for the world or for many other things, but when once we have found Him our lives, inwardly and outwardly, must absolutely be consecrated to Him. He is the pearl of great price which when the man found he sold all other gems in order that he might have this one. He is the hidden treasure which when a man found he gave his all that it might be his. Christ demands entire consecration, and nothing short of that will be satisfactory to Him.

Have we found Christ? If so, do our lives show it? As we look into our inward lives, consider our thoughts and desires and ambitions, can we truthfully say that our inward lives are consecrated to Him? As those about us look upon our outward lives can they say of us that we show by our acts that we have been with Jesus and have consecrated our lives to Him? These two things are the tests as to whether or not we have really found Christ.

The British National President.

Rev. Evelyn R. Hasse has recently been chosen president of the British National Council of Christian Endeavor. Bishop Hasse is a son of the late Bishop A. C. Hasse, and was educated in Fulneck school. After studying at the Moravian college in England and in Germany, he served for several years as a master in Gracehill school, near Ballymena, and for a short time assisted the late Rev. H. E. Shawe at the mission office in London. He was ordained in 1883, and has ministered to the congregations at Kingswood, Gracehill, Mirfield and Bedford. He has now been stationed at the last named place for over ten years. His Sunday evening services there and his Bible readings are attended by Christians of many denominations.

BISHOP HASSE OF BEDFORD. [British National C. E. president.]

Baltimore After the Convention.

Mayor Timanus of Baltimore received a telegram the other day from the editor of the Seattle Star asking whether, in his opinion, the Christian Endeavor convention was a benefit to the city. The Star wished to print the reply as bearing upon the invitation for the 1907 convention that Seattle was extending.

The following reply, sent by Mayor Timanus, we reprint from the Baltimore American. It is indicative of the results of a Christian Endeavor convention when it is properly managed, as this certainly was:

W. P. Stranborg, Editor Seattle Star, Seattle, Wash.:

Replying to your request for an expression of opinion as to the effect of the holding of the Christian Endeavor convention in this city during the summer of this year, I would say that from a moral, religious and commercial standpoint the convention was of decided benefit to Baltimore. The delegates not only spent freely of their means, thus benefiting us financially, but by their Christian example and religious enthusiasm caused our people to think deeply on those subjects which form the basis of all success. On behalf of our citizens I desire to express to all Christian Endeavorers our appreciation of the honor of having had them with us, and we sincerely trust that they will repeat their visit in the very near future.

E. CLAY TIMANUS,
Mayor of Baltimore.

A Society In a High School.

Crete, Neb., has a new Christian Endeavor society in the high school, says the Nebraska Endeavor News. We might have an Endeavor society in every high school, with great profit and pleasure to all.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Jan. 7: "Laying Foundations For 1906"—Isa. xxviii, 16; I Pet. ii, 4-7; I Cor. iii, 11; Eph. ii, 19, 20; II Tim. ii, 19; Luke vi, 46-49. Morning Watch Enrollment.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

"Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

We enter a new year with new prospects and responsibilities as individuals and as chapters. It is vastly wise to spend some time in forecasting one's future course of action. What spiritual profit can we make 1906 yield us which no previous year has borne? What loftier height in Christian character may we reach which has been previously unattained? What greater helpfulness to the cause of our Christ can we exert than we have been permitted to do in the past?

If any advance is made by us it must be by building wisely on the sure foundations laid in Christ Jesus.

So our first care should be the settlement of the base on which we build. If we have in time past settled irrevocably that we will serve Christ, it is still a wise act to examine ourselves occasionally, especially at the beginning of the new year, and see if all our building has been upon the foundation we have chosen or if some things in our doings have not been outside. To make all secure we must keep the center of gravity within the base.

Some Christians look like the leaning tower of Pisa. They never entirely topple over, but they make all who look at them nervous because they are so far out of the perpendicular. They are saved from collapse probably because the upper stories are of lighter material than the lower courses. Curiosities they may be, but not admirable models for practical purposes.

If you would build like Bunker Hill monument or the shaft of the Washington monument, use the plumb line and obey its mandate.

If you are to be strong spiritually, you must begin the day, every day, rightly. You will be greatly assisted in this by joining the "morning watch."

Do you know about it?

Does your chapter know of it?

Send to the Book Concern of the Methodist Episcopal church nearest to you—Boston, New York, Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City or San Francisco—for specimen copies of the "Morning Watch Leaflet," at 15 cents per hundred, and for the tract by John R. Mott on "The Morning Watch." Distribute to all your members and spend the first meeting of the new year in explanation, discussion and enrollment. Begin the year with the definite plan to begin every day with Christ. Enroll with all others of the "morning watch."

Many cast contempt upon New Year resolutions, professedly because some are so soon broken. The fault is not in the forming the resolutions, but in the forgetfulness of them and the failure to adopt a scheme of daily routine which will provide time and place for carrying out the good intentions. If you would have helpful habits of daily devotion, you must form them by persistent practice and correction of them when a failure is found. You cannot create character by wishing merely. Nor is good foundation enough. You must have appropriate building in the superstructure.

If you are built on Christ as your foundation, see to it that your building corresponds adequately with what He has laid.

Take the Days as They Come.

The Master will mix the hours as it pleases Him, and so you should accept them with a murmurless spirit, if you are expecting Him to work out His own purpose in and through you. Bright and dark days will often stand close together, but each shall come to declare His message. In painting china the artist outlines the piece of work in a dull black and then "fires and burnishes" it, and, lo! it comes forth in the beautiful color of gold. God has a golden thought and purpose back of each dark experience, and when He has tried us He will bring us forth as gold. Yes, to take life as it comes; not to be so anxious about the form of the day as the life of the spirit it should enshrine—this is the secret of unfolding God's noble thought in terms of generous and Christlike living. The crown of the morrow lies in that approach to the Christ character which a life of faithfulness today makes real and abiding.—Rev. I. Mench Chambers.

Our Sun.

Some years ago at Freshwater I visited for the first time one of Tennyson's favorite seats and saw the massive obelisk on the downs above Totland bay which his neighbors and admirers erected to his memory. I sat down under its shadow with great delight and recalled many of his beautiful sayings. It was at Farringford, close by, that one day, walking and conversing with some friends, he was asked by one of them, "What is Jesus Christ to you?" And, pointing to a clump of violets that bloomed by the pathside, the laureate answered, "What the sun is to these violets, Jesus Christ is to my life." And there was a deep and holy silence.—Rev. A. Averell Ramsey.

True Gladness.

Be glad when the flowers have faded?
Be glad when the trees are bare?
When the fog lies thick on the field and moors
And the frost is in the air?
When all around is a desert
And the clouds obscure the light,
When there are no songs for the darkest days,
No stars for the longest nights?

Ah, yes, for the truest gladness
Is not in ease or mirth;
It has its home in the heart of God,
Not in the loves of the earth.
God's love is the same forever,
If the skies are bright or dim,
And the joy of the morning lasts all day
When the heart is glad in Him.

—Christian Work and Evangelist.

WOMEN GAMBLERS.

The pages of history tell over and over again the story of great women gamblers. France has furnished the greater number of these, but England has put forth many whose fame has become international.

There seems to be something in the blood of Frenchwomen that makes them gamblers of a high order. Mme. de Montespan won so much at basset, her favorite game, that Louis XIV. was delighted and borrowed some of her winnings. But she lost a great deal at times, and her play grew so furious that in 1682 Louis abolished the game.

It is recorded of madame that she one night, while the King looked on at the play, risked a sum equal to £40,000 on a single card, and that the King grumbled when no one could be found to cover the bet. But madame also lost one New Year's night 700,000 crowns at hocal and on another night almost £200,000 at the same game.

Mme. du Barry was the most famous woman gambler of the time of Louis XV., but with her is was only a pastime. But that other favorite, Mme. de Pompadour, went in with the sole object of winning if she could. It is recorded that her winnings were enormous and that in a single night she eased the pocket of the King of 25,000 louis d'or.

Queen Marie Antoinette, according to history, was a gambler who liked to be surrounded by gamblers. Faro was the popular game, but the stakes got to be so great that many a nobleman had his entire estates wiped out in a single night. Scandal rose high and the game was forbidden. Nevertheless in a short time it was being carried on again, not only in the apartments of the Queen but at the house of the Princess de Lamballe.

At first the queen and those who desired to play with her went to the apartments of Mme. de Guemene, whose house is credited with having been the scene of the highest continued play of any in France. But matters got so bad before the end came that noblemen would no longer play with the Queen, and she admitter to her table many common gamblers. Then the scandal broke in full force, for some were caught cheating and one was arrested for kicking a pocket.

Possibly the most famous woman gambler of English history was Nell Gwynne, who was so great a favorite with Charles II. In that reign the manners were much the same as they were at the French court. Nell Gwynn lost £5,000 to her rival, the Duchess of Cleveland, and in one year lost upward of £60,000, which the King paid. There had never been known so much gambling among women as was carried on in that regime. After the Duchess of Mazarin, niece of the Cardinal, had last £1,000,000 she died in absolute want. The acknowledged queen of American gamblers was Lonna Paquita, who was born in Texas fifty years ago, but early went into Mexico to rule over outlaws and cowboys. The little Lonna was scarcely 12 years old when she fell in with an old-time gambler named Qualetor, who taught her every trick known to the gambler's art. She made her first appearance in Paso del Norte. She was only a child, and the rough gamblers laughed at her.

But they soon found that they were no match for her, and then even her teacher, Qualetor, was a tenderfoot compared with the child. With the passing years Lonna Paquita grew to be a beautiful woman. Her hair was as black as night, she had eyes that confounded those of the gamblers who played with her and a voice as sweet and silvery as a bell. She was as handsome a woman as one could wish to see, but with a heart of ice and nerves of iron. Her small white hands could manipulate the cards with a skill that defied the watchfulness of the keenest gambler.

There were many persons who thought it was merely luck that followed her, but the luck kept up too long, and the gamblers who knew a few tricks themselves understood that it was art. Still no one was ever known to catch her cheating. Before she was 20 Lonna Paquita was in New Mexico, leading a gang of the worst characters of the Southwest.

Her death occurred in 1875 and was tragic. Some lawless acts had been committed by a body of greasers and search was made for them. Lonna Paquita was found to be their leader and was caught. She only laughed when she was taken and proposed that a game of cards be played to see whether she should go free or kil herself. This was agreed to and one of the party, a gambler known to the country around, was selected. The woman lost. Those who looked on had scarcely time to understand this when Lonna Paquita drew a knife from her belt and plunged it into her heart.—Liverpool Mercury.

A young bookkeeper who had not been many years married, carefully laid down a piece of bread the other night and said to his wife: "I wish you could make bread such as mother used to make." The young wife smiled and remarked in a voice that did not tremble: "Well, John, I wish that you could make the 'dough' that father used to make." A hush as silent as death fell so suddenly that John almost lost his breath, and the bread and dough question hasn't come up for family discussion since. —Ex.

The Newspaper Man.

The newspaper man is lean and lank
And has a long nose—for news,
And often you'll find him to be a crank
Dyspeptic and with the blues.
He sees so much that is ill in life,
So much with a crooked twist,
It is no wonder that in the strife
He becomes a pessimist.

He sees the worsrt side of many things,
The seamy side, if you please,
And he knows who pulls the moving strings
And all that is false he sees;
He knows how a man is boosted to fame,
How the public is often fooled,
How the very power of sin and shame
By money is overruled.

He sees the falseness behind the scenes,
The hollowness of it all;
He knows what a lot of the boasting means,
How it comes at a beck and a call;
He knows of the trickery and the sham
The politicians use,
But he keeps his mouth shut like a clam
And uses his nose for news.

The newspaper man is lean and lank
And a cynic he often is;
He gives to others degree and rank,
But an humble station is his;
He goes his way with a knowing smile,
Though his way be glad or sad,
With pencil and paper all the while
He mirrors the good and the bad.

A DRUNKARD'S LAMENTATIONS.

If I should die tonight
And in my clothes
Should be the goodly sum of Thirty Cents
Left lying there
Unspent,
In sweet repose—
I say
If I should die tonight
And leave
Behind me in those cold,
Prosaic Pants
The price of six large beers,
On Draught,
Unquaffed by me and destined
To remain
Forever on the outside of My frame
If I should die,
And, from the great beyond
Look back, and see
That Thirty Cents
Taken and spent foolishly
For Bread,
Or clothes,
Or some such thing,
And those six Beers—
Long destined to be bought by me
Now spilled
Down other throats,
Their destiny unfilled:
I say
If I should die tonight
And go
From here to there,
Or where,
It doesn't snow,
And, looking back from there
To here,
Behold
Those Six Large Beers,
So large and O——
So cold,
Go coursing down the throats
Of other men,
'Twould be so sad,
For I would need them.
Then.—Ex.

THE POINT OF VIEW.

They sat before the kitchen range,
The corn was popping in the pan,
She was a sweet and loving lass,
He was a brave but bashful man.

For full a year on her he'd called
And looked the love he bore the maid,
But still it seemed he never would Declare himself without her aid.

So, weary of the long delay,
A hint resolved to give to him,
She said: "Look at the frisky corn!
I do declare it's poppin', Jim!

"It's poppin', poppin', Jim! Dear me!
What is it tellin', don't you know?"
He blushed and rose. "I guess," said he,
"It's tellin' me it's time to go!"
—Henry Waldorf Francis, in Woman's Home Companion, for January.

Right to Defy Grand Jury.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The decision of the Court of Appeals of the United States, Southern District of Ohio, in the case of John W. Ballman vs. Vivian J. Fagin, United States marshal, was reversed by the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday, Justices Harlan and McKenna dissenting. An effort was made to compel Ballman, who is a broker in Cincinnati, to testify before the grand jury of the Circuit Court. He refused to exhibit his cash books or to answer questions regarding entries in them, and was ordered to be imprisoned until he should do so. The Supreme Court now rules in his favor.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

Women Who Should Not Marry.

The woman who buys for the mere pleasure of buying.

The woman who expects to have "a good, easy time."

The woman who thinks that cook and nurse can keep house.

The woman who would die rather than wear last season's hat.

The woman who expects a declaration of love three times a day.

The woman who marries in order to have some one to pay her bills.

The woman who reads novels and dreams of being a duchess or countess.

The woman who cares more for the style of her winter cloak than she does for the health and comfort of her children.

The woman who proudly declares that she cannot even hem a pocket handkerchief, and never made up a bed in her life.

Don'ts on Names.

Don't name a baby after a hero unless the hero has been dead several years.

Don't hamper a boy with a name that will prove a heavy handicap in life.

Don't name a girl after a flower. Think of an old woman called "Pansy" or "Daisy."

Don't name a girl Violet when her disposition may be that of a tiger lily.

Don't tack a fancy name on a kid. It makes him a target for his companions.

Don't name a child after a relative from whom you have "expectations." The relative may yet marry.

Don't forget that the man with the common name of William is more likely to write checks than one labeled Percy.—Portland Telegram.

No play more pleasing than "Before and After," now running at the Manhattan theatre, has been seen in New York this season. Many who have followed the work of Leo Ditrichstein as a farceur declare that this, his latest laughter play, surpasses any of his former works as an author, while as an actor he is perhaps more clever and pleasing in "Before and After" than ever before. There have been so few comedy offerings in New York this season that "Before and After" comes most opportunely, and that the public appreciate this fact is evidenced by the audiences at the Manhattan. In this representation, too, one may see a really clever play interpreted by an exceptional company. It is safe to say that no better organization of comedians than that which develops the fun in Mr. Ditrichstein's farce has been gathered in New York in years. Fritz Williams, George C. Boniface, Jr., Thomas A. Wise, Mr. Ditrichstein, Roy Fairchild, John Daly Murphy, Katherine Florence, Georgie Lawrence, Kenyon Bishop, Jean Newcombe, Helen Warren and Mabel Findlay indeed make up a fine company, and they have in the play material worthy of their talents. But one matinee a week—on Saturday—is given at the Manhattan.

—The Union County Republican Committee will meet at Elizabeth on Thursday night, January 11, for organization.

—The various committees of the Common Council have arranged to hold meetings within a short time to plan their work for the coming year and to become acquainted with the details of city government.

A STATE COLBY LEAGUE.

Reform Move Against Bosses Organized in Newark.

A committee made up of Assemblyman William P. Martin, Sheriff Frank H. Sommer, Gardner Colby, Benjamin F. Jones and Lathrop Anderson, all members of the Republican Committee for Limited Franchises and Equal Taxation, of Essex county, began yesterday the task of seeking a way and means of organizing a State league for the furthering of the tenets of limited franchises and equal taxation as advanced by followers of Senator-elect Colby, of Essex, and Mayor Mark M. Fagan, of Jersey City.

They will immediately feel the pulse of voters in Hudson, Passaic, Morris and Union counties and will branch out from Essex county with the reform movement against the one man power evil in Jersey politics. And they have entered the field of work with the utmost confidence that the result of the work will be the biggest reform move that ever struck the State.

Judging from the effects shown in Essex county alone where Colby beat Lentz and the regular organization in the last election, the Colby supporters think that with branches established throughout the State much can be accomplished not only for the downfall of Major Carl Lentz, but to add to the rebellion against bosses in the other counties.

It is not definitely decided when the committee will report, but it is likely a special meeting will be called when preliminary work has been done.

The plans for a State league was launched at a meeting of the Colby committee Tuesday afternoon, at which the Senator-elect, all of his Essex Assemblymen and several other influential Republicans were present. The meeting was held in the new headquarters in Newark. Lathrop Anderson, who was willing to be pitted against Major Lentz in a fight for the chairmanship of the county committee and was beaten, presided at the meeting. There was a general discussion as to a State league, and as an evidence of the good faith of the exhorters present it was suggested that a collection be taken up then and there. To this fund was subscribed $2,700. There was some talk as to what name the new body should take. Some approved of the present name of the Colby committee, but others objected. It was finally decided to determine upon a name later.

DEFENDANTS ARE ON THE INCREASE NOW.

In Spite of the General Prosperity Is Report From Board of Guardians Made to the Governor.

In its tenth annual report to the governor, the New Jersey State Board of Children's Guardians remarks that, in spite of the general condition of prosperity in the State, and the fact that there has been nothing to disturb the labor market, the commitments of dependent children have continued to increase. No less than 218 children have been committed during the year, more than half of whom have come from Hudson county. The board feels that to a certain extent the increase may be taken to indicate confidence in the method and conduct of its work, and says it has every reason to believe that the county and municipal authorities are well satisfied with it, and that the friends and relatives of the children feel sure that they will be well cared for.

President Hugh F. Fox, of this city, says it is only by the utmost vigilance on the part of the board and its steady pressure upon the committing officers that the number of dependent children is kept within reasonable bounds. The investigation of the children who are newly committed is, he says, so clearly in the interests of the counties that no local official has ventured yet to question it. In the opinion of Mr. Fox it ought not to be necessary for the State board to make such investigation, and the very thoroughness of its work in this direction, he says, encourages the overseers of the poor to laxity. Of the 218 children committed during the year, 84 were found to have relatives able, and in many cases perfectly willing, to give them support, and the children were accordingly turned over to them.

Miss Frances Day, general agent of the board, makes the suggestion that the board should have jurisdiction over the mothers of illegitimate children who are committed to an almshouse. President Fox suggests that this could be covered by an amendment to the desertion act, which at present deals only with deserting fathers. A bill to cover this point was introduced at the last session of the Legislature, but no action was taken. Mr. Fox says the importance of the measure was not appreciated and urges its adoption when the Legislature is again convened.

The report shows that at the opening of the last fiscal year, November 1, 1904, there were 539 children in the care of the board and nine in almshouses. This, with the 218 children committed during the year, makes 766. At the close of the year, October 31, 1905, there were 602 children under the care of the board and two in almshouses. During the year 162 children were discharged. Of the 602 children at the close of the year, 336 were in boarding homes and 266 in free homes.

YERKES SHARED WEALTH WITH WIDOW AND ART.

Residence to Later Become "Yerkes Galleries," with Endowment of $75,000.

New York, Jan. 4.—Providing bountifully for his widow and making unexpected bequests in the interest of art, education and charity, the will of Charles T. Yerkes was read yesterday before the relatives in the Fifth avenue residence at Sixty-eighth street. The estate left by the financier, his lawyers say, is worth $14,000,000, while others declare it is worth $22,000,000, and that out of this more than one-third goes to the widow, and is shown by the fact that she has the use of the Fifth avenue residence during her lifetime, the income from between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, and all Mr. Yerkes' household goods. At her death the residence, with its rich collection of art, becomes the "Yerkes Galleries," with an endowment of $750,000, while a provision of about $6,000,000 is made to found and endow in the Bronx what promises to be one of the richest hospitals in the world.

To reap the benefits from this will a clause provides that the widow must yield her dower right, which under the laws of Illinois entitles her to one-third of her husband's real and personal estate. Mrs. Yerkes, from all accounts, is greatly pleased with the privision that her husband made for her, and Clarence Knight, the Chicago lawyer, who read the will, says she has agreed to its provisions.

Though Mr. Yerkes specified his legal residence as Chicago, he bequeathed nothing to that city outside of the $100,000 given to the University of Chicago for the maintenance of the Yerkes obesrvatory. To New York, however, the testator was exceedingly generous, providing that after the death of his wife practically all his estate, with the exception of $2,000,000, shall be used for the benefit of the people of New York. Each of the two children get $500,000 and, outside of the bequests to the servants and friends, the main portion will eventually come back to the city.

LEGISLATURE MUST GO ON RECORD ON LICENSES.

Clergy and Laymen to Make Aggressive Campaign on Question of Local Control of Saloons.

Today a conference is being held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at Trenton of ministers and laymen of the State who favor good government and the rule of the people, to consider presenting "home rule" measures at the next session of the Legislature. The meeting was called to order by the Rev. S. E. Nash, of the Anti-Saloon League, under whose auspices the conference is held.

A meeting was held in Newark, December 20, and it was decided to make an aggressive campaign for the passing of local option measures at the coming session of the Legislature. The meeting today is a most representative one, and plans are being discussed and suggestions made as to their completion. It is the idea to start such an agitation from one end of the State to the other that the Legislature will be forced to place itself on record either one way or the other.

A bill was introduced in the last session by Senator Childs, but never got any further than committee. A hearing will be asked for either before the Senate or the House and an aggressive fight made to force the measure through. It is said that the bill of the last session was introduced too late, but this year it is the purpose to have one introduced in the first part of the session and the fight continued until the Legislature adjourns.

CONTEST OVER REWARD IN LONG MURDER CASE.

Plainfield Policemen Fighting Farmer's Claim to Money at Trenton.

The contests over the rewards offered by the city of Trenton and the county of Mercer for the capture of Charles Long, the negro, who is to be hanged next month for the murder of Matthew Cunningham, was begun in the Court of Chancery, at Trenton, yesterday, when Florence S. McCarty and Maurice Higgins, members of the police force of Plainfield, filed a statement of their claim to the rewards, which, under interlocutory decrees, have been paid into court.

McCarty and Higgins, in their statement, detail the work which they did in connection with the capture of Long on the farm of Franklin Van Nuis, in Piscataway township, Middlesex county. In refuting the claim made by Van Nuis that he captured Long, and that McCarty and Higgins were shown his hiding place by him, the State asserts that Van Nuis, far from assisting in Long's capture, aided and abetted Long, kept him at his farm for three or four days without letting the police authorities of either Trenton or Plainfield know of his whereabouts, and fed and housed him while he knew that the police were searching for him.

FANWOOD'S NEW MAYOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS.

Collector Sheelen Complimented for Excellent Condition of Tax Books and Treasury.

At a meeting of the Fanwood Borough Council last night Wright Babcock, the newly elected Mayor, made the following appointments:

Members of the Board of Health, Thomas S. Young and Octavius Knight; night patrolman, John Logan; emergency day patrolman, Augustus Sheelen; borough recorder, Charles Sheelen; library association, F. D. Warren, president, and Mrs. William E. Gibbs, the latter to succeed herself; borough attorney, W. R. Codington.

Borough Collector and Treasurer Charles Sheelen rendered his report, showing the largest cash balance the borough has ever had. At the present time his books are entirely clear of all personal, poll and dog taxes, something very unusual even for a place the size of Fanwood. Mr. Sheelen was complimented by the councilmen for his work.

Thomas S. Young was also appointed a councilman to fill the vacancy made by Mayor Babcock's election.

ANCIENT PAPERS PROVE TITLE.

Claims to Land Based on Deed from Gov. Stuyvesant Upheld by Court.

Historic paper were exhibits in an ejectment suit in the Hudson County Court yesterday. The suit was brought by Joseph Schmidt to obtain possession of certain lands in West Hoboken claimed by Henry Traphagen by right of grant and adverse possession. The property had been sold to Schmidt by the Hoboken Land and Improvement Company, formed by the Stevens family of Hoboken, who owned the entire city and a portion of West Hoboken.

The exhibits were parchment maps and deeds, including a deed of Governor Peter Stuyvesant to Nicholas Varlet in 1663, and a confirmatory grant from Governor Carteret. The Traphagens, who had a farm that extended from lower Jersey City up to West Hoboken, also claimed possession by the Carteret grant, and produced the ancient paper.

Justice Dixon held that the question was whether the Traphagens had occupied the land for the last twenty consecutive years, and that as Traphagen had failed to establish his title by adverse possession he ordered a verdict for Schmidt.

ARRESTED FOR HOLD-UP.

Boy and Man Taken—Shotgun and Masks Found.

New Brunswick, Jan. 4.—Detectives arrested Tony Cavarra, an Italian boy, ten years old, and an Italian man here yesterday, on suspicion of being connected with the hold-up, on December 28, of William Shiek and William F. Harkins, of the Delaware River Quarry and Construction Company, when a satchel containing $5,200 was stolen. The boy was held for two hours, and, after examination by the officers, was released. The man was held.

The man, whose name is withheld, and the boy were found in the old Tenneson house in the Sixth ward, a favorite resort of Italians. Boys playing yesterday in the canal, which was drained Monday, found a shotgun. This, with the discovery of four masks made from flour bags, led the officers to visit the house, where there is an Italian bakery. The boy had a gun when arrested.

JURY COULD NOT AGREE.

No Verdict in Belvidere Breach of Promise Case.

Belvidere, Jan. 4.—The jury in the suit of Anna Kelley against Edward Kane for $10,000 damages for breach of promise, came in two hours after retiring on Tuesday evening and reported they could not agree. The Court refused to accept this and ordered the jury back with strict orders to reach a verdict if possibit. The jury then remained out all night and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning again came before the Court and announced a disagreement. The Court then discharged the jury until January 17.

During the night W. W. Shipman, of Karrsville, one of the jurors in the case, was taken ill and for that reason Judge Shipman stated that he was compelled to accept the disagreement.

Mrs. Barry also alleges misconduct on the part of her husband, who in his bill denies her accusations. The Barrys were married October 19, 1898. They separated in 1903. Barry is known to the vaudeville stage as Weston.

Crocker, of Newark, as trustee in the bankruptcy proceedings of the firm. The prosecutor's office was filled with creditors from a number of cities and half of the lawyers in town were present as representatives of some interests.

SON'S SOLITUDE FATAL.

Paterson, Jan. 4.—John Van Dyke, about forty-five years old, was struck by a Lackawanna train on the canal bridge, located a few hundred feet south of the High bridge, Monday night, and received injuries that will probably result in his death. Van Dyke with his aged father and a companion were walking along the tracks, and attempted to cross the canal bridge. A train was coming along the westbound tracks, and Van Dyke turned around to see that his father was aware that the rain was near. In doing so he failed to notice that another train was bearing down on him on the eastbound tracks, and he was struck by the locomotive of the train bound east and tossed to the towpath of the canal.

Van Dyke had several of his ribs on the right side crushed, and also several cuts and bruises about the face and head. He has a wife and five children.

SEIZED BY THE SHERIFF.

Vineland, Jan. 4.—Dr. Arvid Westerlundt, who recently announced that he would institute a free home for Catholic Feeble Minded Boys, is missing and notices are posted around town stating that his effects will be sold to satisfy a mortgage held by Father Mesney.

Westerlundt was employed as caretaker of a cottage at the Training School for Feeble Minded Boys and Girls for a year when he suddenly announced that he had received a fortune of $7,000 a year from an uncle in Sweden. He rented one of the finest houses in town and was quietly married to an estimable lady who had been employed at the training school as a governess.

He left town last week with his wife and, as his promises to return were not fulfilled, legal action was taken against him today.

Ferrybot Smashed in Fog.

New York, Jan. 4.—With one side of her upper structure smashed to bits and all her whistles screaming for help, the Erie Railroad ferryboat Passaic drifted helpless at 8:20 o'clock this morning in the dense fog that hung like a wet blanket over the North River. She had been rammed by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western ferryboat Binghamton. Two men were injured, one seriously, and the boat itself was battered so badly that three tugs, answering the shrill call for assistance, had to tow her to her slip and thence to a dry dock.

A tug with two mud scows grounded and sank on the tail of the Romer Shoals, off Sandy Hook, early this morning during the southwester and thick weather.

TRENTON SIDETRACKED.

Business Men Object to Reading Withdrawing Express Trains.

A petition signed by Governor Stokes, Colonel Washington A. Roebling and other bankers and business men of Trenton is to be presented to the officials of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, protesting against the taking of Trenton express trains from the Philadelphia and New York division of the road. With the change of time last month seven express trains were removed from the local schedule, and Trenton traffic must now depend almost exclusively on slow trains between Trenton and New York and Philadelphia.

The business men of that city declare that the Reading seems to care only for the through passenger business between New York and Philadelphia and to cater only to the freight business of Trenton. They assert that a freight boycott will be established against the road unless the passenger service is improved by the restoration of the old schedule.

DOG SAVED HOUSE.

Barked Until Master Went to Room Aflame.

"Dewey," a fox terrier owned by Howard W. Freeman, of Thomas street, Bloomfield, saved yesterday afternoon his master's house from being destroyed by fire. A lace curtain was blown against a lighted gas jet and in a moment the room was all ablaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman were on the front porch at the time. "Dewey" had been asleep on a rug in the bedroom, where the fire was. The animal ran down the stairs, loudly barking. Mr. Freeman commanded the dog to keep quiet, but it kept up its barking and then seized its master's coat and tried to pull him into the house.

Mr. Freeman had never known "Dewey" before to act in such a peculiar manner, and he saw that something must be wrong. He followed the dog into the house and was greeted by volumes of smoke. An alarm called out the fire department and the flames were extinguished.

BRINGS SUIT FOR $500,000.

Action Against Hamilton F. Kean and Others to Recover Unsold Securities.

Conflicting sections of the corporation laws of New York State may operate against Harry T. Gause, a shipbuilder, of Wilmington, Del., in a suit argued yesterday before Judge Leventritt, of the Supreme Court, New York, in which Hamilton F. Kean is one of the defendants. Gause entered into an agreement with the old Trust Company of the Republic, now the Commonwealth Trust Company, in 1902, whereby the latter was to market for him at a price of not less than $500,000 securities of the United States Shipbuilding Company that he held.

When the Shipbuilding Trust failed, with his securities unsold, Gause sued the trust company for the half million dollars. Because that suit has never come to trial, owing to many delays on technicalities, Gause now sues the stockholders of the company for that amount. The latter include August Belmont, Perry Belmont, George C. Boldt, Arthur H. Hagemeyer, Stuyvesant Fish, Hamilton F. Kean and Robert V. Cortlandt, who hold the stock for their customers.

Yorke Allen, counsel for one of the stockholders, contended in court yesterday that according to the law Gause could not sue the stockholders until he had first exhausted the resources of the trust company. Counsel for Gause declared that the second suit was permissible on the ground that such a suit must be brought within two years.

Joe G. Weimer, advance representative for James O'Neil, was in the city today making arrangements for the actor's appearance at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday, January 13. The great tragedian has consented to play a matinee, but did so only after Manager Counihan had talked to him for nearly two hours in New York yesterday afternoon. In recent years Mr. O'Neil has not been playing matinees outside of the largest cities.

DEBATE COURT'S COST

Board of Trade Members Non-Committal as to Proposed Tribunal.

OPPOSED BY CORIELL

Cleaning and Checking of Greenbrook Urged Vigorously in City and Borough—Old Officers Re-elected Unanimously.

Measures for the regulation of Greenbrook's flow, the District Court question and the proposed spite-house ordinance were the subjects discussed at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade last night. A bare quorum of twelve members were present and the discussions were not long. A committee was appointed to confer with the councilmanic committee on public affairs with regard to the work, and a committee was delegated to investigate the cost of maintaining a court.

The Greenbrook matter, which is not a new one—it is agitated whenever the stream overflows—was brought up through the presentation of a communication from Perrin Freres, glove manufacturers, Washington avenue, who asked the board to take some action in support of their effort to recover part of the cost of building a stone water wall along the brook back of their factory from the city or the county.

Charles Runyon questioned the propriety of asking the city to pay for any private work of the kind, and President Woolston explained that the overflow at the factory was largely, if not wholly, due to the New street storm sewer. The firm had come to the city through the instrumentality of the Board of Trade and felt that the body should help recover something of the expense to which they had been put through conditions not of their creation.

It was the consensus of opinion that if the New street sewer drove the water onto the firm's property the city should look into the matter, and on motion Mr. Woolston was instructed to confer with the chairman of the public affairs committee regarding it.

"While the Council is on that matter they might look into the whole question of checking the brook," said Mr. Runyon. It is time the two municipalities got together and cleaned that brook out. It seems to me the stream could be deepened and held to a straight line between Tier's dam and Washington avenue without much expense."

"A stone wall could be put up, and it would be a great benefit," said E. M. Laing.

W. H. Riley threw a new suggestion as to the treatment of the brook.

"Why can't the stream be improved with regard to its beauties and not solely from a materialistic standpoint?" he asked. Nicely sodded along the banks, it would be a thing of great beauty and a decided feature of the city. It seems to me the community is throwing away an advantage in not making the brook as beautiful as it might be. The improvement would mean dollars and cents in property values. If the improvement must come from private action, I will very willingly pay my share of a general contribution."

President Woolston introduced the subject of the District Court. He called for a discussion of it without expressing an opinion as to his stand for or against. The court proposition was not received with marked enthusiasm. It was discussed strictly from a dollars and cents standpoint, and the members were very evidently reluctant to go on record as supporting it unless a reasonable approach to self-sustenance could be assured for the tribunal. Ex-Sheriff B. Frank Coriell expressed emphatic disapproval of the project.

"The court is not needed here," he said. "Litigants can secure all the District Court justice they want by going to Elizabeth, and the expense of a court here would be altogether too much. It will cost the city very nearly $5,000 a year to maintain it. There will not only be the salary of the judge, but a court clerk must be paid, a court room must be provided and furnished, and a janitor will have to be hired. And the court would be of no earthly good to the city."

"Everybody wants to know what the thing will cost before considering it," said Mr. Runyon. "That is the vital point."

The general opinion coincided with that of Mr. Runyon, and Mr. Coriell and County Register Frank H. Smith were appointed a committee to learn what the expense of maintaining a court would be.

"Don't ask the court officers in Elizabeth for information," Mr. Smith warned Mr. Coriell. "They are not anxious to see a court here."

Mr. Runyon brought up the building ordinance, by suggesting that the board prod the Council into action on it. It was finally decided to allow

MEETINGS CONTINUE AT GRACE.

Evangelist Rines Meeting With Continued Success.

Increased interest has been manifested in the evangelistic services at Grace M. E. church, and the attendance last night was very encouraging. The meeting was led by A. D. Rines and his efforts met with success. Several persons in the gathering expressed a desire to lead a Christian life.

The service tonight will be of a special character and will be in the nature of a "song sermon." Mr. Rines will sing and other solos will be contributed by Miss Grace Carroll, of the Crescent Avenue church choir.

Both Mr. Rines and his brother, H. J. Rines, who has been kept from the meetings by sickness in his family, will be at all the services Sunday, assisting Dr. Parsons. They will be of an interesting nature and large attendance are looked for.

REVIVAL BEARING FRUIT.

Many Are Impressed at Faith Chapel Meetings.

A large congregation gathered at Faith chapel, last night, to hear Rev. C. C. Luther, the evangelist, who has stirred the members and friends of the chapel by his earnest words. There is increased interest and many in the audience last night raised their hands for prayers and signified their desire to lead a better Christian life, while in the after meeting several persons were found to be under conviction.

Mr. Luther's remarks were based on the Bible story where Jesus stands at the door of the heart and knocks for entrance. He was very impressive in his earnest pleading for all to open the door of their hearts and let the Saviour in.

The meetings for the mothers and children yesterday afternoon were well attended and full of interest.

Working on Carnival.

A meeting of the general carnival committee was held at the Casino, last night, when material progress was made in the arrangements for the second annual production next summer for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. The women's auxiliary committee met with those from the Board of Governors, and roughly outlined its plans. It is likely that the women will plan to erect a large tent in which will be a bazaar of all nations. There will also be a model of a hospital. It was decided to build the show on a larger scale than last year.

W. C. T. U.'s Plans.

The members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, at a business meeting held yesterday afternoon, decided to hold a parlor meeting within the next two weeks, and discussed favorably plans for a medal contest to be held in the rooms early in February. Mrs. Frank Rowley, assisted by a committee, is in charge of preparations for these events. It is quite likely that the parlor meeting will be held at the home of Miss Anna Boice in Park avenue.

Nobleman to Speak.

Vladiner Gelesnoff, of Russia, has been secured as the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Gelesnoff is of a noble Russian family and is an exile for his faith. He is a very intelligent speaker. Charles L. Lewis, baritone of the Lotus Glee Club, will be the soloist and Martin A. Korff will be the violinist.

Infant Child Injured.

George Kunttgen, aged three years, of Oak Tree, was brought to the hospital last night, suffering with a cut in the cheek. The little fellow was playing out of doors near his home when he stumbled and fell on some glass. The cut, about two inches in length, was sewed up and the lad taken home.

ARCANUM TO FIGHT FEES

Against Paying Them to Certain Salaried Officers.

TO SEEK LEGISLATURE

Action Prompted by Hospital Physician's Charge for Signature—Newark Council's Plans.

Legislation for the regulation of fees charged by physicians in public institutions for signing death certificates where there are insurance moneys involved, or, if possible, the abolishment of all fees for such services, will be sough; by the Royal Arcanum this winter.

At a special meeting of Newark City Council such action was decided upon, and a committee was appointed to bring the subject before the other councils of the city and to get the latter to join in interesting Senator-elect Colby with a view to having him bring the matter before the Legislature. Behind it all is a story.

Little less than a month ago Ambrose Ham, a member of Newark City Council, died in the Essex County Hospital for the Insane, where he had been an inmate for several years. His family during his time in the asylum were unable to keep up his assessments in the council, and the payments were made by the council to the extent of between $400 and $500. After Ham's death it became necessary, as in such cases, in order to have the insurance money collected, to have an affidavit made by the physician who attended the deceased attached to the death certificate. Dr. Walter Stiles, a salaried employe at the asylum, was the one most in attendance on Ham, and he was asked by William Tries, Jr., a member of the council, to sign the papers.

Heretofore, according to members of the council, fees had not been charged for such accommodation, but Dr. Stiles told Tries that it would cost $5 for his signature to the papers. Mr. Tries, so he informed his brother members of the council, asked of Dr. Stiles, who received the fee and the physician replied that he did. In order to avoid any trouble and to expedite matters, Mr. Tries paid the physician and was later reimbursed by the council. The council took the matter up and appealed to the Board of Freeholders.

County Supervisor Johnson was told that the council had no fault to find with the payment of the money, but it did object to the payment of fees for such services to salaried hospital attaches. Mr. Johnson was asked if such fees were turned over to the county, and replied that they were not. A letter was then sent to County Collector Munn, whose opinion was sought. Mr. Munn wrote that the board could not control charges for such services by physicians. It was on the receipt of Mr. Munn's communication that the council decided to take the step.

PARKS TAKE TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES.

Roselle Puts Up Good Fight on the Alleys—Some Good Scores.

The Park Club bowling team continued its fast work last night, when it won two out of the three games with the Roselle Casino. Barlow was high man for the Parks with 209 in the first game, while the other members did good work in every game. F. O. Ball, as usual, rolled a strong even game. For the visitors, Howe almost equalled Barlow's score, rolling 200 in the first game. The Roselle team put up a good fight and made its opponents work hard from start to finish. The scores:

To Make Men Smile.

Roland Reeder, of New York, the well known humorist, cartoonist, impersonator and prestidigateur, has been secured to entertain the members of the Men's Club of the First Baptist church and their women friends on Monday night. Mr. Reeder is considered unusually good and is sure to furnish a pleasant evening. For this reason it was decided to invite the women friends of the club. In addition to Mr. Reeder the president of the club, S. St. John McCutchen, will make a few remarks.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY FOR MRS. MARY L. FORCE

WIDOW OF A FORMER PARTNER IN THE DAILY PRESS SUCCUMBS.

Suddenly, and without any warning, Mrs. Mary L. Force, widow of William L. Force, for many years one of the proprietors of The Daily Press, died at her home, 22 Duer street, this morning. She was awakened by her alarm clock at the usual hour to prepare breakfast for her brother, William Laing, who resided with her. She awakened him as customary. While he was dressing he heard a peculiar noise in her room. Calling his sister by name and getting no response, he entered the room, where he was shocked to see her lying dead at the foot of the bed.

Mr. Laing summoned Mrs. Clarence L. Lyons, a neighbor, and then Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan. The latter found Mrs. Force had passed away. Death was due to heart failure.

Mrs. Force was the daughter of James Laing, brother of John W. Laing, during the early history of Plainfield proprietor of Laing's Hotel for many years. She was born in this city and always lived here. Throughout her life she was always doing good wherever she could. In her quiet manner she assisted the needy, never letting her left hand know what her right hand did, and many persons have been made comfortable through her ministrations.

Surviving Mrs. Force are two sisters, Mrs. Julia L. Force, of this city, and Mrs. N. C. Dunn, of Philadelphia; also two brothers, William and Hugh S. Laing. Notice of funeral will be given later.

F. E. BODIN NARROWLY ESCAPES FATAL INJURY.

Thrown from His Wagon in Runaway and Rendered Unconscious for Several Minutes.

Francis E. Bodin, an attache of William Jeffery's real estate office, narrowly escaped fatal injury in a runaway accident this morning. Driving from his home at Watchung to his office, his horse became frightened at Somerset street and Johnston Drive and ran away. Bodin was thrown out on his head and rendered unconscious for several minutes, afterward recovering sufficiently to board a trolley car and continue to town.

The horse ran all the way to Park avenue and was caught at Second street by Louis Moledezky. The animal was uninjured, but the wagon was a complete wreck. Bodin was compelled to visit Dr. Pittis' office to have cuts on his head dressed.

Borough School Matters.

Superintendent Krebs has found it necessary to divide the kindergarten class in the Somerset school. It now numbers sixty-three pupils and will probably reach seventy-five within a few weeks. The division is to be made at once and separate sessions will be held morning and afternoon. Mr. Krebs has also decided to omit the winter promotions, but pupils who are entitled to advancement will be given higher studies in their respective classes and will skip a class at the end of the term.

Building Inspector Doane has granted a permit to Charles J. Rice, of West Seventh street, to have a house erected for himself at West Seventh street and Lee place. It will be a handsome structure in every particular and will be fitted with all improvements. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $10,000. C. Powell Karr, of this city, is the architect.

Under the auspices of the McAll Auxiliary a tea will be held at the home of Mrs. F. O. Herring in Park avenue this afternoon.

CAN TRY CIVIL ACTIONS

Little-Known Fact Regarding Jurisdiction of the City Judge.

SAME POWERS AS J. P.

Brought Out By Discussion Over District Court—But Law is Not Mandatory and Judge Runyon Wont Do the Business.

In the discussion over the district court at the Board of Trade meeting last night, the fact was brought out that the city judge has jurisdiction enough over civil suits to make him very nearly a district judge in effect. Under the charter he may try civil actions up to $200.

His powers, as defined by the charter, are the same as those of a justice of the peace. The section covering the civil side of the city judgship reads as follows:

"The city judge shall have all rights, powers, and jurisdiction that justices of the peace have for the trial of civil actions before them; he shall be elected to serve three years, and his court shall be a court of record, the proceedings in which shall be the same as in courts for the trial of small causes, and subject to the same laws as far as applicable; judgments in said court may be appealed from in all cases in which appeals are allowed in courts for the trial of small causes in the same manner, and the Common Council shall provide a suitable and convenient place where the court of the city judge may be held."

That the city judge has the power to try civil actions has not been generally known. It was suggested last night that as the city judge must be a lawyer of standing, actions tried before him would be disposed of according to law and the rules of evidence, which is the principal argument in favor of a district court as opposed to the justices' jurisdiction.

There is one thing, however, that stands in the way of substituting the city judge for the justices in the trial of small causes, and that is the absence of a mandatory provision in the civil actions clause above quoted. Litigants, of course, and not compelled to bring their actions before the judge, and he is not under compulsion to take them if they do.

Judge Runyon is emphatically unwilling to handle civil actions. He is so firmly set in this attitude that he told a Daily Press reporter this morning that he would resign if the trial of civil actions in his court were made mandatory.

"I want no part of the justices' business," he said. "To sit up as a civil judge would mean in my case simply that I was bidding for the business of the justices. I don't want to do that, and in any event, under the fee system, the business would be very unprofitable. It would take up a lot of time that I, or any other lawyer, could put in much more profitably in other directions."

"How would you feel if the section was construed as, or made, mandatory?" he was asked.

"I'd get out of the office before I would handle the business."

PRIDEVILLE RESIDENTS MUST PUT UP MAIL BOXES.

Failure To Do So Will Deprive Them of Rural Free Delivery Service.

Postmaster E. H. Bird, in referring to the request of certain residents of Prideville for a mail delivery by regular letter carriers, instead of the present rural free delivery service, says that he put forth every effort to include that part of the borough in the rural free delivery territory and succeeded in his purpose whereby the residents now have one delivery every day.

The postal authorities at Washington issued an order instructing Mr. Bird to inform these people that they would be given until January 16 to establish mail boxes in front of their properties, and in case of failure to do so they could not expect any service.

Mr. Bird further says that according to the rules governing the postal business, residents of Prideville are not entitled to regular carrier service, as there is but one important street in that section and sidewalks are not generally laid. He says that the question as to whether a man pays little or much tax does not figure with the postal authorities in extending the service.

ENGAGE NEW ORGANIST AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

Mr. Lee to Succeed Mrs. C. Frederick Odell.

Mrs. C. Frederick Odell has terminated her services as organist and choirmaster at the Church of the Holy Cross, and Mr. Lee, an organist and choirmaster in New York, has been engaged. He will take charge of the music at the church on Sunday. The men and boys' choir will be augmented by several new voices and it is hoped to make it one of the best.

There will be a little change in the order of services for Sunday. At 8 o'clock in the morning there will be holy communion and at 9:45 o'clock there will be a children's service and morning prayer with full vested choir. At 11 o'clock there will be holy communion and sermon. The children's service in the morning will take the place of the Sunday school on the first Sunday in the month.

The rector, Rev. George A. Warner, has organized a young people's Bible class, which will meet every Sunday morning except the first in the month at 10 o'clock. He will personally teach this class.

WILL RE-ELECT SMITH.

Republican County Committee's Annual Election Monday Night.

The Republican County Committee will hold its annual meeting next Monday night. All the offices are to be filled.

In all probability Chairman Frank H. Smith, of this city, will succeed himself. He has been in the chairmanship for only a year and no other name has been suggested. Charles Codding was chairman for five years, Hamilton Kean was chairman for four years, and the committee probably expects Mr. Smith to serve four or five years.

"I am willing to serve another term," said Mr. Smith to a Press reporter this morning. "I feel that if the committee wants me to serve it is my duty to assume some of the work that must be done for the organization."

His father was a trackwalker for the New Jersey Central and was killed at the Park avenue bridge about ten years ago.

SAW PICKPOCKET WORK

Sharp-eyed Little Girl Brings About Colored Crook's Arrest.

ROBBED A CONDUCTOR

Clever Detective Work by Officer Higgins In Tracking the Thief—A Futile Attempt To Escape.

Through the sharpness of a little girl's sight, a daring young pickpocket who worked on a Netherwood avenue car last night, was tracked down by the police and forced to give up his plunder. The case involved a clever bit of detective work on the part of Patrolman Morris Higgins.

Charles Vermeule, the conductor on the car, was the crook's victim. His car started from the Netherwood terminus early in the evening and gathered a heavy load on the way to the other end of the line. Early in the trip a youthful negro boarded the car and took his place on the platform. Vermeule didn't notice the colored youth particularly, and the latter had apparently no interest in anything but the panorama of houses and streets. At Washington and Fifth streets he got off.

Two or three blocks further on, as the car neared the depot, Vermeule reached for his watch to see if he was on time. Watch and chain were gone. A bright-eyed little girl who sat in an end seat watched the surprised conductor as he looked down at his watch pocket.

"Are you looking for your watch?" she asked. "Why, that colored man who just got off took it. I saw him lean over and pull it out of your pocket a little while before he got off."

Vermeule remembered then that the colored youth had pressed against him, while apparently making way for an oncoming passenger. He reported the case at police headquarters as soon as the trip ended. In his description of the negro he said the youth wore a coat with brass buttons, and Officer Higgins, who was called from reserve and put on the case, turned his sleuth-sense in the direction of seventeen-year-old Frank Brown, who works as a liveried errand boy for a Watchung avenue tailor. Higgins knew Brown as the principal in a police case during the past year, and went out on his trail.

Brown was not there, and Higgins went to his home on Muhlenberg place, and the cop found no trace of him there. Higgins dropped into a colored pool room on Madison avenue on spec. The speculation panned out. Just as he entered the place, Brown broke away from a group at one of the tables and bolted through a back door. Higgins gave chase and overtook him at the foot of the stairs. Brown was gripped and subdued in short order.

At the station house the watch chain was found in his pocket and he broke down and showed the officers where he had hidden the time-piece in an alley on Madison avenue. This morning he was held for the grand jury by Justice Mosher under $200 bail. His previous offense was committed in a cutting affray.

P. H. S. Baseball Prospects.

It is proposed to open the season early in April.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Excelsior H. and L. Co., with an active membership of twenty-six, and B. and E. Co., with a membership of twenty-five, each got out twenty votes at the annual department election held Tuesday night. This hardly looks as though the recent law declaring the firemen's $500 exemption unconstitutional had killed the interest in the volunteer companies. It caused a big "kick" at the time, but the members are beginning to rally once more and taking an active interest in their respective companies.

The meetings held for the past two weeks by Rev. Mr. Hoffman at the Methodist church, will be brought to a close tomorrow night. The meetings have been very encouraging to the pastor, in point of attendance and interest shown by the members in the work.

Emil Jahn, who has been spending two weeks at home, returned yesterday to his studies at the Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., where he is taking a course in electrical engineering.

Miss Louise Robison returned Wednesday to her duties as a teacher in one of the New York schools, after a ten days' holiday vacation.

The monthly observance of the Lord's Supper will be held at the morning service at the Baptist church Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Perry, of McKinley avenue, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Henry Schreiner, of Mountain avenue.

William S. Rapp is spending a week visiting relatives and friends at his former home, Albany, N. Y.

Rev. T. Moore-Smith will lead the weekly prayer and praise service tonight at the Baptist church.

Watson's Great Reductions Suits and Overcoats.

Next week we take account of stock. Want to reduce it and clean out all broken lots of Overcoats and Suits. That's why the prices are reduced! In this sale former prices and cost not considered. You know what good clothes Watson makes and sells—and his prices are always low for prices given. Stop and think what these prices mean! We'll tell you. A lesson to Watson. It shows you when Watson reduces prices he doesn't hesitate, but cuts down deeply.

JANUARY FURNITURE SALE.

A Presentation of the Best the Great Northwest Produces

The exhibit of furniture made by this establishment surpasses in completeness, in quality, in beauty any that you know of. Of all the many great department stores of the country this one is known to be the foremost in furniture.

This being true, the people of New Jersey have no need to look beyond Hahne & Co.'s for anything they may need in a furniture way. Our enormous assortment covers every possible need, whether it be furnishings for a palatial residence or the humblest cottage.

During this big January movement we reduce the price on every piece of furniture in this great two-acre display. It means tremendous savings to the people who patronize this store—in the aggregate many thousands of dollars.

The most popular priced articles are liberally cut and in the higher grades some most emphatic reductions are made. For instance, these:

$1,750	Five-piece Aubusson Tapestry Gold Parlor Suit for	$1,000.00
$280.00	Mahogany Four Post English Bed for	$200.00
$148.00	Mahogany Four Post English Bed for	$100.00
$132.00	Mahogany High Boy	$100.00
$644.00	Mahogany Twin Beds	$400.00
$206.00	Mahogany Chiffonier	$150.00
$69.00	Mahogany Toilet Table	$35.00
$350.00	Brown Oak Dining Room Suit	$175.00
$175.00	Mahogany Dresser	$125.00
$54.00	Mission Sideboard	$15.00
$233.00	Mahogany Desk	$175.00
$225.00	Mahogany Desk	$175.00
$145.00	Oak Desk	$110.00
$39.00	Mahogany Jewel Case	$20.00
$42.00	Mahogany Wine Table	$21.00

Some One Is Losing Money

On This "El-an-ge" Enameled Ware.

Doesn't it strike you as strange that we can sell the famous "El-an-ge" Enameled Ware so very cheaply when pig iron—which enters into the make-up of these materials—in 1903 and 4 was worth only $9.00 a ton and is selling today for $18.00; when ingot copper, which was then $10.00 to $12.00 a ton, is now $20.00; when tin was $16.00 and is now $30.00; when spelter was 2c and 3c a pound and is now 6c to 7c?

Isn't it truly remarkable that this metal enameled ware is cheaper today than it was in 1903 and 4? It is one of the paradoxes that cannot be comprehended except by those who have studied all the conditions, but this much is certain—some one will be losing money while enameled ware is being sold so cheaply, and that some one will not be you.

Plainfield, N. J., January 5, 1906.

If it undertakes the task seriously, the Board of Trade's committee on a district court will find that many sober-minded and thoughtful men favor the establishment of such a tribunal. The defects of the present system are apparent. That much will be conceded. The hitch comes when the question of cost of the new court is considered. Can Plainfield afford to make the improvement? Lawyers and litigants will undoubtedly give an affirmative answer. What will the Board of Trade's committee say?

It is reported that the Armstrong investigating committee will make some recommendations which will bring about a revolution and an evolution in life insurance. Among the chief suggestions of the Hughes probers will be that policyholders have an effective voice in the government of the companies; that policies be limited to certain standard forms; that deferred dividend policies be either prohibited or greatly restricted; that control of subsidiary companies be prohibited; that deposits with or loans to moneyed corporations be restricted; that there be more publicity about the companies' affairs; and last, but not least, that the companies be obliged to make an equitable distribution of the surplus to policyholders at stated intervals. If these recommendations are adopted and if those who have been recklessly mismanaging the companies be sent to the penitentiary, the Armstrong committee should receive the thanks of the American people.

PERSONAL.

The Misses Randolph, of Central avenue, have closed their house for a time and gone to Atlantic City.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk left this morning for Boston. He will return home the first of the week.

Mrs. Herbert Whittingham, of Baltimore, Md., has returned to her home in Baltimore, Md., having spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Van Deventer, of Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark, of Westervelt avenue, will entertain a whist club at their home on Thursday night, January 11. The event was postponed from last week on account of the holidays.

Miss Ruth Van Vliet has returned to Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass., where she is a student, after spending the holiday vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Van Vliet, of Washington avenue.

License Matters.

An unusually interesting feature of the work of the 1906 Common Council will be its action on the liquor license matters which will come up in February. While it is known that there has been no disposition on the part of previous councils to materially increase the number of drinking places in the city, last year's effort to have a license granted to John J. Goff's hotel in West Front street is quite likely to be renewed. He can not be allowed to sell liquor legally unless there is a repeal of the quarantine saloon ordinance adopted last year for the purpose of keeping the sale of liquor within a certain area. It is hardly thought that any change will be made in the present license fee, which is $1,000.

No Troubles for the Mayor.

Mayor James F. Buckle will not be bothered to any extent this year in the matter of appointments. Aside from the usual long list of special policemen to be appointed, an annual custom, he will not be called upon to make any other selection except when Assistant Fire Chief J. W. Murray, Jr., the new tax collector, resigns. Many of the important city offices are for a term or two or three years and this year many officials hold over.

the matter to lay over until the new Council had had a chance to get into the swing of its work.

In the general discussion growing out of Mr. Runyon's suggestion, Building Inspector Doane, who was present, made a vigorous statement calculated to disabuse the board of the idea that no work had been done on the ordinance.

"A lot of work has been done on it," said the chief. "The chairman of the building committee and myself worked all the time we could get, day and night, on that ordinance for two months. Perhaps as an official I should say nothing about this, but as a private citizen I will say that the ordinance should be turned over to a practical architect to be drafted, then to the Council and then to the corporation counsel. A so-called spite-house ordinance is a mighty hard thing to draw. Any man who can, under the constitution of these United States, make a law that dictates the style of architecture I am to follow in building a house, must be a mighty good man, indeed."

Chief Doane called particular attention to the fact, however, that a clause covering "spite houses" was incorporated in the ordinance prepared for the Council last fall.

The board re-elected all the old officers by one ballot, and added a second vice-president and a collector to the list. The officers are as follows: President, L. B. Woolston; vice-president, James Pope; second vice-president, B. Frank Coriell; secretary, F. H. Smith; treasurer, E. M. Laing; collector, Guillermo Thorn.

The treasurer reported a balance of $130 on hand. During the year $141 has been expended, mainly on the swimming pool.

Chairman Laing, of the dinner committee, reported that practically all arrangements for the annual banquet were made. Nothing absolutely definite could be stated, he said, but the commissions for the dinner could be given out within twenty-four hours.

Miss Jessie Utter has recovered from a recent severe attack of erysipelas, which detained her at home for several weeks.

Miss Marion Herr, of Flemington, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of West Front street.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

The new owners of the Mahlon Vail tract are developing it on a liberal scale, under the name of Edgarton Park. Over 150 lots have been sold, and a big New York concern has purchased a tract along the Lehigh front on which a factory is to be built. Eight new streets are to be cut through the park, seven of which are being put into shape for traffic now. Streets have already been cut through from Washington avenue to Main street. The new streets are to be numbered from one up. Lots are selling rapidly and the titles to them are covered by a guarantee company.

A. N. Randolph lost six valuable hens a night or two ago through the depredations of a very daring thief. Mr. Randolph saw someone creeping toward his hennery early in the evening and drove the skulker away. A little later the man came back and decamped with the chickens. A few nights before Mr. Randolph's dog was poisoned, and it is his belief that the animal was killed to clear the way for the thief. Mr. Randolph's fowls are very choice and a great temptation to chicken thieves.

Clarence Harrison was one of the fifty men impressed into service by the sheriff at New Brunswick last week to guard the P. S. C. property in the township. He happened to be near the court house and was caught in the drag net of the "press gang." He did duty all night with a gun and a truncheon. The experience was tame enough and not unprofitable, for he has an order on the county for $8.

As a result of the suspension of Stanley Day's mail order magazine the New Market postoffice is very apt to be reduced from third to fourth class. It is estimated that the monthly cancellations derived from his issues just about kept the office within the third class. His stamp business from the magazine amounted to $600 yearly.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

B. E. Forrester's magnificent production of "The Street Singer," one of the latest musical comedy drama offerings, will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. It is a conglomeration of pretty girls, gorgeous scenery, glittering costumes, tuneful and catchy music, together with clever and funny comedians and amusing situations and complications as well as many dramatic situations. The cast contains some well-known players and is headed by the clever and dainty little comedienne, Florence Bindley.

George M. Cohan's rural musical comedy, "Running for Office," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night. It is one of the best pieces the "Yankee Doodle" comedian ever wrote and is to be presented by a capable company headed by Bobby Harrington.

Ezra Kendall, who is announced in the bills on the walls and newspaper advertisements as "the comedian you all know," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre Monday night, January 22. The play to be presented will be "The Vinegar Buyer." The company that will support Mr. Kendall during his engagement is said to be the best that Liebler & Company have ever contributed to Mr. Kendall's cast. Those that are assigned prominent characters are Thurlow Bergen, Harold Russell, Frederick Malcolm, John D. Garrick, Sumner Gard, James Bevins, H. J. Kennedy, Ethel Brandon, Mary Stockwell, Rita O'Neal, Edith Taliaferro, and others.

How would you like to be the postman who delivers Mrs. Eva Fay's mail every day, bringing about an average of between five hundred and one thousand letters a day? What do you think you would do if you were the recipient of such an enormous mail? Of course, you thought that no one woman ever received so much mail in a single day, without considering the fact that every one of these letters is answered by Mrs. Fay in person. The ordinary woman finds it burdensome to answer three or four letters a week and can scarcely imagine the condition which the size of such a correspondence and one of such a private and personal character impose. Fortunately, Mrs. Fay has for nine years been answering such letters and it comes very easy to her to write the answers to the great bundles of letters that come every day. Still, the conditions are so burdensome that Mrs. Fay is bound down to her correspondence. Even the most common amusement of the average American woman is denied her, except on the most rare of occasions, that of shopping. Often, Mrs. Fay has remarged, "I am chained down by this letter writing habit." Imagine some of the questions which are enclosed in the hundreds of envelopes received every mail delivery. "Is it wise for me to get married to Clara?" "Why do I not hear from home?" "Where is my son who went away three years ago? Is he still alive and is he prosperous?" "Is my partner keeping faith with me?" "Should I prosecute my relatives?" and every sort of question that anyone ever dreamed of. Ever since the letters were introduced, the people have been bringing their personal and private troubles to Mrs. Fay with greater confidence every day. The most sacred relations and the most secret events are all laid bare to Mrs. Fay's scrutinizing gaze, and every one is regarded as the most confidential matter.

No actor in the world is better qualified than Digby Bell for the star part in the play in which he has been appearing for the past two years, for he has the physique, the voice, the humor, the magnetism, and the ability to endow Mr. Pipp with all the lovable human attributes which make him loved and respected by the audience, even when he appears most hen-pecked. Mr. Bell will appear here in "The Education of Mr. Pipp," Thursday night, January 11.

Stage realism is said to be exhausted in this year's production of "Monte Cristo," which will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, Jan. 13, with James O'Neill in the title role, a part which he has filled almost five thousand times. The gorgeousness of scenery, costumes, properties and electrical effects vies in this production with the strength of acting, and the ensemble is said to be a revelation to theatre-goers. No part of it has been slighted, but the great scenes of course, are the storm that closes the second act, the ball-room in the fourth act and the duel scene in the last. These have been given effectively before but never with so much affluence, more especially in the matter of light effects than with this presentation. The splendor of the ball-room scene is imposing, with lavish display of gold, brilliantly illuminated. But even more striking are the swift transitions of light in the last act.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit. Mich.

MESSAGE WILL BE LONG

Governor Stokes Has Practically Completed Work on Document.

LEASING STREET RIGHTS

May Be Suggested As Solution of Franchise Problem—Much Original Thought.

Governor Edward C. Stokes' message to the Legislature next Tuesday will be one of the strongest and most important documents ever issued by an occupant of the executive chair, in that it will discuss matters that have become of great importance throughout the State, both by agitation and by the growth of appreciation of their importance, and will show original thought. In addition, it may be a record-breaker for length; at least, it will be one of the longest messages ever written by a Governor of this State. It will be lengthy both by reason of the number of separate matters that are discussed by the executive and by the thorough dissection that is given to each subject.

The message is all in type, and the printing will be done today or tomorrow, so that the copies will be ready for distribution next Tuesday, when the message will be sent to the Senate and Assembly. The Governor will not talk concerning the matters discussed or the stand he has taken on them, but as he has talked over many of the subjects with the heads of the departments, and as he has also submitted proofs of the part of the message relating to these departments to the heads, some inklings of things have crept out.

Of course the subjects of equal taxation and limited franchises will be considered. What the Governor's views on them are cannot yet be ascertained in full purport, but it can be said that he will suggest fair treatment for all interests affected. In this connection the informal interview that took place between Governor Stokes and Senator-elect Everett Colby, of Essex county, a few weeks ago, can be recalled. At that time, as told in these columns, Mr. Colby discovered that the views of the Governor and himself were not so very widely divergent on either the questions of taxation or of limited franchises.

Some other questions of the importance of which the attention of the general public has not been attracted, will be considered in such a way that their weight will be realized.

Regarding the question of franchises in public thoroughfares, the Governor will display considerable original thought, according to report. It is said that he may suggest that the granting of franchises by municipalities be done away with as far as practical, if not entirely, and that instead there be substituted the system of leasing rights to streets for certain terms. There will be considerable difference in law between a franchise and a lease.

One proposition that was suggested to the Governor this week, though possibly too late for proper consideration, was that municipalities be permitted by law to build trolley beds and other equipment for street-using corporations, in the same way they build the beds of roadways, and that then the use of the tracks and paraphernalia be rented out to such users as will pay the highest price for them. Such a proposition might be developed wonderfully and made a simple solution of a complicated problem.

MOTHER AND SON ATTACK SALOONMAN.

When Battle Was Over, Anderson Was Badly Injured—Both Are Under Arrest.

Jersey City, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Elizabeth Byrne and her son Frank, nineteen years old, were arraigned in the Second Criminal Court for assault and battery on James C. Anderson, a saloonkeeper, who was unable to appear because of his injuries. Mrs. Byrne's husband received his month's pay on Monday and failing to reach home at a reasonable time his wife and son went in quest of him.

They suspected that he was in Anderson's saloon. The door was closed when they arrived, but after a few minutes' delay they were admitted. The absent husband and father was not visible, and Mrs. Byrne accused Anderson of hiding her husband. This led to angry words and a fight. When it was over Anderson was lying unconscious on the floor with three serever scalp wounds and a broken wrist.

Beyond Governor's Power.

Trenton, Jan. 5.—Gov. Stokes said yesterday that he had no power to grant a special permit to Barney Oldfield to attempt to make a record automobile run between New York and Philadelphia. The Governor said that the speed law is plain, and that he has not the right to suspend its operation. Oldfield wanted to run next Sunday and break the present railroad time between the two cities.

R. P. F. VON MINDEN DUNELLEN'S COUNSEL.

Mayor Wyckoff Announces His Appointments for the Year.

The borough Council of Dunellen met last night to receive Mayor Wyckoff's appointments, which included a councilman to fill the unexpired term of Wilson S. Fredericks, who resigned last fall to become Republican candidate for Mayor. Charles Starker, a Republican, employed in the Central Railroad freight office at New York, was named as Mr. Fredericks' successor.

R. P. F. Von Minden, of New Market, who has a law office in the Marsh building, was named as corporation counsel to succeed H. Brewster Willis, of New Brunswick. J. D. De Groff, the borough clerk; D. S. Campbell, recorder; Owen Mohan, marshal; W. H. Cole, overseer of the poor, and J. W. Blaine, poundkeeper, were all reappointed.

Councilmen Ryno, Vail and Apgar were named on the committee on sidewalks and lights; Moynihan, Ryno, Kuhns, streets, and Koons, Moynihan and Apgar, water.

To Hang January 26.

Nicola Murdaco, who hacked his wife to pieces in Jersey City last May 4, was taken yesterday into the Hudson County Court of Oyer and Terminer for sentence. January 26 was fixed as the date on which he is to be hanged. Murdaco originally was sentenced to be hanged last August 25. He was granted a reprieve to allow his lawyers the opportunity of taking his case to the Court of Errors and Appeals. When a court officer went to Murdaco's cell the prisoner believed he was going to be immediately hanged, and his appeals for his life were pathetic.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Arnold Daly, the producer of Bernard Shaw's plays, will be at the New Plainfield on January 17 with his greatest success, "You Never Can Tell."

At an uptown theatre in New York a short time ago "Little Johnny Jones" was followed by "A Message from Mars." Part of one of the bills posted for the latter attraction over those of the former washed off the boards, leaving the following startling announcement, "Charles Hawtrey and his company in "Little Johnny Jones."

C. H. Knapp, one of the best advance men in the business, is in town today arranging for the appearance of Guy Brothers' minstrels next Thursday night. He has been ahead of the show for sixteen consecutive years and he says it is better this season than ever before.

The Barnum & Bailey, Ltd., the English corporation that controls the big circus, has declared a dividend of 7½ per cent. The profits for the season just passed were $442,658.60, the highest recorded in many years. The big theatrical managers are yet to be heard from, but it is hardly likely that they will overtop these figures.

Bookings for early appearances at the New Plainfield include "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots," the Jeffersons in "The Rivals," Robert Edeson in "Strongheart," Willie Collier in "On the Quiet," Richard Carle in "The Mayor of Tokio," Robert B. Mantell in "Richard III.," Wilton Lackaye in "The Pit," "The Tenderfoot," "The Pearl and the Pumpkin," Effie Fay in "The Belle of Avenue A," May Irwin in "Mrs. Black is Back," "Buster Brown," "Under Southern Skies," Blanche Walsh in "The Woman in the Case," and Al Leach and the Three Rosebuds in "Girls Will Be Girls." The two big shows next week are Digby Bell in "The Education of Mr. Pipp" and James O'Neill in "Monte Cristo."

MAYOR OUTLINES POLICY

Three Improvements Necessary to be Made in North Plainfield During 1906.

COUNCIL'S APPROVAL

Opening Up Upper End of Watchung Avenue; Widening Upper End Somerset Street, and Street Flood Problem Solution.

Assembling in regular session for the first time since its organization, the 1906 Borough Council was addressed at length by Mayor Smalley, last night, on the need of municipal improvements. He declared there were three things he would like to see taken up at once and accomplished within the year, namely, the solution of the upper Somerset street flood problem, the opening up of Watchung avenue from Codington avenue to Johnston's Drive, and the macadamizing of the same and the widening of Somerset street from Jackson avenue north.

Referring to the upper Somerset street matter, the mayor said that it was a case of "must" and the sooner the borough took it well in hand the better. He suggested that the street committee meet with Dr. Cooley and agree on a method to be adopted, to his mind the most feasible being the straightening of the course of Stony brook opposite the sanitarium. He stated that the necessary money could be appropriated from either the road or the general fund, but he added that he saw no use of going to any further expense in that section, in the way of repairs, unless it was going to do some good. Former Councilman Codington, he said, had once suggested that the best way to stop the brook from overflowing was to build a series of dams from Watchung down and thus hold the freshet water that generally causes the troubles. The mayor expressed the opinion that it was a good idea and it might be well to bear it in mind.

Chairman Lee, of the street committee, said he concurred with the mayor in his views, especially in regard to upper Somerset street and that he would have it taken up inside of a week.

A general discussion of the mayor's suggestions followed and others that he had not touched upon at first, were mentioned afterward. Among these were storm sewers for several streets, including Duer and Grove, the adoption of a curbing ordinance and a system of macadamizing from curb to curb. The mayor laid stress on the fact that the councilmen should not fail to make suggestions for any improvements they thought necessary and he promised his support in every instance.

MRS. SUYDAM JEALOUS

Explanation of the Mysterious Assault on Mrs. J. V. Taylor.

HEARING NOT FINISHED

Mrs. Taylor Says Her Assailant Made a Mistake In Identity—Trial Will Go On Next Saturday.

Mrs. George Suydam, who is charged with assaulting Mrs. J. V. Taylor, of Pond place, and injuring her so seriously that she was compelled to take to her bed, was arraigned before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning. The motive for the assault, which she acknowledged, was jealousy over Mr. Suydam's alleged relations with Mrs. Taylor. The police discovered that the day after the assault, but refused to make it public.

Mrs. Taylor insists that Mrs. Suydam made a mistake in identity when she made the assault. Both women told their stories, but Judge Runyon regarded the evidence as insufficient on which to base a decision, and ordered the hearing adjourned to next Saturday, with instructions to the police to secure all the witnesses needed to clear the case up.

Mrs. Suydam declared that she had proved to her own satisfaction that Mrs. Taylor and Suydam were unduly intimate. She said Mrs. Taylor had been in the habit of meeting her husband and that she caught them together in her place. She said Suydam gave Mrs. Taylor eatables from the Suydam pantry. The matter reached such a stage, she said, that she decided to end it, and started after her husband when he left the house Wednesday afternoon.

She hid behind a tree on Pond place when she saw Mrs. Taylor coming down the street, and watched. She swore that she saw Mrs. Taylor reach out and touch her husband's hand, with a smile, and the sight moved her to uncontrollable anger. Then it was she sprang at Mrs. Taylor and beat hera.

Mrs. Taylor told the story of the assault from her standpoint. She was walking down Pond place, she says, minding her own business very strictly, when she was struck from behind and thrown, half-dazed, into the gutter. Then she was pulled up on the sidewalk, and her assailant walked on her, kicked her, and rolled her about in the dirt generally.

She protected her entire innocence of the charges made by Mrs. Suydam. She said she did not know even where the Suydams lived. Judge Runyon appeared impressed with Mrs. Taylor's protestations.

"It does not look very probable that a woman guilty of the indelicacy with which Mrs. Taylor is charged by Mrs. Suydam would bring about her assailant's arrest," he said. "She would realize that the hearing must bring out serious reflections on her character."

COLLEGE MEN TO HOLD A SMOKER ON FEB. 9.

S. St. John McCutchen Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

It has been decided to hold the university smoker at the Casino on Friday night, February 9. There are about three hundred college graduates here and the response to the invitations exceeded the expectations of the committee. Nearly all the important universities and colleges in the East are represented.

Good music will be provided for the occasion and it is also planned to have a few speeches as an accompaniment to the dinner and smoker. The affair will be an informal one and will be intended as a means of getting better acquainted.

The committee in charge comprises Samuel St. John McCutchen, Yale, chairman; Owen Fleming, Joseph M. Shellabarger, Princeton; Wylie Brown, Cornell; Clifford W. McGee, Yale; Dr. Charles Davis, Pennsylvania, and Willard Wadsworth, Harvard.

Mr. O'Neill Will Appear.

Through a report in a local paper, patrons of the New Plainfield theatre have conceived the idea that James O'Neill will not appear in "Monte Cristo" when it is presented here a week from today. Manager Counihan states that Mr. O'Neill will positively appear in the cast at both afternoon and night performances.

TO LOWER BALL SALARIES

Managers of Semi-professional Teams Agree That Players Must Submit to a Cut.

PLAINFIELD AFFECTED

If Saturday Games Are To Be Continued the Coming Season Expenses Must Be Curtailed.

Unless all signs fail, semi-professional ball players who have been drawing all kinds of fancy salaries during the past year will be obliged to submit to a cut if Saturday afternoon games are to be perpetuated. According to managers, the golden bubble burst last summer, when all of the leading clubs in New Jersey lost money on the season. The managers are a unit in saying that it is absolutely necessary to reduce the salaries of players if Saturday afternoon games are to continue this summer in towns where the people demand strong teams and the best grade of baseball.

The managers are confidant that the players will take a fair view of the situation and will look into the matter from a personal as well as a business point of view, and will readily agree to a reasonable deduction, which the moguls declare is the only salvation for the continuance of first class nines in Jersey towns.

The managers of the leading teams in New Jersey and the metropolitan district are planning to take concerted action in an endeavor to accomplish this purpose. It is possible that the managers will form a compact to regulate the salaries to be paid players for Saturday games and a meeting to fully discuss the problem will likely be held in February.

Among those who declare that it is necessary to curtail expenses in this direction is Manager Konkle, of the Morristown-Chatham Club, which organization, it is reported, dropped a fat sum last summer. Manager Konkle has already been at work trying to interest managers in the situation and he says they all agree with him that salaries for Saturday games should be cut.

Among those Mr. Konkle has consulted in the matter is Manager Phil Daab, of the Hoboken-Plainfield team, who heartily concurs with his idea of getting the various managers together for the purpose of discussing the situation. Other managers equally as prominent in the independent ranks as Mr. Daab have given Mr. Konkle their assurance that they will be on hand at the proposed meeting.

Of the clubs that were forced to "give up the ghost" last season, principally due to high salaries and big guarantees, can be mentioned the Orange A. C., Stroudsburg, Phillipsburg, Roselle, Newton, High Bridge and other associations that have in the past put strong teams in the field. All teams in the Lackawanna League last season reported a shortage.

For the past five seasons Westfield has occupied a prominent position in semi-professional baseball and has supported one of the highest salaried teams in New Jersey. The club suffered a deficit which nearly reached the $1,000 mark last season owing to exorbitant salaries and high guarantees, and now Manager Denman says that the association will cut loose from semi-professional baseball and put an amateur team in the field next season.

As a possible remedy for the situation, one prominent manager has suggested that the players' salary scale for Saturday games be fixed at half the amount they receive for Sunday games. He is confident that this arrangement would prove a solution of the matter, and appears to be a proposition viewed favorably by all managers who expect to pilot teams in suburban towns during the coming season.

One manager who has been actively identified with semi-professional baseball for a number of years in New Jersey says it costs between $100 and $125 to pay the salaries of a team of first class players for Saturday games. The battery, he says, invariably costs from $40 to $50, $20 to $25 for the services of a pitcher, while good catchers have been receiving at the rate of $10 to $15, and sometimes higher. The average pay received by good infielders has been $10, while outfielders have been receiving on the average of $6 per game. nI addition to these salaries the umpire and utility player must be paid, which adds to the cost of the team from $10 to $15.

This same manager argues that these figures should be cut in half for Saturday games, for the reason that the attendance at these games is much smaller than at Sunday contests, owing to numerous other attractions on that day. He added that it was utterly impossible to continue the present rate of salaries in towns where the paid attendance at games fails to average over 600 to 700.

MAYOR SMALLEY'S VIEWS ON BOROUGH FIRE ALARM

DECLARES HIMSELF IN FAVOR OF A CHANGE FROM THE PRESENT SYSTEM.

A report submitted by Chairman VanArsdale, of the fire committee, to the Borough Council, last night, that the tower holding the fire bell is in bad condition, led to a general discussion of the system that may lead to a change eventually.

Replying to Mr. VanArsdale's announcement that the tower was badly in need of paint, Mayor Smalley aid it would be almost useless to have the work done as the iron is badly rusted and it would have to be repaired at a great expense.

"I was never in favor of the system," declared the mayor, "and I would like to have some sort of change brought about. When the wind is blowing strong in one direction it is almost impossible to hear the bell in the other. An iron tower is a costly and cumbersome affair and it would please me to have the borough's fire alarm system changed throughout."

A suggestion was made by one of the councilmen that a steam gong be used and that it be placed on the roof of the electric light plant where the city's gong is located. This idea was discarded when it was quickly brought out that confusion would be the inevitable result.

The matter was referred back to the fire committee and Mayor Smalley's suggestion will be taken under consideration.

SOUTH ORANGE CALL FOR LOCAL PASTOR

REV. GEORGE MOONEY LIKELY TO LEAVE MONROE AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. George Mooney, now serving the second year of his pastorate at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, in all likelihood, will leave Plainfield following the Newark conference to be held at Newark. He has received a call to the South Orange M. E. church, where Rev. Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut is now pastor, and it is quite certain that he will accept.

In making such a change the presiding elder must be consulted, and he recommends to the bishop presiding at the conference, which will be held in April, such changes in his district as he thinks best. The call to Mr. Mooney has not come before the church officially.

The church at South Orange is much larger than Mr. Mooney's present charge, and the congregation pays its minister a salary of $1,500. A committee from the South Orange church attended a recent service at the Monroe Avenue church and was unanimous in its desire to call Mr. Mooney.

KIRCHNER TO TRY AGAINST WORLD'S GOLFERS.

Plainfielder in Contests to Take Place in City of Mexico.

Among the prominent golfers who will leave on Wednesday on the special train over the Pennsylvania Railroad for the City of Mexico to compete in the big tournament there, will be Charles Kirchner, of the Plainfield Country Club. The tournament is open to all nations and an unusually large entry list has been received. John McClellan, of the Westfield Golf Club, is expected to make the trip. The entry list comprises the leading "pros" throughout the world, and the result of the play is sure to be watched with more than ordinary interest. Great Britain, Canada, the United States and Mexico are sure to be represented. The tournament will be held from January 19-28, inclusive, and amateurs will have a chance to figure in six contests. In addition to these there will be other special handicaps, so that the amateurs will not find the time hanging heavily on their hands.

After the Mexico tournament Mr. Kirchner intends to tour through Florida, Texas, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and all the winter resorts where there are golf links. The Scotch "pros" who are now on the high seas will help make up the party to visit the different resorts, and golf exhibitions will be given at all places.

Congress of Endeavorers.

The local Christian Endeavor Union will hold a congress at the Congregational church on Thursday night, January 11, when several matters of interest will be taken up.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Nora Flynn, of Plainfield avenue, to Daniel Mack, of Central avenue. The wedding will take place in February.

COURT WILL COST $2,500

Lawyer Shows Where Mr. Coriell's Opposition is Based on Inaccuracy.

LAWS ON THE SUBJECT

The Fix Salary of Judge and Clerk at $1,200 and $600 Respectively —The Other Items of Expense.

When Former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell, who led the argument in opposition to the establishment of a district court here, at the meeting of the Board of Trade Thursday night, declared that the expense maintaining the tribunal would amount to $5,000 a year, he was arguing from a mistaken idea of the law covering the courts. His calculation was based on the law that applies to courts in cities double the size of Plainfield. He had overlooked the provisions to be found on page 195, pamphlet laws of 1904, wherein the salaries for judges and clerks in cities of from 17,000 to 23,000 inhabitants—in which class Plainfield is—are fixed. A lawyer who is interested in the movement to bring the district court to this city, went over the matter from the standpoint of expense, with a Daily Press reporter yesterday, and they figured that the total cost of the court will amount to about $2,400 a year.

Under the law above noted, the judge receives a salary of $1,200, and the clerk's salary is $600. The services of a stenographer must be paid for by the party applying for them—page 259, pamphlet laws 1905.

The cost of a jury is not borne by the municipality. The jury is either to be paid for by the side demanding it, at the time the demand is made or the judge may grant a jury at the expense of the plaintiff, expense to be included in the costs of the suit—page 505, p. l. 1903.

Among the items of expense must be figured a sergeant at arms or a constable. He will cost about $2 a week. The laws of 1898, pages 558 and 559, say he is to receive a dollar for each day's actual work. District courts in cities of this size have no occasion to sit more than two days a week. The court might not have to sit more than one day.

All these expenditures will cost the city, in the course of a year, $1,904. The "suitable rooms, furniture, and such books, stationery, fuel and supplies as may be necessary," directed under the laws of 1898, page 559, will certainly not cost, the lawyer estimated, more than $500 a year. It is doubtful if the cost would amount to that much.

"Those calculations," said the counsellor, "dispose of the $5,000-a-year argument. Another of Mr. Coriell's arguments was that litigants can now secure all the justice of the district court brand they want by going to Elizabeth. That is all very well as far as it goes in the way of plausibility, but as a matter of fact, taking a case before the district court at Elizabeth—not to mention the cost of transporting witnesses at regulation mileage rates—is a one-sided possibility. The plaintiff decides where the case is to be started, and if the plaintiff or his lawyer has a friendly justice in mind he will undoubtedly ignore the Elizabeth court in favor of the justice. The defendant has no recourse from this sort of thing, except an appeal, which is just the sort of thing the district court is expected to do away with."

Borough Council's Regular Business.

Aside from the presentation of the auditor's report of the borough finances and the discussion of needed municipal improvements, but little business was transacted by the borough Council last night. The usual reports and bills were presented and Mayor Smalley appointed Hayes Reynolds and John Johnson as special marshals. Chairman Smith, of the lights and trees committee, reported that numerous lights had been out in the past month and that figuring them up it meant a total of fifteen lamps out for the past thirty days. He was instructed to have the amount deducted from the light company's bill.

Special Services.

The Sunday night evangelistic services being held at the Park Avenue Baptist church are attended with increased interest and attendance. Last Sunday night thirty-one persons took part in the service and two young men rose for prayer. The service will be continued tomorrow evening under the direction of the pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn.

Woman Organist Resigns.

After seventeen years of service, Mrs. Charles S. Day has resigned as organist of Holy Innocents' P. E. church, Dunellen. Mrs. Day is well known in this city, where she has played frequently in the Ladies' orchestra. Miss Irene Day is her successor.

BOROUGH NEEDS SEWERS

Mayor Smalley Suggests Cooperation With Dunellen for Sanitary Improvement.

RARITAN RIVER OUTLET

System Independent from Plainfield —Street Committee Likely To Take Action Soon.

While the borough Council was discussing needed improvements last night, Chairman Lee, of the street committee, revived the sanitary sewer question by asking Mayor Smalley his opinion of the matter at the present time. The borough's executive responded by outlining the problem in detail and expressing his views more freely than he has at any time in months.

"The agitation now is greater than it has ever been before," he said, "and it is passing the point where it has been a need to an absolute necessity. If North Plainfield has any wish to grow and secure the establishment of fine houses within its limites it must install an up-to-date sewage system. Dozens of people have been coming to this borough with the idea of making it their home only to turn away when they are informed that we lack this improvement.

"To my mind, the most feasible plan is to build an outlet to the Raritan River, and if the scheme is adopted Dunellen would join with us. I had a talk with its Mayor a few days ago, and he said his place would be only too willing to share the expense in getting to tide water. It seems to me it would be the best and the cheapest way.

"The Plainfield system seems to be working fairly well, but the disposal beds should never have been located where they are. That section of the city is building up rapidly, but the nearness to the plant has a tendency to hold back the growth. The recent improvements installed have lessened the disagreeable odors by fully fifty per cent, yet the amount of liquid matter emptied into Green brook is more than it can take care of and something will have to be done in that direction."

Mr. Lee declared there were certain sections of the borough where the need of sewers had become a serious problem, and he asked if it were possible to have Plainfield take care of them for the time being.

"I think not," said the Mayor, "we want an independent system, and, anyway, Plainfield has all it can do to take care of itself. It is a question that North Plainfield alone must decide, and I for one am in favor of having it come to the surface this year. The antiquated cesspool method is not only unsanitary, but it is very costly to the majority of the residents and they would welcome the change. The postal card canvass conducted last year showed that the sentiment is for sewers, and I say let them come."

The Mayor's observations were followed by others from the councilmen, Messrs. Smith and McGee, the new members, taking an active part in the discussion. It is probable that the street committee will have the question put before the taxpayers within the coming six months.

Lecture on Panama Canal.

The next regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of Grace Episcopal church will be held in the parish house on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and will be one of unusual interest. At this meeting Andrew McClean Parker, C. E., will deliver an illustrated lecture on the Panama Canal. The members of the different men's clubs of the city and women have been invited to hear it. After the lecture refreshments will be served.

Storm Sewer Pipe Here.

The pipe to be used for the storm sewer in West End avenue, the borough, where a boulevard is being laid out, has arrived and distributed on the avenue. It is expected that the work of building the sewer will commence soon of the weather remains favorable. It will be done by the borough street department. The idea is to drain surface water from the boulevard and adjacent streets into Green brook.

COLLECTOR'S BOOKS O.K.

Auditors Find Borough Has Balance on Hand at Fiscal Year's Close.

SOME SUGGESTIONS

Resources and Liabilities—Law on Payment of School Taxes Creates Actual Liability.

During the regular session of the Borough Council last night, E. L. Suffern & Son, of New York, who have been auditing the books of Collector Brown, presented their report. In a brief and concise manner it gave a statement of the borough's resources and liabilities at the present time. Embodied in the report was a suggestion that Mr. Brown be given authority to charge off all unpaid taxes prior to 1903 that do not appear to be collectible or are not secured through liens of property. The suggestion will be discussed and acted upon later.

The report was as follows:

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, N. J.

Gentlemen: The books and accounts of the collector and treasurer of the borough have been audited and found correct for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1905.

You will find attached a statement of the resources and liabilities of the borough as they appear on the books. Among the resources are the unpaid taxes dating back to 1887 and I renew my suggestion of last year that the collector be authorized to charge off all unpaid taxes prior to 1903 as do not appear to be collectible or are not secured through liens on property. This ought to be done in order to dispose of amounts which now appear as assets when they are not really such.

The existing law relating to the payment of school taxes results in creating an actual liability of $11,285 in favor of the school fund whether the same is collected or not, and to that extent your liabilities are increased over the amount that would have been due under the previous law.

The balance of cash on hand December 31, 1905, was $2,716.49 and agrees with the amount of the bank balance.

Respectfully yours,
SUFFERN & SON,
Certified Public Accountants.

Owls Migrating, Portend Cold.

A sign of snappy weather is reported by the farmers in the North Branch section. One of them said yesterday, while in the city, that a big flock of owls had been seen in the pines near his place, on their way South. It is said that when cold weather is imminent owls gather in flocks and migrate. Among the owls, the farmer said, was a fine specimen of the Great Virginia horned species, a somewhat rare bird in this section.

Think Men Are Car Looters.

Rahway, Jan. 6.—A gang of four men was brought into the police station Thursday night. The police believe the men are car robbers. They were given thirty days in jail by Justice of the Peace Cook. One of them is charged with assaulting the sexton of St. Mary's church Monday night. They were near the freight station when captured. During the evening the family of Policeman Langton was sitting about the table in the dining room when suddenly the door from the hall opened and a strange man, with a lamp in his hand and an overcoat on his arm, thrust his head and shoulders into the room. On hearing the screams of Mrs. Langton he shut the door, set down the lamp, rushed from the place, threw away the overcoat and made his escape. The overcoat belonged to Langton's son and was found in the alley where the man had thrown it.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The New Plainfield will be dark both Monday and Tuesday nights of next week.

Guy Brothers' minstrels, which will appear here next Wednesday, will play a matinee because of numerous requests by patrons to Manager Counihan.

Thomas W. Ross' new play, "A Fair Exchange," has been put on the shelf. It received favorable notices and the withdrawal occasioned no little surprise. Mr. Ross will not go back to "Checkers," but will probably rest while awaiting another drama that is being written for him.

Prominent young women of Muskogee, I. T., recently gave a "Lady Minstrel" show, and inside of three weeks eight of the company of twenty-two were either married or engaged. Since then lady minstrel troopes have sprung up all over the West and the matrimonial agencies have taken to the woods.

Apropos of the appearance of "Running for Office" at the New Plainfield this afternoon and tonight, the first contract ever signed for the theatre was for this show. It appeared here on Labor Day last to the largest business it enjoyed during its entire tour. From indications it will also play to capacity houses this afternoon and tonight.

Manager Counihan has commenced the placing of a "star" gallery in the lobby of the New Plainfield. He has already put up the pictures, handsomely framed, of Geo. M. Cohan, Sam H. Harris and Raymond Hitchcock. In preparation he has John Drew, Grace George, Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon and Yorke and Adams, all of whom have appeared here this season.

During the progress of "The Street Singer," that held the local boards last night, Miss Florence Bindley appeared with one of the familiar street pianos in a singing sketch. During the scene she is always showered with coins, and the audience last night was liberal with pennies, nickels and dimes. She gathered up $3.40, and after the show stage hands fished out eighty cents that had fallen beneath the footlights.

Pastors for Local Option Law.

Pastors and laymen from various religious denominations gathered in Trenton yesterday, under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of New Jersey, and drafted a local option bill for presentation to the incoming Legislature. All the churches and temperance societies will combine in the session, and workers will be appointed to see that the bills introduced are not buried in committee.

FORBIDS "GRAFT" IN EAST ORANGE.

John Winfield Scott, Financier, Demands of Railroad President a "Square Deal."

In an open letter to William H. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna Railroad, sent simultaneously to the Mayor and Council of East Orange, John Winfield Scott, of No. 107 Beech street, that city, a financier, man of affairs and a member of the New England Society, says:

"Your administration of the Morris and Essex Division of the Lackawanna Railroad, from the standpoint of its patrons, has been admirable. You are about extending your improvements through East Orange. It is to be assumed that such property as your plans require has come within your control; there remain the acquirement of public privileges and the location of stations, etc. You have not disclosed to the citizens of East Orange what your plans involve, nor what policy you intend using in obtaining the desired privileges. It is conceivable that you will resort to one of two methods.

"First—By recognizing the paramount importance of the improvements to every citizen and property owner, and their consequent inalienable right to be honestly and openly consulted and co-operated with, or,

"Second—By the direct or indirect utilization of local public officials and professional men presumed or assumed to be powerful in swaying public opinion, and official action.

"It is no longer possible to acquire public rights in East Orange by secret financial arrangement with politicians. Not one possesses the power to sneak through an enactment betraying the city's rights. Citizens who cannot be bought and who scorn officeholding are friendly to improvement, but are deadly to rascality.

"If you will frankly invite public confidence in a wide open, manly way, telling the plain truth and seeking the best results for the most concerned, you will be met more than half way, without paying a penny of graft to anybody. Should you use citizens in a professional way, make the fact of their financial relationship to your company public knowledge. You will have the most efficient assistance if you invite public confidence and co-operation, but will be met with an impassable wall if you attempt to succeed through the ancient New Jersey railroad methods of political chicanery and graft."

GRAIN OF CORN IN HIS EAR MADE BOY LAUGH.

Physicians in Camden Hospital Removed the Kernel Only with Greatest Difficulty.

Camden, Jan. 6.—J. Cooke Garris, six years old, son of William Garris, of Palatine, Salem county, applied for treatment at the Cooper Hospital here Wednesday to have a grain of corn removed from his ear. His family physician was unable to help him.

At the hospital it was found that the corn had lodged so far down in the recesses of the lad's ear that it could not be reached with the instruments used in such cases. The boy said he did not suffer any pain, but that it tickled him very much and made him laugh.

As ordinary appliances were of no avail it was decided to put the young patient under ether, provided the anaesthetic would not affect his heart, and perform an operation. The kernel was finally removed.

PROTEST AGAINST CATHOLICS.

Atlantic City Ministers Object to Naming of Two Doctors.

Atlantic City, Jan. 6.—Twenty Protestant clergymen, headed by Rev. Dr. Wesley A. Hunsberger, of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. Dr. E. R. Brunyate, of the First Methodist church, and Rev. Dr. Newton W. Caldwell, of Olivet Presbyterian church, called in a body Wednesday upon Commodore Louis Kuehnle, Republican city leader. They prostested against the rumored intention of the City Council to appoint Dr. Walter Reynolds and Dr. Bernard R. Lee, the latter a former Philadelphian, to the City Board of Education. The two doctors are Catholics.

The protest is said to be the upshot of sectarian feeling running high as the outcome of the recent trial and acquittal of Miss Harford, a public school teacher, on the charge of having made improper remarks before her pupils upon the subject of religion. Dr. Reynolds is alleged to have been an active factor in the proceedings against the teacher. The Ministerial Union held a special meeting Tuesday night and, it is said, decided to use all possible influence to prevent the appointment of Dr. Reynolds and Dr. Lee to the School Board.

Commodore Kuehnle is said to have informed his callers, whose appearance at the politicians' headquarters caused a sensation, that he had nothing to do with the selection of school directors, and they withdrew.

Mrs. Cornelius G. VanCleef, of East Millstone, who has been spending the week with Mrs. Garret Eick, of East Third street, returned home yesterday.

John Stevens, who was injured two days ago by a fall from a horse through an attack of vertigo, is recovering. He is staying at the home of his brother, Thomas Stevens, of West Front street.

REACHING THE SPOT.

It Can Be Done, So Scores of Plainfield Citizens Say.

To cure an aching back,
The pains of rheumatism,
The tired-out feelings,
You must reach the spot—get at the cause.
In most cases 'tis the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Adolph Thomas, machinist, living at 206 Spooner avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I have had for several years considerable trouble with my stomach, indigestion and constipation, and coupled with these ailments I have suffered with a most severe form of rheumatism. Having heard that Doan's Kidney Pills were good for rheumatic troubles arising from the kidneys I got a supply at Randolph's drug store and began using them. I have taken in all three boxes of this remedy and must say that they have acted like a charm in my case, and not only have I been relieved of the pains that troubled me, but the stomach is again in good shape."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ASKS $5,000 FOR FIRING HIS CELLULOID COLLAR.

Samuel Dey Alleges Laundryman Caused Explosion by Use of Lighted Match.

Freehold, Jan. 6.—Samuel Dey, of this place, has brought suit in the Circuit Court for $5,000 damages against William E. Curley, for injuries he alleges he sustained at the latter's hands a few days ago. The defendant, Curley, is the proprietor of the American Steam Laundry in Freehold.

The plaintiff's injuries consist of a badly burned neck. He alleges that Curley touched a lighted match to a celluloid collar worn by him while the two were standing in the Wolcott House in Main street.

Whether Mr. Curley took offense at his wearing a collar not requiring the services of a laundryman or whether he fired his collar merely as a joke, Mr. Dey does not know, but he says he will endeavor to have Curley pay for his fun.

In attempting to unbutton the collar from around his neck Dey burned his hand, and would probably have been fatally burned had not Fred Hawkins grasped the collar from the rear and tore it away by main force.

WEDS FIRST WIFE HE DIVORCED TEN YEARS AGO.

Childhood Sweethearts End Their Romance of Courtship and Separation at Altar.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 6.—The marriage yesterday of Alfred J. George, a well known horseman of this city, and Margaret Erb, of New York City, brings together a pair who eloped years ago, were married, later divorced and now wed again, after ten years' separation.

Mr. George and Miss Erb were sweethearts fifteen years ago, and although the parents of both objected, were married. Both were then very young.

Their first matrimonial experience terminated in the divorce courts ten years ago, and Mr. George married again. This match was also unfortunate.

On Christmas morning Margaret Erb came to this city and accidentally met her former husband. The old flame revived, and terminated yesterday in the wedding of the pair.

Joe Field's Farm Sold.

J. V. D. Field, who is very well known here, particularly in the political fold, has sold his farm near Bound Brook to a rich New Yorker. His father's farm, which adjoins his, was sold at the same time. It is said that the two properties brought $30,000. They are two of the finest farming properties in this vicinity. Joe Field has been an interesting figure in Democratic politics in Middlesex county for some time. His friends here have not heard what his plans for the future are, but he is not likely to move very far away from this section.

Vandals Break Open Vault.

Paterson, Jan. 6.—Boy vandals broke open the private vault of Philip Rafferty in the Catholic cemetery at Carroll and Market streets by smashing in the front door. Then they pried off the l ids of five coffins and left the bodies exposed to view. Their work was discovered by a man passing through the cemetery, and he chased the b oys, but failed to capture any of them. Word was sent to the police station and a policeman was sent to guard the vault.

Neaf Apgar Ill.

Neaf Apgar, the crack shot, who formerly lived on Clinton avenue, has come down from Somerville, his present home, to visit relatives here for a few days. Apgar has been ill for some time, and will go South to rest up, next week.

NOT BUNGLE THIS JOB.

Sheriff Kaiser Will Not Permit Experiments.

Jersey City, Jan. 6.—The remittatur in the case of Nicola Murdaco, the Italian wife slayer, whose conviction of first dregree murder was affirmed ten days ago by the Court of Errors and Appeals, is expected to arrive today. It is does he will be at once resentenced and the probability is that the execution will take place during the present month.

Sheriff Kaiser has determined that when it does take place the possibility of such scenes as marked the recent hanging of Edward F. Tapley, the negro murderer of his common-law wife, will be reduced to a minimum. According to Under Sheriff John J. Edwin it has been decided that hereafter the religious services will be conducted in the privacy of the condemned cell before the march to the gallows is begun, and that the only ceremony while the law's victim stands under the death instrument will be the making of a final statement if the doomed man desires to make one.

Of course, it is not intended to interfere in any way with the spiritual adviser's work except that to insure the desired result he be asked to limit himself to silent prayer while the murderer, with the black cap over his face and the noose around his neck, stands awaiting the signal to be plunged into eternity.

The sheriff and many others present at the execution of Tapley attribute his collapse, just before the trap was sprung, to the fact that his fears and emotions were so worked up by the prayers and singing which began several minutes before in the condemned cell were continued on the walk to the gallows and only stopped when Hangman Van Hise grasped the body of the unconscious negro and attached the noose about his neck to the rope of the gallows, which soon ended his existence.

The object of the sheriff's office in insisting on these changes in the plans of future executions is purely humanitarian and intended to rob the execution of some of its awful features which the law compels many to witness.

TO ORGANIZE TO FIGHT VOTE-BUYING.

Independent Voters of Monmouth County Will Meet to Plan Crusade Against Bribery.

Independent voters of Monmouth county are lining up for a vigorous campaign against the vote buyer. Corruption at the polls has developed there to such an extent that the better citizenship of the county has decided to make a fight for a pure ballot.

The plan decided on is to hold a mass meeting in the Court House at Freehold Lincoln's birthday, February 12, at which time an organization will be perfected. The call for the meeting is as follows:

"The flagrant and constantly growing disregard of the laws against the purchase of votes, the substitution of money for merit in the selection of candidates, the criminal interference of large moneyed interests and institutions with the free and honest expression of the popular will, have in these last days become not only an invasion of individual rights, but an alarming menace to our national integrity.

"To the end that as citizens we may not be found wanting in the zeal and patriotism to fight another 'Battle of Monmouth' to purify the ballot, the source of all governments, the undersigned call on all good citizens, irrespective of party, to meet at the Court House in Freehold, February 12, at 11 o'clock in the morning, to form such an alliance and to take such action as shall best conserve the public good."

Plainfield, N. J., January 6, 1906.

Some one has figured out that the Osler theory hits thirty-three United States Senators, but did it remain for the famous physician's theory to be expounded to discover their uselessness?

It is estimated that the entire cost of establishing and maintaining a district court here would be $2,500 for the first year. After that the expense would be somewhat reduced. The question, therefore, is whether the taxpayers are willing to have that amount appropriated for trial of minor civil suits by one having a knowledge of the law.

"Houses leased only to families where this is attended to by the men. I am tired of petticoat government." —A real estate man of East Millstone, N. J.

Just one of the ordinary periodical outbursts against the predominant partner, that will have no result one way or another.—New York Evening Sun.

MOODY NOT OUT FOR PARTY OFFICE.

Cranford Man Says He is Deeply Interested in Democratic Party Reform.

The reports which have spread about the county during the past few days to the effect that John Moody has entered a contest for the chairmanship of the County Committee are entirely without foundation. The position Mr. Moody has taken on the question is simply as follows:

He has been asked by a number of prominent Democrats to take the chairmanship this year and has stated in reply that he would not be interested in any way unless the members of the committee were willing to co-operate in a plan for the thorough reorganization of the Democratic party in both county and State. Mr. Moody is actively connected with a movement now well under way for the establishment of a State organization which will stand for certain general and fundamental Democratic principles instead of being absorbed in always occupying the political swill-trough, as has been the case in the recent past.

In explaining his position to a reporter Mr. Moody said: "To bring about such a radical reform will necessarily involve changes of the most drastic kind, and I am only interested in the present county committee in the event that it will, as a body, favor this radical programme of reform.

"You cannot make omelet without cooking eggs, nor can you tell the exact condition of the eggs until you have cracked them. Therefore, I am for cracking eggs at once.

"If the county committee will join me in the cracking all well and good. If, however, they prefer to keep the shells intact in order to cover up the stench, then others will do the cracking.

"I think, however, that the committee will favor reform. As for Mr. Crowell, instead of his being a standpatter, as has been stated, I understand that he is about as anxious to crack the ancient and effete eggs as any of us, and Mr. Tuttle, instead of being an obstructionist, is red hot for reform."

Caught in a Raid.

About twenty-five well known young men in Plainfield are considerably disturbed as a result of being caught in a poolroom at 63 Dey street, New York, on Wednesday afternoon. The raid was made by the police under the direction of Gen. Bingham, the new commissioner. It is said that the Plainfielders may be called as witnesses in the prosecution of the case against the proprietors of the place.

THRONG ATTENDS THE "WHITE STORE" OPENING.

Bargains Snatched Up Quickly by Eager Buyers.

A. E. Force & Co., proprietors of "The White Store," which was opened yesterday, were very much pleased with the initial sale. Throughout the day the store was thronged with buyers securing many of the big bargains offered.

The new firm is planning many improvements to be made within the next thirty days. These will include a change in the front, which is to be painted white, and the single entrance will be closed to make room for an extra display window. The narrow prism lights, now twelve inches, will be made thirty inches, doing away with artificial light in the day time. Arc lights will replace the gas now used and the heating plant will be improved within a week or so.

It will be the firm's policy to carry a first class stock of goods and to meet the wants of all classes. The stock will be replenished in every department by February 1 with all goods necessary to a department store. The furniture and carpet departments will be closed out, but the firm will carry a fine line of rugs.

REVIVAL CONTINUES.

Rev. C. C. Luther Stirs Audience at Faith Chapel.

"He Brought Him to Jesus" was the topic of a very interesting discourse delivered by Rev. C. C. Luther, evangelist, at Faith chapel last night. He referred to the Bible incident when Andrew brought Simon to Jesus and received the blessing. Mr. Luther made a strong application which impressed his hearers.

At the after meeting about fifteen persons remained and twelve signified their desire to lead a Christian life. The afternoon meeting yesterday for the mothers and children was largely attended and full of interest. Contrary to the custom, it has been decided to hold a meeting at the chapel tonight. Mr. Luther will preach at this service as well as at the services tomorrow morning and night.

HIT AT JESSE LAWSON.

Colored Brethren Make Big Protest of Little Moment.

Because Jesse Lawson, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Washington, D. C., where he holds a position in the Federal pension department, did not first ask the Union County Colored Republican Committee for an indorsement of his candidacy for the position of recorder of deeds in the District of Columbia, the committee, in session at Elizabeth, last night, vigorously denounced the regular Union County Republican Committee as well as Mr. Lawson himself.

Mr. Lawson was for many years a resident of this city, spending his boyhood days here and being graduated from the Plainfield High School. He secured a position in the pension department, where he has efficiently performed his duties. For some time he has been trying to secure the appointment of recorder of deeds, a position which has been held by a negro. He obtained the endorsement of the Union County Republican Committee, also that of United States Senator John Kean, who has talked with President Roosevelt about it. The President has appeared to be favorable to the appointment. In case Mr. Lawson receives the position it will be the first instance of a negro from this State holding an office by Presidential appointment.

Concerns Essex Schools.

Essex County School Superintendent Meredith has issued a pamphlet containing much information concerning the schools of that county. The names are given of the members of the Boards of Education and the teachers in all the municipalities of the county with the exception of Newark, Orange and East Orange. The custodians of school money in all the places are named. It is stated that a library of pedagogical books consisting of 590 volumes has been established in the county for the use of teachers. The county has been divided into eight districts, with a library in each.

Deadlock in Elizabeth Council.

The Common Council of Elizabeth is still divided against itself. Several meetings have been held for that purpose, but the Democrats are divided and the Republicans cannot agree on a candidate for president. Col. Collins is the Democrats' choice and George Ford the Republican favorite. A meeting was held last night and continued until 2 o'clock this morning, without results. Sixty-one ballots were taken. Col. Collins received ten votes, George Ford six and John K. English sevene. Thirteen votes are necessary for a choice. There will be another meeting tonight.

Oshkosh and Carnival.

The Oshkosh Club has decided that instead of giving an entertainment at the Casino, as last year, to lend its assistance toward the success of the carnival to be held for the benefit of the hospital. A committee has been meeting with the other carnival committees and it is quite likely that the club will arrange to give a big show at the carnival as one of the many attractions to be offered. The entertainment will be similar to those given in the past.

REMARKABLE DIVORCE SUIT COMES TO AN END.

Strange Complications in Case of Former Trenton Man Who Was Reported Drowned.

Trenton, Jan. 6.—One of the most remarkable divorce cases in the Court of Chancery was concluded here Wednesday when Chancellor William Magie signed a decree freeing Mrs. Minnie A. Baker, of this city, from her husband, George W. Baker, son of former Water Commissioner William H. Baker and one of this city's prominent business men. The charge of Mrs. Baker was desertion, and the whole case was remarkable for the complications it developed.

The Bakers were married in 1899, the bride being a Miss Cartright. A few month afterward the young husband got into some difficulty with the Shepherds of Bethlehem Lodge, of which he was a member, and fled the city. He was located at Chattanooga, Tenn., and at his wife's importunings consented to return to New Jersey, although he refused to live again here.

He went to Salem and secured a position in a glass plant. Then he disappeared again and a few days later his father received a letter telling of the finding of his body in the Delaware River, at Philadelphia. Identification was established by means of a photograph purporting to be that of Mrs. Baker and by means of the initials "G. W. B." on his clothing. The senior Mr. Baker went to Philadelphia and identified the corpse as that of his son. The young wife was not so sure as to the identity.

Later it was developed that the drowned man was George W. Buck, of Chester, Pa. Mrs. Baker then instituted proceedings for divorce, and her lawyers, in prosecuting the suit, finally located Baker at Morgantown, W. Va., where, it is said, he had married a Miss Epley. Notice of the divorce suit was published and the woman with whom, it is said, he was living, promptly left the man.

Then nothing was heard of Baker until a short time ago, when he was located in Detroit, Mich. He made no opposition to his wife's suit and the divorce decree was advised and issued.

FIGHT IN COURT AGAINST COLOR LINE.

East Orange Negroes Will Test Their Legal Rights.

Deciding they had exhausted every moral end, the members of the negro committee in charge of the fight being waged against the East Orange Board of Education over the segregation of pupils in the primary grades of the East Orange schools, at a mass meeting held in that city framed a formal petition to County Superintendent of Schools A. B. Meredith, asking him to use his office to have the East Orange School Board allow the negro children to return to their proper class rooms, without the color line being drawn. Upon the reply to this petition depends the next step. It is the first move in the legal side of the fight, and if the answer is not satisfactory the members of the committee will take the matter into the courts.

By a vote of ten members in the negative and eight voting aye, the Republican City Executive Committee of East Orange, Tuesday night, turned down the following resolution, which had been presented by Franklin W. Fort, the oldest son of Justice J. Franklin Fort:

"Resolved, That the Republican City Executive Committee of the city of East Orange, while firmly of the poinion that the schools of our city should be kept out of politics, nevertheless unqualifiedly disapprove of the action of the Board of Education in drawing the color line in our schools, and call upon that body to remember that a free public school is no place for distinction of any kind not based solely upon mental ability in the individual."

CAN'T LAY AT GRADE.

Central Railroad Wants to Get Control of Newark Streets.

Vice-Chancellor Stevens, at Newark, made yesterday an order directing the Central Railroad of New Jersey to show cause why it should not be restrained from laying at grade three additional tracks across Plum Point lane and Avenue R in the city of Newark.

The application for the order was made by City Counsel Joseph Coult and was the outcome of a recent attempt on the part of the railroad to lay the additional tracks without permission. The attempt was blocked by the police and was followed by a refusal of the city authorities to grant permission.

An ad interim restraining order was annexed to the rule issued by the court.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PASSES AS USUAL IN NEW JERSEY.

Railroads Disregard Former Decision and Provide Free Transportation for Legislators.

Despite an anti-pass order of railroad companies, according to a dispatch from Trenton to the New York Herald, State officials and members of both houses of New Jersey's Legislature have received from the Pennsylvania, the Reading and the Jersey Central railroad companies free transportation slips. They are only good during a period extending from ten days before to ten days after the Legislature's sessions.

Members of the Legislature seem inclined to accept provisions of an act, passed in 1872, rather than give heed to a constitutional paragraph which prohibits them from receiving any emolument other than their salaries of $500 a year.

The general railroad law of New Jersey specifically says that the Governor, Chancellor, Vice Chancellors, Judges, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Controller, Clerk in Chancery, Clerk of the Supreme Court, Adjutant General, Quartermaster General, State Librarian, State Prison Keeper and State Superintendent of Public Instruction, "while travelling for the purpose of discharging the duties of their offices," and members of both Houses of the Legislature shall pass and repass free of charge on "railroads of any company organized under this act." By this act no restriction is placed on legislators, so they can travel free on either public or private business.

Not only did the Pennsylvania Railroad send passes to officials enumerated in the law, but also to other officials, it is said. Attorney General McCarter, who is not named in the law, received an annual pass.

Passes issued by the Pennsylvania have been indorsed "Good over the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad," a line to Atlantic City and Cape May operated by the Pennsylvania system. Heretofore it was a custom to give a separate pass over the West Jersey. The Reading company has also indorsed its passes in this way, making them good over the Atlantic City Railroad and over the Reading from Trenton to Bound Brook, N. J.

EMMA B. IN COURT.

Owners of Asbury Park Fishing Yacht Want It Sold.

Argument was heard at Newark yesterday before United States District Court Judge Cross, in an admiralty suit brought by Henry F. Pierce against the schooner Emma B., for possession and an accounting. The Emma B., it is set forth in the libel, is owned by Harry Maddox and Pierce, the former being in command and having the sailing right. She is kept at Asbury Park, where she is used to take out fishing and sailing parties during the summer season. The prayer of the libel is that the schooner yacht be sold and the proceeds divided between the owners, and for an accounting of the yacht's earnings for a term of years.

The argument yesterday was on exceptions to the libel, Avery F. Cushman, of New York, proctor for the libellant, contending that the court of admiralty has no jurisdiction in matters of accounting between part owners of a vessel. Mr. Cushman argued that in such matters the remedy could only be sought in the Court of Chancery, while for a breach of covenant recourse must be taken to a court of law. The two prayers in the libel, Mr. Cushman said in conclusion, are so interwoven that if one falls for the reasons given the other must fall with it.

Sending Cows by Mail.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Mr. Sims, of Tennessee, called attention of the House yesterday to a newspaper editorial asserting that members are in the habit of sending free through the mails cows, poultry and other farm animals, as well as kitchen utensils, libraries, etc. The House took the matter seriously and passed a resolution providing for an investigation of the use of franks by members. The committee on postoffices is to make an inquiry.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Next Monday evening Fay Templeton will make her first appearance in New York as "Plain Mary" at the New Amsterdam theatre in Klaw & Erlanger's production of George M. Cohan's extraordinarily successful music play, "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway." This piece was first presented at the Colonial theatre in Chicago several months ago and since then has held the stage at that house, playing to the largest attendance on record for any entertainment of its kind in the history of the American stage. In the first eight weeks its receipts exceeded $100,000. Such attendance is most convincing proof of a genuine hit. This play is by the author of "Little Johnny Jones" and possesses in its book, lyrics and music the same magnetic genius that characterized that great hit. The locale of the scenes is New Rochelle. The story is told in three acts and concerns an ideal servant girl, played by Miss Templeton, a villainous stock broker, a young millionaire, a soubrette, a mercenary mother and a retired prize fighter. It is dramatically very strong. There are but four musical numbers in it. The opposite role to that acted by Miss Templeton, "Kid Burns," a retired prize fighter, is played by Vincent Moore, and is drawn on somewhat similar lines to "The Unknown" in "Little Johnny Jones." Everyone who saw that piece will readily recall that the part was only second in importance to that played by Mr. Cohan himself. Klaw & Erlanger have given the piece a very creditable production and have surrounded Miss Templeton with a talented company which includes Lois Ewell, Julia Ralph, Marion Singer, Donald Brian, Charles Prince, James H. Manning, Maurice Elliott, Nat Royster and Mabel Ellis.

"The Gingerbread Man" begins its second week at the Liberty theatre next Monday evening, where it has made a marked success through its magnificent production, novelty of book, brilliancy of music, talent of company and general merit as an entertainment. This bright attfaction will be followed on Monday evening, January 8, by the Rev. Thomas Dixons' new play, "The Clansman." This piece has attracted more attention than any play produced in the past five years and has provoked more controversy than any but "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It deals with the racial question in the South, where a company now touring in this drama has created a sensation. The production at the Liberty is a special one and will present a notable company, formed expressly to play this piece in New York. Helbrook Blinn, who made a great hit in London and New York as Napoleon in "The Duchess of Dantzic," will play the role of Austin Stoneman, the stage prototype of Thaddeus Stevens.

Amid the successes of the present theatrical year, Alfred Sutro's great play, "The Walls of Jericho," which James K. Hackett and Mary Mannering are presenting at the Savoy theatre, New York, stands most prominent. "The Walls of Jericho" is now in its first month of great success in New York, and all indications point that it could be played there for many more months to come but for the fact that when Mr. Hackett took the Savoy threatre, he had in mind to produce during his season at that playhouse, other plays and with that end in mind, made all his arrangements. Following the arrangement outlined in his original plans, Mr. Hackett now announces a new play called "The House of Silence," by Herman K. Viele, which will be given its first production on Monday, January 22, at the Savoy theatre. During the run of "The House of Silence" Mr. Hackett will give special matinee performances of "The Walls of Jericho," and will again restore it to nightly presentations when the run of the new play is over.

Ethel Barrymore has a genuine triumph in the three-act Barrie comedy, "Alice Sit by the Fire," at the Criterion theatre. J. M. Barrie's wonderful genius for devising play novelties is disclosed fully in the double bill in which Miss Barrymore and her two brothers, Lionel and John, are now appearing at this theatre. The charm of the author's quaint humor prevails throughout the comedy and is exquisitely combined with pathos and with certain light tragic elements in the fifty-minute piece entitled, "Pantaloon," with which the evening bill begins. Miss Barrymore's acting in the "Alice" play and Lionel's clever impersonation of the old man in "Pantaloon," enhance the value of the Barrie inventions, and present his delightful work in a manner that permits it to be heartily enjoyed. The problem-play-deluded young boarding-school girl whose "Stagey" views of life bring about all the delightful complications in the "Alice" comedy is one of the attractive features of this portion of the bill. John Barrymore distinguishes himself by lending able assistance to his sister in the longer play, and gives an unctuous and mirthful impersonation of a clown in the shorter work.

Maude Adams' phenomenal triumph in "Peter Pan," at the Empire theatre, eNw York, is now two months old and there is still a long line of people at the box office buying seats at all hours of the day, as has been the case every day since her engagement began. It is very evident that New York wishes to keep Miss Adams and dear Peter there far into the New Year. They will begin their third month by giving nine performances next week, there being matinees on Monday, Wednesday and Saturdays. These will be the last of the extra matinees. Popular delight in the beautiful and charming production at the Empire is as great as the demand for seats. The audiences are the most enthusiastic to be found in any of the city theatres. Every performance is a genuine ovation for Miss Adams, and a tremendous endorsement of Mr. Barrie's quaint and fantastic humor. The secret of the enormous success of the production is the combined charms of Miss Adams and Barrie that prevail throughout the entertainment. The actress is seen at her very best in the role of "Peter Pan," and she discloses great versatility in the part, singing and dancing and in her capacity of fairy boy flying gracefully about the stage. Those who go to see "Peter Pan" at the Empire feel all the happier and better for it.

LITERARY.

The Forum for January-March leads off with Henry Litchfield West's comprehensive review of "American Politics," treating of the opening of the Fifty-ninth Congress, and such impending issues as tariff revision, the regulation of railroad rates, the admission of new States, one-man power in the House of Representatives, the Congressional campaign of next fall, the question of contributions to political funds, and the recent wave of reform that has swept over municipalities and public offices generally. "Foreign Affairs" in the first lustrum of the twentieth century, just completed, are dealt with by A. Maurice Low in his customary lucid and picturesque manner. "Finance," by Alexander D. Noyes, sums up the ruling conditions in the world's markets at the year-end. "The Educational Outlook" is philosophically scanned by Ossian H. Lang, who devotes thoughtful attention to the ethical standards of manhood which should be required of all teachers and school officers. Russell Strugis writes of "Mural Painting," giving critical descriptions of the principal works of this class which have been executed in public buildings in the United States during the past few years. "Applied Science" in enterprises of modern engineering and technical processes is discussed in its latest manifestations by Henry Harry Harrison Suplee. Professor Trent, of Columbia, reviews "New Editions of Franklin"—a most timely contribution, in view of the approaching two-hundredth anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birth. Two Japanese papers of extraordinary interest and value are "Financial Japan After the War," by Baron Shibusawa, and "The New China," by Adachi Kinnosuke. Finally, Wolf von Schierbrand's article on "Russia's Economic Future" is a masterly inquiry into the governmental finance system and condition of the great Empire which seems hurrying toward national bankruptcy.

BROKEN HEART, DOCTORS SAY.

Old Man Could Not Rally After the Death of His Wife.

A broken heart was the cause of the death Thursday of George W. Pinkham, according to the physicians of the Bayonne Hospital, where he died. Pinkham was sixty-seven years old and lived at 62 East Grand street.

His wife was sixty-two years old. Both were taken ill several weeks ago and sent to the hospital. Mrs. Pinkham died two weeks ago. Although her husband was in an adjoining ward he was not informed of her death because his condition was critical and it was feared he would not survive the shock.

When the old man got better he was told of his wife's death. He went to his home and constantly grieved over his affliction. Several days ago he broke down and was returned to the hospital.

"Pictorial Perfection.

The January issue of The Burr McIntosh Monthly, which is now on all news stands, is a remarkable example of "pictorial perfection." It is the only publication of the kind extant and the publishers as well as the public are to be congratulated in being able to obtain such exquisite pictures so attractively presented. The portrait form of the January number contains such eminent stage people as the late Sir Henry Irving, Sarah Bernhardt, Emma Eames, Viola Allen, Mrs. Leslie Carter, Edna May, Fritzi Scheff and Julia Marlowe. The charming holiday story by the well-known writer, Zena Gale, is beautifully illustrated. A liberal space is given to the portraits and brief biographies of such famous people as Thos. A. Edison, Secretary of War Taft, Sir Henry Irving and Chas. E. Hughes, who has been directing the insurance investigation in New York city. The cover is a portrait of Miss Marguerite Clark, the little lady of the stage who has made such a success in the light opera, "Happyland." Miss Clark posed specially for this portrait. With this number the monthly calendar in colors is again introduced, the purpose being each month to show some seasonable pictorial effect in connection with the calendar for the month, the twelve issues making a splendid collection of artistic scenes and coloring well worth the price of the magazine. LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Don't miss "Running for Office," at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight. The fact that it is a musical comedy from the pen of Geo. M. Cohan is all that need be said about it.

Guy Brothers make no empty boast in advertising themselves as the supreme leads of up-to-date minstrelsy. An experience of thirty-five years has enablem them to cater to the amusement loving public in a manner that merits and secures its fullest support. The company this year numbers among others such entertainers as Onthank and Blanchette, the wonderful acrobats, daring, yet inimitably funny; Brown and Reed, the screamingly funny comedians; the great Platte phenomenal vocalist; Carmen and Hammond, rolling thirty-two hoops, will describe as the marvels of the century. These and other attractions on the programme make up an evening rich in fund, frolic and melody, refined and diverting at every moment. They will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night.

Digby Bell, the star of "The Education of Mr. Pipp," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Thursday night, does not like young Englishmen. The last time he was in London, so the story goes, he was walking along the Strand when it occurred to him that he would stroll into Hyde Park. Not knowing the way Mr. Bell stopped a well dressed young man and said: "Young man, I would like very much to go to Hyde Park." The young man looked Mr. Bell over thoughtfully, and said, "Well, I don't mind your going just this once, but don't ever dare to ask me to go there again."

"Monte Cristo," with James O'Neill in the title role, will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, January 13, when it is promised that the piece will be revived with a splendor of stage settings which will cast into the shade all previous productions of this old-time favorite play. It has been so many years since this announcement was first made that many theatregoers have almost ceased to remember the exact date when it was put on the billboards for the time first, but the present production is on such a scale of magnificence that it gives a new and added zest to the appearance of Mr. O'Neill and a strong element of novelty to the play itself.

One of the big events of the present theatrical season in Plainfield is the engagement of "Little Johnny Jones" at the New Plainfield theatre on the evening of Wednesday, January 17. George M. Cohan, who is the author of the play as well as the music of this phenomenal musical hit, is the youngest play-wright in America, having just past his twenty-seventh birthday, but he already has four successful musical pieces to his credit and on January 22 he will launch another one entitled "George Washington, Jr." Up to the present time, however, "Little Johnny Jones" is probably the best composition that has come from his pen. It has a record of eighteen weeks in Chicago, eight in Philadelphia and thirty-four weeks in New York, from which city he comes to us direct, with the original Gotham production.

Ezra Kendall is coming in "The Vinegar Buyer." It is said to be witty and interesting. The story of the play is simple, honest and appealing. The central character was suggested by the Joe Miller, of James Whitcomb Riley's poem, and surely no one could come nearer giving life to such a character than Mr. Kendall. The supporting company is said to be the best Mr. Kendall has ever had. The engagement is for Monday, January 22, at the New Plainfield theatre.

DECIDE TO REMAIN SINGLE.

Clerks Who Marry Will Have to Pay Fine of $10.

The members of the Bayonne Retail Grocery Clerks' Association held a meeting yesterday and voted not to marry within one year. Any who violate this resolution will be fined $10.

Three of the members are engaged and were to have been married next June, but they announce that they will postpone the ceremonies.

Several of the young members fought hard against the resolution, but were defeated by the older clerks. The reason advanced for the anti-marriage resolution is that when clerks marry they lose interest in the association and do not attend the meetings. Not a married member was present yesterday.

This is the association which put a ban on gifts of red neckties from customers during the holidays.

The Girl Who "Made Good."

She was only a workhouse attendant, humble, unknown, but by having her brains about her, and knowing what to do at just the right moment, she saved the lives of six hundred unfortunate women and made herself a heroine. You may think you would have done exactly as she did; perhaps you would. But there was no speculation about this girl's work—she was confronted with a situation and met it. It's a good story for you to read, and the face of the girl is a good one to look upon. Next Sunday's New York World will make a feature of her.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

DIAMOND DUST.

The prospects for a good baseball team at Raritan next summer are not very good. Asa Dilts has purchased the lumber in the fence which enclosed the field and has removed it.

Managers of baseball teams in the Tri-State League have already commenced their attacks on organized baseball in the major league by offering the best players flattering salaries to play in that league. It is understood that in many cases the managers have succeeded. Manager Irwin, of Altoona, is trying to get the four Delehanty brothers, considered the best in and outfielders in the business. The best players in the Tri-State get about $400 in salary with other inducements.

BALL PLAYERS GALORE.

Leagues Have Reserved Over 486 Men for Service in 1906.

The two big baseball leagues have reserved, purchased and drafted 486 players for service in 1906. Allowing sixteen players on a team, this means that 230 of the tossers lined up are going to fall by the wayside. The lists follow:

American League—Cleveland, 39; Athletics, 37; New York, 36; St. Louis, 35; Detroit, 33; Boston, 32; Washington, 29; Chicago, 27.

National League—Brooklyn, 36; St. Louis, 34; Pittsburg, 29; Cincinnati, 28; Philadelphia, 27; New York, 25; Chicago, 22; Boston, 22.

Results of No Passes on P. R. R.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 6.—Enforcement of President Cassatt's order against passes for any but employes has enabled the Pennsylvania to do away with extra cars on three trains leaving here eastward. From Philadelphia to Harrisburg travel on the St. Louis express, Williamsport express and Western express is much lighter than before, and there will be times when one car may be dropped from each of these trains. From Harrisburg westward the anti-pass order has lessened travel on the Pittsburg express, the fast mail, the fast line and the St. Louis express.

Why Pastor Would Not Stay.

Trenton, Jan. 6.—Recalled to the pastorate of the Broad Street Methodist Episcopal church for another year, the Rev. George P. Dougherty hesitated to accept. One of the trustees finally got from him the confession that he was to be married in June and the lack of a parsonage seemed to stand in the way of his return. "We'll fix that," said the trustees, and immediately steps were taken toward the purchase of a dwelling house.

McALL AUXILIARY TEA NETTED $100.

Affair at Mrs. F. O. Herring's Home a Success.

It is believed that $100 will be realized from the reception and tea held under the auspices of the local branch of the McAll Auxiliary, held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. O. Herring, of Park avenue. Despite the bad weather there was a very large attendance and generous response from the birthday envelopes.

During the afternoon an excellent address was made by Rev. George Berry, who is the general secretary for the McAll Auxiliary in the United States. His talk about the work of the auxiliary in France was of particular interest. Rev. Dr. W. C. Neilson, of this city, also made a few remarks, telling of his personal acquaintance with Dr. McAll.

Mrs. Herring's home was attractively decorated with Christmas greens and flowers. In the dining room Mrs. Isaac L. Miller poured tea and Mrs. George S. Ring poured chocolate, while a number of young women assisted in serving. Mrs. Herring was assisted in receiving by officers of the auxiliary including Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. Augustus V. Heely and Mrs. John Gray Foster.

Pulliam Opposed to Change.

President H. C. Pulliam, of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, does not believe that there will be any material change in the playing rules from those that prevailed during the last championship season. When asked whether the game could not be made more interesting by the elimination of the foul strike rule so as to produce a better exhibition of batting, the man who but recently overcame the most powerful influences ever brought to bear to defeat an official of the league replied that in his opinion the rules were eminently satisfactory as they were. "Why, I think it would be suicidal to change the foul strike rule," said President Pulliam.

Congressman After Railroad.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—An act which looks like retaliation against the Pennsylvania Railroad for refusal to longer grant passes was recorded in the House yesterday by the introduction of a resolution by Representative Reeder, of Kansas, calling on the attorney-general to investigate and report whether there exists a combination between the Pennsylvania Railroad system, the Norfolk and Southern, Norfolk and Western, Baltimore and Ohio, and Chesapeake and Ohio, in violation of the anti-monopoly act of 1890.

His Hand Crushed.

John Dowd, aged thirty-two years, employed at the Levering & Garrigues Iron Works, had his hand crushed yesterday afternoon while at work. He was engaged in moving some iron when a truck accidentally run over the hand. Dowd went to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate all of the fingers. He resides at Dunellen and is unmarried.

Minister Plays Many Parts.

Metuchen, Jan. 6.—The Rev. B. D. Prickett is now minister, judge and editor. He has just been elected recorder. He is the pastor of the Methodist church and the editor of The Metuchen Recorder. There were several candidates for the position of recorder, but the Rev. Mr. Prickett won after a hot contest. Last year the recorder received only $25.

Thaumaturgy

WONDERFUL EXPERIMENTS PERFORMED BY MRS. EVA FAY

The greatest marvel of the age, yet one that existed thousands of years before our ancestors of Anglo-Saxon blood ever saw the light, is Thaumaturgy, the wonder working experiments which are performed throughout the United States by Mrs. Eva Fay. No doubt exists in the mind of the scientist, the searcher into the realms of the higher truth, that there is in the East still a remnant of the occult power which centuries ago was a valued attribute of the more learned of the wise men, the sages who for weeks and months at a time would retire into the strictest seclusion, passing the time in the most private and deep communion with the inner self. This second personality has been variously termed by scientists the sub-consciousness, astral body, the ora and the reflex of the soul, according to the school and teachings which they variously follow. But call it what you will, it cannot be denied that the power of separation of the inner self and the outer frame which we call the human body has existed in the ancient times, before that modern incumbrance which we call civilization was ever dreamed of, though it may be that some of the seers in their more daring flights may have advanced to the point where they could see from afar the curses of modernity. It is a well known fact, however, that this power of translation of the astral body was possessed even in modern times in the inner recesses of India, which were not penetrated by the foot of the energetic white man for years, until the British, in their efforts to colonize all of India, pushed forward with their columns and their guns in a mad endeavor to seek out the most hidden secrets of the life of Hindostan. Then the Mahatma and the Yogi were called upon to perform a service which they had never been compelled to do before. Their power to put the astral body in translation through space must be used to help defend the inner recesses. And they responded nobly, those old incarnations of superhuman power. How many of the soldiers of the British army that penetrated into the wilds of that country can tell weird, hair-raising stories of frightful happenings, which could never have taken place without the presence and work of a power beyond their feeble minds to imagine, a force transcending the wildest of nightmares? How many officers of those same forces will relate to the sceptical hearer tales of how plans for a surprise of the enemy, formed in the most secret manner, were known to the defenders of the mountains long before the soldiers of their own forces were apprised of them? Precautions were useless; the plans for a most stragetic attack would infallibly be known by the defence instantaneous with the formation by the officers of the staff, too soon even for a spy to have transmitted them through the lines, even had they been able to get through the double lines of guards. Finally, it became well understood by the more intelligent of the English that some means were used by the Mahatma and the Yogi that were beyond their understanding.

Researches in later years developed the fact that some few men in each sect and village had overcome the chains which have bound down the victims of civilization and exercised a control over the inner sub-consciousness, a power to dissolve the chains which bind the body and the soul together without necessarily destroying life, and were able to send the astral body, which we narrowly term the soul, throughout space and time, regardless of the restriction which these two place upon the creature of the present time.

But one person has ever been able to bring this power or any semblance of it to the view of our students and to the general public. Even as in India, the power of astral propulsion was a heredity, an inherited possession, so we find that the one person who possesses this power in the modern world, outside of the recesses of India, is a lineal descendant of the most exalted of the Mahatma and Yogi. Mrs. Eva Fay is the granddaughter of one of the oldest and the wisest of the seers of Northern Hindostan, and in some measure she has inherited the power which descended for ages and ages through a long line of the most revered and respected wiseacres of the tribe. Mrs. Fay disclaims any direct inheritance of the power, saying that it has never been known that this power could be held by a woman; but to those who know her history it is plain that she has inherited this control over her sub-consciousness, although her command of it is limited to a short time only and a consequent strain follows each exertion thereof. Mrs. Fay is the only child of a mixed marriage, a thing which was very rare in India, her father being a highly educated British soldier and her mother being the daughter of one of the sages of the Sacred Vale. She was born in Simla and for years she lived in India, studying under the tutelage of her grandfather, her uncle, who was a Yogi, and other relatives, all of whom were high in the occult mysteries. When she came to this country she had been here long before she manifested signs of possession of this same power. Her later course is well known to the American public. How she went touring over the country with her husband, giving exhibitions of her power, until she has become a distinguished figure in all parts of America, as well as abroad.

It is doubted if any woman has been imitated so often and so unsuccessfully. Other women have witnessed her experiments and, thinking they know a way in which they can put up a "fake" performance that will equal the exhibitions given by Mrs. Fay, have called themselves by various charlatanic names and started to tour themselves, but none has ever lasted any length of time, their only subsistence being on the fame spread by Mrs. Fay, they traveling on a parallel course, taking in the smaller towns in a radius of ten or fifteen miles of the large cities visited by Mrs. Fay, immense crowds coming to see them until they discover how they have been deluded.

It has been suggested by unscrupulous persons that the power to see into the future, or whatever this possession of Mrs. Fay's is, could be used to great advantage in dealing with stocks and in deals on 'Change and Wall Street. Fortunately for the financiers of this country, Mrs. Fay is not disturbed by any desire to make money dishonestly. Instead, she prefers to give an exhibition of the feeble powers with which she is gifted and help others to such happiness as she can. Many of the women of this country have placed implicit faith in Mrs. Fay and accepted her advice, believing that her eye into the future is more clear and strong than theirs, that the advice she gives them is the best that they can get, and of the thousands that have followed it, few have ever regretted it, with a true feeling of gratitude. Friends for most people are scarce, but it is the opposite with Mrs. Fay. The moment she reaches a city she is besieged with requests to see her, letters of thanks for solutions of difficulties which she has solved, and happily solved. Men and women alike all regard her as an all-powerful friend, one whose judgment, though given to strangers, is given cheerfully and gladly, with the best of intents.

Here in this city, Mrs. Fay will leave behind her many a changed heart, persons who have been in grief and sorrow and brought their troubles to her and gone away cheered and happy, with glimpses perhaps into the future that have brought back into their life hope and smiles that in many cases have long since been dead and a stranger to the faces of the sorrowing ones.

CHANGES RELIGION TO REST BY ONE SHE LOVED.

Woman Becomes Catholic in Order to Be Buried Beside Her Grandson.

Jersey City, Jan. 6—John Murphy, Jr., twelve years old, a cash boy, who was employed in the dry goods and millinery store of Joseph Perlmutter, on Newark avenue, Jersey City, on December 18 last fell down the elevator haft of the establishment. His unconscious and battered body was picked up at the bottom of the shaft and taken to Christ Hospital. John was a bright and manly little fellow and was liked by everybody who knew him. He was the idol of his grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Brown, who kept a little candy store at 47 Erie street. She was seventy years old.

When told that there was hardly a chance of little Johnny surviving the accident, she was stricken with heart disease and was ill up to yesterday afternoon, when she was told that Johnny had died in the hospital. Within an hour she, too, was a corpse. Mrs. Brown was a Protestant. Johnny's parents were Catholics, his mother having embraced the Catholic religion when she married Johnny's father. All lived at 47 Erie street.

Mrs. Brown wanted to be buried alongside of her idolized grandson, and when told that she could not recover from the shock occasioned by the announcement of the boy's death she sent for a priest and was received into the Catholic faith. Rev. Father Maher, of St. Mary's R. C. church, performed the baptismal ceremony and administered extreme unction. Mrs. Brown and her grandson will be buried together in consecrated ground next Monday. The double funeral will take place from St. Mary's church.

Harry Taylor, of East Fifth street, a bookkeeper employed by the Public Service Corporation, was operated upon yesterday at Muhlenberg Hospital for appendicitis. His condition is quite serious.

GIRL SUES RICH MAN FOR $100,000.

Accuses New York Confectioner of Assault in His Home at Allendale.

Cyprian Goussett, a wealthy confectioner, of No. 139 Prince street, Manhattan, appeared in the Bergen County Circuit Court at Hackensack, yesterday, as defendant in a suit for $100,000 damages. The plaintiff is Miss Annette Coyen, good-looking and twenty-eight years old. She lives with her widowed mother in West Hoboken and sues the confectioner for an alleged assault committed last July at his country home in Allendale, N. J.

Miss Coyen was on the witness stand for nearly two hours. Her story in part was as follows:

"Mr. Goussett had written for me to come to Allendale and to take his invalid sister, Mrs. Sophie Rebault, to my home in West Hoboken, where she had boarded at different times. I went to Allendale on July 14. I retired about 9 o'clock. Later I awoke suddenly and saw a man bending over me. He had an electric light in his hand and I identified him as Mr. Goussett. I became so frightened that I fainted and remained in a semi-conscious condition until the next morning.

"When I reached the hall I met Mr. Goussett. He approached me with outstretched arms and with a smile on his face. I spurned his advances, fell upon my knees from weakness and cried. I called him a scoundrel, and denounced him as severely as I could. He pleaded with me not to tell his sister or his daughter what had happened.

"I confided in Mrs. Rebault, and she told me not to say a word about it to any one, in order to avoid a scandal.

"We were driven to the Allendale depot, and on the way Mr. Goussett asked me to meet him in New York, where he could talk over the matter, but I gave him no answer. After reaching Jersey City I went to Christ Hospital."

HE CALLS AUTOISTS THE HUMAN BRUTES.

State Horticultural Society President Wants Public's Rights Recognized.

Trenton, Jan. 6.—The thirty-first annual meeting of the State Horticultural Society, which began at the State House here Thursday, was continued yesterday. W. K. Skillman, of Rocky Hill, president of the society, in reading his address before the meeting yesterday attacked the law for the protection of robins, and severely scored automobilists for their present methods of using the public highways.

The address said the robin law "is an outrage against all rights of the farmers, and deprives them of the right to protect their property." President Skillman claimed the law should be repealed. He held that it is unconstitutional.

Speaking of high speed automobiles and those who operate them too rapidly, the address said: "We should join hands with the State grange and at all other organizations to have laws enacted so stringent as to compel these human brutes to recognize the rights of the travelling public."

No Free Express Business.

The express companies have decided to join with the railroads in refusing to issue passes for the carrying of business free of charge. The Adams Express Company yesterday issued the following statement: "The action of the railroads in cutting off free business has made it practically necessary for the express companies to do likewise. Accordingly, all the leading expresses have issued orders that on and after January 15 they will not carry any business free of charge as a personal courtesy to merchants or other patrons or for any other reasons. They will continue to exchange annual passes with each other and with railroad lines."

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Country Club will be held in February, when reports will be presented and officers elected.

GIVE THE POLICY HOLDERS A VOICE.

Recommendation of Armstrong Insurance Investigating Committee.

New York, Jan. 6.—It is learned on good authority that these are the chief recommendations which the Armstrong investigating committee believes ought to be made to the Legislature:

1. That policyholders have an effective voice in the government of the companies.
2. Full publicity to policyholders in regard to the management of the companies' affairs.
3. That a uniform system of audits and accounts be prescribed by the State Insurance Department.
4. That policies be limited to certain standard forms.
5. That policies be safeguarded further than at present against forfeiture.
6. That deferred dividend policies be either prohibited or greatly restricted.
7. That the companies be obliged to make an equitable distribution of the surplus to policyholders at stated periods.
8. That the companies make larger investments in real estate, bonds and mortgages.
9. That control of subsidiary companies be prohibited.
10. That investment in corporation bonds be regulated so as to prevent speculation and losses in attempts to flood doubtful enterprises.
11. That deposits with or loans to moneyed corporations be suitably restricted.
12. That the discretion of the directors be subject to judicial and administrative review.

Stale Bread and Rolls.

Eddie Eskesen, thirteen years old, was arrested this morning for stealing bread and rolls from George Voehl's bakeshop. He gave the names of Edward Lunger, Edward Petersen, colored, and "Bucky" Day as his accomplices. They are all less than fifteen.

MRS. DUKE FAILS TO STOP DIVORCE CASE.

In a Secret Hearing Court of Errors Declines to Grant a Stay of Proceedings.

Trenton, Jan. 6.—Behind closed doors in the Court of Errors and Appeals yesterday, arguments were heard on the motion of counsel for Mrs. James B. Duke to stay proceedings in the Court of Chancery pending an appeal from the decision that the New Jersey courts have no jurisdiction in the Duke divorce proceedings. At the conclusion of the hearing it was announced that the motion for a stay was refused. The taking of testimony in the divorce proceedings may now be continued in Chancery, and if the Errors Court finally decides that the Chancery Court erred in declaring Duke a resident of New Jersey such testimony will be null and void.

This is a defeat for Mrs. Duke, who sought to prevent the taking of testimony until the question of her husband's legal residence was finally decided.

To Try City Ownership.

A bill, although general in its provisions and applicable to any municipality in New Jersey, but directly in the interests of Newark, will, it is thought, be introduced in the next Legislature. It provides for the installation of an experimental lighting plant by the city and was drafted by City Counsel Joseph Coult, of Newark, at the suggestion of the Board of Works Commissioners. Some months ago expert electricians were engaged, and reported that the old pumping station at Belleville owned by Newark was available for such a purpose. The bill, as drawn by Mr. Coult, provides that any city having available site or having sufficient power to operate it, may construct a plant for experimental or permanent lighting purposes. The bill gives such cities the authority to issue bonds to cover the cost of such a plant.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Campaign For Souls is Started at Hope Chapel by Rev. G. R. Lunn.

THE INITIAL APPEAL

At Grace M. E. Church, the Rines Brothers Succeed in Convincing Many Which Is the Right Path.

The campaign for souls is on in earnest at several of the local churches and will continue all this week.

With large gatherings in attendance on each occasion, Rev. George R. Lunn, of Schenectady, N. Y., opened his series of evangelistic meetings at Hope chapel, yesterday. He spoke at the morning and night services and also before the Sunday-school and the Christian Endeavor Society. From the interest manifested his work is sure to accomplish good results. He will speak at the chapel every night until Saturday, special music being a feature at each meeting.

At the service last night the chapel was filled and the sermon by Mr. Lunn held the close attention of everyone. At its conclusion many stood up and asked for prayers and there was one conversion. His address was as follows:

"I read to you in the scripture reading tonight a verse which I have chosen as my text, the twenty-second verse of the nineteeth chapter of the Gospel according to St. John, the words of Pilate, "What I have written I have written." He said those words in reply to the demand of the Jews that he change the superscription which he had placed above the cross after the crucifixion. You remember that he had placed above the Christ the superscription "Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews." Now when the Jews read that sign they were highly indignant that Pilate should place above the cross such a statement concerning this man whom they had designated by every vile name possible, an impostor and a blasphemer, a man against whom they had spoken every evil word and thought every bitter thought. Not only that, but to have written it in three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin, was enough to arouse all the indignation of those who put our Lord to death. So they went to Pilate and told him it would have to be changed. They asked if he would not change it. They said, "Write not 'Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews.'". Pilate said, "What I have written, I have written. I will make no change. What I have done, I have done." Now, I want to give those words a much larger content and larger meaning than they had when they were spoken.

"I have simply chosen that verse as emphatic, 'What I have written, I have written.' I shall use the words as expressive of life's record. 'What I have written, I have written.' They could well be used as applying to the record that Pilate had made. What he had written, he had written. What he had done that day, he had done and made a record. But what a terrible record! With what a sting to his memory would return the words 'no fault.' For a man in the position of Pilate, a man of his intellectual acuteness, a man of such power, a man who was not easily influenced, a man who had all the power of judgment, well knew that he had an innocent man before him, as he himself said. Imagine with what remorse he would think of these days, and especially of this particular day. With what sharpness and with what sting there would recur the words, 'no fault.' 'No fault,' yet condemned. Why that sounds to us a terrible thing. 'No fault,' yet persecuted, 'no fault,' yet buffeted and insulted, 'no fault,' yet delivered to be crucified. A man in whom Pilate had found no occasion for crime, no guile, no fault! That was the record Pilate had written against himself for the pages of all succeeding ages. He was a craven, a coward.

"Now these words apply not only to Pilate, but they also apply to our own life. What I have written, I have written, and what you have written, you have written. We are all making a record, and we are making our own record. No one else is making it for us. The coloring of it is ours, the choosing of it is ours. Whether it will be a record of which we shall be ashamed or proud remains with us, not with anyone else. Never let that sinister thought take control of you, young man, or woman, that someone else or some condition makes you what you are. No one guides that hand but the inner self as you write your record, no one else, no condition forces the writing. It is that inner self that writes and is writing today your record, and has been writing. There will come a time, a time when we will be brought face to face with our record—what we have done, what we have accomplished, it may be in secret places—a time when the secrets of men shall be uncovered, nothing hiding us from the eternal light that penetrates all the darkness of our lives, and then we will be brought face to face with out biography, and as we read we will say 'never could I have made such a decision under those circumstances, never could I have acted in that manner, it is a mistake,' and lo and behold, there attached to that self-condemning document is your own signature, for you wrote it. It was not an arbitrary God seated somewhere in the heavens watching you as you did your sin and recording it against you. You are writing, and you are writing what? and I am writing what? My own record, and you see my signature attached, and not someone else's. You are making your own record, my dear friends, and I am making mine. We are writing fidelity or falsehood, honor or shame, nobility or selfishness, thoughts that inspire or thoughts that degrade. We are writing our own record, we are coloring it, choosing to suit ourselves. We are choosing just what we want to put in that picture, and if some of you could see the picture that you are making, with all its blots, with all its scars, you would want someone else to guide you and teach you how, that you might paint a picture of a beautiful life, a true life, a higher life.

"Now there are several things that I want to mention, one of them is in regard to this record. It will be complete. In every detail it will be given. Oftentimes we would be gald if we could remember only the good of our lives and put forever behind us the evil days and the evil actions, but not such is the life that we are living. There is no one here tonight, unless it be that innocent little girl yonder, none who have arrived at years of understanding, but can look back to a point in life where there is a 'blot on the escutheon.' Every detail will be given. Deeds of honor, deeds of shame, bright days, but also black days, misspent days, unimproved opportunities, responsibilities that you shunned, the burdens that you would not lift, the mercies that you would not exercise, the kindnesses that you would not show. It is all there. It has been written, not by another, but by yourself in every detail, and if we could but strike out the evil of that record and have it less complete, how much happier we would be. I think—I don't know whether you agree with we, but I think one of the saddest things ever penned are the words of Tennyson in 'Idyls of the King,' the pathetic situation wherein we find Guinever, repentant of her sin, but before her there comes the thought that forever more there must be stain, and she says: 'The days will grow to weeks, the weeks to months, the months will add themselves and make the years and the years will roll into the centuries, and mine shall ever be a name of shame.' If she could only wipe off the record of her life, the friendship with Launcelot. Know that those black days as well as the bright days, will be recorded, deeds of shame as well as deeds of honor. Complete, it will all be there, and you and I will face it.

"Now, for the most part, our life record is a commonplace one. It is a commonplace record. We are writing every day, the entries are being made, but the entries are commonplace. Days and weeks and months may flow by and nothing very important be entered in our record, and then there comes a special crisis moment, a crisis day, a crisis period, in which we are brought face to face with great questions, great problems, great duties, great responsibilities. I think an important entry is made when you choose your business that you are to follow. You make an important entry when you choose your friends. Friendship has such a tremendous influence over life that in choosing friends you make an important entry. There comes crises, these great questions, and the decision must be made. We stand face to face with it, the crisis point, we must decide and we do decide, and then, after making the decision we repeat in joy or in sorrow, "What I have written I have written." Now I know that the most important entry that Pilate ever made in his record was when he stood face to face with Jesus Christ. He recognized the power of that personality. He knew that he looked into eyes that were not only kind but just and pure. He knew he was looking upon a man who had no pretensions to an earthly kingdom. He knew he was looking upon a man seeking to uplift the hearts of men. He makes his excuse that men were clamoring for Christ's death. Evil always hates goodness, darkness always hates the light. They are clamoring for his death. Then comes

ALREADY BEARING FRUIT

FIRMLY AGAINST COURT

Former Sheriff Coriell, Replying to District Court Article, States His Position.

OTHER THINGS FIRST

City Needs a New School, Firehouse, Arclights and Improvements of that Character More than a District Court.

Former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell, one of the committee of two appointed by the Board of Trade to investigate the cost of a district court, gave out a statement this morning regarding his estimate of the expenditure at the last Board meeting. The ex-sheriff estimated that $5,000 a year would be the probable cost of the court, and two days later a lawyer, who is interested in the court,, showed. through The Daily Press, that the cost would not be likely to go beyond $2,500.

Mr. Coriell's statement in reply to the lawyer's calculations included a vigorous reaffirmation of his opposition to the court. He said he wanted to see a new fire house, a new school, more policemen and arc lights on Front street before a district court.

"It is very seldom that I answer newspaper articles," said Mr. Coriell, "but the one in your paper on the sixth, I presume from some young lawyer who does not make his name known, has attacked me because of some remarks I made at the meeting of the Board of Trade. The question of the district court was brought up at that meeting by the president. None of us at that time had investigated the matter. I merely stated that the Legislative Manual of 1904 gave the salaries of district court judges at from $2,500 to $3,000 a year, and that the expenses of a clerk and the hiring of a proper hall, and furnishing the same, would make the cost of a district court at from $4,000 to $5,000 a year. Mr. Smith and myself were appointed a committee to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting of the Board, and at that time I think we will be prepared to make our report.

"I have no doubt that our young friend is correct in regard to the salary of a judge under the Law of 1905, wherein he states that it would be $1,200 for the judge, and $600 for the clerk; but, even at that, I am satisfied that the expenses of running a district court at Plainfield would still be considerable over $2,500 a year. We all know that under the new law in regard to taxation, the city will be limited to a certain per cent. We have, or are about to bond the city for the new High School building. We shall have to make arrangements for the paying or the interest on the same, and the reducing of those bonds yearly. The Common Council also has received a petition from the residents of the West End part of our city for the location of a new school house in that section. The chief of the fire department, in his annual report, says that we should have a new fire house in the eastern part of the city for the proper protection of property. The chief of police in his annual report has also asked for more men to properly protect our homes. Front street, from Central avenue to Watchung avenue, and Park avenue, from Front street to Fourth street, should be paved with permanent pavement. The business part of our city should be lighted with arc lights, so that any one passing through the streets at night, after the sores are closed, would not have to grope in the dark.

"For my own part, I say, let us maintain the high educational facilities for which Plainfield is known. Let us have good police and fire protection, so that our homes may be protected. Let us have permanent improved, and well lighted streets in the business centre of our city. When these things have been accomplished, then, I think, it will be time to take up the district court matter; for at present, as I have said before, I see no earthly reason for a district court in Plainfield, when the small number of litigants that would use the same can be accommodated at our county seat, where a district court is already established."

Parish Meeting.

The congregation of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will meet on Monday night, January 15, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of determining the number of trustees of the church and electing such trustees. It will also choose a treasurer of the church.

PLAINFIELDER SHOOTS AT MEN WHO ATTACKED HIM

AFTERWARD ARRESTED FOR CARRYING PISTOL WITHOUT A LICENSE.

Attacked by two striking ironworkers who had followed him for several blocks, Frank Neal, of West Front street, this city, drew a pistol and fired two shots at his assailants at Third avenue and Thirty-eighth street, New York, Saturday noon. Neither bullet took effect but the two men beat a hasty retreat. Policeman Landers, who had heard the shots and hurried up, arrested Neal, taking him to the East Twenty-Second station on a charge of carrying a pistol without a license. He gave bail for appearance later.

Neal has been employed for the past few weeks by Post & McCord, a big constructing firm, against which the New York Ironworkers' Union has instituted a strike. He secured the position after the men had gone out and was looked upon by them as a "strike breaker." He left a building in course of erection at Sixth avenue and Twenty-fifth street on his way to lunch, Saturday, when two of the strikers followed him. At Third avenue they sprang upon him and knocked him down but Neal regained his feet and drew his pistol, a small affair which he has carried for years. It probably saved him from a severe beating if not fatal injury.

CAPTURED CRAPSTER SHIVERS IN COURT.

Says Cold and Not Scare Brought on the Wriggles.

Charles Philpot, seventeen years old, and Charles Leonard, twenty years old, both white, arrested by Patrolman Higgins yesterday afternoon for shooting craps at Plainfield avenue and Second street, were arraigned in the city court this morning. The cop testified to having seen money pass between the youths.

"I was only borrying a nickel," explained Leonard in court. "The game was for fun, there wasn't any money in it."

Leonard's voice shook and he shivered as if he was in the last stake of a very blue funk.

"You seem to have lost your nerve over it," said the judge.

"N-n-no," chattered Leonard, "it's cold."

The magistrate suspended sentence because the crapsters had been in the station house since 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Frank Johnson, colored, charged with beating his wife, was released on his agreement to stay away from the woman and leave town. Mrs. Johnson said her husband gave nothing toward her support. They have been married four months.

George McEnetree, charged with drunkenness, was fined $3.

TAYLOR NEAR DEATH AGAIN.

Man Who Had Serious Attack of Hiccoughs Has Another Seizure.

Harry Taylor, of East Fifth street, was operated on for appendicitis at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday, and his condition is serious. The case was complicated this morning by a persistent attack of hiccoughs, and the doctors are working hard to save his life.

A year ago Taylor was seized with an attack of hiccoughs that lasted ten days. He was nearly killed by the seizure then, and his condition attracted atention from doctors and layment all over the East.

Fourth Dinner-Dance.

C. A. LEVERIDGE IS DEAD

Paralysis and Heart Trouble Carry Off a Venerable Citizen After a Long Illness.

A FORMER FREEHOLDER

Member of Asbestos Club—Organizer of the Westfield M. E. Church—Son of Distingnished Lawyer.

Cornelius Alexander Leveridge, a well-known man about the city and a man of means, died Saturday at his home in West Front street. Paralysis, grip and heart trouble were the cause of his end. About a year ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and he was attacked again on Thursday.

Mr. Leveridge was born in Cherry street, New York, April 30, 1829. His father, the late John Leveridge, was one of the leading lawyers in New York many years ago, and was one of the founders and a president of the Chatham National Bank in that city. Mr. Leveridge moved to Westfield at the age of nineteen years and resided there for twenty-five years. Then he settled in Cranford. Ten years ago he removed to this city.

Mr. Leveridge was greatly interested in geneology. Among other writings he was the author of a valuable history of Middlesex and Union counties together with sketches of their most prominent citizens. He wrote under the nom de plume of "Historicus." Early in life he became interested in the collection of coins and he secured valuable specimens, which he afterward sold to P. T. Barnum for $,3000.

In 1848, while living at Westfield, Mr. Leveridge joined the First M. E. church, of this city, at that time the nearest church of that denomination to his home. Later he assisted in organizing an M. E. church at Westfield. Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, of this city, preached the first sermon to the newly-formed organization.

For a number of years he was a member of the Union County Board of Freeholders and was also a prominent member of the Asbestos Club and attended a session of the latter organization as late as Wednesday last, when he talked over old times and of the many members of the club who have died within the past few years. He was of a social and genial disposition and had the happy faculty of making friends.

He is survived by two brothers, Benjamin C. Leveridge, a New York lawyer, and Albert Leveridge, of Elizabeth; also a sister-in-law, Mrs. Isabelle Miller, with whom he lived. His wife died about three years ago in this city.

The funeral services will be held from the late home tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney officiating, Mr. Leveridge having expressed a wish for the venerable clergyman to officiate at his obsequies. The interment will be in Fairview cemetery, Westfield, where Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor of the First M. E. church, will conduct a brief service.

PASTOR ENDS 2ND YEAR

Rev. Mr. Finn Preaches Anniversary Sermon at Park Avenue Baptist Church.

A SPECIAL SERMON

"The Divine and Human Element in Church Work" His Theme—The Struggle and Victory.

The second anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. A. E. Finn was appropriately observed at the Park Avenue Baptist church, yesterday, when at the morning service the pastor delivered a sermon of unusual interest on the subject of "The Divine and Human Element in Church Work," taken from Exodus 17:11-12: "And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hand, that Israel prevailed: and when he let down his hand, Amalek prevailed.

"But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat therein; and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun."

Mr. Finn said in part:

"An intimate friend of Browning and Tennyson tells us of a most touching incident in their intercourse. One day when they were in an intimate mood for revelation Browning said, 'When I am at my best my strongest desire is to leave the world a little better than I found it.' To which Tennyson replied: 'Well, when I am at my best my desire is for a clearer vision of God.' We believe that these were the aspirations of these two great poets and we cannot help but feel that these desires exist in the hearts and minds of many noble people. We cannot make the world better without a clearer vision of God' and we cannot help but make the world better when we have the beatific vision. The transfiguration experience better fits us for the work that awaits us at the foot of the mountain.

"As we begin today our third year together in service for God I do not believe I could express the united sentiment of this people better than in these words. In our work together as pastor and people; in our worship, praise and prayer our only aim has been to get a clearer vision of God and bless the world. In this aim we have felt the impulse and inspiration of the divine element and the devotion, consecration and limitations of the human element. Note then our theme: 'The Divine and Human Element in Church Work.'

"The Israelites begin their march from the Red Sea to Mount Sinai, the Amalekites stop them and prevent their progress. Joshua leads the young men of Israel to the fight, a hot and bloody battle begins in the valley of Rephidim. While the battle is going on Moses, Aaron and Hur go to the top of the hill to plead with God for the success of Israel's arms thus we have the combination of the divine and human element in the overthrow of Israel's enemy.

"It is the combination of the divine and human element that brings success in church work. This co-operation has been apparent in every department of our work during the past year; there has been a mustering of the physical, mental and financial forces of our church; there has been much calling upon God for spiritual strength and the combination of these forces has brought us to the position we hold today.

"The Amelekites were not overcome without a great struggle. The fight against sin is real, the adversary cannot be overcome without an intense conflict. Joshua in the field with his united forces fighting the battles of Israel fitly represents the personal work neede in the church of Jesus Christ. Moses in the Mount indicates the prevailing prayer needed without which success cannot be attained. Aaron and Hur assisting Moses to prevail in prayer clearly teaches us that it is the united prevailing prayer of God's people that brings success in life's fierce conflict. I glory in the personal work and united prevailing prayer of this people because it has brought honor to Jesus Christ whose we are and whom we serve.

"The story clearly indicates that the victory could not have been gained without the divine element. Work for God is noble; it becomes perplexing when we lose sight of the divine element. In what we undertake for God this year let us count our allies. —Think! God Almighty is your ally, and Jesus the Savious is your ally, and the Holy Spirit is your ally, and God's providences are your allies, and God's promises are your allies, and the memories of past deliverances are your allies. 'They that be with us are more than they that be with them.'" the insidious suggestion that this man wants to be king and is therefore an enemy to Caesar and to retain his friendship with Caesar, Pilate condemns the Christ. To Pilate a king was a man who had a purple robe and who sat on a magnificent throne, over whom there was a great canopy and in his hands there was an ivory scepter. Thank God, there are ivory scepters and royal robes and great canopies to cover some kings, for you would never suspect they were kings unless you saw them in that situation. But there stood before Pilate the man whom he knew to be a king, a king over the hearts of men, striving to persuade them toward heavenly things.

SERVICES BEARING FRUIT

"And when he stood before that being, that Christ, he saw the higher life and he refused to follow it, and to see a higher thing and refuse to follow it is sin. It is not simply the commission of some great offense, but it is to see a higher duty and choose a lower. Some of you may never have been guilty of some great and heinous offense. You may have, you may not, but how few of us realize that when once we have seen the higher and choose the lower we ignore thereby the highest principle of our being. We have dishonored ourselves. We have been untrue to God. When Pilate stood face to face with Christ it was the supreme moment and he registered his decision against Him. Here was a man recognized as a prophet and known as a prophet. No one dreamed of the power that that life would exert throughout the ages that were to come. No one dreamed that, no one, not even the disciples could see in that man a reflection of the very heart of God. No one dreamed that there trod upon the earth in that human tabernacle the very Infinite One. He stood there as a great prophet, and Pilate knew it, but precedent and custom and friendship and ambition and all things urged him to choose the fleeting, the transitory, the fatal, and he made his decision and chose darkness when the light was visible. He chose falsehood while has was playing with truth, asking the one who was true, what is truth, and he made his record. What I have written I have written.

"Not only will the record be complete, but that record, dear friends, is inevitable. I know how foolish some of you are. You are so foolish as to imagine that you can dodge a moral issue. Well, you are simply mad if you think you can. You do not dodge, you cannot dodge. When the moral issue is presented the decision is made in your own heart. These decisions are not outward, they are inward and you register your decision, you cannot escape it, and every time this highest is presented and you go on living a life that is less holy than the life that you see, and strive not to follow that light as you can see it, you have registered your decision against the highest and therefore committed a grievous sin. Moral issues cannot be escaped. The writing is inevitable You can choose the manner of your actions, but act you must. You may go out that vestibule, you may go on out into the street, but you act some way. You must and will. In every hour of life we act, we are writing and we are doing things, we must. So it is with the record we write every day, the entries are being made, you cannot escape, it is utterly fatal to attempt to escape. It is inevitable, you must write. What are you writing? You know. I do not know. God knows. And that brings the issue always where it should be dear friends, between yourself and God, not a church, —I have never tried to persuade men to give themselves to a church. I want a man to give himself to Christ. When once he is thoroughly and fully given himself to Christ then he is what the Christ is. The highest in your heart is Christ. When you choose the Highest you are chosing Christ. When you are following the Highest you are following Christ. You must choose constantly, day by day you write, every day. At the close of every day you could write it 'What I have done I have done.' It is inevitable. You have got to write, but you do not have to write evil. You have the choice in your own power of writing good or writing evil, of being faithful or being false, bowing down before honor and nobility and righteousness or becoming a craven and a coward and entering into shame. It is inevitable. You must write. How are you writing and what are you writing?

"Then another thought. It is unalterable. You think you can change it. You cannot change it. It is unalterable, absolutely. Not only has the record been inevitable, you must make it one way or the other, but to this day and to this hour it is unalterable, it cannot be changed. Cain could not bring back life to Abel. Ahab could not restore Naboth. Esau sold his birthright for a morsel of meat and then he could not find repentance though he sought it carefully and with tears. Judas betrayed his Lord and then would have given his right arm if he could have changed the verdict but he could not. He then went out and hanged himself. Peter denies his Lord thrice before men and then as he looked yonder at the judgment seat and caught the place of the Christ that he loved, there thrilled in his heart the sense that he was a coward and a traitor and he went out and wept bitterly, but his weeping could not atone. All his weeping could not have rescued that Christ from the enemies. Ahab and Cain and Judas and Pilate might weep until their tears would make a river and it would be unavailing, absolutely. They made their record and it was unalterable. Now that is nature. That is like all the laws that you and I know. I want to know where there is any gospel, where there is any hope.

"I want to remind you of the pessimism of the Persian poet when he said 'The moving finger, etc.' That is pessimism, the death dealing pessimism of Omar Khayam. Then as it were, coming fresh from heaven's own throne the words "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, etc.' I do not know ing any way that I could even suggest an explanation. My brain is not big enough to understand it and there never has been a brain given among men that was big enough and great enough to even enter into the mystery, even enter into the mystery of the power of Christ to cleanse and lift a life and blot out all the past and leave it behind us. 'I have blotted out your sins and your transgressions. I have put them as far as the east is from the west.' I don't know how, all I know is that it can be done.. That Christ comes to us and says 'Come unto me' all ye who are sick with yourselves, sick with your sins, sick with your past 'and I will cast a garment over your iniquities and they shall be remembered no more, no more forever.' I never use, I very seldom use the word atonement for it is too big a word. We know nothing about it. Men formulate opinions about it, and they seem to know very definitely what it is. The lower intellectually they are the more definite and positive. They can tell you how this all comes about. They have a plan of salvation, step by step. I used to think I had a plan but that plan has long been broken up and all I know is—I can think a great deal—but all I know is that 'though my sins as mountains rise, etc.' 'There's a wideness in God's mercy like, etc.' There is something in forgiveness that is past finding out. All I know is that that Christ has done for me and for a multitude of others what He can do for you. It may not strike you. You may not be even serious enough to let it grip you. We stand at the beginning of another year and what will the year be to you? Will it be a year in which you will put forth heroic efforts to live the life that you know you ought to live and to exert the influence that you know you ought to exert, or will you look back a year hence and see that you have been baffled, that you have been beaten. Let God take your life and steady it and strengthen it and uplift it and ennoble it and make it what it ought to be.

"God grant that before we leave this church tonight every one of you here, those of you who have been in His service, enter into it with greater, greater love, greater consecration and that you, all of you, especially you young men, with all the power of your young manhood may give yourselves in allegiance to this Christ, the young man of Nazareth, and follow Him during this year so that when the final day of this year comes you can look back to this day as the day when you said 'I have determined to follow Jesus Christ' and write under it 'What I have written I have written, and nothing in heaven or earth shall change my resolve.' And if you write this the record of this day shall shine like the stars forever and ever and the power of your life will be multiplied a thousand fold, and whereas you might lead a commendable life for a time without making that resolution there will come a time when you will see how that your very nobility was weakness and that when the strain of life and the temptations of living come strongest then will you find how great is the need for 'a power outside ourselves that makes for righteousness' and that you want that power and that you need that power. What you have written you have written. I have preached a good many sermons during this past year. In addition to my regular Sunday preaching, if you put it together, I have preached the equivalent of three solid months every night. Why? Because I know there is one way and only one way by which these lives of ours may be redeemed and uplifted and strengthened and ennobled and made Christ like, and that is when we take all our past with its sins and faults and lay it down at the cross of Christ and simply say 'Thou Lamb of God I come, I come' and when you come thus, surrendering all and leaving the dead past, forgetting the things that are behind and reaching forward to the things that are before, then will you find what the Christ can do for you.

"God help you, every one of you, that this year may mean much to you, that it may mean many things in the way of blessing, but that above all it may mean this night the acceptance of Christ to bring purity into your hearts where there has been impurity, to bring nobility where there has been selfishnes, to bring honor where there has been shame. "Build thee more stately mansions oh my soul, as the swift seasons roll. Let each new mansion, nobler than the last, shut thee from heaven with a dome most vast, till thou at length art free, leaving thine outworn shell by life's unresting sea, and if this was the last word I should speak before standing face to face with Almighty God it would be the word of persuasion and the word of appeal that you might choose the highest, nothing less, that you might choose the Christ, catch the clue of life and live for Him. What I have written I have written. What I have done I have done."

Yesterday was a great day at Grace M. E. church, where the Rines Brothers, Canadian singing evangelists, are assisting the pastor, Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons, in a series of special meetings. The earnest words and songs by the evangelists made a deep and abiding impression on large crowds at the morning, afternoon and night services. H. J. Rines arrived yesterday to join his brother for eight days following in pressing forward the Gospel campaign.

The preaching yesterday was practical, searching and impressive and the singing attractive, sweet and at times thrilling. At least from thirty-five to forty persons announced their intention and desire to lead a Christian life.

THE WANAMAKER STORE

The Second Week of Our Greatest

SALE OF WHITE

A week of extraordinary selling has expressed the public opinion of the values in this White Sale. A week of exhaustive comparison has proven that no such values are to be found elsewhere. It all goes to prove that the usual store, with usual methods of merchandising, cannot present a competitive movement to compare with the achievements produced by six months to a year of aggressive, intelligent effort of the combined organizations of the Wanamaker New York and Philadelphia Stores.

The public benefit of such vast, organized effort is very great; and the results are proving the universal enthusiasm in sharing the fine merchandise and the large economy.

Never Was There Braver Array of MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

Never before were the dainty and exquisite Hand-made and Hand-embroidered Garments from Paris sold at such little prices. Never before were the American-made Garments so worthy of comparison with those from France. Every garment in the sale is made with the same care as to muslins and nainsooks, trimmings, ample proportions and finish, as though it was to be sold in our regular stocks. Yet, notwithstanding the tremendous rise in the price of cottons during the past year, Wanamaker values are the greatest that we ever offered, and the garments the most desirable.

Details are necessarily brief. Be sure to see the superb Garments for Infants and Children; as well as the many special offerings today in Women's Waists, Silk Petticoats, Eiderdown Robes and Dressing Sacques—extraordinary values, every one.

WOMEN'S SUITS, $25
Were $33 to $42.

A contradiction in economies—the small quantity makes the low price.

There are only seventy-five of these handsome tailor-made suits. If there were more the prices would be $33 to $42, as they deserve.

Some are in advance styles for Spring—but all the materials are in weights for Winter comfort.

There are jaunty Eton suits, velvet-trimmed, with box-plaited circular skirts. There are effective long coats, satin-lined, single or double-breasted.

But only seventy-five—there's a message in that.

$25, worth $33 to $42.

Second floor, Broadway.

The selling of Sheets and Pillow Cases in this year's White Sale has been tremendous so far—which is simply an indication of the good judgment of housekeepers in general. Only standard makes are represented. And the distinct savings will mount up considerably in a purchase of any quantity.

STOKES FOR SPELLING BEE.

Will Be Guest of Parents' Association at Trenton.

Governor Stokes will attend the spelling bee arranged by the Parents' Association of the Cadwalader School at Trenton on Thursday evening next and the scholars of the school are wondering if the Governor will take part in the spelling, and "will he miss any of the words."

That the Governor will take part in the match is hardly possible, for it is to be madeirJ C-t. Acmfwyp it is to be between the men and women and one side is to represent Princeton and the other side the University of Pennsylvania.

Supervising Principal Mackey will propound the words, and if the Governor takes part in the spelling, the large buoys of the school are itching to get on the right side of Professor Mackey that he propound posers to his excellency.

The Governor, in fact, is going as an observer of that wonderful and unique organization known as the parents' association of the Cadwalader school. His interest in school matters is very well known throughout the State.

WHAT MAY HAPPEN IN THE YEAR 1906

PROPHET SPANGLER PREDICTS DIRE DISASTERS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Here are Spangler's prophecies for 1906:

The dissolution of Russia.

The overthrow of Turkey.

The assassination of the Czar of Russia.

The assassination of the Sultan of Turkey.

The prevention of three wars by President Roosevelt.

A protracted race war in the South.

Destructive spring floods in the United States.

A destructive eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

The activity of Mont Pele and Popocatepti.

Volcanic eruptions in all parts of the world.

The eruption of many volcanoes now supposed to be extinct.

Great loss of life at sea by storms.

Destruction of two Western cities by cyclones.

Earthquakes in all parts of the world.

Destructive earthquakes in California and the Philippines.

Rebellion in Spain.

Great disturbances all over Europe.

Spangler says further that the summer of 1906 will be hot and sultry throughout the temperate zone, with an extensive death rate.

The Christ will make his spirit felt among the peoples of the United States and England, in which countries there are to be fervent religious and potent political movements, which are to overcome in a great degree the present spirit of graft and commercialism.

That the United States will continue as a world power and the leader of other nations.

That Pennsylvania is to have an administration of the people, and that discoveries of corruption will be made which will drive some of the guilty to suicide.

That God will wreak terrible vengeance upon the Russians for the massacre of the Jews.—New York World.

BEAUTIFUL TROUSSEAU OF ALICE ROOSEVELT.

Miss Alice Roosevelt is planning to leave Washington this week for New York to begin the purchasing and completing of her trousseau. All of her gowns and lingerie, it is understood, will be purchased in New York, though the President's daughter is in the habit of patronizing some of the Washington costumers and tailors as need requires. So far, however, they have not been visited, and they do not expect to be, in this case.

As yet no hint has been given as to what the wedding gown will be like, but it is sure to be a gorgeous new one, in spite of the fact that Dame Rumor has suggested dressing her in her grandmother's wedding gown. As Miss Roosevelt is a fine specimen of the athletic American girl, the chances are she could not get her grandmother's gown around her, should she try to wear it, as the waist of the girl of this generation differs by many inches from that of two generations ago.

The most beautiful gown seen at the inaugural ball last spring was that worn by Miss Roosevel, who looked a picture in it as she stood in the President's gallery and looked down on her father and mother in the grand march and at the surging crowd. A petticoat of cloth of gold was surmounted by a Directoire coat of white satin with girdle of cloth of gold. The zouave fronts of the coat, as well as the long tails which extended down to the edge of her train, were lined with crushed pink rose leaf satin.

Miss Alice's wedding gown will certainly be no less handsome. It may be some new creations of the dressmaker's art and will be fashioned from some of the beautiful shimmering silks she has brought from the Orient, with some of the embroideries given her by the Dowager Empress of China or the Mikado of Japan.

This week will be a convenient time for Miss Roosevelt to be absent from Washington, as Mr. Longworth is leaving for Cincinnati to be gone several days.

James O'Neill in "Monte Cristo," at New Plainfield Theatre Saturday Afternoon and Night.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The Fays and their company open tonight at the Casino for their return engagement of a week. Mrs. Eva Fay, the Thaumaturgist, who is the main attraction of the entertainment, arrived in the city last week and immediately engaged a suite at the Truell Inn, where she and her husband will remain during their stay in Plainfield. The performance tonight promises to be one of great interest, the people of the city and vicinity having bcome acquainted with her work when she was here last November and almost everyone has a question prepared which they want her to answer. There are some pople, however, who are still skeptical and intend to go to the performance solely for the purpose of testing her powers. The questions which they usually propound are something like, How old am ? or Who was I with at this time last night? or What is the number of my watch? and though Mr. and Mrs. Fay do not claim to answer any question right, curious ones who have kept tab on their work have found that usually about eighty per cent. of the answers are correct. Some are wrong, of course, but most of the tests are passed through by Mrs. Fay very creditably.

WEEKLY RUN BRINGS FEW OUT; GOING TOO HEAVY.

New Pack Expected On the Cattle Steamer Bovic Wednesday.

The Watchung Hunt Club found heavy going at the weekly run Saturday afternoon. The members expected it, and only a few of them turned out.

The riders met at the kennels and followed the pack in the direction of Westfield. The course turned to the right in the direction of the Country Club and thence back to the kennels.

The new pack of hounds, recently purchased from an Irish club, is on the way to this country on the cattle steamer Bovic, and are expected to arrive in New York tomorrow or Wednesday. They will be placed aboard a furniture van sent to the pier by the club, and carried that way to this city. Dr. M. O'M. Knott, the M. F. H., will be at the pier to see the dogs safely in the van. They were shipped from Ireland coupled, without crates. There are twenty-three in the pack.

Next Saturday the club will meet at the Country Club, if the weather and going permit.

A Week of Prayer.

Week of prayer services will be held at the First Presbyterian church this week.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Elmer Hoffman and Nelson Peterson have been added to the staff of ushers at the New Plainfield.

Did it ever occur to you that Plainfield is "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway?" I'll bet George Cohan was thinking of us when he wrote the piece.

Director Conreid, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, made concessions with the striking chorus, Saturday, and the members consented to resume the interrupted operatic series.

After "Little Johnny Jones" shows here next week, it will start direct for the Pacific coast via the Northern Pacific route, playing in important cities and reaching San Francisco March 12.

The head stage carpenter at the Royal Opera House, Vienna, has been discharged because, during an exciting storm scene, he let a heavy thunder cloud fall on two actors, severely injuring them. How's that for realism?

The next big production to be made by Klaw & Erlanger will be "The Prince of India," a dramatization of Gen. Lew Wallace's book. It will be mounted even more sumptuously than was the original "Ben Hur." The opening will be at Chicago next month.

Chairman Counihan, of the Elks' minstrel committee, is determined that the coming show shall be well advertised. He improvised a verse concerning it and had Bobby Harrington sing it in his topical song, "If I Were Only Mr. Morgan," during the performance of "Running For Office" Saturday night. As a press agent Bill is ace high.

Playing a return date at the New Plainfield theatre, Saturday night, George M. Cohan's "Running For Office" delighted a packed house. There is not a dull moment in the piece and the audience was liberal with its applause. Bobby Harrington was again seen in the leading role and while he was pleasing, the biggest hits were scored by Leon Mayo, as "Peter Pitchem" and Abe Freidland as "Herman Highberger." Both the latter was inimitably funny and their every entrance was the signal for a burst of laughter. They were the general favorites throughout the tuneful entertainment. The attendance at the matinee was a record-breaker.

Faith Chapel's Revival.

Rev. C. C. Luther, the evangelist, preached at Faith chapel yesterday morning and conducted the evangelistic services last night, large congregations attending each service, and were greatly impressed with the earnest words of the preacher. As a result of the day's services several persons expressed a desire to lead a Christian life, and a large number asked for prayers. These services will be continued every afternoon and evening this week, the afternoon services being for mothers and children, those in the evening for everybody.

Local Company Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Trenton by the Plainfield Cigar Company. The main office of the concern will be in the second story of the Dunham Grocery Company building on Somerset street. The officers are W. H. Dunham, president; W. A. Coddington and J. L. Woodward, directors. Mr. Woodward has been conducting a wholesale tobacco business on North avenue, and this busines will be combined with that of the new company.

Elizabeth Council Dead-lock Ends.

Colonel Dennis F. Collins, Democrat, of the Sixth ward, was chosen president of the Elizabeth Board of Aldermen on Saturday night on the ninety-first ballot, the deadlock which existed since New Year's Day being broken. The final result was: Collins, 17; George A. Ford, 6.

JOHN CONNOR'S FUNERAL.

Solemn Requiem Mass Conducted at St. Mary's Church this Morning.

The funeral of John W. Connors, who died at his home on John street Friday night, was held from St. Mary's church this morning. It was largely attended by relatives and friends and large delegations from Division No. 4, A. O. H.; Local Union No. 480, Brotherhood of Painters, and St. Mary's Holy Name Society, of which he was a member. A solemn requiem mass was said, Father Bogan being the celebrant, Rev. Father Delehanty, deacon, and Father Frederici, sub-deacon. The floral tributes were very numerous and included set pieces from the organizations.

Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, the pall bearers being James Fosbre, John J. Gallagher, Francis Conley, James Ennis, Patrick Harrington and Richard Bermingham.

Will Try to Settle Bergen Mix-up.

Hackensack, Jan. 8.—It was said today that several Democratic and Republican lawyers would meet today in Hackensack to patch up the serious trouble in the Bergen County Board of Freeholders, which now has two sets of officers, owing to a contest over the new election law. The board is to meet tomorrow afternoon and another peculiar session is to be avoided if the judgment of cooler heads can prevail. The Democrats are in the majority and desire to wipe out every Republican officeholder.

Passaic District Court.

Passaic, Jan. 8.—Efforts are being made in this city to have ex-Assemblyman George Dalrymple appointed judge of the Passaic District Court. William W. FOR THE GENTLER SEX

RECIPES FOR APPLES.

Apples and oranges are used more than all other fruits and the preference for either fruit depends a good deal on the locality. In the country apples are chaper and oranges are more of a luxuary, but in the city when oranges are selling "sixteen for a quarter" the cook does not hesitate to make free use of them.

The apple contains desirable acids when taken either raw or cooked. Most people can eat a raw apple without disturbing their digestion and they find that a moderately sour apple is best. But if raw apples do not digest easily then can almost always be taken when cooked. If baked or stewed an apple should not be smothered in too much sugar. Peel a raw apple before eating, but when cooked it is better left unpared, for a good flavor comes from cooking the peel.

Raw apples and cream are sometimes eaten together, but the apples must be mellow and sweet. Pare and slice them, sprinkle with a little sugar and then pour sweet cream over. In the same way some people like raw sweet apples sliced into a bowl of bread and milk. It is however, much better to bake apples to eat with milk.

Do not bake apples in tin, but use either agate or enamelled ware or an earthen dish. Sweet apples need only to be washed, but sour apples may be cored and the centers filled with sugar and then a little water poured round. Or fill the centers with seeded raisins, sugar and a little grated lemon peel. Cream is often served with baked apples, but a perfectly baked apple is excellent eating without any dressing up with garnishes.

When stewing apples it is a good plan to make a syrup of the sugar and water to be used, and when this is boiling to drop in the apples pared and cored or cut into quarters. Cook the apples, a few at a time, until they are tender, but not broken, and lift out with a skimmer. When all are done cook the syrup longer and until thickened slightly, then pour round the apple or add a little soaked gelatine and let the whole cool until the syrup has formed a jelly.

Apple Pandowdy.

Line the sides and bottom of a dish with thin slices of apple that have been buttered, fill the dish with thin slices of apple then add a little grated nutmeg. Scatter in sugar as needed, add two or three tablespoons of hot water and cover with buttered bread. Put a plate over the dish and set in the oven to bake slowly for an hour and a half. Serve hot with cream or a liquid pudding sauce.

Baked Apple Sauce.

When there is to be a fire in the range for several hours bake the apple sauce and find out how much richer the flavor will be then when stewed. Use an earthen pot like a bean pot and fill with sweet apples, or medium sour apples, pared, cored and quartered. Add two or three tablespoons of molasses and enough sugar to make sweet. Cover and add one cup of water to a two-quart pot. Cover and bake five hours. The sauce will be of a dark red color.

Apple Dumplings.

Sift four cups of flour with six level teaspoons of baking powder; rub in one-third cup of butter or a little more if liked. Add a pinch of salt and mix with a cup of milk or as much as needed to make a soft dough that can be handled. Roll half an inch thick, cut into circles four inches across and in the centre of each put an apple that has been pared, cored and filled with sugar and two or three seeded raisins. Bring the dough up round the apple and pinch the edges together. But each dumpling into a buttered cup, turning the dough over to bring the rough edges at the bottom. Set the cups in a steamer that has a closely fitting cover and steam three-quarters of an hour without lifting the cover. Serve as soon as done with a liquid or hard sauce; a molasses sauce is often preferred.

Apple Tarts.

Roll a rich paste out thin and cut three times as many circles as the number of tarts to be made. From two-thirds of the circles cut a ring so that there will be two rings for each circle. Wet the under side of each ring as laid on and bake these cases in a hot oven. Fill these tarts with freshly cooked apple sauce, which is cooked without breaking. Put a spoonful of whipped cream on each or a teaspoon of some kind of bright-colored jelly.

Apple Cake.

Sift three level teaspoons of baking powder with two cups of pastry flour; rub in a rounding tablespoon of butter and mix with a half cup or more of milk. Stir in one cup of chopped apple and bake in gem pans.

Apple Cake.

Sift two cups of flour, with four level teaspoons of baking powder and rub in two rounding tablespoons of butter; add one beaten egg and mix with enough milk to make a dough that can be rolled out in a sheet. Lay the cake in a pan and cover the top with rows of sliced apple stuck into the dough with the sharp edges down. Mix one teaspoon of cinnamon with two tablespoons of sugar and sift over the top. Bake and serve with a liquid sauce.

Plain Apple Pie.

Line a pie plate with good paste and sprinkle with sugar. Cover with thinly sliced apple and sprinkle with sugar and a little cinnamon or nutmeg. Cover with more sliced apple. Dot the top with bits of butter; pour in a tablespoon of water, dredge with flour and cover with a rich top crust. Bake in a moderate oven to allow the apple to cook. Use nearly half a cup of sugar or according to the sweetness of the apple.

FASHION TIPS.

A very handsome evening wrap is shown in rose colored chiffon velvet. The front is laid in two deep plaits from the shoulder, adding to the fullness of the garment at the bottom. A rolling collar, cuffs and reveres of chinchilla fur add to the richness of the garment.

A very pretty dinner gown is shown in canary colored peau de cygne. The skirt is box plaited with clusters of sun plaits inverted between each box plait. A bolero of Bruges lace is worn over the bodice of the material. Narrow folds of canary velvet edge the jacket and finish the trimming of lace on the short elbow sleeves.

The long sweeping lines of the loose coats and pointed capes for evening wear lend dignity and permit of any amount of elaboration. Heavy lace gives a suggestion of richness, and combined with the rich cloths and velvets make beautiful evening wraps.

Waistcoats of white or pale tinted cloth are seen in many of the smartest fur coats. A Persian lamb coat shown in one of the local shops has a waistcoat of pale blue cloth covered with silver embroidery. Quaint silver buttons finish it. A hat to be worn with the coat is of black felt trimmed with tiny blue bows and loose rosettes of silver tissue and a huge shaped blue wing.

UNIVERSAL HABIT.

Lives there a man who has not said,
"Tomorrow I'll get out of bed
At six o'clock and get things done
Before the setting of the sun."

Lives there a man who has not said,
At six a. m., "How good this bed
Does feel," and snores till after eight,
Then wondered how he slept so late.
—Grace G. Bostwick in Woman's Home Companion.

SURE REMEDY.

Complete repose, the doctor said,
Would put him at his best;
And so he ceased to advertise
And got the needed rest.
—Woman's Home Companion.

To Wash Glasses.

Glasses that have been used for milk should always be rinsed in cold water before being washed. The immediate use of hot water would make them dull and cloudy looking.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Atlantic Monthly begins the year 1906 with an uncommonly striking number in both the importance and freshness of interest of its articles. Especially notable is a group of three papers upon questions of international politics. Judge Francis C. Lowell, of the United States Circuit Court, writes upon "American Diplomacy," John W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State, upon "The Chinese Boycott," and Herbert H. D. Peirce, Third Assistant Secretary of State, upon "The Mujik and the New Regime in Russia." Among the variety of other interesting papers, special attention should be called to "Of Our Anxious Morality," by Maurice Maeterlinck, the great Belgian mystic and moralist, a curiously vivid record of "Impressions from Chicago Faces," by Loren H. B. Knox, and a very incisive and plain-spoken paper upon "The University Presidency," by Andrew S. Draper. An article that is sure to attract attention is a paper upon the evil of "Special Legislation," by Samuel P. Orth. Among the more distinctly literary papers are a masterly and entertaining survey of the fiction of the past year by Miss Mary Moss, a clear and entertaining account of Esperanto, the new proposed universal language, by Professor Albert Schinz, and a study of recent American biography by M. A. De Wolfe Howe.

"The Story of Steel," illustrated with some wonderful flash-light photographs taken in the interior of a great steel mill, is the leader in The Technical World Magazine for February. G. P. Blackiston, the author, is a prominent iron and steel expert. Without being technical, the article gives a correct and graphic picture of the processes by which iron is transformed into steel. Few great industries are so important or so little understood. A most fascinating and little-known part of the world is described by Fritz Morris in "The Water-Forest of the Spree." The illustrations are from photographs which show the quaint costumes and strange manner of living of a unique and picturesque people. It will be news to the majority to learn that tea can be successfully grown in the United States and, particularly, that in North Carolina a private tea plantation has proved, commercially, extremely profitable. With pen and camera, Freeman Tilden tells the story of the pioneer tea farm.

A Year Book and Guide.

You frequently hear mention of dead languages. Well, some facts are even deader, but these are not the kind that The Tribune Almanac deals in. By way of verifying that, just take a cursory glance over the issue of 1906, which is now on sale. It is not an almanac in the dictionary sense of the word, but is really a ready reference and guide book, containing everything that such a compilation ought to have. And the material has been garnered and sifted and tested with the utmost care so as to secure absolute accuracy, or at least get as near to it as honest, painstaking endeavor will bring one. Herein will be found a perfect gold mine of information on topics of interest, not only to every American, but likewise to all who care to know about us, our laws, population, officials, and so forth. (And, by the way, if you have any friends in Europe, just send them a copy and see if they don't appreciate it.) There isn't anything missing in the way of records which the average man will want to know about. It doesn't matter what the subject—pension legislation, sporting statistics, facts about universities, colleges, patriotic societies, population, public officials, election returns, railroads, foreign commerce, immigration, foreign rulers, or New York State and city affairs. In fact, it is really not an exaggeration to say that of a hundred and one things a sane person wants to know, at least ninety-nine will be found in The Tribune Almanac.

Want President to Save Tolla.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Dr. Sarah M. Siewers, as president of the Susan B. Anthony Club, of this city, has appealed to President Roosevelt to intercede in behalf of Mrs. Antoinette Tolla. The message telegraphed to the President follows: "Can a woman be hanged in New Jersey for defending her honor in her own home? Can you not intercede?"

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toe of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail, Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Young Women's Club will hold an entertainment and social on Thursday night, January 18.

Richard Lovell, a Yale sophomore, spoke to an audience of forty at the boys' meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

The Union Bible Class taught by Rev. D. M. Stearns will meet at the Y. M. C. A. hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

The regular pastor's reception, following the communion service, will be held at the First Presbyterian church on Thursday night, January 18.

Owing to the illness of his wife, Vladimer Gelesnoff was unable to address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. In his place the Rines brothers, the Canadian evangelists, addressed the meeting, and held the close attention of all the men present. Charles L. Lewis sang a bass solo, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis. Mr. Tugwell had charge of the meeting and W. C. Leek led the singing.

Another Docket Walks Off.

The docket of the police department of Harrison, which contained records of cases for the past fourteen years, disappeared mysteriously from a desk in the private office of the police justice Saturday. The chief of police says he placed the book in the desk expecting that the police committee might want it, as he knew it was the intention of the committee to go over the cases of a former justice. The books contains the whole history of the police department, and is the only official record that the town has.

Newark Board of Trade Dinner.

United States Senators Charles Dick, of Ohio, and John F. Dryden, of New Jersey; Congressman Charles A. Towne, of New York, and Governor Stokes are to speak at the annual dinner of the Newark Board of Trade. The dinner will take place next Thursday night in the new auditorium at 76 Orange street. Edward Maher is chairman of the arrangements committee. Secretary James M. Reilly announced yesterday that more than five hundred would be present at the feast.

Alphabetical Sermons.

A series of short alphabetical sermons to children will be started next Sunday by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schneck, of Trinity church. Each Sunday, before the regular morning service, Dr. Schenck will speak for three to five minutes, continuing until the alphabet has been gone through.

LEGISLATURE OPENS AT 3 P. M. TOMORROW.

Members Will Be Sworn in and Governor's Message Received.

Precisely at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the 130th Legislature of New Jersey will be opened in the Senate by President Bradley and in the House by Clerk James Parker.

The Senate being a continuous body, President Bradley opens the session, but because of the old Assemblymen's terms expiring at midnight, December 31, the House is called together by the clerk of the old House.

Members of both houses will then be sworn in by a master in chancery and Samuel K. Robbins, of Burlington, will be elected speaker of the House, and Senator William J. Bradley will be re-elected president of the Senate.

When the heads of both houses have announced their respective standing committees, committees will be appointed to wait on Governor Stokes and inform him that the Legislature has opened for business and ask if he has anything he wishes to communicate.

The Governor will then forward his first annual message, which will be read.

To Save Lake Musconetcong.

Orange, Jan. 8.—A general federation of mayors and borough councils of parts of Sussex and Morris counties is being formed to take concerted effort toward the preservation of Lake Musconetcong in the event of the abandonment of the Morris Canal. The active assistance of the Newark Board of Trade and other influential bodies is to be sought and a vigorous campaign prosecuted. The scheme was started at a joint meeting of the mayors and councils of the boroughs of Stanhope and Netcong last Wednesday.

Many Operations Failed to Cure.

Paterson, Jan. 8.—Miss Cassie Haskins, of 44 East Main street, after having various portions of her left leg removed in the last four years, had what remained of the limb removed from the pelvic socket yesterday. Four years ago necrosis of the bone attacked Miss Haskin's ankle after a fall. All attempts to stop the spread of the disease were unsuccessful, but it is thought at the General Hospital that she will now recover.

Bread Stealers Plead.

Edward Petersen, Edward Linzer, Christopher Eskesen and John Day, the boys accused of stealing bread and rolls, pleaded before Justice Mosher this morning. Linzer denies the accusation but the others pleaded guilty. They will be heard this afternoon. George Voehl, the baker who made the complaint, tried to withdraw it, but Justice Mosher refused to sanction the action.

Forty Hours' Devotion.

The forty hours' devotion began yesterday morning at 10:30 at St. Joseph's church. Rev. W. H. Miller was the celebrant, Father Tyrrell, of Rahway, the deacon, and Father Angelus, of Trenton, the sub-deacon. There was a very large attendance at the opening service. Last night Father Diettrick, of Bound Brook, preached an eloquent sermon on the "Holy Eucharist."

Circulate Petition in Texas.

Y. M. C. A. FIVE BEATS MAXWELL HOUSE TEAM.

But the Business Men Succumb With a Bump to New Brunswick.

The Y. M. C. A. first team defeated the strong Maxwell House five, of Brooklyn, at the local gymnasium Saturday night. The score was 29 to 20.

Maxwell House led at the end of the first half, 14 to 10, but Y. M. C. A. ran away from them in the second. The line-up of Plainfield was as follows: Smith, Thompson, forwards! Scull, centre; Leary, Letson, guards.

Between the halves the Business Men played the New Brunswick Y. M. C. A., and lost 39 to 17. They led by one point at the end of the first half, but fell down horribly in the second. Business Men's line-up: Gavett, Stutsman, forwards; Collier, centre; Heicker, Miner, guards.

LAST FIGHT FOR WOMAN'S LIFE.

Ex-Coroner Says That Joseph Sonta Was Murdered in Cold Blood.

Hackensack, Jan. 8.—Ex-Prosecutor P. W. Stagg has been retained by friends of Mrs. Antoinette Tolla to argue her case before the Board of Pardons at Trenton on Wednesday. A supreme effort will be made to have her death penalty commuted to life imprisonment, but there is little hope of success. She is sentenced to be hanged in the Hackensack jail next Friday morning.

In a public statement issued last night at Passaic, James Morgan, ex-coroner of Bergen county, declares that Mrs. Tolla should hang. Mr. Morgan says that the murder was done in cold blood. He was coroner at the time of the murder of Joseph Sonta, on March 4, and conducted the inquest. The ex-coroner refers to the appeal which Dr. Sarah M. Siewers, president of the Susan B. Anthony Society, recently sent to President Roosevelt. The appeal asks the question, "Can a woman be hanged in New Jersey for defending her honor in her own home?"

Mr. Morgan says that Mrs. Siewer's impression of the case is entirely erroneous. He says that Mrs. Tolla shot Sonta in cold blood. Four bullets were used, of which the first one took effect.

ACID THROWN AT FOREMAN.

Paterson, Jan. 8.—A man whose identity has not yet been established threw a bottle of sulphuric acid at Ellis Baker, superintendent of the Owego Bridge Company, at noon Saturday. The acid thrower came upon Baker from the rear in Paterson street, near Vanhouten. The bottle broke on Baker's chin, the acid burning his face so badly that he will be disfigured for life.

The streets were crowded, but after a chase of several blocks Baker's assailant got away. It is supposed he was a workman discharged by the injured man, who is in charge of building the Arch Street bridge. It is a non-union job.

Dr. Wakeley Assumes Charge.

Orange, Jan. 8.—The Rev. Dr. Charles T. Wakeley, the new rector of Grace Episcopal church, took formal charge of the church yesterday and preached to a large congregation, later holding an impromptu reception, at which he exchanged greetings with a large number of his parishioners.

Mrs. A. A. Weeks, of West Seventh street, accompanied by her son, H. W. Weeks, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Weeks' brother at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

COMMON COUNCIL PAYS KIELY'S LEGAL EXPENSES

President Tolles Casts Deciding Vote on Resolution to Assume Chief's Bill.

MR. MARSH ADVISED IT

Hibbard Reveals Secret of Trial, Declaring that With Tyler and Bullock Sitting Police Head Would Have Been Convicted.

By a vote of six to five, the Common Council, in adjourned session, last night, voted to pay the bill of Chief of Police Patrick S. Kiely, incurred by his trial on charges prefererd by William S. Tyler and William S. Bullock. This decision was reached after a recess lasting over one hour. Councilmen Daniel, Ginna, Hibbard, Mellick and Tyler voted against paying the bill of $795, while Councilmen Buxton, Gloak, Montgomery, Frank D. Randolph, Charles C. Randolph and Tolles voted in favor of doing so. The total expenses for the trial is $1,102.20, which includes the bill of John P. Dengler, official stenographer, of $237.20, and that of Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh of $70 incurred in issuing subpoenaes for witnesses and other incidental expenses.

The three claims were presented early in the evening and referred to the proper committee. Later in the evening, Chairman Frank D. Randolph, of the police committee, asked for a ten minutes' recess, which lasted over an hour. When the members returned, Mr. Randolph presented a letter sent to Councilman Gloak by Corporation Counsel Marsh, relative to the right of the Common Council to pay Chief Kiely's bill.

Moral Obligation, Says Marsh.

In referring to the question as to whether the city could lawfully pay the bill and reimburse Chief Kiely for his expenses incurred by the trial, Mr. Marsh said that the chief had no claim on the city, but in view of the necessity of properly defending himself, he considered there was a moral obligation on the part of the city. He cited several cases to show that the Common Council has the right to reimburse Chief Kiely to the extent of any reasonable amount.

One case cited was that of an officer in Hudson county who secured the extradition of a prisoner from Illinois, and who was afterward acquitted. The Board of Freeholders fully re-imbursed the officer for the expenses incurred by him. Several other cases were cited. While not bearing directly on the one in question, the corporation counsel thought that they were sufficiently analagous to permit the Common Council to pay Chief Kiely's bill.

Mr. Marsh referred to the fact that twenty-two charges were preferred against the chief, and he was adjudged guilty of one and technically guilty of three and that it would be proper for the city to re-imburse him to a reasonable amount.

Mr. Randolph then presented a communication from Chief Kiely in which he briefly recited facts in connection with his trial, declaring that he had not been adjudged guilty of incapacity and that he was obliged to expend money for car fares, telephone and telegraph messages and the subpoena of witnesses to the extent of $95 and in addition pay a counsel fee of $700. He then asked the Common Council to re-imburse him in the sum of $795. The communication was filed. Immediately afterwards Mr. Randolph offered a resolution providing that the two bills, one for $95 and the other for $70, be paid by the city.

Mr. Mellick said that he favored paying Chief Kiely any reasonable amount, but would vote against the resolution because he thought the bill to be excessive.

Hibbard Tells Secrets.

Mr. Hibbard, who was a member of the 1905 Common Council, which tried Chief Kiely, caused a great sensation by his remarks in explaining why he would not vote for the resolution. He said that the chief's bill should not come before this Common Council nor be paid by it. "There was an opportunity," he declared, "to present the bill before last year's body which was better able to judge of its merits. Had the two members, referring to Messrs. Tyler and Bullock, who waived their right to sit at Chief Kiely's trial, taken part in it, the result no doubt would have been different. The chief had a very nar-

"WILLIE" DEEGAN WEDS SCOTCH PLAINS WIDOW

PLAINFIELD'S PITCHER MAY NOW BECOME A VILLAGE BONIFACE.

Mrs. Mary Emma Coombs, of Scotch Plains, and William J. Deegan, of New York, were quietly married this morning in St. Joseph's church at 10:30 o'clock, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Father Schwarze, of Stony Hill, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. W. H. Miller, rector of the church.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Deegan, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, as witnesses. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party returned to Scotch Plains, where Mr. and Mrs. Deegan expect to reside.

"Willie" Deegan, as he is familiarly known, is considered one of the best semi-professional baseball pitchers in the metropolitan district, and is a great favorite here, where he pitched for the champion Plainfield team last season. He has been an instructor in the deaf and dumb institute at Westchester, N. Y., but it is said that he intends to become the proprietor of the old Scotch Plains Hotel. He does not intend to give up baseball and will undoubtedly be seen on the local diamond next season.

Mrs. Deegan is an accomplished and talented woman, and is reputed to be quite wealthy. She owns considerable property both at Scotch Plains and in New York.

COUNTY COMMITTEE RE-ELECTS F. H. SMITH

CHANGES RULE GOVERNING ENDORSEMENT OF CANDIDATES

County Register Frank H. Smith, of this city, was re-elected chairman at the annual election of the Republican county committee last night. The election was completely unruffled, and marked by the exchange of honied sentiments.

James C. Calvert, of Elizabeth, was re-elected as vice chairman, Durward Smith, of Elizabeth, treasurer, James White, Elizabeth, sergeant at arms. James A. Warner, of Cranford, was elected secretary, to succeed C. A. Reed, of Rahway.

Mr. Smith made a speech of acceptance. He thanked the committee for the honor conferred on him, and expressed deep gratitude for the loyal support accorded him during the past year. The members cordially reaffirmed their oaths of fealty.

An amendment to article six of the constitution, covering the endorsement of candidates for political preferment, was adopted. Under the old rule the committeemen voted on a basis of the Republican votes represented in their districts. Under the new order they vote on an equality.

William Newcorn, Mayor Buckle and Register Smith were the only Plainfielders present.

CLAIMS ATTACHED GOODS.

Creditors of Robert Fulton Meet with Obstacle in Effort to Collect.

Allan M. Gale, of Westfield, has filed a claim of ownership against the goods attached as the property of Robert Fulton by J. A. Smith, M. R. Giles and W. W. Wilson. The right of property will be contested before Justice Tucey, Westfield, on January 11.

The attachments were filed against household goods packed for shipment at the freight house on Richmond street. Gale's claim surprises the lawyers for the creditors, who had no expectation of such a complication. It will be vigorously contested. Craig A. Marsh is counsel for J. A. Smith, F. J. Blatz for W. W. Wilson, and W. L. Hetfield, Jr., for M. R. Giles.

Peter's Pence, $5,371.62.

Announcement has been made by Bishop O'Connor, of the Catholic Diocese of Newark, that the Peter's pence offerings in the diocese amounted to $5,371.62. The largest contribution was from St. Mary's church, Bayonne, of which Rev. Father Egan, formerly of St. Mary's church, here, is pastor. It gave $425.07. The contribution from St. Mary's church, this city, was $70.

CANAL BUILDERS' TASK

Andrew McClean Parker Tells of the Tremendous Difficulties at Panama.

DEATH STALKS THERE

Climate So Harmful That Mr. Parker Advocates Pension for Workmen After Twelve Months' Service.

In a lecture unusually concise and graphic, Andrew McClean Parker told the story of the Panama Canal project and the tremendous difficulties it involves, before the Men's Club of Grace P. E. church last night. Mr. Parker, himself an engineer of wide experience and hig standing, is personally familiar with the canal site, and his own ideas on the work of construction were heard with very great interest.

Because of the weather the audience was not as large as it otherwise would have been, but the lecture room was comfortably filled. Members of the other church clubs, all of whom were invited, were present. Among the listeners was W. L. Saunders, president of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company, which furnished, and will furnish, most of the drills used in the rock excavation on the work.

Mr. Parker said in part:

"The canal project, after twenty-five years of mismanaged and misguided effort, now rests in the hands of the American people. On May 9, 1904, the new canal company, which took over the remains of DeLesseps' work was paid forty million dollars for everything they had on the Isthmus. This included 30,000 acres of land they had acquired, 625,000 acres of land promised them somewhere by the United States of Columbia, but never set apart, 2,431 buildings, the Panama railroad, three steamships running between New York and Colon, endless amounts of machinery and supplies of every class and description and the maps, surveys and records of the work together with what work had been done on the canal itself.

"The canal zone is now United States territory and under our laws and is to be built by our government. When built it will be opened to the ships of the world on payment of tolls. It will have to be fortified, and for all time will be a source of worry to us to a certain extent.

"The tonnage likely to use it will greatly exceed that of Suez, and at the rate of tolls now charged on the Suez, it will probably pay a handsome return on its cost. Ultimately, by means of a sinking fund, it will return its cost to the government.

The Country is Cursed.

"With the exception of the Suez canal, the great canals of the world have been built in comparatively civilized and accessible countries where the conditions are favorable to health. At the Isthmus of Panama the conditions are probably worse in these regards than any other on the face of the earth. In spite of every precaution that can be taken the native, as well as the foreigner, is subject to the most violent and sudden attacks of fever, dysentery, bilious colics, congestive chills and kindred ailments. About one half of the population is sick all the time with a low fever, which utterly unfits a man for everything. The country is cursed with every sort of winged biting insects, and with crawling biting insects and with worse things inhabiting the ground and coming out and biting you if you come their way. I have seen an able bodied man so swollen up with insect bites in two days as to be utterly helpless for two weeks, and this under conditions infinitely better, as far as precautions, than could possibly be provided by the ordinary laborer. Coupled with these drawbacks comes the rainy season. At Panama the rainfall amounts to about twelve feet per annum, and this falls in eight months.

"The vegetation is something marvelous. A survey line is absolutely grown up again so as to be obliterated in a couple of months. It is under these adverse natural conditions that the problem at Panama become infinitely difficult as compared with the problems presented heretofore in other canals.

"You many bring men by the thousands and you will never be shorthanded. Your graveyard grows faster than your results. The cost of doing the work become appalling when compared with other work under ordinary conditions. It is said that in the construction of the Panama railroad a man was buried for every tie which was placed, and I believe it.

"The commission entrusted by the president with the carrying on of the work has given these conditions most careful study, and it has resulted in their undertaking to clean the isth-

MESSAGE OF GOV. STOKES

Salient Features of Annual Address to the Legislature Convened this Afternoon.

URGES MANY REFORMS

Limited Franchises, Equal Taxation, Automobiles, and Corrupt Practices Main Topics—Vigorous in Tone.

Governor Stokes presented his annual message to the Legislature this afternoon. The document is not long, but lacks nothing in force or rigor. It's salient features are as follows:

State Finances.

The finances of our State continue in excellent condition. An income without a State tax sufficient to pay the State expenses and help defray municipal expenses is a source of satisfaction. It is not, however, a justification of extravagance either in expenditure or appropriation. Economy must continue to be our policy.

Defects in Bills.

I had occasion last year to request the Legislature to exercise greater care in the preparation and consideration of bills. Some bills were evidently never read by the introducers. A vast majority of the bills showed great carelessness. There is no reason why a public act should not be so phrased and so punctuated that it will stand the test of good English and be easily understood by the ordinary reader.

Automobiles.

No little attention was given by the Legislature last year to the regulation of automobiles on the highways. The representatives of the various interests agreed upon a measure which the Legislature adopted. Public safety, however, is still menaced by these motor vehicles. For this two reasons may be assigned—failure to execute the law and reckless driving.

Jury Reform.

So long as juries form a part of our judicial system, their character and membership cannot be of too high a standard. Litigants have a right to ask the unbiased judgment of fair minded men. Jury duty should not be the reward of political service nor be made a means of political patronage. Our sheriffs should be free from embarrassment of solicitation on the part of any one for jury service, either for himself or for others. "The professional juror" has no part in a system of justice.

Corrupt Practices.

The purity of the ballot is necessary to safe and honest government. Honest elections and honest officials go hand in hand. The recent disclosures in business and political circles, of which every American is ashamed, are founded on corruption at the polls. Between to bribe giver and the bribe taker let there be no distinction.

Amendments Proposed.

I would amend the bribery laws by limiting the penalites for their violation to disfranchisement for a term of years, according to the number of the offenses committed. If offenses against the bribery laws were punishable by disfranchisement and the consequent disgrace, I believe they would be just as effective as imprisonment, and conviction would be more easily secured.

Taxation.

The execution of our tax laws remains unsatisfactory. Inequality of valuations, the escape of personal property and various forms of tax evasions are intensifying the dissatisfaction.

Taxation of Main Stem.

Railroads should pay the same proportion of taxes as is paid by other property; no more, no less. As Governor Abbett said, "Equal burdens and equal rights for all, corporations as well as individuals, are the principles that should control our tax legislation." In order to produce this equality not only the rate, but valuation, must be weighed.

The merits of these two systems—taxing the main stem locally or by the State—are purely questions of policy.

Limited Franchises.

How far the power of municipalities to grant franchises to public utility corporations should be limited should be determined solely by the interests of the people. Their interests will not be served by a destructive policy. No revenue can be derived under laws so harsh that they prevent the development of enterprises from which the revenue must come.

Provision should be made for publicity in the granting of franchises, both with regard to the advertisement of applications and the prevention of undue haste in the passage of ordinances for such purposes.

SPECIAL POLICE NAMED

Appointment of the Mayor Confirmed By the Common Council.

SOME ROUTINE WORK

Firemen's Pension Fund Association Cause of Long Argument—Streets' Name to be Changed.

The offer of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital to care for the city's indigent poor the coming year for $1,000 was accepted at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night, and a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel authorized the city treasurer to pay to the Board of Governors that sum. The resolution was adopted. This is a continuation of the arrangement made last year.

Mayor James F. Buckle, according to the annual custom, appointed the following special police, and they were confirmed in accordance with a resolution offered by Councilman Frank D. Randolph, chairman of the police committee: Frank Day, William Harding, Charles Harris, Henry Pugh, Stevenson R. Hope, Frank Kelso, Isaac Kennedy, Edward Maynard, William Downs, Edward Martin, Alexander D. Ayers, Robert McCormick, Nathan Pollard, William Forrestel, Thomas O'Gorman, Samuel J. Robinson, Isaac Houston, Harry Adams, John Albert, Frederick W. Pearce, Lewis Clark, Jacob Dunham, Rutherford B. Dalley, Hugh MacDonald, Tucker Johnson, Thomas Clarkson, William Addis, Sr., Jesse Scull, Joseph Morrison, George Dean, Daniel F. Stewart, Edgar Brokaw, Lewis Peterson, Edwin Dobbs, Jeremiah Cash, James Babbitt, James Bolmer, Fred Winn, Jacob Wagner, Jacob Kriney, Charles J. McCarthy, Thomas Morcan, Charles A. Peterson, Theodore Martin, John Payne, John H. Conroy.

Mrs. Jennie W. Kenyon made application for a permit to erect a two-story and attic dwelling on Williams street, and the matter was referred.

Constables' Bonds.

The bonds of Constables P. V. Weaver and John Manley, approved as to form by the corporation counsel, and those of Constables Amos Moffett and John Conroy, not approved, were presented and referred to the proper committee. Later Mr. Daniel offered the approved bonds for filing, and th others to be filed when approved.

The semi-annual report of the Pension Fund Association of the Fire Department was presented, showing a cash balance of $299.41, and it was filed.

Following the reading of City Treasurer W. F. Arnold's annual report, it was ordered published in The Daily Press and the Courier-News and 200 copies in pamphlet form were authorized in accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel.

In response to a petition presented at a previous meeting by Mrs. W. B. T. Lane, in which she asked to have the name of Lane avenue changed to Laing avenue, to perpetuate the name of a Revolutionary ancestor, Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, introduced an ordinance making such a change. It was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised.

Mr. Daniel asked for information as to where the avenue in question begins and ends, thinking it would be better to define it in the ordinance.

He was informed that the corporation counsel drafted the ordinance and it was legally correct.

Firemen's Fund Trustees.

Mr. Mellick, chairman of the fire and buildings committee, presented the names of the trustees of the Pension Fund Association of the Fire Department, recently elected, and asked the Common Council to confirm the same.

The trustees are: T. O. Doane, ex-officio; E. J. McCann, one year; C. C. Graves, two years; J. F. Davis, secretary; Andrew Jennings, treasurer, three years.

Mr. Daniel said that he was under the impression that when the report of this association was presented a year ago the Common Council did not recognize it, but that it was laid on the table for further consideration. He had no recollection of confirmation of the election of trustees last year.

Mr. Hibbard thought differently. He said that he remembered last year's action of the Common Council, how the pension fund was started by donations of money and the proceeds of a baseball game between the local firemen and a team from Brooklyn.

Mr. Daniel did not press his point of contention at this time, but later had the clerk read the minutes of the particular meeting held last year when this matter was first brought up. While it showed that the Common Council did not confirm the election of trustees, it verified approval.

IN SECOND ANNUAL MESSAGE MAYOR FAVORS DEPARTMENTAL HEADS' SUGGESTIONS

Urges Common Council to Establish System For Garbage Disposal; a Fire House in the East End, and a Primary School Building.

MORE POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN ARE NEEDED

"Our people, as a whole, are contented and happy."

"The year 1905 has been a prosperous one for Plainfield."

"The affairs of the city you will find are in excellent condition."

"* * * safeguard the citizens' interests by maintaing an absolutely * * * equitable system of property assessments."

"* * * take up for consideration the question of the establishment of a new fire house for the East End."

"* * * the recent troubles (of the police department) have, I believe, given us all renewed faith in its integrity and high standing."

"I heartily coincide with Chief Kiely in his desire that the police force be increased."

"* * * if the incoming Legislature shall vest in me the power * * * I shall * * * appoint another commission at the earliest practical moment."

"There is * * * pressing need for the establishment of a new primary school in the West End."

"* * * I urge that we make certain the * * * retention of first class instructors * * * by paying them as good salaries as they can obtain elsewhere."

"In all the suggestions of the board (Health) I heartily coincide, especially in the one urging the establishment of a municipal system of garbage disposal."

"* * * that your honorable body exercise every caution against permitting any such misfortune (the erection of spite houses) to occur."

"* * * the policy of its management (hospital) has been broadened."

"* * * an indication that the hospital desires to be considered as an integral part of the municipal activities."

Mayor James F. Buckle last night presented his second annual report to the Common Council. The document, which was read to the city fathers by City Clerk MacMurray, was as follows:

"Mayor's Office.
"City of Plainfield, N. J.
"January 8, 1906.

"To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

"Gentlemen—The year 1905 has been a prosperous one for Plainfield. Trade has been active in all its branches, work has been abundant for all seekers, cases of destitution and dependent poverty are at a minimum, and our people as a whole are contented and happy; all of which conditions made an auspicious opening of the new year, and to you as the chosen legislators of the city I extend my congratulations that you have been called to service in behalf of so favored a community.

"The affairs of the city you will find are in excellent condition. The report of the city treasurer certifies that the general fund has at present for a balance the sum of $49,713.74, or $6,355.06 more than was left over in 1904. This, taken with the fact that we have in nowise been stinted in the matter of departmental expenses and general improvements, bears testimony to wise management by those who have had in charge the expenditure of city moneys.

Taxes.

"The recent laws regulating and governing the collection of taxes continue to bring good results.

"The moneys arising from current taxes come to the city much more promptly than was formerly the case, and one very beneficial result of this condition is that the city is compelled to borrow much less money in anticipation of taxes than was formerly the case, and a considerable item of interest is saved to us.

"The city's interests being thus safely cared for, it only remains for the Boar dof Assessors and your honorable body to safeguard the citizens' interests by maintaining an absolutely just and equitable system of property assessments.

Fire Department.

"This department is by right of organization, equipment and efficiency, justly a source of pride to all citizens. Its oft demonstrated ability to cope with difficult conditions is too well known to demand recital here, and I bespeak for it your warm support.

"I would ask that your honorable body take up for consideration the question of the establishment of a new fire house for the east end of the city. The value of property interests in that section, and the great extent of territory left practically without any adequate fire protection constitute a problem, the solution of which cannot long be delayed by your honorable body, and I am sure you will best serve your constituents by considering proper measures to accomplish this end.

"While another branch of the city government gains a valuable official, I cannot but regard the likelihood of the withdrawal of First Assistant Chief Murray from active fire duty. By a long and devoted service in the fire department he has left the imprint of his personality deeply recorded in all its varied activities, and I hope the department may have the benefit of his counsel and advice for many years to come.

Police Department.

"This department, gentlemen, has passed through the most eventful year of its history, and the recent troubles have, I believe, given us all renewed faith in its integrity and high standing. It has been demonstrated beyond peradventure that a large responsibility for the efficiency of this department rests upon your honorable body, and that the best results can be obtained by the officers and men composing the police force only with your co-operation and moral support. I would therefore urge upon you all, especially the gentlemen who compose the police committee, that you hold said department and its men to a strict accounting for every official act, and at the same time give them assurances that they may rely upon you unreservedly for support in every policy and action designed to further public peace and safety.

"I heartily coincide with Chief Kiely in his desire that the police force be increased to the extent of four additional men at least. The beats, as at present, by necessity, constituted make it impossible for the force to police the city in a satisfactory manner, and in this connection I would ask your honorable body to examine carefully the chief's annual report for 1905, giving especial attention to the diagrams wherein are presented the extent of the various beats. I shall glady co-operate with you in any endeavor to better these conditions.

"While I was strongly criticised at the time for appointing a police commission, I felt that such a body, bipartisan in character, and removed from the influences and sudden changes of personnel incident to politics, could best govern this department, and that belief was the impelling cause for such appointment.

"Recent events have in nowise changed my belief, and I therefore deem it but fair to say to your hon-

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

At the opening of the union meetings in the Methodist church Sunday night, Rev. Mr. Casselberry was annoyed by laughter among some of the younger people when he extended an invitation to those minded to enter a new life. He sharply rebuked the disturbers, and later prayed for them. The incident aroused comment.

A mothers' meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jacob Fisher next Thursday afternoon, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The feature of the meeting will be an address by Mrs. Emma Bourne, of Newark, one of the best known W. C. T. U. women in the State.

W. R. Hetfield is having his flat building repaired and decorated inside and out. It is possible the family will move to the borough from Greenbrook before spring, but their plans as to that have not been definitely formed.

B. De Witt Giles and Judge Von Minden, who are members of the State Board of Agriculture, will attend the annual meeting of the body at Trenton next Wednesday. Other local people interested in agriculture may go.

The Sagamore Banjo and Mandolin Club, of Plainfield, will give an entertainment at the Presbyterian church February 8. The affair will be under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.

Mrs. Edmund Teel and her son, Edmund, who moved West last year, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton for a short stay in the East.

A missionary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Dunham this afternoon. Mrs. Geraldene Dunham will assist in entertaining.

R. P. F. Von Minden has secured a snow white dog to replace the canine killed by a Lehigh flier last week. The new animal is valuable.

The young people are planning a straw ride to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hetfield's home in Greenbrook for the first deep snow.

Members will be admitted at the morning service of the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Miss Matilda Muller returned Saturday from a week's visit to friends out of town.

Miss Myrtle Fedderman is confined to the house by illness. She is slowly recovering.

The annual parish meeting of the Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon.

Miss Gertrude Russell is spending the week as the guest of Miss Matilda Muller.

Miss Mabel Cole returned yesterday from a visit to friends in Bayonne.

George Miller, of Roselle, spent Sunday as the guest of O. M. Hetfield.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Gray Bros., who had several entries in the bantam class at the Madison Square Poultry Show last week, won one second, two third and one fourth prize ribbons. One little fellow was disqualified for showing his sporting blood in trying to knock one of his competitors out of the game.

Captain William Hull has resigned as commander of the Old Guards. The members are upset over the choice of his successor. A number of names have been suggested, but indications point to the selection of Joe Smith, of Rocktop.

Howard Gilmour, who has been spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. H. Gilmour, of the borough, has returned to his studies at Princeton.

Don't forget January 8 was the first real day of winter. The small snow storm started in well, but did not last long enough to give sleighing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, of Plainfield, have been visiting Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Sr.

Miss Bella Hyams, who has been spending several days with Miss Susie Parse, has returned to her home in New York.

Mrs. George Stillger is visiting relatives and friends in Brooklyn for a few days.

Fanwood Council, R. A., meets tonight in the Library rooms.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The choir of the First Baptist church has been augmented by an additional tenor, also another alto voice.

The official board of the First M. E. church will meet tomorrow night after the prayer meeting to consider several matters of importance.

The Junior Epworth League of the First M. E. church will meet in Vincent chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Miss Beeching and Miss Miller will be in charge.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached Sunday morning in the First Baptist church from the text, "And the God that answereth by fire let him be God," I Kings, 18 chapter and part of the 24th verse. He compared the prophets of Baal in their heathenism crying aloud and cutting themselves with knives and lancets till the blood gushed out upon them with no avail and Elizah alone beside the altar in answer to whose prayer the fire of the fire of the Lord fell. He spoke of the baptism of fire and the Holy Ghost promised by Jesus and said that in order to receive it one must be fully surrendered. He closed his sermon with a fervent prayer for the baptism of fire. It is important, he said, that the unconverted are convinced of the ability of Jesus to save and to keep if Christians are fully surrendered to God they being filled with the Holy Ghost will be the evidence to the unbelieving of His love and His power.

PERSONAL.

Russell Giles, of East Third street, has recovered from a recent illness.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE

orable body that if the incoming Legislature shall vest in me the power of such appointment, I shall feel it my duty to appoint another commission at the earliest practical moment.

Matters Educational.

"As the new High School nears completion the citizens of Plainfield are better able to judge of the vast benefit which will accrue to the community as a result of its establishment, and our Board of Education deserves the gratitude of every citizen for the conspicuously able manner in which its duties and labors in this matter have been performed. The benefit to the city, I take it, will be at least twofold. Our children will naturally enjoy the greater and more direct part thereof, but at the same time, the fact that Plainfield sands so strongly for broad and liberal education, as evidenced in the erection of so costly and complete a structure, must have a tendency to attract to our confines many citizens for other places with whom advanced educational facilities for children are matters of prime importance, and in this respect also the city will be distinctly the gainer.

"There is, however, despite the additional school facilities soon to be had, pressing need for the establishment of a new primary school in the west end of the city, and I trust that your honorable body will look closely into this matter, and enter heartily into the plan of devising ways and means for its erection, whenever such call may be made upon you by the Board of Education.

"But while we are building schools which reflect the highest credit upon our spirit of liberality and progress, I feel constrained to urge upon the proper authorities that the matter of the salaries of teachers be seriously considered, and that measures be adopted to increase them.

"For years we have been favored with an able and devoted corps of teachers, but my firm belief is that we have not paid them sufficiently well to hold the majority for any length of time, and if there is one profession which merits a fair return it is that of the teacher. Other cities, with no greater resources than Plainfield, offer more attractive inducements to teachers than we do, and I urge we make certain the employment and retention of first class instructors in the only way possible, viz., by paying them as good salaries as they can obtain elsewhere.

Garbage Disposal.

"The report of the Board of Health for the past year is a most exhaustive and instructive document, reflecting great credit on the gentlemen who have in charge the health of the city, and I earnestly recommend its perusal by your honorable body. In all the suggestions of the board I heartily coincide, especially in the one urging the establishment of a municipal system of garbage disposal.

"The present method is at once highly unsanitary and at the same time greatly handicaps those having in charge the supervision of such work, as disregard of proper rules and regulations can exist for a considerable time without detection, event under the strictest possible surveillance. In my message a year ago I called the attention of the Common Council to this subject, and I hope that your honorable body will see the necessity and wisdom of adopting decisive measures in this very important matter.

Spite Houses.

"In my former message I also dwelt at some length on the advisability of preventing, if possible, the infliction of unsightly shacks upon choice sections of the city. I am glad to say that no such buildings have been erected within the past year, but, nevertheless, I ask that your honorable body exercise every precaution against permitting any such misfortune to occur, and throw all possible safeguards around the city's interests in these matters, both by rules and ordinances.

Muhlenberg Hospital.

"The citizens of Plainfield have great cause to be thankful that such an institution as Muhlenberg Hospital is located in this city. That every one is proud of it is not to be gainsaid, but the incalculable amount of good accomplished through it beneficent workings is, in all probability, known to comparatively few.

"I would say that the policy of its management has of late been broadened, and the Mayor of the city is now, ex-officio, a member of the Board of Governors; of itself an indication that the hospital desires to be considered an integral part of the municipal activities.

"This more intimate association between the city government and the hospital management, I believe, is a good thing, and must lead to a better and more sympathetic understanding between the two bodies.

"I have been greatly impressed with the extent and completeness of the hospital work and would recommend that the members of your honorable body not only familiarize themselves with this splendid institution, but also accord the management generous assistance and support whenever such action is possible.

General Improvements.

"Concerning general improvements I have, at this time, no direct recommendations to make. In the several heads of city departments I have the untmost faith, and in my recommendations which I may later in the year make to you I shall in all probability be largely guided by them.

"Satisfactory progress is being made in the extension of the sewer system; Park avenue for a considerable distance will soon be widened, as befits its importance as a thoroughfare, and in divers other ways Plainfield is being kept abreast of the times as an important and attractive city.

In Conclusion.

"I trust, gentlemen of the Council, that you and I may work together in entire harmony during the year upon which we have just entered. I believe, so far as official actions go, that one purpose animates us all, viz., to do our best for the city's interests, and that being the case, there should be no difficulty in laboring unitedly for that end.

"If any experience I may have had in municipal affairs can at any time be of service to you I gladly offer you the benefit, and at the same time I would ask that, as occasion may arise, I be made acquainted with the plans of the various committees, so that there may at no time be any misunderstanding between us.

"With sincere good wishes for a successful and harmonious year, I have the honor to remain,

"Your obedient servant,
"JAMES F. BUCKLE,
"Mayor."

A "RETROSPECT OF RIFLE SHOOTING" OUT.

Lieut. Albert S. Jones Makes Some Suggestions to Rifle Association.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Riflemen throughout the United States, and especially in New Jersey, will be interested in the suggestions made by Lieutenant Albert S. Jones, of Passaic, secretary of the National Rifle Association, and the "right hand man" of General Bird W. Spencer, the inspector general of rifle practice of New Jersey. Lieutenant Jones is the author of an interesting article entitled, "A Retrospect of the Year's Rifle Shooting," and as a result of his long experience and observations at Sea Girt, he makes some interesting recommendations. His suggestions follow:

"First—An appropriation of not less than $500,000 annually at the disposal of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice for the building of ranges, the introduction of a course of marksmanship in our public institutions of learning, the purchase of medals, etc.

"Second—A free limited issue of rifles and ammunition to rifle clubs organized under the rules and regulations as laid down by the national board. Official score sheets and a decoration for those qualifying should be issued free.

"Third—A specific appropriation to pay the expenses of State teams, and for the expense of teams from schools and colleges and rifle clubs.

"Fourth—Authority given the chief of ordnance to issue to schools, other than agricultural colleges, the Krag carbine, soon to be discarded by the cavalry branch of the service, on requisition of the national board, which shall control the issue of them. The guard for lead bullet cartridge should be issued under the same regulations for use with these arms in school work.

"Fifth—In each State an inspector who would visit the clubs and schools and see that the regulations were being properly lived up to, and who would receive the pay and allowance equivalent to a captain in the regular establishment when on duty. I could recommend for this no better men than the State secretaries of the National Rifle Association, as they are men who are most conversant with the rifle shooting situation in their own State, are enthusiastic on the subject and are men of high standing in their community."

MEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Speech and Impersonation Two of the Features.

Ronald Reeder, of New York, entertained the Men's Club of the First Baptist church and its friends last night with clever impersonations, cartoon and magic, giving a high-class programme that delighted and amused everyone. Owing to the storm the attendance was not as large as expected, but a pleasant time was had by those present.

During the evening S. St. John McCutchen, president of the club, made a short address, in which he spoke of the excellent features of the club in relation to church work, and took occasion to praise the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, and his work in the church.

School Board Meeting Adjourned.

Owing to the lack of a quorum the regular meeting of the city Board of Education was not held last night, the only members present adjourning until next Monday night. It was stated that Dr. Probasco, Mr. Woodhull and Mr. Clark were all unwell.

Plainfield, N. J., January 9, 1906.

On the whole, Mayor Buckle's second annual message to the Common Council can be summed up as an endorsement of the suggestions contained in the yearly reports of the various departmental heads. The only new feature may be said to be his words of commendation for the police department. But the message in its entirety is a good one and one that will appeal to the average thinking man as a businesslike document. The Mayor urges that better fire protection be given in the East End of the city. There can be no dispute that it is a good idea. He also recommends primary school accommodations for the West End, and again there can be no question that there is a real want for one. In this connection he draws attention to the underpaid school teachers—a condition that exists, much to the disgrace of the city, and which should be remedied at the earliest opportunity. Another matter he dwells upon is a municipal system of garbage disposal, as outlined in his former message. The necessity for such a sanitary improvement is clearly set forth, without any mincing of words. Everybody knows it is needed. All in all, it's a good message and is creditable to its author.

PERSONAL.

Miss Anna Daly, of Liberty street, is very ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stryker, of Albert street, are happy over the arrival of a baby girl.

Clyde Burgess, of Spearfish, South Dakota, has enrolled as a student at the Plainfield Technical Institute.

Miss Florence Bates, of Newark, has returned home after a short visit with her cousin, Miss Pruden, of East Third street.

Lloyd Lewis, a former resident of this city, has returned to his home in Newark, after a visit with Russell Randolph, of Grant avenue.

BAND CONCERT FAIR.

Ben LaVere Making Arrangements to Give One Week of Feb. 5.

Ben LaVere, the promoter of local band concerts, has decided to present another series the coming summer, and to secure the nucleus of a fund for the purpose will give a fair in Saengerbund Hall the week beginning February 5. He is already making preparations and will appoint committees from among numerous volunteers within a few days. He has been informed by the New York publishing houses that they will give him all the help possible and that they will furnish him the best singers and song slides nightly.

Though his plans for the concerts are not fully complete, Mr. LaVere states that he will have a better band than ever and that he will introduce many new features.

POLITICAL TIPS.

Buxton refrained.

"Monte" made his maiden effort. He promises to do better.

Reference to spite houses in the message is well worded. Notable for what is evaded.

One big chief talked it over with Johnny last night, while the other held a consolation meeting with Bill this morning.

Talk on Primary Methods.

"Modern Primary Methods" was the subject of an interesting lecture given before the Monday Afternoon Club yesterday by Miss Lillie Williams, of the State Normal School, Trenton. It was one of a series of lectures being given by the club in its study of educational work. Afterward Miss Williams was tendered an informal tea and reception, affording the club members an opportunity to meet her.

row escape; he is well out of it and should be satisfied. For these reasons I shall vote against the resolution."

Councilman Montgomery said that the chief was not convicted, and inasmuch as the corporation counsel has said that the city is morally obligated he thought it should pay the bill. "If we don't pay it other officials may be similarly charged and tried and be made to bear the expense. I think it will have a tendency in the future to make one more careful in bringing charges against an official. Believing that the city should pay the bill I will vote for the resolution."

Daniel Remains Firm.

This ended the discussion on the resolution and the vote was taken with the result as stated. Later when the bills were presented in the usual way, Chairman Daniel, of the finance committee, who voted against the resolution to pay Chief Kiely's bill, moved that power be given to the two members of the committee who voted for it, to sign the voucher. This action was taken by Mr. Daniel for the reason that there is no law authorizing the city to pay the bill. Councilmen Charles C. Randolph and Herbert Buxton affixed their signatures to the voucher and it was subsequently ordered paid with the rest of the bills.

Mr. Mellick stated that he had received his information from Chief Doane and thought he knew what he was talking about. There was further discussion about the matter, and it was finally decided to refer it back to the fire committee to be reported on later.

Mr. Mellick offered a resolution, which was adopted, authorizing the fire committee to secure bids and purchase 1,000 feet of fire hose.

Mr. Daniel reported back the petition of the Board of Health stating that it would need $5,000 for this year's work, and asking for an advanced appropriation of $1,000 of that sum, and on his motion the latter amount was appropriated.

ANOTHER STEP TAKEN IN STREET WIDENING.

City Treasurer to Pay Benefits and Collector to Receive Assessments.

Another step in the opening of Stebbins place, and the widening of Park avenue and Sycamore street was taken by the Common Council, last night, when several resolutions were offered by Mr. Daniel, chairman of the finance committee.

In each case City Treasurer William F. Arnold was authorized to tender the affected property-owners the several amounts due them in excess of benefits for the improvements to be made, and in case of refusal, the city is authorized to take the land required to make the improvements. Tax Collector John W. Murray, Jr., was also authorized to receive the assessments levied on the property-owners. This action is taken by and with the advice of Corporation Counsel Marsh and it is under his direction that the city treasurer and tax collector must act.

It is not believed that there will be any trouble in effecting a settlement with the property-owners interested in the opening of Stebbins place or the widening of Sycamore street, but it is possible that there may be some objection on the part of those affected by the Park avenue widening.

The reports of Commissioners Elliot T. Barrows, L. G. Timpson and Evarts Tracy were received at the first meeting in the month and the assessments for benefits and damages confirmed, it being impossible for them to adjust the matter in any other way.

Week of Prayer.

Week of prayer began at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last night. The subject of the service was "The Coming of Professing Christians Into More Vital Relations to Christ." Tonight the subject will be "The Power to Put First the First Things," and tomorrow night, "Prayer for the Winning and Saving of Lost and Wasted Lives by the Love and Life of Christ." On Thursday night the subject will be "Missions Re-inspired and Re-inforced." "Entire Devotion. The Prayers of Christ that He Might Have It," will be the topic Friday night. On account of the week of prayer services the meeting of the Young People's Association will be postponed on Friday night and the date of the entertainment will be given later.

mus first and then trying to keep it clean.

Mosquitoes Cause Fever.

"It is now demonstrated beyond question that much of the fever so prevalent in tropical countries is due to the biting mosquito. Square miles of mosquito netting have been put up in the houses of workmen and much has been done toward exterminating the mosquito larvae on the lines followed in Cuba and elsewhere with considerable success.

"It will cost not less than $50 each to land men on the isthmus and the investment for passage money alone will represent $1,000,000. Every man who dies or quits work means a loss of $50, and the fewer men who quit the less lost. The food question for laborers is a very serious one. I am under the impression that the Japanese, with his diet of rice and dried fish, will come nearer solving the labor problem on the isthmus than any other workman, providing the labor laws against contract labor are not invoked.

"The Panama canal proper will start from the Atlantic, at or near Colon, and running in a general southeasterly direction, will enter the Pacific a mile or so west of Panama. It will be about forty-six miles long. For more than half this distance it follows the general course of the Chagres river, a tortuous stream which, in the dry season, can be forded almost anywhere and in the wet season is twenty feet deep and half a mile wide.

Three Plans for Canal.

"There is little question of the desirability of a sea level canal, but the cost of such a canal is 50 per cent. more than one with a few locks, and the time required to build it will probably be increased by four or five years. It will be enormously expensive to maintain and may be entirely blocked by landslides or by the wash from sudden cloudbursts. An alternative is a canal proper across the isthmus with locks which can be built cheaply and quickly. It has the disadvantages of expensive maintenance, of cost of operation of locks, of loss of transit due to delays incident to lockage and it further forestalls he possibility of changing it in the future to a sea level without stopping transit through it for several years. The third plan is a combination of canal and artificial lake. This plan involves the construction of an immense dam at Bohio, and the serious objection to it is the difficulty of constructing that dam. No feasible plan has yet been submitted for doing it.

"My own impression, if I may be permitted to offer it, is that a high summit level, with low artificial lakes, near the sea ends, will be the ultimate result of the study of the engineers. This can be built in a reasonable time and at a reasonable cost, and will have the minmum of defects with the maximum of good points.

Commission's Task.

"For the past year the commission has been at work getting information as to the probable cost of the work. The main problem of excavation is the summit cut at Culebra. With a canal at sea level this cut would contain 186,000,000 yards of material; with a canal thirty feet above sea level 142,000,000 yards; and with a canal sixty feet above sea level 111,000,000 yards. The amount of material to be moved if a sea level canal is built would be about the same as would be contained in our first mountain from Scotch Plains to Somerville. This material must be carried off from ten to twenty miles to find room to dump it.

"The chief engineer states that with a sixty-foot level canal the work can be accomplished in at least eight years; with a thirty foot level in ten years, and with a sea level in twelve years. The cost will be about $180,000,000 for a sixty-foot level; $195,000,000 for a thirty-foot level, and $230,000,000 for a sea level, not counting interest. I believe a ninety-foot summit level would be better yet, and it would seem to me as a business proposition that a canal in seven years, which could economically and safely handle all the business likely to be offered would be much better than one in twelve years, which might be, and very likely would be, blocked and rendered useless for a time at the return of each wet season.

For a Canal Department.

"It is my belief that the work should be executed by the government itself, through the chief engineer and executive officers of the commission. There must be one grand executive head with unlimited power. The general plan of the work should be decided upon by a board of consulting engineers of the highest standing in the profession, and then turned over to the chief engineer for execution. I believe the whole service should be erected into a new arm of the government on a line with the army, navy and marine revenue and lighthouse service. Service should be by regular enlistment under stringent regulations as to the physical fitness, and retirement on half pay for life should reward the completion of twelve months' satisfactory service. Pensions in small amounts should go with death of employes, and half-pay should be allowed all employes during disability incident to sickness incurred on the work. The pay in every class of the work should be liberal enough to attract the best men in each line.

"The effective force required on the canal will be somewhere in the neighborhood of 20,000 men to get the work done in eight years. Ten per cent. of the force will be always incapacitated by sickness, another ten per cent. will be in return transit from the isthmus, and ten per cent. in recruits will be in transit to the isthmus. At least 2,000 employes will be required in the commissary and supply departments of the work, so that an army of 28,000 to 30,000 men will be required.

"From this it can be readily understood that any of the great undertakings of the world hitherto are as child's play, when compared with this, the twentieth century work of the greatest people on the earth for accomplishing things."

Refreshments were served after the lecture.

MRS. MARY L. FORCE IS LAID AT REST.

Rev. Dr. Schenck Officiating at the Obsequies Pays Tribute to Departed One.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the funeral services of Mrs. Mary L. Force, which were held from her late home, 22 Duer street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, officiated.

The services opened with the reading of comforting passages of Scripture by Dr. Schenck, who afterwards took as his theme the thoughts of the Psalmist, "God, as a refuge in time of trouble." With much feeling he spoke of the bereaved ones and commended them to that loving Saviour, "who sticketh closer than a brother."

In his personal remarks, Dr. Schenck told how the departed had borne a great burden since the death of her dear husband about twelve years ago, and how she had done the best she could to serve her Saviour, considering her surroundings. He said that to all who knew her she was as a ministering angel, always doing good wherever she had the opportunity. As a member of the Home Department of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school, Dr. Schenck said she had studied God's word at home as opportunity offered her.

At the close of his remarks, Dr. Schenck read a beautiful poem entitled "He Leadeth Me," and offered a sympathetic prayer in which he remembered the ones now bereft.

The floral tributes were very beautiful and represented sympathy from the nieces and nephews in the form of a pillow, bearing the words "At Rest," a wreath from the sisters and brothers, a bouquet from the Home Department of her Sunday-school, and one of white roses from Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Force.

The pall bearers were four nephews, Ray Dunn, of Philadelphia; John L. Force, of Elizabeth; E. A. Millard and Will F. Williams, of Plainfield; also T. O. Doane and A. L. Force. Interment was made beside her husband in the North Plainfield cemetery.

In Memoriam.

As a tribute to the late Mrs. Mary L. Force, who was laid at rest yesterday, a friend has written the following verses:

In Memory of Dear Mollie.

"God's finger touched her and she slept,"
The weary hands that here had plied,
The eyes that many a sorrow wept,
Are now beautified.

With Him whose love can never tire,
Welcomed by an angelic choir,
She walks in light with her desire,
Redeemed—"a heavenly bride."

Lovingly, Florence W.

Man's Body Still in Morgue.

The body of an unidentified man, which was found in the dater at Middlebrook on January 2, is still at the morgue at Bound Brook. The body is that of a man five feet seven inches in height. The man has black hair, marked with gray, sandy mustache and eyebrows, which are heavy, and blue eyes. On his right arm, in India ink, there is a coat of arms, probably German, with the following inscription: "K. Hutz—R. 113—8 Co." His clothing consists of blue serge coat and vest, black trousers and black shoes. He is between forty-five and fifty years old, and weighs between 160 and 180 pounds.

Changing Brook's Course.

Following a conference with Dr. Cooley, the borough street committee yesterday began work changing the course of Stony Brook opposite Brookside Retreat. This plan has been adopted as the least costly in preventing the flooding of Somerset street and ground in that vicinity.

CRITICISES REVIVAL.

Episcopal Clergyman Says Sermons Were Not Edifying.

At a meeting of the Newark Ministerial Association yesterday several clergymen criticised the results of the recent revival conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. The Rev. Dr. Shreve Osborne, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, in explaining why his church had not joined with the others in the work, said in part:

"The onslaught on popular amusements was mediaeval. I thought the line had been drawn between the secular and the religious. For a man to condemn harmless amusements struck me as a terrible anachronism. Some of the men sitting on the platform indulged in the pleasures they condemned. When men tell stories in the pulpit let them tell new ones, not "chestnuts." The sermons preached were not edifying to me. Some of the stories told were questionable, and I would hesitate to tell them at my dinner table with women present. A terrible 'slump' always follows such revivals."

The Rev. Dr. William H. Morgan, pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church; the Rev. Dr. Louis R. Lampman, of the High Street Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Alexander Stubblebine, of the Bethany Presbyterian church, were others who spoke in a similar tenor of the revival. Several clergymen, however, came to the rescue of Dr. Chapman and his coworkers and declared that good had resulted from the work.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Selected List of Books Added to the Library During November, 1905, Part 2.

(Part 1 appeared in last week's Issue.)

Little, Archibald, J., Far east.

"The book is no mere compilation, but written out of a full experience. Most of the chapters are occupied with China, historically and geographically. . . The description of the Yangtse valley is especially good and complete, for on this Mr. Little writes with unique knowledge. There are also interesting chapters on Mongolia and Turkestan, and a very good and full account of Tibet and the various approaches to that land."

"Is a most comprehensive and scholarly work, written by one who has a lifelong knowledge of the Far East, and is, in addition, an accomplished geographer." Spectator.

Loomis, C. . B.—More cheerful Americans.

"The title not only fits the book, but is equally applicable to those who read it." N. Y. Evening Past.

"He finds his types among the people we all know, and puts them in situations which, if funnier than those of everyday life, never seem improbable. His touch is light, and there is an ingratiating kindliness about his attitude toward the men and women he sketches." N. Y. Tribune.

McCarthy, Justin.—History of our own times, v. 4 and 5.

"He is always interesting, and though sometimes gossipy and sometimes affected by personal prepossessions, he writes with singular fairness of temper. His history is journalistic rather than scientific." The Outlook.

Martin, H. R.—Sabina.

"A dialect story with a psychical plot. The scene is laid among the Amish, a religious sect of the Pennsylvania Dutch, and the heroine is a little Amish maiden who is suffering under a peculiar kind of hypnotic influence. The story is told with a realistic simplicity which is very refreshing, and serves only to enhance the atmosphere of weirdness which pervades every page." Churchman.

Merwin, Samuel.—The road builders.

"Its plot centres in the struggle to build one little connecting link of one hundred miles of railroad. No trick known to Wall street strategy or legal chicanery is left untried. Financial life and death depend upon the hero's putting it through, and the story of his work is a thrilling one."

New York, city, Metropolitan museum of art. Illustrated catalogue of paintings.

Contents: My cousin Fanny; The burial of the guns: The gray jacket of "No. 4:" Miss Dangerlie's roses: How the Captain Made Christmas: Little Darby.

Peattie, Mrs. E. W.—Shape of fear and other ghostly tales.

"The tales which are called ghostly delicately and sometimes humorously so, and fill a place not quite occupied by anything else in English fiction." Dial.

Reed, Myrtle.—Lavender and old lace.

Reed, Myrtle.—The Master's violin.

Repplier, Agnes.—In our convent days.

"This volume presents Miss Repplier . . in a new field. The sketches, which appeared in the 'Atlantic,' are made up of personal reminiscences of her childhood in a French-American convent school. . . An added interest lies in the fact that the 'Elizabeth' who figures largely in the sketches as the bosom friend and confidante of the story-teller herself, is none other than Mrs. Elizabeth Robins Pennell, the well-known writer, and wife of Joseph Pennell, the artist.

Scherer, J. A. B.—Japan today.

"Probably as authoritative a work as it is possible for a foreigner to make. The author has had the advantage of many years' sojourn in Japan. . . A book of impressions but written with that full knowledge which has enabled the author to eschew what was either undesirable or what further investigation proved to be false." . Y. Times.

"Altogether a welcome addition to our knowledge of present day Japan by a thoroughly competent and unprejudiced resident." Athenaeum.

Scudder, V. D., ed.—Letters of St. Catharine of Siena.

"Her correspondence was wonderfully varied. She wrote to prisoners and outcasts, to great nobles and to plain business men, to physicians, lawyers, . . kings, queens, cardinals and popes, to recluses . . and to men and women of the world." London Times.

"It would be difficult to praise Miss Scudder's work too highly. Her translations are spirited, characteristic, and faithful. Her few pages of excellently written introduction are all that is wanted, as information and appreciation to lead the reader on to the study of St. Catharine's letters, deservedly placed among the Italian classics, one of the glories of the 14th century literature, valuable for all time as history and psychology." Spectator.

Stillman, Benjamin. — Remarks made on a short tour between Hartford and Quebec in 1819.

"A book of carefully recorded observations and also contains much historical matter relative to the country through which he passed, the murder of Miss McCrea, Gen. Bougoyne's expedition, etc. The quaint old prints add much of interest."

Smith, W. W., comp.—Complete handbook of religious pictures.

"Contains an alphabetical list of pictures published with their addresses, notes on publishers and their pictures . . a brief explanation of graded picture work in the Sunday-school, a list of illustrated books on Bible history, etc." Churchman.

Sparks, E. A.—United States of America.

"His judgments are acceptable; he shows discrimination in the selection of materials, a fine art in presentation, a vivacious style." J. A. Woodburn in Amer. Hist. Rev.

"One can hardly call the work a history in the truest sense; it is rather a prose epic of American nationality." Dial.

Sturgis, Russell.—Appreciation of pictures.

"The fourth volume in a series intended to show the independent artistical standard of judgment. The volumes of Sculpture and Architecture were simpler than this because the art of the picture maker is very much more elaborate than are the two arts already treated. Seventy-three pictures illustrate the author's thoughts and teachings and make this a fine handbook with which to study some of the greatest pictures of the world."

Thatcher, B. B.—Indian biography; an historical account of those individuals who have been distinguished among the North American natives. 2v.

Wallace, Sir D. M.—Russia.

"As a masterly attempt to facilitate one nation's understanding of another, 'Russia' stands in the same class as Mr. Bodley's 'France' and Mr. Bryce's 'American commonwealth.'" London Times.

"A book of extreme value on a remarkably difficult subject has been rendered invaluable, nay, indispensable—for those who wish clearly to understand present conditions and future possibilities in the realm of the Tsar." Nation.

Wilkins, M. E.—The debtor.

"A story of life in a New Jersey village."

Zilliacus, Konni.—Russian revolutionary movement.

"The work traces the history of a long struggle against despotism, and shows the real attitude of the present Czar toward the earnest aspirations of the Russian people."

"The account is of absorbing interest, and may well be read by all who desire to obtain an inside view of the underlying causes of present conditions in Russia." Dial.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS.

New York was introduced last night at the Majestic theatre to a new style of dramatic production that bids fair to be pointed to later as the real novelty and success of the present dramatic season. The play is called "The Redemption of David Corson" and is a dramatization from the book of the Rev. Charles Frederick Goss by Mrs. Lottie Blair Parker, author of "Way Down East" and "Under Southern Skies." It is another "minister's" play of which there are now three running at the theatres in New York, but it is so different from the others that it stands clearly in a class quite by itself. It does not attack any creed nor appeal to any racial prejudice and it is not "preachy." It is a straight dramatic and essentially American play that goes straight to the heart. It tells the tale of a young Quaker preacher who was a great religious enthusiast and lived in a quiet Ohio valley village far from the influences of the world and was a visionary who believed that his day dreams were religious revelations. William Courtleigh, the New York matinee idol, made an admirable David and carried his audience with him from the rise of the curtain to the fall on the last scene. His work is clean cut, clever and highly artistic. He made of the portrayal of David a character study worthy of every praise. Miss Emma Dunn, who is a new leading woman to New York audiences, proved to be a great surprise to all but her friends and those who had seen her work in the West. She is a little woman much smaller than the average leading woman but what she lacks in size she more than makes up in ability and dramatic intensity. She was called before the curtain time and again to acknowledge New York's approving applause. Taken altogether "The Redemption of David Corson" is a wholesome play that comes to New York as a pleasant relief from the inanity of recent musical frivolities and trashy dramas.

By Frelinghuysen? Never!

The Anti-Saloon League has its local option bill drafted, but the measure will not be introduced the first week in the session of the Legislature, at least. Although no official statement has yet been given out, it will not be out of the way to predict that the bill will not be fathered by Senator-elect Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of Somerset County.—Newark News.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

ELBOW SLEEVES.

When off for a week-end house party there is nothing more useful to slip into one's dress suit case than the separate blouse. A lingerie blouse with elbow sleeves is simply invaluable to any girl. Adjustable mitt cuffs are now often made to wear with these dainty elbow sleeve blouses. They take the place of gloves, and are quite unusual enough to be considered with special favor. They are made of lace or of the same material as the waist, embroidered. They have a shaped piece which falls well over the hand to the knuckles. At the inner arm seam the cuff buttons, and in this way it is shaped closely to the wrist. The cuff may hook or button invisibly under the band which finishes the elbow sleeve. —Woman's Home Companion.

DON'T WEAR REAL FLOWERS.

There is nothing that stamps a girl or woman as hopelessly out of fashion as the wearing of real flowers in the evening. If you want to look as though you had never been anywhere or seen anything pin a long spray of prickly roses, a bunch of bright carnations, or a couple of huge chrysanthemums to the bodice of your evening frock. The reason of the dislike of the fashionable woman to the wearing of real flowers at an evening function is very evident. The smart woman and the smart girl wishes to look as trim and neat and immaculate when she is leaving as when she arrives, and this is impossible when real flowers are worn. Often one sees at the close of a ball a girl with nothing but a few prickly stalks and withered leaves pinned to her frock. The roses have all been rubbed and broken off. Or perhaps it is a bunch of violets, once fregrant and elated, now hanging their heads crushed and scentless.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Ezra Kendall, facetiously announced at times as the plain comedian, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre Monday, January 22. This engagement will be devoted to the revival of his popular play, "The Vinegar Buyer." New and appropriate scenery will be provided, as well as an entire new company with the exception of one member. Much new material has been introduced since its last presentation here. Liebler & Company have surrounded Mr. Kendall with an excellent cast, among whom may be mentioned Harold Russell, Frederick Malcolm, Sumner Gard, Thurlow Bergen, John D. Garrick, James Bevins, H. J. Kennedy, Ethel Brandon, Mary Stockwell, Rita O'Neal, Edith Taliaferro and others.

No actor in the world is better qualified than Digby Bell for the star part in the play in which he has been appearing for the past two years, for he has the physique, the voice, the humor, the magnetism, and the ability to endow Mr. Pipp with all the lovable human attributes which make him loved and respected by the audience, even when he appears most hen-pecked. Mr. Bell appears here in "The Education of Mr. Pipp" for one performance only, Thursday night.

Guy Bros.' Minstrels is an organization now in its 35th year, let it shows no signs of age. It is not only up-to-date in the splendor of its scenic and electrical effects and in the freshness and excellence of its long list of performers, its singers, dancers, comedians, and acrobats, but is a little more than this. In its display of the cintometograph wonders, it might be said to be "up-to-morrow." They appear at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night.

James O'Neill has not played in "Monte Cristo" in this city for many years, nor has that actor been seen recently on this stage. He has this season returned to the character of Edmund Dantes, in which he has established a world's record, having played the part upward of 5,000 times. For this revival of "Monte stage version of the celebrated romance. The company engaged to support Mr. O'Neill is said to be one of the best he has ever had. The play will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night.

Corporation Counsel 25 Years.

Harrison, Jan. 9.—Corporation Counsel Michael T. Barrett began his twenty-fifth term of office yesterday, having been reappointed by a unanimous vote of the new Board of Aldermen. Mr. Barrett was first appointed in 1881, and has been reappointed every year. The town has been kept free from all legal entanglements since he first took office.

—Amos Ryno, the employe of the Potter Press Works whose leg was recently fractured in two places, an 800 pound weight falling on it, continues to improve. Physicians feel assured that he will not lose the foot.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toe of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." The preaching and singing were impressive and earnest and there was a notable increase in the interest of those present. The afternoon meeting was also well attended and full of interest. The services will be continued tonight.

There were good results from the evangelistic services held at Faith chapel yesterday afternoon and last night, conducted by Rev. C. C. Luther. MRS. GUINN SEEKS DAMAGES FROM P. S. C.

Case on Trial at County Court Will Take All Day.

The damage suit of Mrs. Anna M. Guinn, wife of George H. Guinn, of Carlton avenue, against the Public Service Corporation, for $2,500, was begun before Judge Fort in the Supreme Court at Elizabeth, this morning.

It is to recover for injuries which Mrs. Guinn received while riding in a trolley car on August 8, of last year. There was a headon collision between two main line cars near Terrill road, and Mrs. Guinn, who was riding in the westbound car, it is claimed, was thrown out, receiving injuries from which her physician, Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, says, she will never recover. He testified to that effect at the opening of the trial.

Mrs. Guinn was taken to Elizabeth yesterday afternoon in the ambulance and remained at the Berkely Hotel last night. This morning she was taken to court in a wheel chair. She related in detail the incidents of the accident, describing how she was injured. Her testimony was corroborated by her behalf were John Rafferty and George Holt. Mrs. Guinn's injuries appear to be chiefly to the spine and left side, and it is said that she has been unable to walk since the accident.

C. A. Marsh is Mrs. Guinn's counsel.

WIDENING ASSESSMENTS

Damages and Benefits for Improvements on Three Thoroughfares Approved.

FIGURES IN DETAIL

Park Avenue Widening to Cost City But $1,101—City's Share of Stebbins place Opening $105.

It is reported that the work of widening Park avenue and Sycamore street and the opening of Stebbins place will be undertaken as soon as the weather will permit and the settlements with the interested property-owners are effected. The Common Council last night directed the clerk to furnish Tax Collector J. W. Murray, Jr., with a copy of the assessments and the latter was instructed to send the notices to the owners and authorized to receive the money.

The cost to the city of widening Park avenue will be $1,101. The total cost will be $2,483 and the net benefits will be $1,928. By an agreement the two properties owned by The Plainfield Trust Company are assessed benefits and damages alike, $30 on one and $100 on the other. The same agreement was made with Charles W. McCutchen on his property, the amount being $150, which is a set-off. John G. MacLaughlin is allowed for damages $1,525, while his assessment for benefits is $200, giving him a net sum of $1,325. Boice, Runyon & Co. is allowed $475 as damages and is assessed benefits of $75, allowing a net sum of $400.

The territory covered in this assessment extends from the railroad to a point half way between Front and Second streets; on North avenue, half way to Watchung; East and West Second street; half way to Watchung and Madison avenues.

In the widening of Sycamore street, the property of H. P. Reynolds is taken. He is allowed $200 and assessed $50 in benefits, giving him $150 net. For this improvement the city is assessed $50. The total cost will be $348 and the net cost $298.

The opening of Stebbins place will require the whole width of the street, fifty feet. Of this five feet will be taken from Francis J. Skinner, who is allowed $64.44, assessed $75 as benefits, leaving $10.56 which he will have to pay the city. The Plainfield Real Estate Company, owning considerable property there, is allowed $535.56 and the assessment for benefits is $75, leaving $460.56 to be paid to the company as damages. The city's share of this work will be $105.50, or a total cost of $748. In each case there are many smaller amounts to be paid or received by the affected property-owners.

PATRICK NOT TO DIE DECLARES MRS. FAY.

She Says Alleged Murdered Will Not Be Electrocuted.

Mrs. Fay's return to the Casino last night was greeted by a large and intensely interested audience. Questions on almost every subject were called and answered by the remarkable seeress. The audience was mystified to a degree of bewilderment that was distinctly uncomfortable.

The prediction that was of more interest generally than any other made by Mrs. Fay was in reference to the fate of Albert H. Patrick, the lawyer who is battling against execution for the Marsh murder. Mrs. Fay declared positively that Patrick would not be electrocuted. Governor Higgins will give the decision condemning or saving Patrick at Albany tonight.

Dr. Ard and Miss May McLaughlin were among those who had questions known only to themselves correctly answered. Humor, as usual, was not absent from the performance. One man was told not to be suspicious of the Christmas box his wife received and the audience laughed very loudly.

BEATEN IN MORRIS PLAINS.

Warrant Issued for Male Nurse Accused by ex-Mayor Beatty.

Morristown, Jan. 9.—The town authorities of Hackettstown have taken action to bring to the Governor's attention, if necessary, the brutal treatment ex-Mayor Beatty is alleged to have received in the State Hospital for the Insane at Morris Plains.

Has a Unique Coin.

Perth Amboy, Jan. 9.—Charles H. Woolsey has a copper or bronze coin in his possession the like of which local numismatists say they never saw before. He picked it up where Kearny avenue is being cut through the Paterson property on Lewis street. On one side there is a man's profile and around it the words, "Georgius II. Rex," and under it the date 1732. On the other side there is the familiar figure of Britannia, with the word over it. The coin is excellently preserved, every letter being visible. The Paterson property is occupied by Miss Emily K. Paterson, and it was the home of Andrew Bell, her grandfather, and one of the most prominent men in the early history of New Jersey.

$316,000 TO KILL OFF THE MOSQUITOES.

Professor Smith, Entomologist, Ask Legislature to Spend that Amount.

Trenton, Jan. 9.—Professor John Smith, New Jersey's State entomologist, who cheered the world a few years ago by declaring that mosquitoes were easily exterminated and that they only existed by the grace and carelessness of man, has been making a study of the cost of ridding New Jersey finally of the pest. He has given the results of his researches in an address to the State Horticultural Society here. Professor Smith says:

"Ninety per cent. of all the New Jersey mosquitoes breed in the salt marshes along the coast and migrate inland. Ninety-five per cent. of the shore resort mosquitoes and of those in the pines are salt marsh breeders."

The problem, therefore, is to destroy the breeding places of these salt marsh mosquitoes. He estimates that the total cost of doing this would be $315,550. The professor's estimates cover every mosquito breeding area from Jersey City to Cape May, and up the Delaware River to Salem Creek.

Beginning at Jersey City, he estimates the cost of wiping out the breeding places on the marshes there at $2,500. Then, continuing, Bayonne meadows, $500; marsh lands between Elizabeth on the north, Carteret south, Arthur Kill east, Linden on the west, $4,500; marsh extending south from Carteret from Perth Amboy and from Arthur Kill to Woodbridge includes Port Reading, Seawaren, Maurer, North Perth Amboy and Woodbridge, to Port Reading Railroad, $4,500; Raritan flats, extending from the river's mouth to the end of the salt marsh, $5,000; meadows between South Amboy and Morgan, $50; area south of Morgan Station to Lawrence Harbor and east of Jacksonville, $2,500; area south of Lawrence Harbor to Cliffwood, $1,000; area between Matawan, Keyport and Raritan Bay, $1,500; meadows between East Keyport on the west and electric power on the east, $800.

And so on, he calculates, area by area, along the bay to Sandy Hook; thence down the coast, taking in the marsh areas at Shark River, Sea Girt, Point Pleasant, Bay Head, both sides of Barnegat Bay, creeks and other streams that flow into it, and the other bays, sounds and thoroughfares to the stretch of meadows about twenty miles in length and from 500 feet to three miles in width, between Salem Creek and the mouth of Cohansey Creek.

This last area would cost $15,000 to drain, while the area between Port Norris and Bridgeton would cost $20,000. These are two of the largest items in the lot. Other big ones are the area along the main line south from Barnegat to the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge over the Manamawken, and including the islands along the shore, $8,000; the meadow south from Tuckerton Creek to Bass River and Great Bay, "one of the worst sections of the State," $6,000; and the area between Nacote Creek, Somers Cove, Little Bay and Great Bay, $15,000.

Professor Smith says that the greatest areas of mosquito lands lie in the poorest municipalities, and that they cannot be supposed to grapple with the problem. He urges the passage of his bill for $316,000, to beintroduced in the Legislature next week, on the ground of health and comfort of the people.

Would Raise Asbury's Liquor Ban.

Asbury Park, Jan. 9.—Plans for high license in this city are taking shape and local hotelkeepers hope to be able next summer to sell liquor without fear of the law. At the coming session of the Legislature a move will be made to work out the license problem. A meeting of the Hotelkeepers Association will be held on Monday or soon after, and the entire case prepared for proper presentation. One of the members of the association says that Mayor Charles A. Atkins and Jesse Minot, vice-president of the association and now a member of the City Council, will attend the meeting and offer their views and assistance.

Evangelists Sweep Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, Jan. 9.—Paralleling in many respects the remarkable religious revival that swept over Ocean City, the sister resort of this place, early last spring, the end of the first week of the big revival now in progress here has brought about a condition never before equalled in this city. Interest has so increased with each succeeding day that the cry of the evangelists is now "Five thousand souls for Christ!" Their desire seems in a fair way to be realized, since every edifice devoted to the evangelistic services last night was filled to overflowing.

MARRIAGE PUTS END TO YOUTH'S ROMANCE.

Former New Providence Boy, Who Became Heir to Fortune, Takes a Vermont Girl as His Bride.

New Providence, Jan. 9.—The marriage of George Barney, formerly of this borough, to Miss Emma Brown, of Bennington, Vt., was announced today. The wedding is a sequel to the disappearance of the young man from the neighborhood last summer, shortly after receiving a legacy of $75,000. It recalls the story of how, when but fifteen years old, Barney became the support of his invalid father and fought his way up in the business world.

Seven years ago J. W. Barney, a wealthy stock broker, died and in his will left about $75,000 in cash and considerable in property, all of which with accumulated interest was to be given to his nephew, George W. Barney, on the latter's twenty-first birthday. George was then fourteen years old and attended school here, where he lived with his father, a widower, fifty-eight years old.

A year after the death of his brother, George Barney, Sr., failed in both health and business, and George, Jr., the boy who was heir to a fortune, but still poor, would have to do something. He obtained a situation in the offices of Birdsall & Co., 217 Broadway, New York. Here he showed marked ability and advanced so rapidly that by the time he was nineteen he occupied a position of trust and received a good salary. In the mean time he supported himself and his father in comfort there.

Some time during April last Barney became of age, and his legacy was turned over to him by his uncle's executors. The fortune he received did not seem to make any difference in the young man's thrifty habits. In June, however, when his father's health began to decline the son sent the aged man to Bennington, and saw to it that he was there supplied with all necessary comforts.

Barney attended to his business until July 1, when, after announcing his intention of making a short visit to his father, he left the village and has not been seen there since. Everybody wondered. The truth was that Cupid had taken a hand in the game and Barney had met his fate in the person of Miss Emma Brown, the heiress to estates at Bennington, Vt. He met this young woman on July 4 and he decided to stay longer with his father in Vermont, and 'phoned his employers asking that his yearly vacation of a month be given him then. They consented and Barney stayed. When the month was up and Barney returned to New York to work, he left his heart in the Vermont village.

He did not return here, but lived in New York, and made frequent flying trips to Vermont. The wedding took place at the home of the bride on the afternoon of December 28. The couple will live in New York City, where Mr. Barney will continue his connection with the firm of Birdsal & Co.

Long's Case to Pardons Court.

Trenton, Jan. 9.—W. Holt Apgar, counsel for Charles Long, who is sentenced to be hanged next Friday, has prepared a petition to file with the Court of Pardons tomorrow, asking for a commutation of Long's sentence. As Long, since he killed Cunningham, has maintained that he did not mean to murder the man, it is presumed that this will form the basis of his plea to the court for a commutation.

MISS C. F. LOWE A BRIDE

Charming Daughter of W. E. Lowe Wedded to Frederick Mead Shepard.

SOCIETY THRONG THERE

Groom a Nephew of the Late Col. Elliot F. Shepard and Son of A. D. Shepard—To Reside in Wisconsin.

Miss Charlotte Frances Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lowe, of Park avenue, and Frederick Mead Shepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, of New York; were married in Grace church at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. Over 1,500 invitations were issued and the church was thronged with prominent society folk from New York, Philadelphia and this city. The wedding was the most brilliant of the season. Rev. S. DeLancy Townsend, rector of All Angels' church, New York, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church.

The Misses Mildred and Margaret Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Doull Miller and nieces of the groom, were flower girls. Burritt H. Shepard, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Augustus D. Shepard, Jr., and R. M. Shepard, brothers of the groom; Henry W. Lowe, brother of the bride; H. R. Woodruff, of Brooklyn; S. S. Hutchins, of New Rochelle; T. F. Adams, H. L. Walton and John A. Dix, of New York.

The bride's gown was of white chiffon cloth trimmed with point and duchesse lace. She wore a veil and carried lilies-of-the-valley and orchids. The maid of honor was gowned in white over yellow material. She wore a yellow hat, with white plume and carried daisies. The flower girls were gowned in white and carried yellow daisies.

The church was lavishly decorated, there being a profusion of Easter lilies and white carnations banked about the chancel, while lilies were also arranged at the end of the pews in the main aisle, presenting a scene of beauty.

Mrs. William H. Freeman presided at the organ, and while the guests were arriving she rendered an attractive programme of varied selections.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the couple received the congratulations of 600 friends. During the reception a wedding breakfast was served by Holland, of Philadelphia. An orchestra seated in the music room furnished a programme. The decorations at the home were similar to those at the church, Easter lilies and white carnations predominating in the arrangement throughout the reception room, parlors and dining room.

The bride received many presents. They were displayed in an upper room.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have been social favorites in the younger set both here and in New York. Mr. Shepard is a nephew of the late Col. Elliot F. Shepard, for many years editor and proprietor of The Mail and Express, and has been a prominent figure in many of the leading society events in New York. His home during the summer months has been, until recently, with his parents, at "The Gables," on East Front street.

After an extended tour, Mr. and Mrs. Shepard will reside at Madison, Wisconsin, where Mr. Shepard is engaged in business with the Northern Electric Manufacturing Company.

SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS HAD LITTLE TO DO.

Deeds Executed and a Judgment Ordered to Be Paid.

Very little was doing at the regular monthly meeting of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders in the Court House at Somerville yesterday. Oliver H. Perry, the newly-appointed supervisor of roads, presented his bond for $1,000, with sufficient sureties, and it was accepted.

Deeds straightening the line between the county lands and the First Reformed church in Somerville were executed.

The board decided to pay the judgment of $67.49 obtained against the county in a suit brought by Harry W. Hoffman, of Basking Ridge.

The board will meet at the bridge near Grant B. Schley's, in Bernardsville township, Friday at 10 a. m.

Sunday-school Orchestra.

One of the attractive features of the Sunday-school sessions at the Park Avenue Baptist church is the newly organized orchestra, the members of which are G. W. V. Moy, Miss Arline Brown, Miss Marjorie Brown, violins; Martin Stutsman, Stuart Freeman, mandolins; Whitney C. Frazee, cornet; Miss Mary Clark, piano. Mr. Moy will be pleased to add other members to the orchestra.

HER ANTE-BELLUM DAYS

Plainfield Woman Once a Belle of the South Talks Reminiscently.

NEARLY NINETY NOW

Mrs. Montgomery Was One of a Committee of Three Society Matrons to Receive Gen. Zackary Taylor, Hero of Mexican War.

Time's changes have furnished the theme for many a story, and the point for more than one moral. There is a little dwelling on West Fourth street, near Liberty, that houses one who has experienced both the harshness and the kindness of the Great Whirligig, and the story in her life is as interesting a one as can be found outside the covers of a romance.

That little house shelters a belle of ante bellum days in New Orleans, a leader of society in the brilliant metropolis of the old Southland. And what is almost of as much interest, it shelters her granddaughter, her great-granddaughter and her great grandson.

Mrs. Alison Montgomery is the one-time belle. Verging on her ninety-first year, she is peacefully watching the years glide by, cheerful and placid. She lives in a world of reminiscence, but untinged by vain regrets. There is enough to regret, in all conscience, but she could never have been the sort of woman who repines and live to see a fifth generation playing about her feet.

Mrs. Montgomery came to this country with her husband from Edinburgh, her native city, in 1835. Mr. Montgomery, with a few hundred pounds in his pockets, turned his footsteps to the Western world in search of fortune. He found it fast enough to convince him that his good star had beckoned him to America. What he thought of his guiding star when fate and the fortunes of war swept wealth away—and killed him before they allowed him to escape their power—is a matter to be imagined and not written. But that belongs to a later phase of Alison Montgomery's story.

In 1836 the energetic young seeker of wealth and position was studying finance in the office of Brown Brothers, a New York ante bellum firm of bankers famous and powerful in their day. Ten years later Montgomery, knowing banking and brokerage as well as they should be known, went to New Orleans with his wife, to become a cotton broker. He prospered mightily. He became wealthy, and his wife, charming and attractive, found the highest circles of New Orleans society open to her.

She took a leading place in the social world of the gay court of cotton's kingdom, and had her share of its triumphs. At Pass Christian, Miss., the Newport of those days in the South, she was one of a committee of three women who received General Zachary Taylor, hero of the Mexican War, at a reception given in his honor just after the conflict closed. She was the first woman there to take his hand.

When the Civil War broke out Mrs. Montgomery was still of that fashionable and luxurious world. Her sun was high in the heavens, but an eclipse—in which many another sun was dimmed—spread rapidly across its face. The clouds of the conflict darkened its brightness, and it hasn't shone much since. The gloom came thickly when Ben Butler's troops entered the city. They took all of Montgomery's cotton, molasses and rum, and beggared him.

Montgomery had never taken out citizenship papers, and when the war closed he filed a claim for $60,000 damages—a great sum in those days—in the court of claims at Washington, as a British subject. The claim was never allowed. The fact that his only son had served through the war as a rebel artilleryman may have had something to do with that. Anyway, broken in health and spirits by years of fruitless and bootless suing for justice, Montgomery died, in 1882, in Cranford. He came North after the war and never returned to the South to live.

Mrs. Montgomery lived in Cranford after her husband's death, quietly aging, until two years ago. Then she came to 442 West Fourth street, to live with her granddaughter, Mrs. Alice Chandler, and her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Wilson Sherman.

Time has touched Mrs. Montgomery very gently. There, at least, he has treated her with exceeding kindness. Weak, of course, she is, as bodily strength goes, but not as the strength of old people is calculated; and her faculties are but little dimmed. Her mind is perfectly clear, and her sight is good. Her hearing is less keen than it once was, but not enough to interfere with conversation. And she is a charming conversationalist. Pleasant and courteously spoken, as only women of the old days can be, she is especially de-

COLLEGE YOUTHS DINE.

Rutgers Sophomores Feast, with Freshmen Prisoners Looking On.

The class of 1908, Rutgers College, held a dinner at the Hotel Kensington last night. It was not remarkable for quiet or dignity. Several unhappy freshmen were compelled to witness it under duress, and with no regard for their comfort or peace of mind.

After the dinner the youths marched around town singing loudly of Rutgers and shouting, not softly, of the year 1908. People in North avenue who couldn't get to sleep prayed earnestly that it come soon.

On Monday night, at Truell Inn, the class of 1909 held a dinner. They claimed afterwards that there were humbled sophomores at the feast, but the sophomers scoff at this claim and say it is not even remotely based on fact. What is undoubtedly a fact, however, is that some earnest sophomores were shooed away from in front of Truell Inn by a harsh cop, who refused to let them whoop for 1908 solely to annoy the class of 1909.

Coldest Morning of the Winter.

The thermometer one hour before sunrise this morning registered the lowest temperature of the winter, five degrees above zero. The air was very sharp, but dry and clear.

$22,000 FOR THE GUINNS

Craig A. Marsh Recovers Big Verdict For His Clients in Damage Suit.

AGAINST THE P. S. C.

Mrs. Guinn Is Given $15,000 And Her Husband $7,000—Jury Out Hour and a Quarter.

The damage suit of Mrs. Anna M. Guinn, of Carlton avenue, against the Public Service Corporation for $25,000, which was started in the Supreme Court before Judge Fort yesterday, went to the jury this morning. The husband's claim was joined with her suit.

The jury was out an hour and a quarter, returning at 12:15. By its verdict Mrs. Guinn was given $15,000 and her husband $7,000. Craig A. Marsh represented the plaintiff, while Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, assisted by Howard McSherry, of Newark, represented the defendant company.

Many witnesses were called yesterday afternoon by both the plaintiff and defendant, the former trying to prove that her injuries received in the trolley accident are permanent. The Public Service Corporation maintained that Mrs. Guinn's injuries are the result of something foreign to the accident and that she would have suffered from the condition had she not been in the trolley crash. Dr. Mravlag, a witness for the trolley company, even went so far as to intimate that the plaintiff was shamming, although it was shown that he only spent about fifteen minutes in examining Mrs. Guinn.

It is claimed that Mrs. Guinn has lost her senses of smell and taste, yet no tests were made in court. The plaintiff occupied a wheel chair throughout the trial and her general condition appeared to impress the jury.

JURY HEARD ALL ABOUT RIBS IN ROMPT SUIT

THEN THEY DECIDE HE HAD NO CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST GULICK.

Charles Romph's suit for $2,000 damages against Abram Gulick, of Lincoln, was decided adversely to the plaintiff yesterday, after a trial before Judge Heisley, in New Brunswick. The plaintiff's case was swamped by testimony on the other side.

Romph asked for compensation for three ribs alleged to have been broken by Gulick in a quarrel on the latter's place. The defense brought forward David Taylor, a Lincoln saloon keeper, to prove that Romph, an hour after the alleged encounter, had a drink in his place, and Dr. Lufburrow gave expert testimony to the effect that a man with broken ribs could not have walked to the hotel as Romph did. The defense also brought out the fact that Romph was convicted of assault and battery in Somerville in 1900, and fined. Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., counsel for Gulick, asked Dr. Gaston, who was on the stand for Romph, a long string of medical questions touching on and appertaining to ribs.

The jury was out only a half an hour. Their verdict was no cause of action. G. W. V. Moy was the plaintiff's lawyer.

Lawyer Receives Settlement.

Following the termination of the case of Mrs. Anna M. Guinn against the Public Service Corporation, in the Supreme Court, at Elizabeth, this morning, the case of George Ball against the Public Service Corporation, for injuries received in the same trolley accident that prompted Mrs. Guinn's suit, was called, and the jury drawn. Immediately afterward counsel got together and made an amicable settlement. Mr. Ball's suit was for $10,000. He refused to tell the terms of the settlement. Craig A. Marsh, Esq., represented Mr. Ball.

To Erect $7,000 Residence.

William H. Chamberlain, of Westfield, son-in-law of John McIntyre, of North avenue, has filed plans for the erection of a $7,000 residence on Berkley avenue, near Denmark road. William C. Smith will do the mason work and William Brokaw the carpentering. Inspector Doane has also given a permit to the Public Service Corporation for the erection of a shed near the Madison avenue electric light plant.

ROBBED BY A FOOTPAD

Mrs. J. P. Burd's Handbag Snatched From Her on Watchung Avenue.

CONTAINED $51 IN BILLS

Crime Committed at 8:30 o'Clock, Near the Business Section—Futile Pursuit of the Thief.

In the center of town, within two blocks of the business section, at an hour when passersby were still out in early evening numbers, Mrs. J. P. Burd, a milliner, was robbed by a footpad last night. The thief got away with a handbag containing $51.

The robbery occurred at Watchung avenue and Fifth street, at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Burd lives at 506 Watchung avenue, and a very few more steps would have carried her into her home in safety. Mrs. Burd's millinery shop is at 153 East Front stret. She closed it shortly after 8 o'clock, and started homeward, going down Watchung avenue. Men and women were passing frequently on both sides of the street, and a full moon made the way unusually light, and thoughts of footpads and other night terrors were far from Mrs. Burd's mind. She carried a small, flat leather bag, of the sort women wear strapped to their hands, in which a roll of bills containing $51 reposed.

At the corner of Fifth street a man sprang from behind a tree. Before the startled woman had time to realize fully what was impending he struck at her with one hand and snatched at the bag with the other. Mrs. Burd shrank back but clung to the bag. The blow missed her. The footpad jerked savagely at the bag, and the strap gave way. He turned and fled toward the railroad with bag and money, leaving Mrs. Burd with a convulsive grip on the strap.

Mrs. Burd screamed for help. No one had been very near the scene when the man sprang out from behind the tree, but Mrs. Burd's screams drew a crowd as if the neighborhood had been filled with pedestrians. George Scribner, who keeps a stationery store at Watchung avenue, opposite the railroad depot, heard the cries and came out on the street just as the fleeing thief started up Fourth street, toward Washington. Scribner gave chase, but the man had a good start and ran about twice as fast as his pursuer. He shook off the pursuit at the railroad embankment on Washington street.

The police were notified at once, and men were dispatched to the scene. They could get no trace of the thief. Mrs. Burd had no description of him to give beyond the fact that he was of medium height. She didn't know whether he was black or white. Scribner said he was of stocky build, and wore a pea jacket.

The police are stirred over the crime. It is the first one of its kind in some time. Just about the time of the robbery Sergeant Frederickson and Patrolman Myers were in the neighborhood. They heard nothing.

SEEING HISTORICAL SPOTS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Howard G. Lapsley Visits Burns' Birthplace and the Tower of London.

Howard G. Lapsley, a graduate of the high school last June, is enjoying an extended tour through England, Scotland and France, and he has written something of his interesting experiences to his Plainfield schoolmates.

In Scotland he stopped at a hotel opposite the inn at which Bobby Burns' Tam O' Shanter and Sonter John had their meetings. He visited Burns' birthplace, and saw Burns relics aplenty. He fell in love with Glasgow's municipal government and left there a champion of municipal ownership.

In York, England, he visited the immense cocoa works of Rowntree & Co., and in London he went through the famous Tower, by special permit from the governor. His description of some of the old dungeons and the torture appliances is exceedingly interesting.

WALKED UNDER A RIVER

First Plainfielders to Make a Trip Through a Hudson Tunnel.

5,7000 FEET IN LENGTH

Work Begun by British Syndicate in 1875 Taken Up By American Company—Two Bores.

Through the courtesy of a resident of this city who is one of the capitalists financing the project, City Judge William N. Runyon, and Thomas M. Muir, of The Daily Press reportorial staff, were permitted to be the first Plainfielders to pass through the Hudson Companies North tunnel under the Hudson river from Jersey City to New York. The trip is one that few men outside of employes have undertaken, the bore not being entirely completed, and the privilege to do so is only accorded after the applicant signs off all right to claim damages in case of accident. Messrs. Runyon and Muir accomplished the feat yesterday afternoon, entering the tunnel at the foot of Fifteenth street, Jersey City, and emerging at Morton street, Manhattan, none the worse for the experience beyond soiled clothing, caused by water dripping down upon them in places where the finishing touches have not been given.

The Hudson Companies is composed of the Hudson and Manhattan R. R. Co., the New York and Jersey R. R. Co., organized to operate trolley cars from northern New Jersey directly to New York. The tunnel is in two parts, a north and south bore, the latter being about half completed. The north tunnel was originally started in 1875 by English capitalists but was abandoned after a section of it caved in, killing twenty men.

Many hundreds of thousands of dollars were lost in the first venture and in after years several attempts were made to complete the bore but with no success. The method of tunneling was crude and costly and so many obstacles were met that could not be overcome that very little was accomplished. With the introduction of hydraulic machinery and its adoption by the Pennsylvania Railroad to build two tubes under the river from New Jersey to Manhattan island, the Hudson Companies was organized to take up the work begun by the Englishmen and finish it. That was over two years ago and inside of another year, a trip beneath the mighty waters of the Hudson in a trolley car will be part of the daily routine of a Jersey commuter.

The escort who took the Plainfielders through yesterday, stated that the North bore is 5,700 feet long, the first 800 feet from the Jersey side having been constructed in 1875. It is of cement and brick and easily shows its age in contract with the newer parts. Water is constantly dripping through and it will have to undergo a thorough overhauling before cars are operated. The new sections are built of steel arches nearly a foot thick, covered over with twenty inches of concrete, forming an impenetrable mass. The tunnel is about seventy-five feet below the surface level of the river but as the sightseer stands beneath parts in the center where the full course of concrete has not been put on, the churning of screws on steamers and ferryboats overhead, can be distinctly heard. It requires a half hour's time to make the journey on foot from shore to shore and because of the fetid condition of the air the uninitiated doesn't care a whole lot about remaining any longer.

The North bore is to be continued under ground to Church and Cortland street, where it will be connected with the Subway by a spur running over to Broadway and Fulton street. The South bore will terminate near the Pennsylvania's big depot now being built at Thirty-fourth street.

Will Select Suitable Play.

Miss Louise Kline, Howard Freeman, Miss Gertrude Hunter, Malcomb Davis, and George Rittenhouse, as a committee from the senior class of the Plainfield High School, has been appointed to select the annual play to be given by the seniors. The play will probably be given during the Easter vacation.

Bachelor Dinner.

Frederick Mead Shepard, whose marriage to Miss Charlotte Frances Lowe took place this afternoon at Grace church, gave his bachelor dinner at the Casino last night. Covers were laid for ten, including the best man and ushers.

Joseph Haurand Goes South.

Joseph Haurand, of Manning avenue, left Monday for Virginia, where he will engage in tobacco growing, having purchased a plantation. His family will follow him as soon as he becomes settled.

ANOTHER FOWLER BILL.

Permits National Banks to Loan Larger Sum to Single Individual.

Washington, Jan. 10.—In addition to his general currency bill, which was explained at length in these dispatches Monday, Congressman Fowler has also introduced a bill to amend the revised statutes relating to losses of national banks. The bill provides that the section to be amended shall read as follows:

The total liabilities to any association, of any person, or of any company, corporation or firm, for borrowed money, including the liabilities of the several members thereof, shall at no time exceed one-tenth part of the amount of the capital stock actually paid in and unexpended surplus of such association. But the discount of bills of exchange, drawn in good faith against actually existing values in process of shipment from seller to buyer, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same given in payment for a commodity, and not for accommodation or for a loan of money, shall not be considered as money borrowed.

Senator Kean has introduced three bills granting relief to private parties, all of whom are residents of States other than New Jersey. They were all introduced by request.

Senator Kean has also filed a petition of Mrs. L. M. Weongartner, of Englewood, asking for legislation for the protection of Niagara Falls.

$10,000 FOR DOVER HEIRS.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 10.—Through Attorney Ballentine, of this city, heirs have been found to $10,000 left by John Pierson, an itinerant umbrella mender, who died recently in Virginia.

The heirs are the decedent's brothers, Robert and Stephen Pierson, of Dover. Robert is sixty-three years old and his brother is not many years his junior. They work as canal hands. The family lived here forty years ago, and upon separating they went to different parts of the country.

The work of tracing the relationship was completed and the affidavits turned over to the surviving brothers, who left for Dover. The relationship of the Pierson family was traced through Mrs. Mary Travis, of this city, who knew the family forty years ago. Robert did not know what had become of the other members of the family, except his brother Stephen, and was surprised to learn that they were all dead. There were originally ten children in the family.

Opera House for Rahway.

Rahway, Jan. 10.—The A. B. Shotwell estate property, on Main street, opposite Trinity church, has been sold, and it is proposed to erect an opera house, with accommodations for city offices and a hall for political meetings and lectures. Thomas D. Van Schaick and other tenants have received notice to vacate the premises by March 1. Rahway has had no place of amusement like the one planned since the opera house on Irving street burned, many years ago. During the life of the late George S. Bracher steps of a similar nature were taken regarding this same property, but it fell through at his death.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

The case of Charles Romph against Abram Gulick, of Lincoln, whom he accused of feloniously assaulting him and breaking a rib, for which he demanded damages, was decided adversely to the plaintiff in New Brunswick yesterday. A number of witnesses were sworn, the chief of which for Gulick was Dr. Lufburrow, of Plainfield, who demonstrated to the satisfaction of the jury that the fractured rib of which Romph complained might have come from a dozen causes quite remote from an assaut by Gulick. The latter entered a general denial of the charges.

Doubt that the dead man found in the brook at Sebring's Mill came by his death at the spot where the remains were discovered is raised by the discovery of the fact that the lock of the dam was open on Sunday. Heavy rains had fallen about that time, and it is quite possible that the body floated down from some point to the eastward.

Charles A. Morris, of Perth Amboy, who was ill with diphtheria at the home of Lester Meseroll three weeks ago, has entirely recovered his health and returned to work.

Mayor Bill Smith says business is very good in Caldwell. He is still interested in affairs in New Market, but his no regrets over moving.

Mrs. Louis Poulson, of Martin's Corner, Pa., has returned home after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Connover.

Work on the enlargement of the Siriski building, where the Freedman market is located, is very nearly completed.

Charles Ward of Bayonne, has returned home after a visit to friends in New Market.

Miss Loretta Thornton has been spending a week with relatives in Jersey City.

Friendship Circle will not meet this week.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Fanwood Council, R. A., installed its newly elected officers at last night's meeting of the council. Fanwood lost over one-third of its membership by the action of the supreme council in changing the rate of assessment. The council starts off with a most encouraging outlook for the year under the regency of James B. Guttridge.

The first of the dances of the new year will be held by the Suburban Club tomorrow night in the club hall. The affair promises to be a most enjoyable one, as all the Suburban social events are.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Archibold, who have been visiting Mr. Archibold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Archibold, of Washington Valley, have returned to their home at Westfield.

Excelsior H. and L. Co. holds its annual election of company officers at the monthly meeting of the company to be held Monday night, Jan. 15.

John Wade has returned to his studies at the Centenary Collegiate School at Hightstown, after spending the holidays with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Deegan, who were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church, will reside with the bride's father, W. S. Rapp.

A few of the owners of sleighs were venturesome enough to get out and try the sleighing yesterday.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A surprise party was held Monday evening in honor of Sumner F. Randolph. Twenty-five friends from Oak Tree, New Brunswick, and this place joined in the merry-making. Games and dancing were the principal features of the evening. At 4 o'clock the party broke up and the guests were taken to their homes by means of a straw-ride.

A party consisting of forty friends from this place, Perth Amboy and Oak Tree gave a surprise celebration in honor of Elmer Teeple's thirty-fifth birthday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Teeple, Monday evening. After the usual amusements all enjoyed a late supper, and continued their festivities until the early morning hours.

Mrs. Vail, mother of Edward Vail, of Plainfield avenue, has recovered from her late illness and is now able to get about the house again.

John Linaberry has not yet found his intelligent fox terrier which lately strayed away.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church met in Vincent chapel yesterday to discuss plans for the winter.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. T. Ostrom, of Carlton avenue.

"Prayer for Home Missions," will be the topic of the service to be held at the Congregational church tonight. Miss Bertha vanNuis Willis will sing.

The officers of the Park Avenue Baptist church are planning to raise $5,000 during the next three years to liquidate the indebtedness on the church.

Deacon Henry E. Needham will lead the Young People's Society meeting at the First Baptist church on Friday night. The topic will be "How Finding Christ Changes the Life."

On Thursday night, January 18, Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will hold one of his regular receptions at the church. There will be an informal programme.

Owing to the week of prayer service at the Park Avenue Bapist church, the Christian Endeavor Society postponed its business meeting scheduled for last night. Notice of the new date will be given later.

During the past year, Rev. A. E. Finn, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, made 656 pastoral calls, attended nine funerals, and received into church membership seven members, which makes a total of thirty-eight new members received in two years.

Expert to Probe Atlantic City Affairs.

Atlantic City, Jan. 10.—Judge Swayze, of the Supreme Court, it is expected, will appoint an expert to investigate the municipal affairs at Atlantic City when the January court term opens at May's Landing. Former Judge Joseph Thompson will appear as counsel for the committee of citizens who have been pressing the demand for the municipal investigation. Judge Thompson is not associated with the committee of citizens which intends, from statements made yesterday, to present to the grand jury evidence upon which it expects the return of indictments against some of the city officials who were connected with the passing of the Atlantic avenue asphalt paving contract.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Guy Brothers' minstrels is an organization now in its thirty-fifth year, yet it shows no sign of age. It is not only up-to-date in the splendor of its scenic and electrical effects and in the freshness and excellence of its long list of performers, its singers, dancers, comedians and acrobats, but is a little more than this. In its display of the Cintometograph wonders it might be said to be "up to tomorrow." The parade given at noon today pleased large crowds as the show is sure to do at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight.

Daniel V. Arthur is the sponsor for "The Education of Mr. Pipp," in which Digby Bell is starred in the role of Mr. Pipp, and others in the cast are Helen Tracy, Janet Beecher, Adele Luehrman, Sam B. Hardy, Sam Colt, W. S. St. Clair, Frank Powell, Fred Courtenay, Elenore Carroll, William Evans, Grace Thorne and C. Jay Williams. The play will be shown at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night exactly as it was presented at the Liberty theatre, New York.

Plays may come and plays may go, but it will be some time before any author will write a musical piece that will attain the measure of success that has been vouchsafed "Little Johnny Jones," that fascinating musical melodrama from the pen of Geo. M. Cohan. It will be presented here at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday, Jan. 17, matinee and night, and that capacity audiences will be in attendance there is but little doubt.

The Britt-Nelson fight pictures, which will be shown at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday afternoon and evening, are a moving, almost talking exemplification of the healthfulness and advantages of boxing. There are shown two splendid young athletes, pictures of health and vigor, combatting and struggling like mad bulls, yet without sustaining injury or accident, and undergoing a physical strain which would stop an ordinary man in ten short minutes. Round after round, these fine, young fellows battle, and each succeeding round finds them as fresh and virile as when the fray began. These are the genuine, copyrighted pictures, taken at the ringside at Colma, Cal., where Nelson won the great battle for the lightweight crown, and are owned and presented by James W. Coffroth, president of the Colma Athletic Club.

HEALTHY PLANTS
Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.
Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere,—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.
A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.
You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.
You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.
You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.
Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

PRONUNCIATION OF "VALET."

Naturalization Process for Foreign Words.

In answer to a question from an inquirer as to the correct pronunciation of "valet" the Baltimore Sun says that at this date the leading dictionaries recognize two forms as being correct—either "val-let" or "va-lay." Dictionaries are the records of current usage, and their agreement on this point means that the time has arrived when the word is looked upon as a part of the English language.

This is the customary course through which a foreign word goes after its first importation into our vocabulary. It is naturally considered at first a foreigner, pure and simple, and is treated as such both in pronunciation and spelling. In the course of time its "foreignness" disappears in inverse ratio to the frequency of its use and the whim of fashion, and eventually its Anglicization becomes complete, although, as we have no National Academy to pronounce authoritatively upon such questions, the exact time when the foreigner becomes entitled to its final naturalization—as seems to be now the case with "valet."

While this is a well known process in philology, there are maney foreign words not yet Anglicized as to pronunciation, though they are in constant use in our language. For instance, we do not say "de-pott," and yet "depot" has been used in English for over 100 years. We do not speak of a ballet girl as a "ballett girls" (and "ballet" is on record in English as far back as 1773); nor of her debut as "debutt" (and "debut" is found in one of Chesterfield's letters under act of 1751); nor of croquet as "crokett," of sachet as "sashet," bouquet as "bucket."

Somerset Agriculturists Meet.

Somerville, Jan. 10—The Somerset County Board of Agriculture held its annual meeting on Saturday. Judge Louis H. Schenck, the president, in his annual address, said that if more of the farmers in the county would become members of the board and would attend the meetings there would be no further complaint about farming not being profitable. Professor Warren, the State horticulturist, made an interesting address on "The Renewal of the Peach Industry." The annual election of officers resulted as follows; President, Louis H. Schenck; vice-president, Bernhard Meyer; secretary and treasurer, A. P. Sutphen; directors, C. M. Martin, William C. Lane, G. S. Voorhees, F. C. Sutro, Minna V. Lannis, S. D. Opie, William J. Logan, Bernhard Meyer, A. V. D. Polhemus, George B. Randolph, John Groendyke, John V. M. Sutphen, Charles H. Cook, Heuston Labair, W. H. Rogers, John C. Cooper; representative to State board, Hubert P. Phillips; representatives to State Horticultural Society, Arthur F. Randolph, William J. Logan.

Royal Arcanum Demurs.

Boston, Jan. 10.—The Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum filed in the equity session of the Supreme Court a demurrer and answer to the suit brought by Stephen W. Reynolds and other members of the order seeking to restrain it from putting into effect the new rates resulting from the bylaws adopted at Atlantic City, and Put in Bay, O. The demurrer which, it is expressly stipulated, is not intended for delay, attacks the plaintiff's bill on the ground that it does not show any illegality or invalidity in the amendments of the laws of the order or any legal or equitable right of the plaintiff's. The answer argues that the new rates are reasonable and nessary to assure the ability of the order to meet its obligations.

Miss Lulu Randolph, of West Eighth street, will leave for Boston on Saturday, where she will spend a week with friends.

Plainfield, N. J., January 10, 1906.

Totally ignoring Everett Colby will not tend to increase the public's respect for the Senate or for the Republican machine of the State which employs this method to kill the independent movement. Colby's good work will be remembered when the henchmen of the party in the Senate will have passed into oblivion.

Senator Ackerman has indeed fared well as a new member of the State Senate. As chairman of the finance committee, he will be one of the prominent figures of the Legislature and as a member of various other important committees he will be additionally conspicuous. Union county's prestige in New Jersey's Upper House promises to remain as great as it has been at any time during the great succession including Magie, Voorhees, and Cross.

Printers' Ink, recognized as the foremost journal for advertisers in the United States, says editorially this week: "The first complete circulation statement for 1905 to be received by Rowell's American Newspaper Directory from a daily paper came from the Plainfield, N. J., Daily Press. The average for the year was 2,874 perfect copies printed. The statement from the Paterson, N. J., Guardian was postmarked at the New York post office about one hour later. Next in order came the Greensburg, Pa., Tribune and the Lockport, N. Y., Union-Sun."

COLBY FORCES AND MESSAGE.

Meeting in Newark Last Night and Statement Coming Today.

When Governor Stokes' message was released yesterday and Senator Colby and his lieutenant, George L. Record, the bossiest boss of all the bosses, examined it, neither would comment on it. There was a conference between the Colby forces after the legislative session and afterwards Record announced that there would be a meeting during the evening of the Colby forces in Newark and that a statement would be given out this morning.

Another little event that was amusing yesterday was the caucus of the three Democrats in the House, one from Warren, one from Sussex and one from Hunterdon, and the three voted that this small number of Democrats should not lose their identity as Democrats in the House. Afterwards they nominated a full ticket for officers of the House and stood by it with their three votes.

Heavy New York Taxes for Women.

New York, Jan. 10.—The personal property tax list aggregating $3,492,015,682, which was made public yesterday, contains two interesting names besides those of Carnegie, Sage, Astor and Vanderbilt and a few others who are known to have great wealth. One of them is that of Emilie Grigsby, the favorite in recent days of the late Charles T. Yerkes. Her personalty is assessed at $500,000, which shows her to be more than a millionaire in all probability, for her handsome Park avenue residence is hers in her own name. A second name is that of Mrs. Alan W. Wood, widow of the millionaire coal operator of Pittsburg, the girl who was known in opera chorus days as Goldie Mohr.

M. E. Church Officers.

The board of trustees of the Monroe Avenue Methodist Episcopal church met at the parsonage on Monday evening for the purpose of reorganization. The following officers were chosen for the year: President, Walter M. McGee; secretary, John J. Praed; treasurer, Edwin H. Beekman.

Mrs. J. H. Anderson, formerly of this city, but now of New York, who has been very ill with rheumatism, has recovered.

MINISTERS DISCUSS SPIRIT OF REVIVALS

AFTER HEARING PAPER IN THE PSYCHOLOGY OF THEM BY NEW YORK DIVINE

Rev. Dr. Harry P. Nichols, rector of Holy Trinity P. E. church, New York, delivered a highly interesting paper on "The Psychology of Revivals" before the Clericus at Grace P. E. church parish house yesterday afternoon. The Ministerial Association was well represented, by special invitation, and more than a score of clerics of various denominations heard the paper. The Clericus embraces New Brunswick, Rahway and other nearby places, and a number of out-of-town Episcopalian ministers attended the meeting.

Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church, presided, in the absence of Dr. Taylor, the president. The ministers were entertained at lunch before the meeting at 1 o'clock.

Because of the wave of revivals spreading over the country, the paper was of unusual interest to Dr. Nichols' hearers. He contrasted the cataclysmic method with the gradual educational uplifting of the soul and the moral sense. He held that a quiter, calmer style of conversion than characterized the old revivals is better.

General discussion followed the paper. Rev. Mr. Lunn, who is conducting the revivals at Hope chapel, said that he understood about forty per cent. of the professed converts in a Rochester revival a year ago remained firm. Dr. Nichols said he wondered how much difference there was between the backsliding among converts and lack of steadfastness in Episcopalians who have been confirmed. The general opinion of the ministers on the revival question was that methods different from those of the old hurrah-days was desirable. Dr. Nichols' general contention was that the revival spirit is good, but revival methods are not.

lightful in reminiscent talks. She made an hour in the neat little sitting room of the Sherman home a very great pleasure for a Daily Press reporter yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Montgomery comes of a long-lived family, and should reach the century mark almost as well preserved as she is today. One of her six brothers is living in England at the age of ninety-five. Until she moved here two years ago she kept house for herself, and was not quite ready to give it up then of her own accord. Of late she has not left the house, but as recently as last May she took a trip to New Brunswick alone and in safety. She had two children, a girl besides the rebel soldier boy. The latter died a few years after the war, but the daughter lived to marry and raised Mrs. Chandler. Mrs. Sherman is the latter's daughter, and her small son, Clifton Robert Sherman, is the fifth generation of her descendants that Mrs. Montgomery has lived to see growing up.

"I have seen many things in the course of my life," said Mrs. Montgomery to the visitor from The Press, "and if I had the literary skill to give it shape, surely it is an interesting book I might write.

"Regrets? Not enough to spoil my peace of mind. I have a comfortable and pleasant home, and what more does one of my age want? Nothing."

Perhaps. Probably, one will admit, it is true. But one cannot help thinking of the difference between the reception room at Pass Christian and the sitting room on West Fourth street, and wonder.

TRUST COMPANY ELECTION.

Same Directorate and Probably Same Officers.

The annual meeting of The Plainfield Trust Company was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when these directors were chosen for the coming year:

Ernest R. Ackerman, J. Herbert Case, Augustus V. Heely, James W. Jackson, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Charles W. McCutchen, Henry A. McGee, Walter M. McGee, George P. Mellick, Charles A. Reed, Isaac W. Rushmore, Samuel Townsend, Lewis E. Waring, Orville T. Waring, of this city; Frederick Geller, of New York. The directors will meet on Thursday, January 18, to organize. These officers will probably be re-elected:

President, O. T. Waring; vice presidents, Henry A. McGee, A. V. Heely; secretary-treasurer, J. Herbert Case; assistant secretary-treasurer, Edward F. Feickert.

Mr. Murphy Park Commissioner.

Chief Justice Gummere appointed former Governor Franklin Murphy as a park commissioner of Newark, yesterday, to fill the unexpired term of the late Robert F. Ballantine. Mr. Murphy will begin his duties at once. Mr. Ballantine succeeded Mr. Murphy as a member of the Park Board in 1909, when the latter resigned to become Governor. Mr. Ballantine had served less than one year of his second term when his death occurred. He was reappointed last May. It was stated that the chief justice had received assurance that Mr. Murphy would accept the proffered appointment.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 10.—The first court-martial of a midshipman under the act of 1903, providing dismissal for "encouraging or countenancing hazing" began this morning. Midshipman Stephen Decatur, Jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., being on trial. A PLAINFIELD CASE.

Many More Like It In Plainfield.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Plainfield. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof that such conclusive evidence.

Mrs. Julia Hynes, of 523 Sixth street, Plainfield, N. J., says. "For nearly a year I was suffering with a severe pain in the loins, or what is generally called backache. I was also afflicted with a stiffness or lameness of the limbs and the kidney secretions were highly colored and contained some sediment. Any remedies that I took to clear up the kidney secretions and rid me of my aches and pains did me apparently no good or benefit. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills doing so much for people suffering as I was, and began using them, getting a supply at Randolph's drug store. Though at first I saw no change in my condition, I soon began to have less pain in my back and my limbs were not stiff any more. I kept right on with the pills and took them several months, with the result that they cured me of my trouble and I am glad to endorse them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

City Judge William N. Runyon is to be interlocutor in the Elks minstrels first part. Intending patrons may rest assured that the end men will have to be on their job and that the Old Jokes Home will not be visited for material.

John S. Leick, who delighted Plainfielders many times last summer with cornet solos at the band concerts, is now appearing in a vaudeville specialty called "The Military Octette, or the Girl With the Baton." It is being presented at Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street theatre, New York, this week.

The songs "Yankee Doodle Boy" and "Give My Regards to Broadway," were written by Geo. M. Cohan and first sung in "Little Johnny Jones," which comes to this city next Wednesday night. The scene where "Regards to Broadway" is introduced is one of the prettiest that has ever been placed on the stage, depicting a full rigged ship starting from England for America with "Johnny Jones" on the dock calling to his friends to "remember me to Herald Square."

Digby Bell, the star in "The Education of Mr. Pipp," which comes to the New Plainfield tomorrow night, has a valet who, unlike most of his kind, is a thrifty man. He has saved saved thirty or forty dollars recently and wanted to put it in the bank, so he asked Mr. Bell's advice as to where it should be placed.

"Why, Mike," said Mr. Bell, "I should put it in the Union Dime Savings Bank."

Mike thanked him and Mr. Bell went on for his next scene. In making his change for the succeeding act, Mike's brow was troubled and his mind preoccupied.

"I dunno about that bank, Mr. Bell," he finally burst out, "you know I don't belong to no union; do you think they would let me put my money in there?"

Guests of Honor.

The first train over the new tracks of the Rahway Valley Railroad to East Summit, was run on New Year's Day, when, through the courtesy of Vice President Louis Keller, General Superintendent G. H. Dankerl, and Engineeer John H. Cornell, one train of the special service to Baltusrol was extended to East Summit for the accommodation of the family of Mrs. William S. Dean, who entertained them at dinner. There were thirteen in the party: Mrs. Elizabeth Mooney, (mother of Mrs. Dean), and sons, Edmund, Herbert and Lyell Dean; Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gage Walker and family, all of Scotch Plains, and Miss Elsie Woodruff, of Rahway.

The train arrived at Russel place at 11 o'clock, and was met by a large delegation from East Summit. On the return trip the train left at 4:40 p. m.

"Thrown Down by the Devil."

"Thrown Down by the Devil," will be the topic of the evangelistic service to be conducted at Faith chapel, tonight, by Rev. C. C. Luther. The services yesterday afternoon and last night were very largely attended and all were deeply impressed with the words of the evangelist. Several persons asked for prayers last night.

Philip Drake, of West Third street, is undergoing treatment at Muhlenberg Hospital, having sustained an injury while at work in a local factory.

GOVERNOR STOKES' ANNUAL MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

I congratulate you on the promising auspices under which you meet. The spirit of our people moves toward better government and better laws with every advance in thought and morals, and in this hour, when the awakened national conscience calls for higher ideals, it finds us not halting laggards, but already enlisted to execute the demands of right and justice. Our legislation has kept pace with the best thought of the times and has led rather than followed the trend of events. Indeed, the work of this session will be largely the continuance of policies previously outlined. With prophetic anticipation the last legislature opened the way by providing for the appointment of commissions to investigate and secure information upon many of the questions that will come before you. It is your good fortune to have the opportunity of settling these questions and of associating yourselves with measures that will keep New Jersey an example for emulation.

State Finances.

The finances of our state continue in excellent condition. An income without a state tax sufficient to pay the state expenses and help defray municipal expenses is a source of satisfaction. It is not, however, a justification of extravagance either in expenditure or appropriation. Economy must continue to be our policy. The advertised surplus in the treasury has invited many large and often thoughtless demands upon the state purse. Oct. 31, the close of the fiscal year, finds a large balance on hand. This is an overnight balance, however, and is absorbed by its debts the next morning.

On Oct. 31, 1905, the overnight balance in the treasury was $2,858,398.13. Nov. 1, the next morning, it was confronted by obligations in the way of appropriations authorized by the legislature amounting to $4,301,733.57, so that the treasury balance at its highest point is less than two-thirds of the annual authorized expenditure of the state. This sum is sufficient for practical purposes, but none too large for safe financiering and never a reason for careless expenditure.

Care In Legislation.

I had occasion last year to request the legislature to exercise greater care in the preparation and consideration of bills. Some bills were evidently never read by the introducers. A vast majority of the bills showed great carelessness in capitalization and punctuation; in some cases to such an extent that the meaning of the language was obscured. There is no reason why a public act should not be so phrased and so punctuated that it will stand the test of good English and be easily understood by the ordinary reader.

The titles of a large number of the bills were defective. Under the decisions of the courts defective titles are not necessarily fatal to an act. For that reason I did not feel warranted in rejecting measures solely on that account. There is no reason, however, why the titles to bills should not be correct, and, having made this suggestion to the legislature in advance, I shall feel warranted in insisting upon its observance.

Cognate to this subject is the growing tendency to multiply laws, to the confusion of our statutes.

For ten years the legislature has averaged 250 separate acts a year. This increasing mass of undigested and conflicting legislation, much of it passed for specific purposes, without regard to its relation to our general system of jurisprudence, makes it well nigh impossible to know the law and more difficult to interpret the law. This burdens the people with litigation, not so much to settle disputes as to ascertain what the law is. It makes difficult the performance of official duty and especially the financing of municipal expenses. Such a system must in time fall of its own weight. Governor Griggs laid down as the test of legislation the rule that no law should be passed unless its necessity was unquestioned. That rule is more applicable today than when he stated it ten years ago.

Dependents.

In my inaugural I called attention to the work of the state in the care of its dependents. About 30 per cent of the state's disbursements are given to this cause. The state is today caring for or aids in the care of 5,257 insane persons, 636 feeble minded, 35 blind, and in addition to these there are in the state prison and the Rahway reformatory 1,658 inmates. The State Home For Girls contains 154 inmates and the State Home For Boys 472.

To provide for a more careful supervision of the state's charities the last legislature created a department of charities and corrections. The work of that department has fully justified its creation. Its expenses have amounted in its eight months of existence to $5,350.22. Under the former system the architect's fees alone upon the sum appropriated by the legislature for improvements would have amounted to $25,162.35, $17,138.02 more than the total cost of this department for a year at its present ratio of expense.

The legislature appropriated $558,766 for the erection of a new wing to the state prison, for one to the State hospital at Trenton, for a new building at the State Home For Girls and for various improvements in the way of lighting and heating. Ordinarily deficiency appropriations are required to complete contemplated improvements. Under the supervision of this department the purposes of the legislature in appropriating the sum above referred to will be carried out at an expense of $503,267 and a saving of $55,499.

The department has not yet had time to thoroughly investigate the question of what imposition the state may be suffering in the care of its wards. It is probable that a considerable number of those now maintained by the state should be cared for in whole or in part by their immediate relatives. An enrollment of the inmates of all our penal, reformatory and charitable institutions is now under way. When this is finished the state will have not only a complete record of every one of its dependents, but will be able to ascertain how many are worthy of the state's bounty and how many should be cared for at the expense of relatives, who have a legal as well as a moral duty toward the unfortunate members of their family.

A conference of the heads of the various state institutions is held quarterly or more frequently at the discretion of the commissioner of charities and corrections. At these conferences are discussed questions affecting the management of our institutions and the welfare of their inmates. New Jersey is unique among the states in this particular feature, which would seem to provide all the advantages of a state board of control without any of its weaknesses.

A number of the penal institutions of the country are not only self supporting, but add to the revenues of the state. The commissioner of charities and corrections, at my request, made a report upon the cost of maintenance of our penal institutions, which will be found in his annual report. I commend it to your consideration. The commissioner has had several conferences with the associated labor organizations of the state with a view to devising some means by which better returns can be obtained from the labor of our prisoners without competing with the honest labor of the state. It is not an easy problem. His suggestion that some of the proceeds of the labor of the prisoners be devoted to the support of their unfortunate families has met with almost universal approval and has attracted the attention of neighboring states. This question, though difficult of solution is one of great importance, and while it cannot be settled hastily both progress and reform demand that it be considered.

Rahway Reformatory.

The reformatory at Rahway has been in operation more than four years. It was the subject of no little controversy at its inception, and the legislature did not realize the magnitude of the undertaking when the project was authorized. The institution suffered in popularity on that account. The state has spent on it to date $1,048,230, and the reports of the institution show that $100,000 worth of construction has been accomplished by the inmates. The reformatory is doing excellent work. The inmates by training in the useful trades in school work, in military drill and by the constant employment of their time acquire habits of self control and self dependence which fit them to go out into the world again. Seven hundred and fifty men have been received since the institution was opened, 420 of whom have been released on parole and provided with employment. Of these 77 per cent have remained law abiding citizens.

The present capacity of the institution affords space for 250. The present number of inmates amounts to 401, so that no less than 150 are now without cells and are sleeping on cots in the corridors. The preservation of order under these conditions is difficult, and the fact that no outbreak has occurred speaks well for the discipline maintained. It should be remembered that offenders are committed to this reformatory by the courts, and the management has no control over the number it shall receive. This conflict between the courts' orders and the capacity of the institution should be adjusted. Either the law should be amended or additional capacity provided.

Tenement House Department.

The work of the state board of tenement house supervision, whose annual report has been submitted to you, commends itself. This department has been in existence for about one year and a half. It exercises a certain supervision over all the tenement houses in the state. Of these there are about 35,000 old or existing houses. The work of the department is divided between improving the old houses and seeing that the new ones are erected in accordance with the law.

The board has an inspecting force of ten men, eight of whom are employed on new building work, but are not able to cover the entire field. This leaves two men to devote their attention to the 35,000 existing tenements located in all parts of the state. Many violations of the law have been remedied in the case of old tenement houses by the mere sending out of notices to the agents or owners, but the board requires a considerably larger force for personal inspection work.

The report of the board shows that much has been accomplished toward removing tenement evils, and the law itself is a guarantee that they can never become more extensive. The official approval of the board is necessary to the erection of any new tenement house. This being the case, New Jersey should in a few years become a state of model tenements. During the year ending Oct. 31, 1905, plans for new tenements estimated to cost more than $6,000,000 were approved by the board. This shows that the law is practicable and does not halt investment in this class of property. The work is most essential to the health, morals and happiness of a large number of people, and the board should be provided with the necessary force of men to carry it on.

Riparian Lands and Fisheries.

In my inaugural I called the attention of the legislature to what I deemed to be the unfortunate policy of the state in parting permanently with its riparian lands. I renew my recommendation of last year that the legislature provide in some practical way that these lands may not be disposed of in the future in fee simple, but shall be leased on rentals which at proper periods may be readjusted on a fair basis of increased value.

No little complaint has been made and no little indignation expressed at the action of the so called menhaden fishermen in the taking of fish along our coast. It is claimed that large quantities of fish are taken through these agencies, and our fishing interests are thereby seriously impaired. These are important not only to our people who take fish for food, but to our entire line of seacoast resorts, one of whose attractions is the bay and seacoast fishing. At the present time there are about thirty steamers and twenty sailing vessels holding licenses for such fishing. Your consideration of the repeal of the licensing act would be approved by a large number of the citizens of our state.

Automobiles.

No little attention was given by the legislature last year to the regulation of automobiles on the highways. The representatives of the various interests agreed upon a measure which the legislature adopted. Public safety, however, is still menaced by these motor vehicles. For this two reasons may be assigned—failure to execute the law and reckless driving.

Every legislative provision should be made to remedy any just ground of complaint in connection with the use of automobiles upon our highways. The damage done through the use of these machines to the surface of our macadam and gravel roads should be compensated for and means to prevent reckless driving provided. A license fee in proportion to the speed of the car should be charged and devoted to the repair of our damaged roadways. Locomotive engineers who run upon a defined track are required to serve several years of apprenticeship before they are permitted to take charge of an engine. An automobile capable of running from fifty to seventy-five miles an hour is granted the right of way upon our streets and highways and is driven in some cases by amateurs who have had little or no experience in the handling and management of such powerful machines, whose eyesight is defective and who for other reasons may be entirely incapable of appreciating the responsibility they have assumed. It would seem that the drivers of automobiles or chauffeurs should be provided with a license after proper examination, and this license should be revoked upon the violation of its provisions under proper rules and regulations. The revocation of a license will go far toward halting reckless driving, as it would deprive the chauffeur of his means of livelihood and the pleasure driver of his means of recreation. It might be provided that reckless driving, resulting in injury to person or property, should be punished by imprisonment.

The fee system in state offices as compensation for public officials has already been abolished. I recommend that it be extended throughout the state, that the offices of sheriff, county clerk, surrogate and register of deeds be made salaried instead of fee offices.

Jury Reform.

So long as juries form a part of our judicial system, their character and membership cannot be of too high a standard. Litigants have a right to ask the unbiased judgment of fair minded men. Jury duty should not be the reward of political service nor be made a means of political patronage. Our sheriffs should be free from embarrassment of solicitation on the part of any one for jury service, either for himself or for others. "The professional juror" has no part in a system of justice.

Jury reform has long agitated the bar of our state. The State Bar association last year advocated a change in the method of selecting juries. Last winter the Hudson County Bar association prepared a bill designed to remedy the present evils in the methods of drawing juries. They suggested that two lists of jurors be kept, to be designated respectively a grand jury list and a petit jury list, with a card index of names and numbers; that each name upon the jury list be designated by a number and that in the drawing of grand juries and petit juries by law each paper shall contain only the number in lieu of the name which it designates on the jury lists. This would seem to reduce to a minimum any chance of favoritism in the selection of jurors.

I would suggest, however, that the judge of the court of common pleas be made the determining party in the selection of the panel.

Assembly Districts.

The primary law passed under the administration of my predecessor, Governor Murphy, is a safeguard against fraud and disorder, guarantees to every voter the assurance that he may cast his vote without interference and have that vote honestly and fairly counted and secures within the party absolute and untrammeled freedom of choice in the selection of party candidates. Under its provisions no one individual or organization can dictate nominations. Every candidate has an equal chance and can appeal to the people with the assurance of success if his appeal is justified. The very fact that the primary law makes possible the exercise of power on the part of the people at any time is a perpetual reminder to those in authority that they are the people's servants and not the people's masters.

Another step in the direction of popular government might be wisely considered by the legislature. At the present time both bodies of our legislature represent precisely the same constituencies. The house of assembly, as now constituted, is practically another senate composed of more members, with a one year term. It consists of multiple instead of individual units. In many counties, especially in the larger ones, imaginary districts have been formed, and nominations are made with more or less consistency from those districts existing, not in law, but merely in the fancy of the nominating convention. This fiction is not a remedy for, but rather a popular protest against, the present condition. The members in those counties that send more than one representative to the house of assembly have, however, no distinct and separate constituency to whom they may answer and to whom they are responsible. Indeed, all these members might possibly come from a single community or a single place within the county.

Such a system invites machine domination. On the other hand, the system of assembly districts provides a well defined constituency from whom each member receives his legislative authority, brings him nearer to the people, makes him more responsible to the voters, gives the people a more convenient and direct voice in matters of legislation and accords more with the principles of representative government. This can of course be accomplished by a constitutional amendment. It may be attempted safely in another way. An act might be passed at this session of the legislature creating assembly districts and imposing some immediate duty upon some public official, as, for instance, the clerk of the county. The failure of this official to perform this ministerial duty at once could be followed by mandamus proceedings to bring the question again before the courts. A final decision could then be promptly rendered by our court of last resort, which has not yet passed upon this matter.

At the last session of the legislature the house of assembly appointed a committee to investigate the subject of the so called lobby and report thereon, with recommendations. That report will doubtless be laid before you in the course of your deliberations. The legislature should take such action as will shield itself from any suspicion of corrupt influence.

Corrupt Practices.

The purity of the ballot is necessary to safe and honest government. Honest elections and honest officials go hand in hand. The recent disclosures in business and political circles, of which every American is ashamed, are founded on corruption at the polls. Unless we seek the source of the evil as well as the punishment of the wrongdoers our lesson has not been well learned. Between the bribe giver and the bribe taker let there be no distinction. Each is morally culpable. There cannot be bribe givers without bribe takers. To condemn one and justify the other is a remedy that compromises with crime. The punishment of the bribe giver and the bribe taker at the same time, however, is not always possible. The difficulty with our laws against bribery is that by making both bribe taker and bribe giver punishable at the same time both are driven to take refuge under the right to refuse to testify on the ground of self incrimination. Under these conditions conviction is difficult.

I would amend the bribery laws by limiting the penalties for their violation to disfranchisement for a term of years, according to the number of the offenses committed. If offenses against the bribery laws were punishable by disfranchisement and the consequent disgrace, I believe they would be just as effective as imprisonment, and conviction would be more easily secured. If this punishment did not prove effective a second offense should be punished by imprisonment as well as disfranchisement. I would provide that the informer, whether he be the bribe giver or the bribe taker, should be exempt from punishment.

Our laws should be more comprehensive in the definition of bribery. The actual giving of money or the promise of a position are not the only forms of corrupting the voter. There are other ways equally baneful and more insidious. The English corrupt practices act forbids any form of entertainment, even the providing of meat or drink, either on the part of candidates or of any one else in the interests of candidates or parties. The entertainment or equipping of clubs and contributions thereto are likewise forbidden, as well as the employment of carriages to influence voters to come to the polls in the interests of any particular candidate or party. Anti-bribery laws to be effective must cover all ways in which money can be used to seduce the voter.

To these suggestions add publicity in connection with election expenses. There are some legitimate expenses. These should be defined by law, and the candidates and their agents, likewise defined by law, should be compelled to render an accounting of the money expended and for what purposes. I recommend the English and Massachusetts corrupt practices acts for elections, caucuses and primaries as the basis of legislation on this subject.

Forestry Reservations.

Among New Jersey's valuable resources are her woodlands. Forty-six per cent of the upland area of New Jersey is better adapted to the production of forests than to grazing or tillage. A plan for the utilization of this territory for the growth of timber and the reclamation of our waste lands for purposes of tree culture was inaugurated at the last session of the legislature. Under the provisions of that act a forestry commission was appointed.

The commission's aim has been, first, to secure a tract where tree culture could be exemplified and studied in a practical way and thus serve as an incentive to individuals and private interests to engage in this work on their own account; second, to secure a tract containing timber ready for cutting, that the state might at once derive a revenue from this source and at the same time be growing trees to take the places of those cut and removed; third, to secure a tract capable of growing timber, even though it require a generation or more for its development. These three objects seem to cover a comparatively wide field of forestry work.

Ten thousand dollars was appropriated for these purposes. A tract of 238.94 acres near Mays Landing was purchased for the sum of $1,075.78, to which has been added 104.65 acres, the gift of John Gifford, and a tract of 597 acres of young timber in Bass River township, Burlington county, has been secured at a cost of $879. The aggregate acreage now acquired is 970.5 acres at a cost of $1,954.78 for the land and $193.50 for surveys and maps required by law.

Negotiations are in progress for tracts of larger acreage, subject to the approval of the legislature in the way of sufficient appropriation. Among them is Weymouth tract of 24,700 acres, well timbered, lying near Mays Landing and Egg Harbor City, which has been offered at $5 an acre. The tract contains a pond of 200 acres and a water power already developed, with future possibilities of 450 horsepower. The average flow is 199,000,000 gallons daily and the minimum 32,250,000 gallons. With storage, 128,000,000 gallons daily may be collected. The tract also contains deposits of clay, gravel and stone, a fully equipped sawmill, a paper mill, a store and twenty-four houses.

Arrangements are pending between the forestry commission and the board of water commissioners of East Orange whereby the forestry commission can take charge of a tract of 650 acres located in Millburn township, Essex county, so that this tract may practically become a part of the forestry reservation of the state. The acquisition of such tracts tends to the preservation of our water supply. Indeed, a state forestry reservation should go hand in hand with the conservation of our water sources and potable streams. Already our large municipalities are fearing water famines. Too much care cannot be exercised to avoid this calamity, and if legislative action can aid it should be taken promptly before the danger is upon us.

State Property In Potable Water.

We have 108 fresh water lakes distributed throughout the state, covering 14,000 acres. Where practicable these should be set apart as public parks and carefully preserved for the use of the people of the state. They should become the property of the state in connection with its forestry reservation. The state now owns no potable waters, but it could acquire these lakes and through the ownership of forestry reservations the sources of our potable streams.

I suggest, subject to the judgment of the legislature, that some commission, preferably the riparian, be authorized to investigate this proposition, its practicability and probable cost and if possible make at least a partial report at this session of the legislature if it be found that some preliminary legislation is necessary.

Passaic River Pollution.

The purification of the Passaic river is still an unsolved problem.

Its settlement should no longer be deferred. The way to purify the Passaic river is to agree upon some practical method rather than talk about it for the next ten years. There must be some possible settlement. Constitutional legislation and an agreement among the affected communities are the essential factors in this proposition. Legislation is difficult in a controversy between two communities and heretofore has been successful only through a special session which left a worthless legacy to the courts. Newark and Paterson have not been altogether in harmony on the subject, although, as a matter of fact, their interests are not incompatible. Two such extensive municipalities should meet through their representatives in a businesslike conference for the purpose not of disagreeing, but of agreeing. Some remedy should be provided. Let it be done with fairness to all and hardship to none.

Taxation.

The execution of our tax laws remains unsatisfactory. Inequality of valuations, the escape of personal property and various forms of tax evasions are intensifying the dissatisfaction. Whatever theory may be held as to the wisdom of taxing personal property, that subject is not a question of debate so long as our constitution requires it to be taxed. Personal property has multiplied rapidly in the last decade not only through increased production, but through the various forms of bond and stock issues. Our tax levies, however, falsify this well known fact. The per capita value of assessed personal property in 1879 was $114; in 1904 it was $72. This statement needs no comment. The assessed value of our real property increased from $427,000,000 in 1879 to $912,182,594 in 1904, over 110 per cent. Our assessed personal property in 1879 was $129,000,000 and in 1904 $153,244,987, an increase of less than 20 per cent.

According to the census reports and other statistical data, we had at the last census tangible personal property in the state amounting to $532,000,000, and to this can be added intangible personal property consisting of trust company, bank stocks and insurance values amounting to $120,000,000, making the total over $650,000,000 as against an assessment of $153,244,987, and this does not include over $200,000,000 of cash deposits, which some hold merely represent other forms of property. Apparently nearly $500,000,000 of tangible personal property escapes the assessor. This is about 50 per cent of the present assessed valuations of all property in the state and if assessed should result in reducing the tax rates 33 1-3 per cent on the present basis of expenditure. Real estate is clearly bearing an unfair share of taxation and persons of small means a larger proportion of taxes than the well to do. A vast deal of property now escapes through lack of courage or through favoritism on the part of officials.

The claim that it is impossible to find and list property that now escapes the tax assessors is the cry of incompetence. What the census taker can find the assessor surely can find. Recent events have shown that other reforms once said to be impossible can be accomplished. Reform in this direction is no exception to the rule. Massachusetts, which compares with our state in many particulars, finds $597 worth of personal property per capita for assessment. New Jersey should be able to find more than $72.

The lack of uniformity in valuations and assessments is well known. This is largely due to a system that depends upon the varying judgments of 500 or more different tax assessors with as many different views. In some states uniformity is secured by a state board or a county board making a complete valuation of all property at periods of from three to five years. Inequalities grow up in the interim, but a readjustment of values corrects these inequalities at each recurring period of county or state assessment. The adoption of some such method as this in our own state is worthy of consideration.

Taxpayers and Tax Spenders.

The economical administration of state affairs and the increase in the state revenues under wise legislation have enabled the state to assist in the relief of local taxation. New Jersey does this with a liberal hand. She is not only paying part of the expenses of city and county, but she contributes large sums that would otherwise be raised through local taxes. This year such aid to the various taxing districts amounts to over $2,339,000. To this should be added $495,000, the proceeds of the act of last year, taxing second class railroad property at local rates, making a total of over $2,500,000.

Nearly all of this special return has come within the last ten years, yet during this period of increased income from the state local taxes have increased.

The taxpayer in the municipalities has a right to ask to what purpose is this vast sum contributed if he derives no benefits therefrom in reduced tax bills. Our boasted system of corporate taxation fails if it constitutes only an increased fund for the tax spender and affords no dividends to the taxpayer. There are 50 taxing districts in the state with tax rates between $2 and $2.25; 36 with rates between $2.25 and $2.50, 13 with rates between $2.50 and $3, 20 with rates between $3 and $3.50 and 6 with rates above $3.50. As I said in my inaugural, the expenditures in twenty-six cities in this state increased in ten years 75 per cent, while the valuations increased only 40 per cent, so that such tax rates as these, if valuations are honest and the listing of ratables complete, mean confiscation of property. They must be capable of reduction with greater economy and wiser business methods in municipal affairs. Otherwise we are forced to the confession that confiscation of property is necessary to raise the money to carry on our municipal governments. That economy is possible is shown in the case of Hunterdon county. A change in the method of management of county affairs from that of a board of freeholders to a more compact board of county commissioners has in one year resulted in a reduction of $40,000 in county expenditures. If a reduction in expenses has been successfully accomplished in one place it is worthy of effort in others.

Taxation of Main Stem.

The last legislature passed an act providing that second class railroad property should be taxed at local rates and that the revenue from this source should as theretofore be turned into the treasuries of the municipalities where such property is situate. This law increased by $485,000 the amount of taxes annually to be paid by the railroads. The same legislature, in pursuance of the policy inaugurated two years ago, referred to the state board of equalization of taxes under a joint resolution, "the further consideration of the taxation of railroad property." This referred to the main stem, or right of way, which is confined to a strip not exceeding 100 feet in width and in some cases not exceeding sixty-six feet in width. The main stem is thus the railroad highway of limited width traversing the state. The board of equalization has made a recommendation upon this class of railroad property, and that recommendation is before you in a separate report. It provides, in brief, for the taxation of this class of railroad property as other property at the average tax rate of the state.

Railroads should pay the same proportion of taxes as is paid by other property; no more, no less. As Governor Abbett said, "Equal burdens and equal rights for all, corporations as well as individuals, are the principles that should control our tax legislation." In order to produce this equality not only the rate, but valuation, must be weighed. One class of property may pay the same rate as another, but if it is subject to a lower or higher valuation the principles of equal taxation are violated.

There are two distinct methods by which this class of property may be taxed—one by taxing it locally, the other by taxing it by the state.

Taxation by Local Assessors.

The taxation of the main stem by local assessors involves the cutting up of this class of property into sections, conterminous with the boundaries of the taxing districts through which it passes. This would destroy for purposes of taxation the value which it derives by virtue of its continuity from terminal to terminal and would result in a corresponding loss in revenue. As I said in my inaugural: "Property of this kind is valued as a whole. Divide it and you destroy it."

One mile of the main stem of a railroad is as valuable as any other mile for the purpose for which it is designed, and yet under a system of local assessments one mile of railroad would be valued at one rate, another at another. One mile, for example, might be valued at $10,000, another at $25,000, another at $50,000. The mere statement of this fact shows the possible inequality of such a scheme.

Taxation by the State.

The main stem is a class of property particularly fitted to be set aside for taxation by the state. It belongs to no one city or county, but extends through the various counties and municipalities of the state. Its patronage is derived not from one section, but from all sections of the state, and the interstate traffic, which adds greatly to the value of our railroad highways, cannot be claimed by any one section, but by all sections of the state. The revenues out of which the taxes are paid are either contributed by the people of the state or derived from a source in which they can all claim equal right. Indeed, the authority of the railroad to do business is granted by the legislature, representing all sections of the state. Equitable considerations therefore would seem to regard this class of property as a source of revenue for all the people of the commonwealth. If the main stem should be taxed in this way the application to this property of the average tax rate of the state would seem to be logical and complies fully with the requirements of equal taxation.

The average tax rate of this state is about 2 per cent. The main stem, including franchises which are figured in the value of the main stem, together with the personal property, produces a revenue to the state of a little over $951,000. If the average rate of the state were applied this class of property, instead of paying $951,000, would pay, subject to equalization of valuation, about $8,800,000, within $800,000 of the present total state income from all sources. The railroads now pay taxes of over $1,140,000 a year, which is turned directly over to the municipalities, so that this would make the total taxes paid by railroads for all purposes about $4,940,000, or nearly 25 per cent of the total taxes now paid by all the property of the state.

Methods of Distribution.

The distribution of the tax derived from the main stem is a separate and distinct proposition from the method of taxation.

The state might retain a portion of the tax and distribute the balance to the municipalities through which the main stem passes, according to the proportion of the main stem lying within each municipality. This tax might be devoted to the school fund for a permanent investment for that purpose or might be distributed by the state under the act of 1900, as now, to the various taxing districts for the payment of school taxes and the elimination of the state school tax. This would reduce the tax rate in every taxing district 17½ points. The present amount received by each district would of course be proportionately increased. Hudson county now receives from this source $189,070; it would receive about $718,466. Jersey City now receives from this source $89,563; it would receive about $340,338. Essex county now receives from this source $236,453; it would receive about $898,540. Newark now receives from this source $163,346; it would receive about $620,722. Monmouth county now receives from this source $54,022; it would receive about $205,283. Mercer county now receives from this source $52,085; it would receive about $197,915. Trenton now receives from this source $40,668; it would receive about $154,438. Passaic county now receives from this source $75,874; it would receive about $288,321. Paterson now receives from this source $44,373; it would receive about $168,626. These illustrations, subject to equalization of valuations and to changes in local tax rates, and not purporting to be accurate to the dollar, might be multiplied to cover every community in the state. They are based upon the assumption that the increased revenue would be distributed, as now, for the benefit of our taxpayers and schools. A portion of it, however, might be devoted to the development of our system of good roads. Schools and good roads are vitally important to the welfare of our commonwealth, and both of them are necessarily dependent for uniformity and effectiveness upon state aid and state care.

The merits of these two systems—taxing the main stem locally or by the state—are purely questions of policy.

Preservation of the State's Revenues.

Consideration of the interests of all the people of the state argues for care in preserving the state's revenues. A state tax will never be welcome. Our policy should look to the future. Revenues that are ours today may disappear tomorrow. The great business companies now incorporated in our state, from whom we received last year $2,422,866, are likely in the near future to seek incorporation under national laws. Their interests lie in this direction, and the trend of thought led by the president and the United States commissioner of corporations points this way also. The agitation for the incorporation of life insurance companies under national laws has already begun and is but a question of a few years. The loss of these revenues would mean a state tax unless we have sources of revenue preserved to meet the emergency. Greater demands upon our income are made with each recurring year—demands that cannot well be avoided. There will always be great public burdens beyond the capacity of any municipality to carry, to the support of which the state must contribute. Wise forethought therefore will safeguard and increase the state's revenues for the benefit of all of its people.

Limited Franchises.

The development of electricity as a motive power has introduced upon our highways a method of travel at once convenient and inexpensive and made them, as a rule, the roadbeds of our trolley systems. The right of way upon the streets for this purpose is granted by the various municipalities. They have the power to make their own terms as to the conditions of the franchise and the number of years which it shall continue in force, whether it shall be ten, twenty, fifty or unlimited. The trolleys have proved important factors in the development of our state. The public has welcomed this means of conveyance, and little attention has been paid to the length of time for which the franchises have been granted. Population has increased, and the use of the public streets for these purposes has proved to be a concession of great value. The municipalities, however, hampered by perpetual franchises, have not been able to take advantage of these changed conditions. If the highways are to be used for business purposes the people, who own the highways, should be in a position to demand an increased rental as their property becomes more valuable, just as the owner of the business block is able to raise the rent thereon in proportion as increased trade and traffic center about it. This of course cannot be done if the streets are leased for an unlimited term of years, but if the lease or franchise is limited its expiration would permit new terms to be made in proportion to the increased value of the grant.

How far the power of municipalities to grant franchises to public utility corporations should be limited should be determined solely by the interests of the people. Their interests will not be served by a destructive policy. No revenue can be derived under laws so harsh that they prevent the development of enterprises from which the revenue must come.

The question of competition should also be considered. Under too restricted conditions new and like concerns cannot compete with those holding perpetual and unrestricted franchises. Nor should it be forgotten that terms that might warrant the investment of capital in thickly populated centers would not tempt it in undeveloped sections. The commission appointed by the last legislature to investigate this subject will recommend a limitation of the power of municipal officials to grant franchises to public utilities. That this limitation may not restrict enterprises or arrest progress in the rural districts it might be provided that any ordinance granting a franchise for a longer period than twenty-five years should be submitted to a vote of the people, with a limitation as to a maximum term of years.

Provision should be made for publicity in the granting of franchises, both with regard to the advertisement of applications and the prevention of undue haste in the passage of ordinances for such purposes.

Overcapitalization and Its Remedy.

Limited franchises, however, remedy only one phase of evils complained of in connection with public utility corporations. The opposition to public utility corporations as now conducted grows out of the belief that they are vastly overcapitalized in the way of bond issues and watered stock and that they are reaping undue profits out of the use of the franchises that belong to the people. This question will be acute until these matters are satisfactorily adjusted. It is not easy to prevent overcapitalization. It is not impossible, however, to restrict its abuses.

The present franchise law provides for a tax of 2 per cent upon gross receipts, regardless of the financial condition or earning capacity of the company. There would seem to be a clear distinction between the value of the franchises of public utility corporations that lay their pipes or wires or conduits underground or that use only so much of the street above ground as is necessary to string wires on poles and that of franchises like those of trolley companies that use a large portion of the streets and highways. If a 2 per cent tax on the gross receipts is imposed upon the first class of public utility franchises, the latter class of franchises should justly be expected to pay more.

A franchise tax upon the gross receipts has the advantage of being levied according to a mathematical rule. There can be no controversy as to valuations; there can be no dispute as to the fairness and disinterestedness of the board or tribunal that levies the tax. Corporations know, the people know, the tax authorities know, just how the tax is to be calculated, and no disputes as to favoritism can arise. An extension of the present franchise act increasing the amount of tax to be paid by trolley or street railway companies would preserve this principle and produce greater revenues to the municipalities.

Such increase of tax should be based upon no destructive policy, but should be graded up to a reasonable maximum, so as not to prevent the proper development of the transit facilities of the state.

There is another thought well worthy of the consideration of the legislature. Massachusetts has adopted a plan for the division of dividends declared by public utility corporations in excess of a reasonable amount. Such a plan, if adopted here, would, as such companies grew prosperous, provide a still further source of municipal revenue.

Invested capital should be permitted to have a fair and even liberal return for its hazard. The municipalities should participate in the excess over such return. I recommend that a commission be appointed to investigate this question and report thereon.

A newspaper of our state, in discussing the questions that would confront this legislature, said in a recent editorial that "they should be acted on only after the broadest discussion and the most conscientious deliberation." I can give you no better text for your session's work.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar, the toe of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

THOUGHTS ON A CITY GARBAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM

Mayor Buckle—I think it very much to be recommended, as I said in my message. The present condition of affairs as relates to the garbage matter is very unsatisfactory.

J. W. Gavett—I think it very desirable.

L. V. F. Randolph—While I have a high opinion of the Board of Health, and think it one of the most efficient the city could have, I cannot coincide with them in the garbage question. I think it would be unjust in the matter of taxation. It must be a very poor person who cannot look after his own garbage and the disposition of it.

J. W. Murray—If the collection of garbage is cared for by the municipality, as is the sprinkling, with universal taxation, it will be a success. If it is done, privately, for the profit in its disposal, it will put us out of business.

O. T. Waring—It would be a great advantage, although it would increase taxation.

C. F. Abbott—I am heartily in favor of it. It will be done in a more thorough manner than at the present time and improve the sanitary condition of the city.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Central Lodge, No. 48, Ancient Order United Workmen, will hold an important meeting tomorrow night, when Deputy Grand Master Workman George E. Mott, of Jersey City, will install the newly-elected officers. The good and welfare committee will provide refreshments and cigars.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order Foresters, will meet Friday night and install the newly-elected officers for the ensuing year. The High Chief Ranger and other High Court officers will attend and final arrangements made for the entertainment and dance on Friday night, January 19. After the business there will be a smoker in the good and welfare of the order.

FOR CITY OWNERSHIP.

Mayor Schoenthal, of Orange, Advocates Municipal Lighting Plant.

Orange, Jan. 10—The annual message of Mayor Isaac Schoenthal, of Orange, was read tonight at the meeting of the Orange Common Council. The Mayor recommends that no franchise be granted for more than twenty-five years and at adequate annual returns to the city for the privileges.

The Mayor also advocates the establishment of a municipal lighting plant and co-operation with Newark in obtaining legislation to bring that about. He advocates the taking of the police and fire departments out of politics by the organization of non-partisan commissions.

On the subject of track elevation by the Lackawanna Railroad, the Mayor says the company must not expect the city to contribute any share of the cost of the work. The Mayor finishes his message by saying:

"Whilel dislike to be a variance with the Common Council, I desire to say at this time that I shall not approve any increase of salaries in any department."

SUES ADMINISTRATOR.

William Egan Seeks to Recover for Board of Woman.

The suit of William Egan, of Summit, against W. J. Ryan, administrator for the estate of Bridget Cunningham, also of Summit, to recover for the board, care and nursing of the late Mrs. Cunningham, was begun in the Supreme Court, Elizabeth, today before Judge Fort.

On October 14, 1897, Mrs. Egan went to board with William Egan. She was to pay $3 a week. As she had put her money out at interest, she told Mr. Egan, it is claimed, that as she was very old and would probably not live long he could collect the entire bill after her death. She died a few months later, leaving about $14,000, and when the plaintiff called on the administrator to get his money, the latter refused to pay, hence the suit. The case will probably be on all day. S. S. Swackhamer represents the plaintiff.

Harry Blimm, of Somerset street, is detained at home by illness.

GIFT FOR MR. LA PORTE FROM WATCHUNG COUNCIL.

Knights of Columbus Give Him a Gold Watch, on Lodge Anniversary.

The officers of Watchung Council, K. C., were installed last night, by District Deputy A. E. LaPorte. Following the installation the lodge celebrated its fifth anniversary with a supper.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of a gold watch to A. E. LaPorte, who is the retiring grand night. Rev. Father Delahanty, chaplain of the lodge, made the presentation in a happy speech. Mr. LaPorte was completely surprised by the gift, but responded to Father Delahanty with a neatly turned acceptance.

The officers installed are as follows: Grand knight, A. A. Cannon; deputy grand knight, T. A. Meany; chancellor, T. J. McInierney; financial secretary, John J. Hines; recording secrtary, M. F. Moynihan; warden, William Schaeffer; advocate, F. J. Blatz; chaplain, Rev. J. T. Delahanty; physician, Dr. Boone; inside guard, John Conway; outside guard, Robert McCormick; trustees, J. J. Kenney, J. C. Traynor, Patrick Traynor, Westfield.

THE FAYS' MATINEES.

First of Present Engagement to be Given Tomorrow Afternoon.

The Fays, who have been delighting hundreds nightly at the Casino, will give their first matinee for women only tomorrow afternoon at 2:15. No men, whether employes of the building or company, are allowed to remain in the auditorium and members of the fair sex can ask questions of Mrs. Fay without any fear of embarrassment. Mr. Fay remains only long enough to introduce his wife.

The afternoon matinees became very popular when the Fays first appeared in Plainfield and there is but little doubt that they will attract large crowds during the present engagement. The gathering practically amounts to an executive session and Mrs. Fay is always pleased to have the women ask her questions, wise and otherwise.

Appointed Borough Engineer.

H. C. VanEmburgh, civil engineer, and a member of the Board of Assessors here, has been appointed borough engineer for Roselle, a position he has held and filled with credit.

Criterion Dance.

The Criterion Clubs expects guests from New York, Brooklyn, Bound Brook and Elizabeth at its dance tomorrow night. The affair will be held at the Casino.

—There will be Danish services in the W. C. T. U. rooms tonight. Rev. Kaer will preach.

TURN VEREIN INSTALLS NEWLY ELECTED OFFICERS

OCCASION MARKED BY PLEASANT SOCIAL AND DANCE.

Members of the Gesang and Turn Verein and invited guests enjoyed a delightful social and dance in Saengerbund Hall last night on the occasion of the installation of the recently elected officers. The committee in charge had worked industriously to make the affair a success, and it was one of the pleasantest the organization has conducted in a year.

Former President William Gardner, who had occupied the chair for eight years, was in charge of the installation and the officers placed in their positions were as follows:

President, August Melcher; vice-president, Walter Koeppler; recording secretary, Henry Bergen; financial secretary, August Wolff; treasurer, Louis Moraller; color bearer, Lawrence Fahn; lieutenants, Charles Meyer, Jr., and Fred Smith; marshals, Charles Meyer, Sr., and Herman Klinsman; finance committee, John Wirth, Gustav Schempf and Carl Felber.

Following the installation addresses were made by William Gardner, August Melcher, Lawrence Fahn and August Wolff. The surprise of the evening came with the presentation to former President Gardner of a handsome diamond watch fob, appropriately inscribed with the crest of the organization. The recipient had no inkling of what was coming, but he responded quickly with words of thanks.

A collation was served afterward and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, music for the occasion being furnished by Paroubek's orchestra.

URGES THAT THE OLD AND THE SICK BE KILLED.

Charles Eliot Norton Joins Forces With Those Who Urge Doctrine.

Philadelphia, Jan. 10—Dr. Charles Eliot Norton, of Cambridge, has joined forces with Miss Anne S. Hall, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth in their campaign for the killing off of the hopelessly insane, hopelessly diseased and victims of accidents. His views are expressed in a letter written to Miss Hall.

Dr. Norton was formerly professor of literature at Harvard. He was a friend of Longfellow and Lowell, and with them made the famous translation of the "Divine Comedy." He heads his letter "An appeal to reason, as well as compassion," addresses Miss Hall, and writes:

"The principle that it is a duty to prolong every human life as long as possible, at whatever cost, his hitherto been generally accepted. Its main support has been the doctrine of the sacredness of human life. The doctrine and the practice have both been pressed too far. There is no ground to hold every human life as inviolably sacred, and to be preserved, no matter with what results to the individual or to others. On the contrary, there are cases to which very reasonable consideration urges that the end should be put.

"Setting aside all doubtful cases, no right-thinking man would hesitate to give a dose of laudanum, sufficient to end suffering and life together, to the victim of an accident, from the torturing effects of which recovery was impossible, however many hours of misery might be added to conscious life by stimulants or surgical operations. Nor should a reasonable man hesitate to hasten death in the case of a mortal disease such, for example, as cancer, when it has reached the stage of incessant severe pain and when the patient desires to die.

"The prolongation of life in such a case, by whatever means, is mere criminal cruelty. Or to take another instance, that of an old person whose mind has become a choas of wild imaginings productive of constant distress not only to the sufferer, but to all who live with and attend him. The plain duty in such a case is not to prolong but to shorten life.

"It is not to be hoped that a superstition so deeply rooted in tradition as that of duty of prolonging life at any cost will readily yield to the arguments of reason or the pleadings of compassion, but the discussion of the subject in its various aspects may lead gradually to a more enlightened opinion and to the consequent relief of much misery."

Objected to Going to Hospital.

Mrs. Alexander McIntyre, colored, of Grove street and Greenbrook road, who was severely burned last week, was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday afternoon. The woman objected to going and Deputy Health Inspector Frank Dencklau was compelled to use force in getting her to the ambulance. Although frightfully burned, perhaps fatally, Mrs. McIntyre's one disturbing thought was that the hospital authorities might refuse to let her smoke her corncob pipe in the ward.

LONG'S SCAFFOLD IS PUT IN POSITION.

The Arrangements Are Being Made for the Execution of Negro Murderer.

The scaffold upon which Charles Long will meet death Friday, unless the Pardons Court acts favorably upon his petition for clemency tomorrow, has been erected in the rear basement of the Court House at Trenton.

In order to get the necessary fall for the body from the scaffold an excavation about two feet deep had to be made beneath the trap doors. The distance from the scaffold to the bottom of the excavation is about six feet.

Sheriff Wilbur will not take any part in the execution. He has arranged for everything and will see that the sentence of the court is carried out with dispatch and that the law in every detail is complied with.

The actual springing of the trap will be done by an unknown person concealed in a recess about fifty feet from the gallows.

Sheriff Wilbur has done so well in making his arrangements that it is estimated that not more than a minute will elapse from the time Long enters the scaffold room until the trap is sprung.

The sheriff has decided not to allow the condemned man to say any words on the scaffold. He will be gotten ready in his cell, where he will be allowed privacy with his spiritual adviser. He will be accompanied to the scaffold by his priest and two deputies. At the foot of the stairs leading to the gallows the priest will stand and the two deputies will ascend the scaffold with the condemned man.

Here the black cap and the noose will be adjusted and the other details attended to. When this is completed the deputies, by touching an electric button, will give the signal to the man who is to spring the trap that all is ready.

Only the court's and sheriff's juries, newspaper men and deputies will be allowed to witness the execution.

From the door of the jail to the room where the scaffold is erected there is an unenclosed space, visible from the street.

This will be enclosed so that the prisoner will not be seen from the outside.

Long appears cheerful. He is encouraged by the hope that the Board of Pardons will act favorably in his case.

PERMANENT HEALTH INSPECTOR FOR BOROUGH.

Subject Discussed by Board at Regular Meeting Last Night—No Action Taken.

At a regular meeting of North Plainfield's Board of Health last night the members discussed the advisability of appointing a permanent health inspector. At the present time the office is filled by Frank Dencklau, who is appointed from month to month. It is the belief of the board that the inspector would be enabled to work at a better advantage if the appointment is made the same as in the city.

The usual reports were presented, and showed the borough's general health conditions to be good.

John McLaughlin and Andrew Love, Sr., were present as members for the last time, their terms having expired. Their successors, Andrew Kenney and former Recorder Doud, will assume their places at the next meeting.

MURDERER GOES FREE.

No Sentence for Pole Who Shot His Wife's Paramour.

Camden, Jan. 10.—While two women in North Jersey have been sentenced to death for crimes committed because of marital unhappiness, Joseph Wisnieski, who slew the companion of an unfaithful wife, went free yesterday. Wisnieski, on July 3 last, shot and killed Antonio Grobuski, who was in his home with Wisnieski's wife. The man had been indicted for the murder, and made a confession, but with the consent of the Prosecutor of the Pleas entered a plea of non vult contendere to murder in the second degree. The man was arraigned for sentence before Presiding Judge Garrison of the Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday morning.

Judge Garrison said that while Wisnieski's crime was technically and legally murder he did not believe that any jury would find him guilty of murder.

"In view of the fact that this man has not attempted to evade the charge made against him and because he has saved the State a great expense," the judge continued, "I have been unable to bring myself to sentence him."

Wisnieski was ordered to appear before the probation officer once a month.

Sesame Club Meeting.

The Sesame Club will hold its next meeting tomorrow morning at the residence of Mrs. Ira W. Travell at 816 Third place.

—Harry Taylor, an employe of the Public Service Corporation, who was recently operated upon at the hospital for appendicitis, is improved. The attack of hiccoughs has also subsided.

George Graves, of Liberty street, is detained at home by the effects of a severe cold.

COMPANY K. AT TRENTON

Local Military Boys at Opening of Second Regiment Armory.

THEY GET 17 MEDALS

Governor Stokes Makes a Speech Following Review—Dancing at Close.

With practically its entire membership, Company K went to Trenton last night to take part in the review of the Second Regiment by Governor E. C. Stokes and his staff. The militiamen left Plainfield by special train at 7:15 and returned on the 2:30 this morning, the trip being one of the most pleasant the company has ever taken.

The review was brought about through the formal opening of the new Second Regiment armory at Trenton, the largest in the State. All the companies participated and many State officials were present. The exercises began at 8:30 with the first call and was followed ten minutes later by the adjutant's call and formation of batallions. Following the review, Governor Stokes presented the Long and Faithful Service medals, the Collins medal, National Rifle Association medal and 100 per cent. duty medals. The following members of Company K received 100 per cent. medals: Commissary-Sergeant Edgar R. Pearsall, Sergeant George L. Apgar, Sergeant Oliver R. Pearson, Jr., Corporals Lendrum Jennings, James F. Niles, Arthur Phillips, G. Stewart Smith, Alfred R. Tranchand and Thomas A. Weaver. Privates Jesse Dayton, Jr., Roy DeCamp, Albert Ford, James M. Frazee, Victor French, Charles Kofoed, Walter M. Sampson and Percy W. Vail.

More of these medals were presented to the local company than to any other in the regiment. Plainfield got seventeen, the nearest to it being Company C, of Elizabeth, with eleven. Companies A, B, D and E, which are to occupy the new armory, got seventeen combined. Governor Stokes complimented the men as they stepped forward and afterward made an address.

A regimental parade came after the presentations and at the conclusion of the retreat, the Second Regiment Band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the flag was lowered. Dancing brought the exercises to a close, only those living at a distance leaving before midnight.

MARRIED, AS PREDICTED.

Best Man Having His Troubles for Advertising It a Day Ahead.

The Sun, together with most of the other morning papers, published yesterday this prediction, as an advertisement:

SHEPARD—LOWE.—On Wednesday, Jan. 10, at Grace church, Plainfield, N. J., by the Rev. Dr. Townsend, of All Angels' church, N. Y., assisted by the Rev. Mr. Stevenson, of Grace church, Charlotte Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ebbets Lowe, to Frederick Mead Shepard.

The marriage took place yesterday morning, as predicted. Mr. Lowe, father of the bride, explained last night that the premature publication was due to an error by the best man. The name of the best man Mr. Lowe refused to give.

"He has had trouble enough already," he said.

Burritt H. Shepard was a pretty good man at the wedding, if not the very best.—New York Sun.

Succeeds Late Captain Day.

Marshall Henry, of Roselle, has been assigned as a regular conductor to succeed the late Captain Day, who for a great many years was in charge of passenger trains on the New Jersey Central. Since the death of Captain Day, several weeks ago, Walter Durling has had his runs, but a change has been announced to take effect on Monday. Mr. Henry will make his home at Dunellen, from which place his runs start and end.

Spoke at Montclair Gathering.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, was one of the principal speakers at the twentieth anniversary services of the Montclair Baptist church, held last night. For a time while the Montclair church was without a regular pastor, Dr. Chambliss preached for the congregation and he endeared himself to the hearts of all while there.

Parthians Disqualified.

The Parthians, of New York, will not play basketball at the Y. M. C. A. next Monday night. Acting-Physical Director Robbie learned last night that the five had been disqualified by the A. L. N. A., and promptly cancelled the game. Fifteen minutes later he signed the Orioles, of New York, for the vacant date. The Orioles are crack players.

WANTS ALL COLLEGE MEN TO ATTEND SMOKER

OWEN FLEMING ISSUES INVITATIONS FOR THE AFFAIR.

Cards of invitation were sent out yesterday by Owen H. Fleming, a Princeton graduate, of 1012 Park avenue, asking all college men in Plainfield to meet at the Casino for an informal smoker to be held on Friday night, February 9. It is believed that with the co-operation of every college man in Plainfield this smoker can be made an immense success and become an annual affair, similar to those held at Morristown, the Oranges and throughout the country.

Mr. Fleming's list of college men in this city is incomplete and he earnestly requests that any college man who fails to receive a reply postal card will kindly communicate with him, telling him what college he attended and in what class.

There will be plenty of good music, "rag" and otherwise, informal speeches from representatives of the various colleges and lots of refreshments. The "soiree" is to be set in motion at 9 o'clock, and it is earnestly hoped that every college man will whoop it up for his own alma mater. It is urged that all replies be sent as early as possible to Owen H. Fleming, 1012 Park avenue. The smoker is for all college men, whether graduates or not. This committee is in charge of the affair:

S. St. John McCutchen, Clifford W. McGee, Yale; Joseph M. Shellabarger and Owen H. Fleming, Princeton; F. W. Goddard, Amherst; H. L. Hall, Columbia; Wylie Brown, Cornell, and William Wadsworth, Harvard.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET WILL BE A BIG AFFAIR

SECRETARY OF AMERICAN LEGATION AT TOKIO TO SPEAK.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the association on Thursday evening, January 18. The banquet will be served in the main hall, by a caterer.

The programme for the evening will include, besides President J. W. Gavett's first annual report, addresses of annual interest. The speaker of the evening will be R. S. Miller, secretary of the United States legation at Tokio, on conditions in the East. Mr. Miller has just returned to this country, and is peculiarly fitted to speak on the subject he has chosen. H. C. Dixon, general secretary of the Twenty-third Street Branch of the Y. M. C. A., New York, will also speak.

Five hundred invitations to the banquet have been sent out, and a large gathering is expected. The women of the Y. M. C. A. auxiliary have been invited to witness the affair and listen to the speeches from the balcony.

MISS LAURA WIKOFF NOW MRS. FRANK THRON.

Wedding at Home of the Bride's Brother, F. S. Wikoff.

Miss Laura Agnes Wikoff, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Wikoff, of this city, and Frank Hartman Thron, formerly of Rome, N. Y., but now of Philadelphia, were married at 7 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's brother, Frank G. Wikoff, 719 West Fourth street. Rev. A. F. Todd, of Dunellen, performed the ceremony.

The couple was unattended. The bride was gowned in blue crepe de chine and carried bride roses. The ceremony took place in the parlor, beneath a large bower or flowers and greens. The prevailing colors in this room were pink and green and in the dining room the same. In the reception room the colors were green and red. The wedding march was played by Miss Hartshaw, of Philadelphia.

After the ceremony a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Thron departed later in the evening for a wedding trip. They will reside in Philadelphia, where the groom is employed at the Cramp Ship Yards.

The bride received a large number of useful presents. There were guests from Philadelphia, New York, Trenton, Princeton, Red Bank, Rome, N. Y.; Cranford and this city.

Services Drawing to a Close.

The evangelistic services which have been in progress at Faith chapel during the past two weeks under the direction of Rev. C. C. Luther, will be concluded after the Sunday night service. Similar services now being held at Grace M. E. church in the borough by the Rines Brothers will close at the same time. The Rines Brothers will go to Calvary M. E. church, New York, for a series of meetings.

MULFORD COLE ESTATE BUILDING BOOM SITE

PROPERTY TO BE DIVIDED INTO SIX HUNDRED LOTS.

One of the old landmarks of the city, known for years as the Mulford Cole property, located in the east end of the city, will, during the coming year, be the center of a lively real estate boom. This property, comprising over 600 lots and the Cole homestead, occupied for twenty-five years, was recently purchased by Elston M. French and then sold to the Highland Park Realty Company, of which he is the president. It is on the site of what everyone familiarly calls "Cole's Hill," and extends from East Front street along Leland avenue, almost to the Netherwood station of the New Jersey Central. The main line trolley runs through the center of the property.

Arrangements are now being made to install water and sewer mains and the present streets are to be improved, while two miles of new streets will be opened and macadamized. It is expected to start this work as soon as the weather permits, and during the coming spring and summer many new and attractive residences will be erected. Thus far twenty-one lots have been sold and nearly all of the purchasers will build homes for themselves.

This land is fifty feet higher than North avenue at the railroad station, thus making surface drainage practically perfect. Already many trees have been set out in this strip and contracts have been given for flagging and curbing.

In view of the suggestion made in the Mayor's message to the Common Council, urging that a fire house be erected and equipped with apparatus in the east end of the city, the Highland Park Realty Company is now considering the advisability of offering two lots to the city upon which such a fire house can be built. With the many new dwellings to be constructed the need for greater fire protection will be more urgent than ever.

No doubt at an early date a petition will be presented to the Common Council asking for certain improvements to be paid for by the property owners and city on an equitable basis.

It was right in this vicinity that the Public Service Corporation met with considerable trouble in extending its line through to Elizabeth. It was forced to purchase property for the right of way, and after doing so discovered that there was a mortgage on it which must be provided for. Mr. French adjusted the matter and then sold the property to the Public Service Corporation, after which the trolley line was extended.

MR. LUNN TO LEAVE.

Evangelistic Services at Hope Chapel Must Conclude Friday Night.

Owing to the imperative demands of his own pastorate the special mission held this week by Rev. G. R. Lunn, D. D., at Hope chapel will conclude on Friday evening. The attendance and response thus far have been most encouraging and all who have been present unite in regret that the Christian life of the community cannot longer have the inspiration of such meetings.

A most powerful appeal was presented by Dr. Lunn last evening from the text, "Who shall separate us from the love of God?" The subject for tonight is to be along the same line, and a most cordial invitation is given to everybody. City Judge William N. Runyon will preside at the piano.

Small Fire in the Borough.

The borough fire department was called out at noon today for a small blaze in the barn belonging to A. G. Gardiner at Grove street and Park place. A barrel filled with excelsior had caught fire in some way and communicated to the side of a stall. Chauncey Colthar and several others who were quickly on the scene, threw the barrel out before the department arrived and only hand extinguishers were needed to kill the flames. The alarm was sent in from box 152 by one of Mr. Gradiner's employes who noticed smoke issuing from a cupola.

"Marty" O'Loughlin Re-engaged.

"Marty" O'Loughlin has been re-engaged for the coming year as the professional at the Plainfield Country Club. Aside from being very successful in his work last season at the club, "Marty" won distinction on outside links, where he won many prizes and other honors in his playing with the "pros." It is proposed to open the course in April, weather permitting. The annual club meeting will be held in February, when officers will be elected and the season's programme prepared.

Snow Holds Up Sewer Work.

The snowfall this week put a stop to all operations on West End avenue, in the borough, and it is not likely that any attempt will be made to build the storm sewer until early spring.

CAUGHT A CLOTHES THIEF

Colored Girl Was Stripping a Line When Surprised By Marshal Pope.

ARRESTED AFTER CHASE

Pleaded Guilty in Court and Sent to Jail by Mayor Smalley—Lives on Plainfield Avenue.

Marshal Pope, of the borough police force, was passing along Watchung avenue, near Fairview, early last night, when he noticed a young colored woman taking clothes from a line in C. H. Rugg's yard. It is an occurrence that a policeman sees regularly, and he thought nothing more of it until the girl turned suddenly and caught the glint of his brass buttons. She immediately dropped everything she had in her arms, with the exception of a pair of lace curtains, and ran as fast as her skirts would permit her.

She started down Watchung avenue, but Pope was behind her in an instant and stopped her flight before she had gone half a block. The exertion had left her with but very little breath, but she managed to gasp out:

"All right, mister, Ah'll go with you; I didn't mean to do it."

There was no doubt in Pope's mind then but what he had a clothesline thief, and he took the girl to police headquarters. She described herself as Martha Brown, twenty years old, of Plainfield avenue, and said the array of clean linen had attracted her notice as she was returning from her work place next to the Rugg residence. It suggested a way to replenish the Brown family wardrobe, and she had made quite a selection of underclothing, shirts and stockings when the bluecoat came upon the scene. Pope admitted that he hadn't looked upon her as a thief until she started to run, as many families leave the "wash" out until late at night.

Martha was arraigned before Mayor Smalley this morning and was fined $10 and given seven days in jail. The charge against her is a State offense, but the Mayor was lenient because of her youth and the fact that Chief Weiss had looked up her relatives and found that she has hitherto borne a good reputation. She was unable to pay the fine and will serve the full time at Somerville.

RULE FOR NEW TRIAL IN THE GUINN CASE.

Verdict Given Plaintiffs Staggers the Public Service Corporation.

Alvah A. Clark, of counsel for the Public Service Corporation, obtained a rule yesterday afternoon from the Supreme Court to show cause why the verdict in the case of Mrs. Anna M. Guinn against the Public Service Corporation, wherein the plaintiff was allowed $15,000 and her husband $7,000, should not be set aside and a new trial granted.

Mrs. Guinn, who was joined by her husband in a suit against the trolley company, asked for $25,000, and almost the full amount was given. The company considers this excessive and will make a strong fight against allowing it to stand.

Several physicians, including Dr. P. J. Zelio, Dr. Albert Pittis and Dr. Mavlag, testified at the trial on behalf of the company, their evidence tending to show that Mrs. Guinn's injuries are not permanent and that she will recover. There was the testimony of other physicians for the plaintiff which showed that the plaintiff would never recover fully.

Date for Day Nursery Opening.

The members of the Day Nursery committee from the City Union, King's Daughters, met at the Y. M. C. A. this morning. It was decided to open the nursery at 444 West Third street on Tuesday afternoon, January 23, at 3 o'clock with a package party and tea. Cards of invitation will be issued this week by the committee and distributed by the secretaries of the various circles. All persons interested are invited to attend and are requested to bring a package of groceries for the store room.

No Plant at Oil Cloth Factory.

After going to considerable expense in fitting up the building as a plant to make refrigerators and door blinds, the firm which recently purchased the old oil cloth factory on North avenue, has decided not to engage in business in this city. They have consolidated with another concern in Syracuse, N. Y., and will transfer all the machinery to that place. Aleck Kane has made the owners an offer for the old factory and there is a possibility that it might be torn down.

Katherine Kane, daughter of Alex. Kane, of Fillmore avenue, is detained at home by an attack of scarlet fever.

PARK CLUB BOWLERS DO THE BEST WORK

AN INTERESTING FIGHT IS BEING WAGED IN CENTRAL LEAGUE.

Nearly half of the series of games scheduled in the Central Bowling League have been rolled for the season of 1905 and 1906. Up to date twelve of the thirty series of three games have been decided. Westfield Club's team has won nine games and lost three and has an average score of 856 and a high score of 934. The Park Club, of Plainfield, so far holds the record for high team score, 949, with the Cranford Casino team having second highest score, 941. The Elizabeth Club has won eight games and lost four, and has an average of 845.11 and high score of 932. The Elizabeth Club team is fighting hard for first place, and will roll a series with the Parks at Plainfield tonight, while Westfield will contest with the Cranford Casino team at Westfield. Should Westfield lose one to Cranford tonight and Elizabeth take three from Plainfield the first and second teams in the league would be tied. Last night's games were therefore being looked forward to with great interest. Keys, of the Elizabeth Club, has rolled the highest individual score of 254, and stands a good chance of winning first prize in this class. The averages to January 9 of players who have rolled over 160 follows:

CHARLES CORIELL, JR., WEDS.

Quietly Married to a Somerville Girl at Her Home Yesterday.

Charles Coriell, Jr., of Dunellen, who is well known in this city, was married yesterday afternoon in Somerville to Miss Ruth Jaeger, of that place. The wedding was quiet, only relatives and close frends of the family attending.

The groom is the son of former Postmaster Coriell, of Dunellen. He is in the oil business in New York.

Anybody Lost a Pig.

The Third Precinct of the Newark police department telephoned to the officers here last night that it held a live stray pig, believed to have been taken from this city. The police here don't know why the Newark cops assumed the pig came from here. "I wonder if they think all stray pigs come from Plainfield?" observed Chief Kiely. "Why, the Board of Health won't allow pigs to be kept in this city."

Women Golfers to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association will be held January 29 at Mrs. Tiffany's, No. 128 East Thirty-sixth street, New York. Many clubs have offered their links for one day tournaments for the coming season, and it is expected that a schedule of these popular meetings will be arranged.

Dr. Jackson's Farewell.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday. A choir of forty voices from the Waverly Place Baptist church, New York, will sing. Until the officers decide upon the matter of calling another pastor, the pulpit will be occupied with supplies.

Bank Officers Re-elected.

The directors of the City National Bank met yesterday and organized for the year by re-electing the officers as follows: President, Louis K. Hyde; vice president, James T. Closson; cashier, William F. Arnold.

HAS SERVANT GIRLS ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

CHIEF KIELY TRACES DOWN SUSPECTS FOR SAMUEL HUNTINGTON.

When Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Huntington, of 324 Franklin place, returned home last October 19, after a several weeks' absence from town, they found $150 worth of clothing which was in the house when they left missing. Tuesday night Louise Rehak and Lizzie Bednarik, who were in Mr. Huntington's employ as domestics at the time the clothes disappeared, were arrested in New York as the ones responsible for the disappearance.

The servants were left in charge of the house when the Huntingtons went out of town in September. They gave up their positions shortly after the family returned, and Mr. Huntington began to suspect that they had taken the clothing. As the weeks went on his suspicion was strengthened to conviction, and he reported the matter to the police on November 21.

At that time Mr. Huntington didn't know the girls' last names. Chief Kiely sleuthed around on the case, and after learning who the girls were traced them to New York. He asked the metropolitan force to help him locate the servants, and a Central Office man was put on the case.

Word was telephoned here from Mulberry street Tuesday night that the detective had found and arrested both girls in one apartment. The New York police said most of the missing things were found in the place.

Chief Kiely went to New York yesterday to look the girls over and arrange for their extradition. They were remanded until Friday at 2:30 o'clock in the First District Police Court.

BERNARD E. KISSAM MEETS DEATH IN ALASKA

FELL OVER STEEP PRECIPICE WHILE ON A HUNTING TRIP.

Bernard Embury Kissam, formerly a resident of Lafayette place, this city, was killed in the mining district of Alaska on Saturday last, by falling over a steep precipice and being completely buried beneath an avalanche of snow. Word of the fatality was received here yesterday by relatives of Mr. Kissam.

Mr. Kissam was living for a time at Oyster Bay, L. I., when he suddenly disappeared, no one knew where. Some time later a letter was received from him which stated that he was on his way to Alaska. He explained that while in Oyster Bay he had troubles with the labor unions and was unable to follow his trade, that of a carpenter, to advantage. He also became in debt and decided to go to Alaska, prospecting. That was the last heard from him until word of his death reached here yesterday.

The letter received says that in October Mr. Kissam started to explore the Yukon and he reached a place called Kluane, in an extensive mining district. At the time he was killed he was on a hunting trip with a party of friends. He was climbing over a high cliff when he missed his footing and fell over the precipice. The party made a long search, but could not find the body. It will now be necessary to wait until spring weather melts the snow before the body is recovered. It will then be shipped here to be buried in the family plot in Fairview cemetery, Westfield.

Mr. Kissam leaves two sisters, Mrs. Milton C. Barkalew and Miss Josephine Kissam, of Duer street. His father died about a month ago at Orange.

Rams Attack Small Boy.

Several pet rams belonging to Charles Giebelhouse, of West Front street, escaped from the grounds yesterday noon, and attacked the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hartpense, of Lafayette place, who was passing. The little fellow was knocked down and severely trampled upon before several men could rescue him. When taken home it was feared at first that he had sustained concussion of the brain but a physician who was called, found him suffering only from shock and bruises.

Planning for New Building.

May Not Build Bridge.

HE TRIED TO BREAK JAIL

Negro, Fleeing From Station House, Disregarded Shot From Officer.

CAUGHT BY TURNKEY

Desperately Resisted Re-arrest and Captor Was Compelled to Break Clubbed Revolver Over His Head.

Benjamin Perkins, a young colored man, made a determined and almost successful attempt to escape from the city jail last night. He disregarded a pistol shot in his flight and only desisted in his effort to get away when a pursuing officer overhauled him and beat him into submission with a clubbed revolver.

Perkins was arrested in Henry Windham's saloon early in the evening for stealing a quart of whiskey from a counter display. One of the habitues of the place saw him slip the bottle under his coat and told Windham, who summoned an officer.

A short time after Perkins was locked up, between 10:45 and 11 o'clock, Turnkey O'Gorman directed the negro to clean out his cell for the night, work required of all prisoners when occasion demands. A few minutes later O'Gorman unlocked the cell to allow Perkins to carry a pail to the lavatory. The latter room was originally part of a hall that runs from the main entrance of the building which is beside the station house doorway, straight through to the yard door. The lavatory and a store room were partitioned off from the rest of the hallway by a high wooden grating door.

When Perkins went into the lavatory the door to the store room and the grating beyond that were ajar. Perkins took in that fact as soon as he entered the lavatory, with O'Gorman at his heels. He flung the pail down and dashed into the hallway.

The turnkey started in pursuit, drawing his revolver as he did so. As Perkins reached the street doors, which were unlocked, O'Gorman, with a command to halt, fired his revolver downward. The negro paid no attention to the shot and dashed into the street.

O'Gorman put on steam and continued the chase. He saw that he was gaining on the negro, and did not fire again. Perkins ran toward Park avenue and at the corner O'Gorman overhauled him. As he grasped the fugitive the latter turned and grappled with him. Perkins resisted the officer desperately, and O'Gorman was compelled to club him over the head with the butt of his revolver. He was beaten into submission, but O'Gorman ruined his gun doing it. The weapon was twisted and broken so badly that the turnkey had to buy a new $12 revolver this morning.

When arraigned before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning, Perkins was subdued but full of prevarications. He denied stealing the whisky and said he only wanted to get away from jail for a little while to see his baby. Judge Runyon, who has no jurisdiction over larceny cases, fined him $10 or twenty days for disorderly conduct. The fine was paid.

MRS. STEVENS' SUIT AGAINST P. S. C. ON TRIAL.

Defense Declares That She Was Intoxicated At Time of Accident.

The damage suit of Mrs. Mary Stevens, of this city, against the Public Service Corporation, to recover for alleged injuries received while riding in a trolley car on the Arlington avenue line, August 16, 1903, was begun in the Supreme Court, Elizabeth, this morning.

The plaintiff claims that at the time of the accident she was riding in the car and that she was leaning forward on an umbrella. The conductor suddenly, without warning, turned over the back of a seat, striking her in such a manner as to fracture two ribs. She claims that she was laid up for five weeks and suffered greatly from the injuries.

The defense claims that Mrs. Stevens was under the influence of liquor, that she was requested to move so that the seat could be changed and refused to do so. The plaintiff is represented by S. S. Swackhamer and the defendant company by J. A. Bernard.

William Egan Secures a Verdict.

The suit of William Egan, of Summit, against W. J. Ryan, administrator for the estate of Bridget Cunningham, also of Summit, begun in the Supreme Court, Elizabeth, yesterday, was concluded today at 12:30 o'clock, when the jury returned a verdict allowing the plaintiff $2,775. The plaintiff sought to recover for the board, care and nursing of the late Mrs. Cunningham. S. S. Swackhamer represented the plaintiff.

AT NEW PLAINFIELD THEATRE TONIGHT.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"The Education of Mr. Pipp," as delineated in a series of clever cartoons by Charles Dana Gibson, has amused most Americans during the time that the series of pictures ran serially, or since they have been collected and published in book form. Augustus Thomas, who has given the American stage a dozen of its best dramas and half a dozen of its brightest comedies, last winter wrote a comedy drama in which Mr. Pipp (Digby Bell), Mrs. Pipp, the two Mrs. Pipp, the Duke, the Count, the Baron and the rest of the Pipp entourage, are given speaking and living creation on the stage. The success of this play was such that it was kept at the Liberty theatre, New York, the entire season. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

No fistic battle ever fought in this country attracted more attention in the public prints than the fight of Britt and Nelson at Colma, Cal. No contest ever received more space in the daily press, and certainly none ever had more brilliant and elaborate word paintings than were lavished on this struggle. But all the word paintings ever made, all the fascinating descriptions flowing from the pens of the ablest specialists, fall short of the real thing, the genuine article, as seen in the moving pictures of the fray. The reporters did their best. They saw the battle and they transferred their impressions to typewriter and to paper. But words are not actualities. The moving pictures are. The original copyrighted pictures of this greatest battle ever fought for the lightweight crown will be shown at the New Plainfield theatre Friday afternoon and night.

That the popularity of "Monte Cristo" with James O'Neill as Edmund Dantes will never wear out is a fact that theatregoers of America have demonstrated beyond all doubt. This year Mr. O'Neill has fitted the play with the most sumptuous mounting it has ever had. The scenery, costumes, electrical and mechanical effects are said to be brilliant. The company supporting Mr. O'Neill, which will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, is one of the strongest that has ever been engaged for the piece.

Richard Carle is surely up to date with his new farcical opera, "The Mayor of Tokio," which has just closed a tremendously successful run in New York and will be seen here at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday night, February 14. In his new piece Mr. Carle has mixed up a number of Japanese with a Russian spy, who is ever on the point of throwing a deadly bomb, which is the discomfiture of his immediate neighbors. Among the clever company of players who will appear in support of Mr. Carle are Fred Frear, Sylvain Langlois, William Rock, J. A. Wallerstedt, Jo Smith Marba, Jess Caine, William H. Platt, Hortense Mazurette, Adele Rowland, Emma Janvier, Minerva Courtney, Madge Vincent, Ethel Lloyd, Ada Mitchell, Florence Willarde, Constance Eastman and the "Peanut Ballet," eight clever little dancers who have made one of the sensational hits of the play; also the dainty "Geisha Girls," and the popular "Blue Ribbon Chorus of America," said to be a dream of youth and loveliness.

George M. Cohan's phenomenal musical success, "Little Johnny Jones," with its singing and dancing hundred players, is scheduled for two performances in this city at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday afternoon and night, and already there is a big demand for places from which to view this laughable piece which succeeded so definitely in amusing New Yorkers that it remained in that city for a period of thirty-four weeks. The original production will be seen here. Among the principals we note the names of Tom Lewis, Sam J. Ryan, Jack Raphael, Adele Rafter, Stella Tracey, Edith Tyler, Fred Walcott, C. J. Harrington, Bobby Barry, William E. Meehan, Harry Kittredge and a large and well drilled chorus of seventy-five.

Defeated in Brooklyn.

Lacking the strong playing of Ray Smith, the Y. M. C. A. basketball five was narrowly defeated by the 26th Ward team in Brooklyn Tuesday night. The score was 28 to 24. Smith could not get time for the game and a substitute took his place. Dr. Browning and C. B. Morse were the only ones who accompanied the five on the trip.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truman, of the borough, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

W. G. Besler, vice president and general manager for the New Jersey Central, left yesterday for New Orleans, from which place he will sail for Costa Rico. The trip is made for pleasure and business. Mr. Besler will be one of a party, and expects to be away for a month.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes," Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

P. H. S. FIVE TRIMS LEAL'S TEAM HANDILY

FIRST GAME IN INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE EASY FOR HIGH SCHOOL.

It is a good thing for the Leal's School five that they don't have to play basketball for a living. They flunked before the P. H. S. combination yesterday, 49 to 5.

There was simply nothing to the game but High School. The latter ran all around the private school youngsters and played so fast the latter couldn't see the ball. The game was a bit rough, but snappy and lively enough to redeem it.

Collier, Smith and Freeman made a great showing. Collier shot goals on a system that couldn't go wrong.

It was the first game of the interscholastic league, and it made the athletic outlook, as far as comparison between Leal's and High School goes, very dark and comfortless for the former. Unless Leal's springs an almost impossible reversal of form on High School before the season closes, the latter will put over the Lealonians as badly in basketball as they did in football. That will mean a clean athletic sweep for P. H. S., because Leal's was just about nothing in basketball against P. H. S.

The line-up:

P. H. S.	Leal's.
Collier	Endicott
Smith	Alpaugh
forwards.
Freeman	Howard
centre.
Doane, Caldwell	Lyman
H. Freeman	Brokaw
guards.

Between halves the P. H. S. scrubs emulated the example of the regulars, and walloped the Leal's scrubs mightily. Not so mightily as the first team did it, but sufficiently thumpful for all that—16 to 3. Averil's playing was a very bright spot in Leal's game. He prevented a good deal of scoring.

The line-up:

P. H. S.	Leal's.
Leggett	Averil
Bogardus	Valiant
forwards.
Gavett	Jewett
centre.
Flanders	Gates
Lambert	Smith
guards.

Plainfield, N. J., January 11, 1906.

Richard Mansfield, David Belasco and Mrs. Fisk must shudder over the fact of the dramatic art when they behold "Pompadeur Jim" Corbett the ex-prize fighter in a Bernard Shaw play. And at one of the most famous theatres of the histronic profession, too.

If the present Legislature wipes out the fee system and place county officers on a salary, it will indeed merit warm praise. The present system of paying county officials is one of the most pernicious things ever devised and the sooner it is done away with the better it will be for the people of New Jersey. Its only defenders today are the few officeholders who reap the benefit at public expense.

Trenton is justly proud of the fact that its four companies will have the use of the Second Regiment armory which has just been opened in that city. As for Plainfield, it seems to be getting along pretty well without a suitable drill hall. Company K is five years old. During its brief history, it has twice held the State championship and twice the regimental honors for marksmanship. This year it is second only to Company L, of Princeton, for rifle work. That is not all, for twice Co. K has held the regimental medal for best individual work on the State range. Only yesterday it received as many hundred per cent. medals as all the companies of Trenton put together. One more boast is that the adjutant general's report issued recently gives Company K the highest figure of merit in the whole regiment for the annual inspection.

LAWSON'S REPLY TO HADLEY.

He Declares That Standard Oil's "Perjury Mill" Is Perfect.

Boston, Jan. 11.—This was Lawson's reply to Attorney General Hadley:

"I would dearly like to get a kick at any portion of the Standard Oil's anatomy, but while I know cromes enough of Standard Oil to start a successful opposition hell, I personally know nothing of the relations between the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Republic Oil Company and the Waters-Pierce Company, and as all my association with Standard Oil has shown me their perjury mill is as perfect as their oil monopoly, their control of the banks and trust companies of the country or their control of some courts, many legislators and the United States Senate, I cannot fairly come within the wise restriction of your telegram.

"There are in the Standard Oil building within the keeping of Hen H. Rogers and John W. Rockefeller, and within the knowledge of a number of their employes, the documentary data of everything pertaining to the caesarean birth. Fagin rearing, and infamous existence of Standard Oil, the parent company, and each of the scores of its brats, and it will all be open to you the minute after you give Henry H. Rogers the choice of jail, perjury, or open sesame.

"If it is not possible for you, with all the powers of the great State of Missouri, to do this, then I would respectfully suggest that you close up shop. My word for it, the American people will do the rest and in record time."

Dog Saves Owners' Lives.

Gyp, a fox terrier, saved the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ford at the sacrifice of his own during a fire in their home in Bloomfield early yesterday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Ford were asleep on the second floor when the former was awakened by the dog scratching at the door. Ford found that the house was in flames. He and his wife fled without taking time to dress. Gyp perished in the flames.

NEGRO KILLS WIFE'S ADMIRER WITH A GUN.

Jealous Husband Waits in Snowstorm for Couple and Fires the Fatal Charge.

Salem, Jan. 11.—Harry Moore, a negro, was shot and instantly killed Monday night by Charles Roberts, also colored, on the Lower Penn's Neck road, near here. For more than a year Roberts and his wife had had trouble, caused by the attentions to Mrs. Roberts by Moore, and about six months ago Roberts secured a bill of separation. A few days ago the couple met, settled all differences, agreed to have the bill of separation annuled, and live together.

Mrs. Roberts visited friends near Pennsville Monday, and, failing to return in the evening, Roberts learned that Moore was to bring her home. Securing a shotgun and several cartridges, Roberts started out the pike in a snow storm and met the team carrying the couple about two miles from Salem. Roberts commanded his wife to get out of the wagon, and when she refused he shot. The whole charge hit Moore in the left eye and he fell dead in Mrs. Roberts' arms.

"You have killed him!" screamed the frantic woman, but Roberts made no reply. He walked to the home of Joseph Mayhew, at Harrisonville, about a mile up the road, and waited until the police came to arrest him yesterday. Chief of Police Waddington found the gun with which the crime was committed.

After the shooting Mrs. Roberts, being afraid to stay in the wagon with the body, led the horse to the county jail here. In a statement made before Justice of the Peace Smith yesterday Roberts said he had been driven almost crazy by Moore's attentions to his wife.

"HIDE-AND-GO-SEEK" IN A DIVORCE SUIT.

Witness Tells How He Concealed Wife When Husband Was Hot on Her Trail.

An unexpected witness was produced yesterday at the hearing in the Court of Chancery at Newark before Vice-Chancellor Stevens, of the suit for divorce brought on statutory grounds, by Leo Nussbaum, of Newark, against his wife, Esther Nussbaum.

At a previous hearing testimony was offered in behalf of the petitioner that Mrs. Nussbaum and Henry Herzenberg, the corespondent, had been followed on the night of last May 30 to the Ashland House, in Manhattan, where, it was declared, they engaged a room, registering as "Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fischbein, of Hackensack."

When the case was resumed yesterday Charles M. Meyers, counsel for Nussbaum, called Patrick J. Murphy as a witness. He said he was employed as night watchman at the Ashland House. He identified Mrs. Uussbaum and Herzenberg as a couple who had registered May 30 under the name of Fischbein and to whom he had assigned a room. He also swore that he had gone to the room the couple were occupying to tell them that three men, one claiming to be the woman's husband, were demanding admittance.

Murphy told how he had taken the couple to a place in the restaurant where they could see the three men without being seen themselves, and that afterward he directed them to another room, where they remained, he said, while the three men were permitted to go into the room the couple recently had occupied.

The case was not concluded.

Bills from Hudson Assemblyman.

Trenton, Jan. 11.—Besides the measure to abolish capital punishment, Assemblyman Berg, of Hudson, intends to introduce a measure which will provide for greater protection of widows in case of the death of their husbands. The present law, he says, gives widows only one-third of the personal property of their dead husbands. He purposes to introduce a bill making the widow the sole benefactor so far as personal property is concerned. A bill which Assemblyman Bierck, of Hudson, expects to introduce, will make it a misdemeanor for any corporation to either directly ond indirectly contribute funds for campaign purposes to any political party. The person to be held under the act will be the directors and officers of the institution or corporation.

Curfew for Paterson.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, of Paterson, has issued an edict that all children must be off the streets and in their homes at 11 p. m., otherwise they will be taken into custody. The officers of the society say they will take the children to their homes after apprehending them, and if the parents show a disposition to be careless as to their welfare, measures will be taken to compel them to properly look after them. Several children were picked up Tuesday night by the officers. One of the boys was seven years old and the other ten. Both said they had been to a "show," and when the officers took them home their parents promised to be more strict with them.

Board Quarrel Makes Vacation.

New Brunswick, Jan. 11.—There is a bitter war on between the school boards of Sayreville and South Amboy, as the result of which sixty pupils were sent home yesterday from the South Amboy schools because the School Board of Sayreville had not paid the South Amboy board $1,500 for the last five years' tuition of Sayreville students.

WOODHULL & MARTIN'S

UPHOLD REVIVAL WORK.

Reply to Critics of Newark's Evangelistic Crusade.

The discussion which grew out of the criticism of the recent evangelistic work in Newark by the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and his corps of preachers and singers has become more general. Several other ministers have taken notice of the remarks of the Rev. Louis Shreve Osborne, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, at a meeting of the Ministerial Association last Monday, and some have made public announcements concerning the attack, as they call it, on the revivalists. Among the latter is the Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, of the North Reformed church, who was quoted as saying at a prayer meeting in his church that the discussion at the ministers' meeting on Monday "must have been some satisfaction to the devil."

"Anything, of course," Dr. Vance said, "can be criticised. The Saviour himself has not escaped. It is, however, hardly fair for one who disclaimed any sympathy with the meetings before they began, who did not attend them while they were in progres and who confesses that all he knows about them is what he got from the newspapers, to condemn them. It looks too much as if he were trying to prove his prophecy.

"Nobody this side of the Almighty can tell just what will be the results of these meetings; but I think one must be strangely blind to the value of spiritual things who says these meetings were a failure."

Dr. Vance's remarks were taken as a direct slap at the stand taken by the Rev. Mr. Osborne last Monday. The latter refused to join with the other denominations in the religious campaign, and was quoted as saying in the beginning that the meetings would be of little value. Another champion of the revival cause was the Rev. Dr. Lyman Whitney Allen, pastor of the South Park Presbyterian church. He declared that since the meetings were ended members of his church had given $3,500 to help defray the expenses of resuming the evangelistic work.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Joseph Hart, the husband and manager of Carrie DeMar, has obtained a musical comedy called "The Country Club," in which she will be starred next season.

Hall Caine, the Manx novelist, claims to have lost $5,000 in the recent production of "The Prodigal Son," although it was one of the most successful plays of the season.

There is a good possible chance of Maude Adams being seen at the New Plainfield in March with "Peter Pan." Manager Counihan has been holding time pending negotiations with Charles Frohman.

When Arnold Daly comes to Plainfield a week from Saturday he will be seen in two performances. In the afternoon he will present "Candida" and at night, his greatest success, "You Never Can Tell."

George Cohan's newest play, "Forty-Five Minues from Broadway," has taken New York by storm, drawing crowded houses at the New Amsterdam. His other production, "George Washington, Jr.," in which he will star, will open at Springfield, Mass., January 24.

Digby Bell, who is to be at the New Plainfield tonight, travels frequently on the Long Island Railroad. Augustus Thomas, the author of "The Education of Mr. Pipp," does likewise, and has been much annoyed by the slowness and unreliability of the train service. One day last fall they were going to play golf and the train was an hour late. When the conductor came through to collect the tickets, Mr. Thomas handed out one full and one half ticket.

"Who's the half ticket for?" asked the conductor.

"For my boy," said Thomas.

"But he's not a boy under twelve," said the conductor, "he's a man."

"I know he is now," said Mr. Thomas, "but when we started he was."

DANCE MONEY TAINTED.

Pastor Called On To Adjudicate Between Factions at War Over $200.

In an effort to end a quarrel that threatens to disrupt the Lafayette Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Charles Herr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Jersey City, has been appealed to by the Lafayette deacons. A committee of two and the deacons and the trustees have lined up and taken sides, and the congregation is beginning to take a hand in the quarrel.

The trouble is over the reception of tainted money. The Lafayette church is a branch of the First Presbyterian, one of the largest in the best section of Jersey City Heights. The Lafayette church is at Mannius avenue and Grand street.

For three nights during the Christmas holidays the young folks of the church held an entertainment and raised $200. This was handed to the trustees of the church, who had done some gum shoe work and found that dancing had been indulged in.

Dr. Herr will have to decide upon the question of what constitutes "tainted money."

REFORM BILLS MEET WITH GENERAL FAVOR.

Legislature Will Promptly Act on the Important Suggestions Contained in Stokes' Message.

Trenton, Jan. 11.—Governor Stokes' call in his annual message to the Legislature for reform is to meet with a prompt and hearty response on the part of both the Senators and Assemblymen. Several of the bills he suggested will be introduced in both the Senate and the House next Monday evening.

It is almost certain that a law will be passed to abolish all fees for all county offices. Bills with this purpose in view will be introduced by Senator Hutchinson, of this city, and Senator Jackson, of Middlesex county. Senator Jackson proposes that the sheriff, the surrogate and the county clerk of the counties like Mercer shall receive an annual salary of $5,000 each, while Senator Hutchinson goes him one better and makes the salary $6,000 per annum. The Hutchinson bill will make the salaries in second class counties $6,000 each, in third class, $3,500, and in fourth class, $2,000. In first class counties the officers are already on a salary basis, each receiving $10,000 per year.

The Jackson bill ranges the salaries from $1,500 to $5,000, according to the population of the county. It is believed that the Legislature will heed the advice of Governor Stokes and abolish all fees in county offices.

Other reform measures, prompted by the Governor's message, will include equal taxation and limited franchise bills. Assembly leader Perkins will introduce a bill embodying the idea of Governor Stokes, as well also Senator Hillery, the leader of the Upper House. The Colby men are also expected to introduce several measures along their ideas of reform.

TO INQUIRE INTO CRUELTY CHARGES.

Freeholders Take Hand in Alleged Abuse of Ex-Mayor Jacob W. Beatty.

The Warren County Board of Freeholders at their meeting Tuesday night in the Court House at Belvidere, took up the matter of the alleged cruel treatment of Jacob H. Beatty, former Mayor of Hackettstown, in the Morris Plains Asylum, of which he is an inmate.

The action of the Common Council of Hackettstown asking the Freeholders to make a rigid investigation was laid before the board. After a lively discussion a committee was appointed to make an inquiry not only in the case of Mr. Beatty, but in regard to all charges of alleged cruelty to patients belonging in Warren County. The committee is composed of Messrs. Kenney, De Witt, Hartung, Frane, Boehm, Hoagland, Lommasson, Smith and Stocker.

Dr. Evans, the medical director of the Morris Plains Asylum, made a statement last week in which he said that he had conducted a thorough investigation of the charges concerning Mr. Beatty and found them to be unfounded.

James Mitchell, the nurse who is accused of ill-treating Beatty, resigned after the charges were made, but before doing so made an affidavit emphatically denying the accusation. Dr. Evans says Mitchell has an excellent record.

Bradley Changes His Mind.

Asbury Park, Jan. 11.—Without assigning reasons except that he might give them hereafter, Founder James A. Bradley, in a telegram to Mayor Atkins, of Asbury Park, yesterday declared off all negotiations for the puchase of Auditorium Square, for which he had offered the city an option. Mr. Bradley's option to sell the square for $53,000 was accepted by the Council Monday night, but no papers have been executed. It is believed the founder was afraid the square might be used for purposes not contemplated at the time of his conference with the city officials.

Whether he sells or not, however, it is understood the city officials will go on with their plans for the big convention building.

Kept Suicide Promise.

John Yaufmann, twenty-seven years old, of No. 23 Kent street, Newark, committed suicide yesterday by taking carbolic acid. He became despondent because he had been unable to procure employment. Two years ago Yaufmann's father for a similar reason took his life in the same manner as the son. Yaufmann boarded with Mrs. Rose Petersen, his cousin. He offered her his board yesterday morning, saying: "Bood-bye. I'm going away." "Where are you going?" Mrs. Petersen asked. "Where you will never see me again," he replied. He then went to his bedroom and a few minutes later Mrs. Petersen found him in a dying condition.

Football Combine.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 11.—Football reform has been materially aided by action taken yesterday by the athletic association officials of Yale University in confirming a proposition that the new rules committee and the old rules committee amalgamate. Walter Camp, faculty adviser in athletics at Yale, and a member of the old Intercollegiate rules committee, urged this action. There will be a joint meeting of the two rules committees next Friday evening in New York, at which the amalgamation matter will be considered.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Jan. 14: "A Love Controlled Life." Deut. x, 12; Mark xii, 29-31; John xiv, 21-23; Rom. xiii, 10; II Cor. v, 14, 15; I John iv, 16-21.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Some love we have toward Him and some things about His service we like, but when it is the question of His love filling us and actually exercising controlling influence over all our acts and words, well, most Christians will hesitate to say that they have reached that state of development. A still sadder fact is that many of those who profess to be so filled and guided by the love of God do not seem to convince others of their loving disposition so clearly as they succeed in impressing themselves.

To love God with all the heart, mind and strength—that is a great thing to do. Who can do it? And yet, when we stop to consider more fully and soberly, why should it be thought a great or difficult matter? Who is more worthy of our love? What hinders us giving all our hearts' affection fully to Him without reserve? Is it our fear of God because He is so high and awe inspiring, so mighty? If we stop and consider that all His power is not greater than His love and all His love has been poured out and is now flowing in fathomless streams for us, love is awakened by love. If ours have not been moved toward Him it must be that we have never stopped to think of how God is now regarding us. We have been disregarding Him. But He has been making and preserving a world of beauty, privilege and blessing around us and sustaining us in the midst of opportunities and mercies which if realized must awaken gratitude and answering love in any heart not entirely deadened to all sense of affection and gratitude.

What a world, what a God and what exceeding great and precious promises and what a Holy Spirit and Saviour are given to us! And we not love Him! It is incredible. We do love Him, and we will serve Him and keep His ways.

Let us more and more keep before our minds the love of God and recognize it so displayed in our daily lives. Let us also realize more deeply the exceedingly great privilege we have in being asked to love Him in return and share His fellowship.

But suppose one does not feel that he does deeply and adequately love God. What shall he do in that case? Can any one control his love? Most certainly he can and should. How? By keeping constantly before his attention the things which are worthy his regard and refusing persistently to allow other lower objects to have his thought. Fill the mind full of the good, and the evil will be crowded from the heart. Cultivate wheat, and the weeds will be killed. Think up and not down, and love will follow thought.

Then do the right, and you will love it.

Keep His commandments, and you will love God.

Break them, and you will dread Him and may end by hating Him.

Fill your life with Him, and His love will control you.

Singing to Dispel Our Cares.

We can sing away our cares easier than we can reason them away. The birds are the earliest to sing in the morning; the birds are more without care than anything else I know of. Sing in the evening. Singing is the last thing that robins do. When they have done their daily work, when they have flown their last flight and picked up their last morsel of food and cleansed their bills on a napkin of a bough, then on a top twig they sing one song of praise. I know they sleep sweeter for it. They dream music, for sometimes in the night they break forth in singing and stop suddenly after the first note, startled by their own voice. Oh, that we might sing evening and morning and let song touch song all the way through! Oh, that we could put songs under our burden! Oh, that we could extract the sense of sorrow by song! Then sad things would not poison so much. Sing in the house. Teach your children to sing. When troubles come, go at them with song. When griefs arise, sing them down. Lift the voice of praise against cares. Praise God by singing. That will lift you above trials of every sort. Attempt it. They sing in heaven, and among God's people on earth song is the appropriate language of Christian feeling.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Eternal Life.

He who hath in him the eternal life, though a beggar naked and maimed and blind, before him heaven's gates open of themselves. He is no stranger there, for the life that is in him finds there its true sphere and companionship.—Ephraim Peabody.

Gems in Brief Sermons.

God never calls a man to command until he has learned to obey.

A man is never much nearer heaven than when he makes a child happy.

The fruits of righteousness do not grow upon the flowers of rhetoric.

True spirituality is the ability to see the altar in the washtub and the cook stove.

He who loves men need not to pray for power to love God.

You can tell what a man's fruits will be if you know where he sets his roots.

Take care of your own alleys, and the architecture of heaven will take care of itself.

The song of sympathy never comes until the singer has been to the school of sorrow.

The happy Christian so advertises his religion that the other man will not be happy till he gets it.

There is a good deal more charity in withholding the word of malice than in giving any kind of a wad of money.—Henry F. Cope.

DIDN'T KNOW HIS FINGERS HAD BEEN CUT OFF.

Victim's Son Picked Up Digits and Handed Them to Him.

Egg Harbor City, Jan. 11—Recently Ernest Duering, Sr., a farmer, of Germania, a small farming section near here, cut his fingers on the left hand off. Today he is dying from lockjaw. Duering cut his fingers off in a peculiar manner, and until his son handed him his own fingers did he know himself that they were gone from his hand.

He and his son were cutting corn stalks in a feed cutter, and while Duering was putting the stalks into the machine his son removed the already cut feed. Presently he saw the stalks dyed a red color and that followed by a number of fingers. He picked them up and rushed to the side of his parent, fearing a terrible accident. His father, however, was too busy, and did not notice that he had slipped his hand too far into the machine, and when he felt a stringing sensation in his hand thought nothing of it except that his hand was numb from the cold, not realizing that he was badly maimed until his son handed him his fingers.

The cutters were badly rusted, as the machine had not been used for some time. Duering's jaws have become tightly locked and are as rigid as steel. The only nourishment administered was through a small tube inserted where several teeth are missing. He is not expected to live. He is about sixty years old and very prosperous.

ELIZABETH MERCHANT DIES.

Hyman Isaac, Well Known Business Man, Victim of Paralysis.

Elizabeth, Jan. 11.—Hyman Isaac, a prominent Jewish merchant here, who has been a wholesale dealer in iron and metals for the last thirty years, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 879 East Grand street, from a stroke of paralysis which he sustained in the bathroom of his residence. He was found lying partly unconscious on the floor shortly after by a member of the family and a physician was summoned, but nothing could be done to save his life.

Mr. Isaac was born in Russia about sixty-three years ago, and came to this country when a young man. He was married in New York City and later removed to Newark, where he engaged in the wholesale iron business. His first child, Julius, who was a partner of his father in the business, was born in Newark. Mr. Isaac afterward went to Rahway, where, for a few years, he conducted the same business, and from there came to Elizabeth and formed a partnership with David Kaufman.

The firm dissolved partnership several years ago, and both men engaged in the same business independently. Mr. Isaac was wealthy. He was a founder of the Hebrew Congregation B'nai Israel of this city and an active member of Herman Masonic Lodge, No. 81, of Elizabeth. He was one of the oldest members of the Mutual Savings Fund Harmonia of Elizabeth.

He was a trustee of the Jewish Synagogue B'nai Israel. His funeral will take place tomorrow and will be conducted by Rabbi Schoenkoff. Mr. Isaac leaves a widow, five sons and a married daughter, Mrs. Samuel Cohn, of this city.

THERE IS A MILK STANDARD.

So Declares State Food Inspector Taking Exception to Court.

Trenton, Jan. 11.—At a recent trial in Long Branch of Thomas A. Foster and William A. Walling, farmers of Freehold, who were charged with having sold milk which was under the standard required by the laws of New Jersey, a charge was made by counsel for the defendants that this State has no fixed standard for milk tests. Upon this contention the defendants were acquitted.

Exception to this charge has been taken by George W. McGuire, State inspector of foods. He made this statement today:

"The talk of this State having no fixed standard for testing milk is foolishness. We have a set standard and one under which we have been working for many years. This test provides that five grams of milk be taken and evaporated in a basin over a water bath. When the evaporation is complete the residue represents the quantity of solids in the milk.

"The State law requires that all milk shall have at least twelve per cent. of solids and not more than eighty-eight per cent. of fluids. Under this standard we have worked a long time and the method of testing is recognized as the best."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Serrell and son, of Brooklyn, who have been visiting relatives in the borough, have returned home.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toes of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 14.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—What Christ taught about money and its uses.—Matt. ii, 11; Mark x, 17-31.

The world today has well been called money mad. No more fully did the Israelites in the wilderness worship the golden calf than thousands of people in the present generation bow down before the power and the desire for money. Nor is this simply a characteristic of the present day. In all times men have appreciated the value of money and have very often been willing to obtain it at the sacrifice of everything that is honorable in life. For money Judas Iscariot betrayed his Saviour; for it Lord Bacon betrayed the great trust of honor that was placed in his hands, and for gold Benedict Arnold betrayed his country. Paul declares that money is the root of all evil, and as we look about us today and see the ruin and destruction that have come into the lives of thousands of men through an effort, even at the sacrifice of honesty and of honor, to lay up great riches we cannot but be appalled at the thought of the power that money wields in the world.

While it would be most interesting to know just what Christ thought about money and its use, yet it must be confessed that there is very little recorded in the gospels so far as He is concerned. He lived a humble and simple life and was seldom brought into close relations with great financial problems. Moreover, His method was not to deal with the social and financial conditions of His day, but to lay down certain divine principles that in time would work out all the problems of human life. We can feel assured, however, that if Christ were living today he would in no way sanction any false or dishonest accumulation of wealth or its use in such a way as to defraud others or deprive them of the rights that belong unto them.

Looking into the life of Christ from the standpoint of the money question, we can feel assured (1) Christ would sanction the consecration of money to God for the extension of His kingdom in the world. When but a child, to Him were offered the gifts of great men, and there is no record that in His after life He in any way condemned the consecration of money to the extension of His kingdom. (2) The value that Christ attached to money in its use in the church depended upon the motive in the heart of the giver rather than the amount that was given. This fact is clearly demonstrated in the incident in which he praised the poor widow in her gifts above the Pharisees, who had given gold where she gave mites, because out of her poverty she gave all, while what the others gave was very small in comparison to what they possessed. The question of the value of the money consecrated for Christian use is one rather of what we have left than what we give. (3) Christ would still preach the doctrine that money must not stand between Him and the salvation of the soul. The rich young ruler who left Christ because he loved his money above his Master had awakened the interests of Christ. He looked upon him with great favor, and yet He demanded that before he could become His follower he must give up his money that there should be nothing to stand between him and his Saviour. Whatever else we may think about money and its use, every one should clearly understand that no man who worships gold can at the same time acceptably worship God, and, moreover, no one who gives money the first place in his heart can give any place to Jesus Christ, for Christ must be all or nothing.

"Our Millions."

The goal toward which Christian Endeavor is striving for the year dating from the international convention last July is one million new churchgoers, one million new church members, one million new Endeavorers and one million new dollars for missions. Recently, writing on this theme, Dr. Clark had this helpful suggestion in the course of his article:

"I wish that we might have very definite records kept by every society of the numbers brought to church, of those brought into the church, of new members, active, associate, co-operating and honorary, and of the amount of money given for missions at home and abroad. To this end I would suggest some such chart as this, to be drawn upon a large scale and hung up in the prayer meeting room, on which the record may be kept and which will serve as a reminder and a stimulus to all the members of the society to do their part:

"OUR MILLIONS.

	New churchgoers.	New church members.	New Endeavorers.	New dollars for missions.
Jan.
Feb.
Mar.
Apr.
May June
July
Aug.
Sept.
Oct.
Nov.
Dec.

"Doubtless some of my friends who are more skillful than I in this matter can suggest improvements for this chart, but it may serve as a rough outline for you to improve upon. Let the president fill in the record at the end of each month and let us hear occasionally at the United society headquarters, Boston, that we may encourage others to do a like work."

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

"Before and After" continues prosperously at the Manhattan theatre, New York, and by the audiences that enjoy it this laughter play by Leo Ditrichstein is voted the best that has come from the author's pen. As the Herald says, this is one of the plays that is "good for the nerves," for it drives dull care away and excites steadily to laughter. The fun begins at once and it is continuous to the end. There have been so few plays in New York this season that were constantly amusing that "Before and After" strikes a popular note, and it should long enjoy the suffrage of the large public that wishes in the theatre to find something that will put it in good nature if suffering from the blues, or that will perpetuate good nature if that condition originally exists. It is seldom that a play has the advantages of interpretation that have fallen to "Before and After." It is staged handsomely, and in all respects is a Broadway play, while with such a company as is seen in Fritz Williams, Thomas A. Wise, Leo Ditrichstein, Kenyon Bishop, Katherine Florence, George Lawrence and Jean Newcombe, its full possibilities are developed. But one matinee a week—on Saturday—is given at the Manhattan.

"A Society Circus," the New York Hippodrome's latest and greatest success, has by popular verdict been declared the ne plus ultra of modern or ancient theatricals. Its magnificence, splendor and grandeur are unparalleled and compel the admiration of the thousands who have witnessed the marvelous production. Hippodromitis is the most popular disease in New York at the present time. The "Court of the Golden Fountains," the final tableau, is the most amazingly beautiful spectacle ever witnessed. An idea of the magnitude of the production may be gained from the following figures: There are used two hundred pounds of gold leaf, 5,000 sheets of polished foil, 20,000 yards of lace, 8,000 imported artificial flowers, 982 costumes, 21,000 yards of cloth, one and one-half miles of orchestral music. In the last scene there is enough water to supply New Rochelle for twenty-four hours. Of pure white linen there are 147,000 feet, 13,000 yards of fire proof linen, 1,500 pounds of spangles and fifty real ostrich feathers. Forty thousand hours of carpenter work were needed to build the undecorated scenery, which is of stupendous size. The three arches in the second scene are larger than the entire opening of the majority of the New York theatres. Each of the six drops is fifty-five feet high. Twenty-five thousand buttons were used and the gypsy wagon used in the opening session was purchased from a western Pennsylvania tribe. Noveau art, the French fad in architecture and decorations, is used for the first time in theatrical history. Matinees are given daily.

SENT BACK TO VERMONT.

Fred Ackerly, Alleged Bigamist, Sent from Jail at Paterson.

Fred Ackerly, alias "Frederick Morley," the alleged bigamist of Washington County, Vermont, who was arrested New Year's Day at Paterson, and who since has been in jail there, was taken yesterday to Vermont by Sheriff Frank H. Tracy.

Ackerly formerly lived in Passaic and at present has a wife and three children residing there. He enlisted in a New Jersey regiment when the Spanish-American War started. He went to Barre, Vermont, and in January of last year married Miss Annie Smith, of that place. He lived with her only a few months when he deserted her. He was in Passaic some time ago, but did not go near his first wife.

In the meantime a brother of the second wife began a search for the husband and learned that he had a wife in Passaic.

GRINNED WHEN MURDER CHARGE WAS READ TO HER

YOUNG NEGRESS NOT FEAZED BY THE ACCUSATION.

Apparently wholly oblivious of the import of the charge of murder that hangs over her, Emma Morris, the young colored woman, who is accused of having shot Adam J. Smith to death in his saloon, at 54 Arlington street, Newark, August 24 last, pleaded not guilty before Chief Justice Gummere in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday morning, grinning broadly the while as though the matter was a huge joke.

Prosecutor Henry Young read the indictment. As the word "murder" fell from Mr. Young's lips, the young woman tossed her head back, and indulged in a smile that grew into a grin. At the conclusion of the reading she answered, without hesitation:

"Not guilty."

"Have you employed counsel?" asked Mr. Young.

"I ain't got money enough for that," answered the woman, who, however, expressed a desire to have a lawyer.

"Michael T. Barrett has had some conference with this woman," said Mr. Young, "and he is willing to appeal for the prisoner. He would probably be the best man to appoint."

The court decided that the petition to that effect be drawn, announcing that the trial day will be fixed later.

Miss Morris is supposed to have caused Smith's death because he had transferred his attentions to another woman. Smith cut the prisoner in the neck with a razor during the fight which ended in his death so that she had to be treated in St. Barnabas' Hospital, for several weeks.

Gets $4,000 for Wife's Affections.

John Rust, a mason and builder, of Hoboken, sued Christian Oltner, a wealthy contractor of that city, for $20,000 damages in the Hudson County Circuit Court, at Jersey City, yesterday, for alienating his wife's affections. The jury awarded him $4,000.

SURVIVORS OF BALAKLAVA.

Forty-Seven Veterans of the Light Brigade Still Living at Recent Date.

Fifty years ago the gallant Light Brigade thundered across the field of Balaklava, and the echoes of its hoof-beats still reverbrate, states the London Telegraph. Fifty years ago—and October 25 the grizzled veterans who are to-day the remnants of the Six Hundred dined together and renewed their memories of the bravest, maddest episode in military history. Forty-seven is the total of the survivors of the Light Brigade, and of them 29 attended the banquet at the Holborn restaurant. It was an inspiring sight, but it was also pathetic, for only a few of the warriors are prosperous, and many of them wore their medals bravely on a shabby coat, and their care-lined faces and knarled hands showed that life had not been overkind to them. But they were merry on their great anniversary, and especially did they cheer when Mr. T. H. Roberts, the chairman, announced the royal messages. Toasts were drunk in solemn silence to "our noble leader the Earl of Cardigan." Very heartily was accorded the health of "Miss Florence Nightingale, the soldiers' friend." Mr. T. H. Roberts made an earnest appeal for subscriptions, so that he could not only continue to make up the income from all sources of the old heroes to 15 shillings a week, but could raise it to £1. Surely, he said, every patriotic Englishman must feel conscience-stricken to think of a Balaklava hero, aged about 80, living on 15 shillings a week.

GOOD WORD FOR COOLIE.

British Army Officer Is Impressed with the Faithfulness of Chinese Toilers.

Lieut. Col. Mainfield, of the British army, writes: "My admiration for the Chinese coolie is unbounded; there is no man in the world who does the same patient, laborious work so cheerfully. Farther on, when we came to the mountainous watershed country, where only back loads are possible, I became still more confirmed in this opinion. Often after a long and weary day with the surveyors, in the course of which we would have climbed up from 5,000 to 8,000 feet, and made several such assents and descents, having, perhaps, been on the move from five in the morning until dusk, we would come in, rather inclined to pat ourselves on the back at the thought of what a hard day's work we had successfully accomplished, only to find that the Chinese coolies had made as good time, each man having covered nearly as much ground with a load of 100 pounds on his back. This done on a few bowls of rice and bean curd, for a wage of less than ninepence (18 cents).

Then, on their arrival, one might have thought that the coolies would have been glad to rest; but if, as was often the case where accommodation was limited, I slept in the same house, I found to my annoyance that to retire to bed was far from their thoughts and that my sleep was often disturbed by the noise they made as they sat up gambling long past midnight, and yet they would be again on the road before six in the morning, having risen to make up their loads and get their food cooked before five o'clock."

CURIOUS CAUSE OF FAMINE.

Slave Vessels Pursued by English Gunboats Brought Ruin Upon Egypt.

One of the worst famines ever known in Lower Egypt was caused by a couple of John Bull's gunboats. The vessels went up into the marshes beyond Khartoum to capture slave traders.

The slavers, who had made up their minds not to be caught easily, made a bold bid for freedom by cutting channels through the mass of vegetation which lined the main stream of the Nile.

The majority of them escaped in this way, but the channels they cut in their anxiety to get away brought ruin and famine to Lower Egypt. The current carried the masses of loose vegetation down the river, and so completely blocked it that the Nile flood failed.

The peasantry on the shores lost their crops and many died of starvation. The damage caused by the slavers and the gunboats cost Britain hundreds of pounds, and it took weeks to clear the river of the floating stalks and loose earth.

The Drunkard Bee.

"I have been hearing of the busy bee until I am tired of it," says Drake Watson. "A bee works during the summer and then rests all winter, like a plasterer. And a bee has bad habits. Go into a vineyard and you will find bee drunkards around bursted grapes. The drunkard bees sip up the juice until they become full and then fall to the ground and sleep off their debauch; a drunkard bee knows enough not to go home with a jag."—Kansas City Journal.

Probably.

Jinker—They have just crossed the orange with the grape fruit tree, and they call the fruit the tangelo. I wonder what they will do next?

Blinker—They will probably cross the vegetable ivory with the rubber tree and call the fruit golf balls.—N. Y. Times.

English Shipbuilders.

Many British skilled shipbuilders, till recently employed in the English naval dockyards are emigrating to the United States, where they hope to find employment in the expected expansion of the American navy.

READ THE THOUGHTS OF R. HENRY DEPEW

MRS. FAY TOLD HIM THAT MR. CURTIS WAS ON HIS MIND.

There will be no performance at the Casino tonight by the Fays owing to the fact that the hall was engaged several months ago for the Criterion Club dance. This afternoon there was the first of the special matinees for women only. There will be another of these tomorrow and Saturday, as well as the regular performance in the evening.

Mrs. Fay last night repeated and even excelled her successes of the two nights previous, answering scores of questions of various natures without a single error. Some of the questions took her into the past, some into the future. Some of them did not carry her many miles away, but others took her not only into the realms of time, but of space.

A good test question was put by R. Henry Depew, when he asked Mrs.

Mrs. Fay.

Fay to tell him the name of the friend of whom he was thinking. She instantly told him that he was thinking of "Curtis."

Many of the questions were tests. About the best of all for a genuine test was that propounded by C. E. Faber, who wanted to know the number on his father's watch. Slowly Mrs. Fay called out the figures, four, one, zero, zero, four, two and nine, finally affirming positively that was 4,100,429. Mr. Faber said it was.

Mrs. Moore wanted to straighten out a domestic difficulty and asked Mrs. Fay whose picture her husband carried in his pocket.

"Did not your husband tell you whose it was? Well, he told the truth. It does not belong to him, but to another person at the office. You ought to believe your husband," was the answer from the stage.

In response to a question from Miss Daisy Elsberg, as to where some things that had been taken from her were, Mrs. Fay told her that they were of no use now, and Miss Elsberg said that she had presumed so.

Leo Hess asked how he could get back his pocketbook, which he lost recently. The seeress told him that he wanted the pocketbook more than the contents, as there was only a little in it. It was, she said, in the possession of some one who worked in a photographic studio in New York City, who had found it. Answering Mr. Hess the second time, she told him the exact amount in the pocketbook when he lost it, forty dollars.

Bertha Weber, who is visiting here from Baltimore, inquired about her chances for getting a position when she returned to that city. Mrs. Fay informed her that she would secure one in a large store through a friend of hers.

Several persons asked about lost articles, one being told what steps to take to procure a watch taken under peculiar circumstances a long time ago. George S. Curtis inquired about some jewelry which was taken from the bank in 1903, and was given directions as to the best way to recover it.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet tonight and have initiation.

BISHOP McFAUL GIVES A RACE SUICIDE TALK.

Says American of Future Will Be Evolved From Foreign Element.

The old type of American—the typical New Englander—is passing away, and according to Right Rev. Bishop James A. McFaul, the American of the future will be evolved from the foreign men and women who are now reaching these shores by the hundred thousands.

During the course of a very masterful address delivered at the confirmation service Sunday night in St. Peter's church, New Brunswick, the bishop touched among other matters on race suicide. He declared that it was but necessary to consult statistics to see that the old time American would before very many years elapsed be but a memory in the land.

The bishop paid a high tribute to the self-sacrifice of these men, who had laid the foundation of the greatest republic the world had ever seen, and dwelt on them almost in sorrow, as though they were but a memory.

He pointed to the families of the foreign settlers throughout the United States with their eight, ten and twelve children in each home, and then sadly referred to the childless hearths of the American homes, rendered such "by the violation of the sacred laws of matrimony as laid down by the church."

After dealing in no uncertain tones with the condition of the homes of what might be termed the average American woman, Bishop McFaul drew attention to the necessity of the cultivation of patriotism among the foreigners arriving and their descendants for the glorious land of their adoption.

He showed how by the blending of the various nationalities, the Irish, English, Scotch, French, German, Italian, Hungarian and others, a race of the future would arise in this fair land that would be the finest and grandest on the earth.

The responsibility in moulding these varied elements into the grand nationality of the future depended largely upon the church, as through the church alone cuold they be well and wisely governed.

During the course of his remarks on the subject Bishop McFaul made brief passing reference to Preident Roosevelt's having called attention to the great calamity threatening as the result of race suicide.

OLDEST CONSTABLE IN NEW JERSEY

AMOS MOFFETT SWORN IN FOR FORTY-FIRST TIME.

New Jersey's oldest court constable, Amos Moffett, for half a century a resident of this city, was sworn into office Tuesday for the forty-first time, at the age of eighty-two years. His duties are at the county court house, and at the justice courts in this city during important cases.

Constable Moffett, by a peculiarity for which no one now can account, has always been elected to his office each year for three-year terms, and now has nore years to serve, at this rate, even if not elected again, than he or three generations of his descendants could serve. At the least calculation, he has over 100 years to serve yet, and has no need to worry about his chances for re-election for the rest of his life. Even if he had to depend upon the election each year, which has now almost resolved itself into a matter of form in his case, he would still be the Plainfield constable at the county court, for no one ever thinks of opposing "Uncle Amos" in his campaign.

He is always on the ballot when election time comes, and always gets the full vote. Were it not that Democrats and Republicans alike vote for him, his vote could be used to show the number of ballots cast at an election by one party.

Moffett is a Republican, and witnessed the birth of that party way back in the 50's. He was once the only officer Plainfield had, and acted as both constable and policeman and process server. He was first a blacksmith, and did most of the local business in that line, but was often deputized to help the regular officer when there was a particularly difficult arrest to make, because the evil doers had a wholesome respect for his strong right arm.

The regular constable had been put out of business a few times by obstreperous individuals in the particularly lawless times during the Civil War, and Amos was finally called upon so frequently to assist with arrests that he could only half attend to his trade, and he said he would give up his trade and come out for election to the office of constable. From that time he has continuously been elected. At first the office was only for a year, but by a change of the law the term was extended to three years, but no one seemed to take cognizance of it and continued electing every year, until the custom has been established, and no one ever thinks of the incongruity.

Mrs. Fay to W. L. Saunders.

At the Fays' performance last night W. L. Saunders, former Mayor of North Plainfield, was told, correctly, that he had a little black book in his pocket in which he had written "Will North Plainfield and Plainfield become consolidated?" Mrs. Fay replied positively that consolidation would take place soon. "Why didn't you bring it about when you were Mayor?" she asked. "You were very popular."

Beating His Way.

Jack Kelly, engaged in beating his way on the Central Railroad, from New York to Philadelphia, was arrested by Officer Martin last night for trespassing on the railroad. Judge Runyon suspended sentence this morning.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Society will hold a meeting for Bible study in the W. C. T. U. rooms tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Miss Cromwell, of Cranford, will have charge. All are invited.

STRATEGY USED AGAINST STRIKERS.

Laborers Yielded When Leader Was Arrested and Faced Prosecution.

Trenton, Jan. 11.—A strike inaugurated Monday by nearly 200 Italian laborers employed on the Reading Railway at Trenton Junction was brought to an end today by the capture of their leader and the threat on the part of the railroad detectives to send him to jail. The strikers finally consented to return to work if the leader was released. This was done and the strike declared off.

The men struck for an increase in pay. This was denied and the laborers became ugly. This morning they armed themselves with knives, picks, axes and other implements and weapons and marched in a body to the Trenton Junction Station, threatening to do damage to the railroad property.

Detective Roland Mitchel and five assistants drew their revolvers and drove the strikers to a little woods nearby. The detectives then executed a clever finak movement, capturing the leading spirit in the strike. Then the struggle was speedily declared at an end.

TRIBUTE TO HARPER.

President Hadley Praises His Ability and Courage.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 11.—President Hadley, of Yale, said today, in speaking of the death of President Harper, of the University of Chicago:

"Dr. Harper was a brilliant teacher, a skilful organizer and a business man of rare ability. Zealous in presenting his own opinions, he was at the same time ready to give patient hearing and accord due weight to the opinions of others. He always supported loyally the decisions of any conference of which he was a member.

"This made him an unusually pleasant man to work with, both in the graduate faculty at Yale and afterward in the association of American universities. But even greater than the efficiency and business ability which he showed in his life work is the courage which he has manifested in the face of death. Before this courage we bow to reverence."

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION OF CHURCHES TO HAVE CAMP MEETING CITY AT SEA GIRT

Asbury Park, Jan. 11.—News was received here yesterday that the Baptist Association of churches had procured an option for the purchase of the Sea Girt farm near the camp grounds. The option is said to be for $300,000, and the property, some of it fronting on the ocean, is admirably located for the purpose required by the association, which is the establishment of a summer Baptist camp-meeting city corresponding to Ocean Grove, with many of the restrictions and Sunday regulations that have helped to make that religious seaside town so famous in the country.

Half-price tickets are still issued to clergymen and children, but every one else, with the exception of the State officials and members of the Legislature holding passes, have to pay full rates.

SETON COOL UNDER ARREST BUT FEARS CAMERA

Former Plainfielder, Alleged Forger of Securities, Taken to New York by Detectives.

PINKERTONS GET HIM

Lived on Woodland Avenue Until Last April—Has a Strikingly Handsome Wife.

In the custody of Pinkerton and New York detectives is Charles Augustus Seton, alleged ring leader and chief perpetrator of the gigantic Norfolk & Western certificate forgeries, a swindling operation which may involve a loss of more than $2,000,000 to financial interests in various parts of the country. Seton resided in this city until a year ago. He occupied No. 524 Woodland avenue. He spent little time here, having business interests in New York. His wife is remarkable for her beauty, and while here attracted attention wherever she went. The couple removed from here last April.
last April. Seton will be arraigned in New York today in the Quarter Sessions Court.

As the prisoner, a young man of great height and of athletic build, was caught near Elkton, Maryland, where he was arrested Wednesday night, one would scarcely have detected from his boyish features and jovial manner that he was accused of planning and putting into operation one of the most daring and successful forgeries in modern times. He was in hiding on a farm near Elkton for some time.

Assistant Superintendent Rutledge, who with Mulholland, struck the trail of the fugitive after he had mystified the New York authorities as to his whereabouts, was on hand to relieve Assistant Mulholland with another Pinkerton man, who continued the journey to New York with the prisoner, in company with Detective Sergeant McConville.

"Pleasant day and no bad signs," was Seton's first remark, as he met Assistant Superintendent Rutledge. Asquickly as possible the prisoner and his guards repaired to a cafe, where Seton ate ravenously, starting with a cocktail, "to taper the nerves," as he expressed it.

"Well, I'm glad to be with you gentlemen, and here's my very best regards," he remarked with a smile, tossing off the drink.

Despite the efforts of the detectives, they failed to wring from the lips of their prisoner the slightest information bearing upon the forgeries of which he is accused.

"Now, you know my position, you're a good fellow, but then, think of me," was his sole rejoinder to Assistant Superintendent Mulholland and Detective McConville, whenever the subject of forgery was broached.

He likewise refused to admit, after his arrest, that he was a fugitive, in having fled from New York when under $5,000 bail on a charge of grand larceny.

On the journey to New York, Seton had but one fear, and that was publicity. The prisoner had scarcely put foot in the terminal at Philadelphia before photographers surrounded him.

"Don't let them do that," the accused begged of the detectives. The party went at a rapid pace to the cafe with the photographers and a crowd of the curious following. On the return to the train the camera men made a second assault. Evading the guards at the train gates, on daring individual with camera ran down the train shed in pursuit of the prisoner. Seton saw him coming.

"Harry up," he cried, and throwing the tails of his overcoat across his face the stalwart prisoner fled, dragging the detectives with him. He sprang into the dining car. The camera man followed. The prisoner leaped out and finally gained a parlor car attached to the train and sunk into a seat, with his back to the window, to the disgust of the photographer.

Train Kills Central Trackwalker.

Bayonne, Jan. 12.—Michael Sullivan, of 106 Lexington avenue, a trackawlker in the employ of the Central Railroad, was run over and killed by a shifting engine at the East Fifteenth street crossing in this city yesterday. Sullivan was walking track No. 4 in an easterly direction when he was run down by the engine, which was going in the same direction. He was instantly killed. He was sixty years old and has been employed by the Central for twenty-five years.

LARGE MEETING AT HOPE.

Farewell Service Tonight in Rev. Dr. Lunn's Series.

A full house greeted Rev. Dr. George R. Lunn at his service at Hope chapel last night. He preached a stirring sermon on "How Shall We Escape if We Neglect?" Many persons rose to ask prayer for friends and four made special consecration of themselves to Christ.

The last meeting with Dr. Lunn will be held tonight, and it was announced that a collection for expenses would be taken. Mr. Howard will hold evangelistic services Sunday and next Thursday, concluding the series with the communion service Sunday, January 21.

DOUBTFUL OF ADMITTING CRESCENT AVE. SOCIETY.

Endeavor Union Discussing the Wording of the Organization's Constitution.

The congress of the local Christian Endeavor Union held its regular bi-monthly meeting last evening in the Congregational church. Clarence La Rue was appointed chairman in the absence of President Fred Lounsbury, who was unable to be present.

The question of admitting to the union the Young People's Society of the Crescent Avenue church was again discussed. As the constitution of the union is worded at present, much discussion may be held over this point, but it was finally voted to arrange a meeting between representatives from the Crescent Avenue Society and the members of the congress, when a definite and satisfactory settlement is hoped for.

A large mass meeting in charge of the missionary committee, of which A. M. Van Arsdale is chairman, will be held next month.

Plans were formed for receiving contributions from the different societies of town for the Clark memorial fund. Printed booklets containing the constitution and by-laws of the union were distributed to those present.

FOOTBALL SHOULD SURELY BE ABOLISHED.

Pupils of the Plainfield High School Have So Decided.

Notwithstanding that it was decided by debate at the Plainfield High School yesterday that the game of football as played by the American colleges should be abolished, it war afterwards announced that the result would not affect the game as played by the team from the local school.

Miss Ruth Bullock and Horace Vail argued for the affirmative, and Phillip Leichtentritt and Joe Osgood for the negative. After a spirited debate, it was declared that the affirmative side won. Principal Travell acted as judge, Miss Loch as critic and George Fisher as chairman.

The decision has not been transmitted to the intercollege football reform committee.

Sewer Extension Ordinance.

Having allowed the south-side sanitary sewer ordinance to remain on the table following its return with the Mayor's veto, it is unlikely that the matter will be taken up under its present conditions. The members feel that the improvement is of too much importance to act hastily upon, and they will probably wait for the report from Street Comissioner Gavett and the consulting engineer, J. O. Osgood, who are now working on the plans.

After Thieving Servants.

Chief Kiely went to New York today, to watch the proceedings against Louise Rehak and Lizzie Bednarik, the Huntington servant girls who are accused of stealing $150 worth of clothes, in the First Police Court. The chief expects to have no trouble in getting the prisoners transferred to his charge.

PUBLIC SERVICE LOSES

Gambles on Verdict in Stevens Suit and Gets the Worst of the Deal.

AGREES TO GIVE $300

An Hour Afterward Jury Throws the Case Out of Court—Plaintiff Asked $1,500.

Still staggering from the effects of the Guinn verdict of $22,000 Wednesday, the Public Service Corporation was dealt another knockout blow yesterday, or in common everyday slang was badly "stung" because of its lawyer, John B. Bernhard, gambling on the jury's decision in the suit brought by Mrs. Mary Stevens, of this city.

The plaintiff asked $1,500 for alleged injuries received on an Arlington avenue car in August, 1903, and the evidence was heard yesterday morning. The case went to the jury at noon and while it was deliberating, Bernhard consented to give Mrs Stevens' counsel, S. S. Swackhamer, $300 and costs, the latter agreeing to abide by the decision no matter what the verdict. When the jury returned at 4 o'clock it said simply, "No cause of action," and the Public Service people have been kicking themselves ever since. If Bernhard had waited, the trial would have cost them nothing whereas the expense will reach $500.

Mrs. Stevens alleged that while a passenger on one of the company's cars, the conductor threw a seat over breaking two of her ribs. Bernhard alleged that the plaintiff was intoxicated and that she refused to move when requested.

Before the case was called yesterday morning, Bernhard offered to settle for $5, but this was refused. A little later, Bernhard and William Church, an adjuster for the company, suggested to Swackhamer that his client accept $50. This was also declined. Then after the evidence was all in, the defendant's counsel offered to pay $200 damages, but Swackhamer wouldn't listen to anything less than $250.

After the jury retired, Bernhard again approached Swackhamer and said:

"What will you take for the verdict now, no matter what it may be?"

Swackhamer consulted his client, and then told Bernhardt that she would accept $300, the defendant to pay the costs of the trial. This was satisfactory to all concerned and the agreement was duly drawn up and filed.

"Now remember," said Bernhard, putting the paper in his pocket, "this stands no matter what the jury does."

Swackhamer nodded assent and the Public Service representatives went off by themselves and had a good handshake. It is not recorded what they said when the verdict was returned but up to noon Swackhamer was still abiding by the articles of agreement and enjoying a series of chuckles.

CREDITORS GET VERDICT IN ATTACHMENT SUIT.

Jury in Westfield Declares Fulton Owns Furniture Held Up.

A jury in Justice Toucey's court at Westfield, yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs in the suit brought by M. R. Giles and J. A. Smith & Brother, of this city, against Robert Fulton to prove the ownership of property.

Fulton resided on West Seventh street, this city, and breaking up housekeeping, but his furniture in storage. He afterward took it out and placed it in freight cars for shipment to Alan Gale at White Plains, N. Y. Giles and the Smiths, who were creditors of Fulton, placed an attachment on the goods and held them up.

Fulton claimed the goods did not belong to him and when the suit was heard before Justice Toucey, Mrs. Fulton said that she had owned them but she had sold them to Gale. Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., presented a strong case and proved by several witnesses that Fulton was the man who had transacted all dealings in regard to the furniture and that Gale did not figure in the ownership until after the attachment was served.

The goods will now be sold to satisfy the claims of the creditors. Gifford Williams, a New York lawyer, represented the defendants.

To Give Piano Recital.

Miss Palmer and her pupils have issued invitations for a piano recital to be given at the Hartridge School Tuesday afternoon, January 23, at 3 o'clock. The programme will include six musical illustrations of scenes from "Enoch Arden."

REV. GILBERT LOVELL IS STUDYING CHINA

LETTER FROM PLAINFIELDER ENGAGED IN MISSIONARY WORK.

Rev. Gilbert Lovell, of this city, who was sent to the Chinese mission field by the Crescent Avenue church, is rapidly familiarizing himself with his environment and the character and possibilities of his work. He keeps his friends here posted as to his experiences, by means of frequent letters, all of which are unusually interesting reading. In his last letter, dated Siangtan, Hunan, October 30, he says:

"I made my first visit upon a mandarin alone, and without any foreigner to help me. I had always before gone with Mr. Locke or Dr. Vanderburgh, but this time I went alone and called upon the chief mandarin of the city, who is termed "hesien" because he is the chief officer of that kind of city, a city of third rank, and yet in this case one of the largest cities in all this province. I was afraid that some matter of etiquette would arise which, with my limited knowledge, I could not meet, and such a thing did happen, but I think matters in this case arranged themselves. I was on my way to the mandarin's and my boy was a little in advance of my sedan chair carrying my card, which has to be presented before I arrive in order that I may be received, when I feel in with seven or eight officials all on the same errand. The question was—should I allow them to precede me, and thus gain an audience before me, or should I hurry on ahead and strive to gain one ahead of them? I chose the former course, only to have them received in the large guest-room while, on the other hand, very shortly after they had gone in I was invited into a private room, where the mandarin gave me the first audience, so that I felt in some way honored above the visiting officials.

"This month Mrs. Lovell held her first woman's meeting, and she has now formed a class which meets around our dining-room table once a week and the members of which, in all about six, have some knowledge of the gospel. We want your prayers for this work, for there are vast possibilities in it, and Mrs. Lovell and I are very enthusiastic over it. She is taking up the study of God with them because that is the starting point of all, and especially as they know so little of what God means.

"The other day I accompanied Mr. Locke to one of our out-stations, where we have a little preaching chapel, and I preached my first sermon although, as a matter of fact, it was only an informal talk and I enjoyed it. The trip occupied only the best part of a day and we were home at six in the evening, but it was very enjoyable, especially the Chinese meal, which was prepared for us in our own chapel in the seventeenth ward by the chapel-keeper."

MISS BROADNAX IS ADMIRED AT OBERLIN.

Faculty Regards Bright Colored Girl As a Splendid Student.

Continuing the unusually good work as a student, that marked her progress while at the High School here, Anna F. Broadnax, the colored girl who was valedictorian at the last graduation, has made herself prominent among the undergraduates at Oberlin College, where she is a member of the freshman class. The attention of the faculty has been drawn by the character of her work.

In a class of forty-five students, Miss Broadnax stood first in scholarship at the High School. She determined to prepare herself for teaching among her own people in the South. In order to secure the best advice on ways and means, she consulted Booker T. Washington. It was at his suggestion that she went to Oberlin.

The secretary of the college says: "There are 200 students in the freshman class, and Miss Broadnax's grades entitle her to rank sixth in that class, with only two white girls ahead of her."

Professor Adams wrote: "She has been one of my best students throughout the year. Her average for the term was about 98 per cent. She is an unusual student, and very lady-like in her bearing. In my judgment her education is an investment of the first rank."

King's Daughters' Luncheon.

The Daughters of the Cross will hold a luncheon at the Park Club on Thursday, January 25, for the purpose of raising funds with which to meet the annual pledge to the support of the King's Daughter's nurse.

Verdict Against Hall.

W. W. Wilson secured judgment against Albert Hall in Justice Mosher's court yesterday in an action on contract. F. J. Blatz appeared for the plaintiff.

COAL DEALERS WRANGLE

Dissection Reported in Newly Formed Retailers Protective Association.

THE CAUSE OF DISPUTE

Can't Agree On Who Should Not Be Given Credit—At Meeting Soon To Be Held Change May Be Made.

Although the Plainfield Retail Coal Dealers' Protective Association has been in existence but a few weeks there is already a rumor of dissension within the organization. According to one of the dealers, "there will be a red hot time at the next meeting to be held soon." The date of meetings are kept as much of a secret as possible.

From what can be learned some of the dealers have been reporting the names of certain persons, friends of other dealers and known by them to be good pay. In one case a customer claimed that the dealer seeking a settlement was indebted to him for a like sum and he had called the account square.

It is also alleged that some people have been reported for a debt of $1.25 and $1.50, and this has caused trouble. The rule of the association is that where a person owes a bill to two or more dealers he cannot get any more coal, except for cash, until his old accounts are settled. Even this rule has complicated affairs, for oftentimes persons so charged with owing bills have been able to explain the matter, and in several instances it has been found upon investigation that the claims were in dispute, which could only be settled by a law suit.

Under these circumstances some dealers have not adhered strictly to the rule, it is said, and have continued to use their own judgment as to whether a man is good pay or not. It is further said that one man was reported unworthy of credit and a dealer, to his own certain knowledge, knew he was good and said that he would sell him any amount of coal and trust to getting his money.

Aside from these troubles which seem to have caused dissension in the association, it is claimed that the co-operation of dealers has been productive of much good in that many delinquents have settled old accounts and are now paying cash for coal. It is said that all of the dealers have profited in this respect.

One dealer, when asked his opinion concerning the future of the association, replied that there would have to be a change in some of the rules if it was to be a successful organization. The dealers got together chiefly for the collection of bad bills and to prevent them in the future. Other disturbing elements have entered the association and caused a friction, and the various dealers are not as harmonious as in the first instance.

INSTALLATION SUPPER.

Members of Central Lodge Feast After Officers Are Inducted.

Before the biggest assemblage of members gathered in two years, Deputy Grand Master Workman George E. Mott, of Jersey City, installed the recently elected officers of Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., last night. The affair attracted a roomful of men from among the lodge's membership.

After the meeting the assemblage went to Clevely's restaurant, North avenue, where a big supper was held. Speeches of happy tone marked the gathering.

Evangelistic Services.

The evangelistic services will be continued tonight, tomorrow and Sunday at Faith chapel by Rev. C. C. Luther. The results thus far have been very satisfactory, a large number of persons signifying a desire to lead a Christian life. The work was started chiefly to increase the interest of the people in the vicinity of the chapel, as well as the members, and it has been a success.

Congratulates the Chief.

The current number of The Detective, the official organ of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, refers to the result of the Kiely trial and cordially congratulates the chief on his vindication. As a further comment on the investigation it quotes The Daily Press as to the flimsy basis for many charges against men in the chief's position.

RECEPTION TO ORRA S. ROGERS AND HIS BRIDE.

Given by Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw, at Seventh-Day Baptist Church Parsonage.

Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw gave a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Orra S. Rogers, of Madison avenue, at the Seventh-Day Baptist parsonage, Central avenue, last night. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were married recently in Lockport, N. Y., the home of the bride. While Mr. Rogers is well known to Plainfield—he is superintendent of the Sabbatarian Sabbath-school—his bride was a stranger to the Seventh-Day Baptist church members until last night.

The affair was very largely attended and passed off delightfully. There was an entire absence of formality.

Those receiving were Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Orra S. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robbie. In the dining room were Mrs. James Everett Kimball Dr. Martha Rose Stillman, Mrs. Oscar Ellis and Miss Ernestine C. Smith.

RINES BROTHERS' SERVICES.

Will Have Full Charge at Grace M. E. Church Sunday.

The Rines brothers, the Canadian singing evangelists, are still conducting services at Grace M. E. church, but will conclude the services Sunday. On that day they will have full charge morning, afternoon and evening and hope to have large attendances.

Meetings will be held in the church this afternoon and evening and vocal music will be features. The services the last few nights have attracted much interest and the numbers professing a Christian life have been increasing.

A Series of Entertainments.

The first entertainment in the course arranged by the Young People's Society of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, which was to have been given tonight in the chapel, but was postponed on account of the week of prayer services, is announced for Tuesday night, January 16. Miss Ellen Bowie will give a monologue at this time. On Thursday night, March 8, Jacob Riis will give his illustrated lecture on "The Battle of the Slums," and the third entertainment will be given on March 23, by Albert Armstrong, who will lecture on the Lorna Doone Country. This will be illustrated.

The Last Recital.

The last of a series of Shakespearan recitals was given in the social room at Truell Inn, yesterday afternoon, by Dr. Edgar C. Abbott, of Boston. These recitals have been given under the patronage of several New York and Plainfield women and have been enjoyable and very instructive. Fully thirty women attended yesterday's recital.

Short Story Competition.

For the purpose of making the next number of the Oracle commemorative of the opening of the new High School, it was announced this morning that there would be a competition for short stories among the pupils of the High School. It is now planned to open the new school early in February.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Emma L. Wolfe, of East Second street, to Peter V. Stroble, of Easton, Pa.

LONG HANGED TODAY

Murderer of Matthew Cunningham Died on the Scaffold at 10:45.

MADE NO STATEMENT

Spent His Last Night on Earth Playing Cards With the Death Watches—Story of the Crime and Capture.

Maintaining his phlegmatic temperament until the last moment, Charles Long, the murderer of Matthew Cunningham, who was captured at New Market, died on the scaffold in the jail yard at Trenton this morning. The trap was sprung without a hitch at 10:45 and one minute and ten seconds later physicians pronounced him dead. The execution was satisfactory in every way to Sheriff Wilbur and his assistants, while the witnesses were hardly aware it had taken place.

Long spent the night playing cards with the death watches. He was told yesterday that there was absolutely no hope for him and he received the news with the utmost unconcern. His spiritual adviser, Rev. Father Whelan, broke the news to him but his outward expression narrated no emotion.

He was called early today by Sheriff Wilbur, who gave him the customary suit of black clothing and he put it on with alacrity. He then spent a short time bidding good bye to all who had been kind to him and afterward retired to the recesses of his cell to talk to Father Whelan. On the advice of the priest he resolved to make no statement and when the time came for him to walk into the court yard he did so with a firm step and his head erect.

He hardly looked about him as he mounted the scaffold and no words were spoken except by the guards who directed him where to stand. No one but Sheriff Wilbur knows who sprung the trap as it was done by means of a wire rope running into the court house and to a man stationed out of sight.

As Long's friends seem to have deserted him, his body will be buried at the expense of the county.

The crime for which Long was hung was committed at Trenton last July. He and Matthew Cunningham became involved in a quarrel over a woman and Long left the house they were at in a rage. He returned shortly afterward with a shot gun and creeping behind his rival, empited the charge in his head, killing him instantly. He made his escape from Trenton and came to Dunellen, pursued by detectives. He succeeded in throwing them off his track and made his way to Piscataway township and for a week played hide-and-seek in Dismal Swamp with the Trenton and Plainfield police. He was finally captured on Frank VanNuis' farm below New Market by Chief Kiely, Detective McCarthy and Patrolman Higgins, of the local force. His captors were supposed to get a reward, but when they asked for it, VanNuis claimed it because of giving information. The police denied that he had aided them in any way and the matter is now being fought out in the courts.

Wins Suit Against Estate.

Elizabeth, Jan. 12.—In the $4,000 contract suit of Mr. and Mrs. William Egan, of Summit, against William J. Ryan, of Morristown, executor of the $15,000 estate of the late Bridget Cunningham, for care of the woman during the last eight years of her life, a jury today in the Union County Circuit Court, where the case was tried, awarded the plaintiffs $2,575.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark, of Westervelt avenue, entertained the Fortnightly Whist Club, at their home, last night. The usual number attended, but it was necessary to use several substitutes, regular members being absent. After the play refreshments were served.

Criterion's Second Dance.

The Criterion Club conducted the second dance of the present winter's series at the Casino, last night. It was attended by a large gathering of young people from this city, Elizabeth, Somerville and New Brunswick. Harry DeMeza was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Frank Oliver, of New Market, was fined $5 by Recorder Campbell for drunkenness and disorder when arraigned by Marshal Mohan. Oliver created considerable of a fuss at the railroad station and gave out the general impression that he was intent on tearing the depot wide open. He hazarded the opinion, in audible tones, that no one would dare pinch him, and talked real sassy. Judge Campbell made it $5 as a municipal comment on Frank's attitude toward the law.

His many friends here are pleased to learn that George Staples has been reappointed to his old position as flagman at Cranford. Up to the time of his suspension Staples had served there nine years. He is wedded to railroading and his removal left him very downcast. He is correspondingly delighted to get back to his post. Staples has lived at Joseph Maier's hotel for years.

Contractor Case has completed the excavation of the drainage ditch across the Sanford property. It will be offered to the Borough Council for acceptance Monday night. The work was completed in ten days, without any particular difficulty except in one place where a boggy pocket delayed the job a half a day.

This is the first winter in eight years Judge Campbell hasn't tramped over the mountains daily to teach school. He gave up teaching last spring, for a time at least, after thirty years as a schoolmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coriell, Jr., enjoying a bridal trip in the South. They will reside, temporarily, with the bridegroom's parents.

Miss Evelyn Dayton, of Piscataway, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. P. Garretson, for several days.

Adam Dealaman has recovered from his illness with jaundice and returned to school.

Mayor Wyckoff will announce the remainder of his appointments Monday night.

H. S. Garretson was recalled to the petit jury, sitting in New Brunswick, today.

Charles Hoch, of Somerville, is the new bartender at Maier's hotel.

A special meeting of the Council will be held Monday night.

William Laible has resigned from Joseph Maier's employ.

Miss Josephine Dealaman spent yesterday in Newark.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

One of the most enjoyable affairs the Suburban Club has ever held was the invitation dance and reception the club gave last night in their cozy little hall. Suhr's orchestra furnished the music for dancing, which was continued until a late hour, the only intermission being a short hour at midnight when refreshments were served. The club's bowling alleys and billiard room were open for those who tired of the waltz, prizes being given on the alleys for the high scores of the night. Friends of the club were present from Plainfield, Westfield and Cranford.

The $10,000 suit of Counsellor George Ball against the Public Service Corporation, which was to have been tried at this term of court, has been settled. Mr. Ball was injured in the collision at Leland avenue last August.

Charles and Battell Loomis, who have been spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Battell Loomis, of the borough, have returned to their studies at Mt. Pleasant Academy, Ossissing, N. Y.

The local blacksmiths at last enjoyed a winter's harvest. The open weather made business slack, but the advent of real winter weather Tuesday started the ball rolling.

The weekly prayer and praise meeting tonight at the Baptist church will be led by the pastor, Rev. T. Moore-Smith.

The Criterion Club's dance at the Casino last night was enjoyed by a number of young people from here.

Edward Finnessey is recovering from a severe cold, which has detained him at home for the past week.

Miss Evelyn Buckley, of South avenue, spent yesterday with her aunt, Miss Susie Parse.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Among the sixteen men of Company K who received 100 per cent. medals was Jesse Dayton, Jr., of this place, who was present with the company at the Governor's review in Trenton, Wednesday night.

At the prayer service at the Baptist church last night Pastor Cubberley spoke upon "The Value of the Old Doctrines in Christian Experience and Christian Work."

Some of F. C. Lounsberry's family, of Plainfield, are residing at the farm here for a few days.

Prayer and covenant meeting was held this afternoon at the church at 2 o'clock.

William Voorhees, of New York, visited his farm here yesterday.

Raymond Payne tried a sleighride yesterday afternoon.

Helping Circus Plans.

F. A. Henckel, formerly physical director at the Y. M. C. A., now assistant director at the Brooklyn Central branch, was at the local association last night, arranging a circus programme with the committee in charge of the coming show. Mr. Henckel carried out the first show, last year, to a very successful conclusion. His suggestions are unusually valuable.

Burned by Radiator.

Mrs. David Bush, janitress of the New Plainfield theatre, was severely burned about the right arm by a radiator, Tuesday. She did not know the heat was turned on full and putting her arm behind it, touched a part, receiving the full benefit of the steam. The burn was so bad Dr. Dundon's services were necessary to dress it.

Silk Floss Mattresses

REMARKABLE REDUCTION IN COST.

A rose by another name is just as sweet—and no sweeter; so these mattresses could be not better no matter what label might be sewed on them. To give a mattress a high sounding name and then boost it has been quite the fashion, and you have been offered just such mattresses as these under a different title at much higher prices.

If you choose, you can pay a price for the name—the label—or you can come here and get a mattress equal and in two respects—thickness and weight—superior to the named mattress and save several dollars.

These Silk Floss Mattresses have numerous good qualities. They are filled with vegetable floss in which vermin cannot live. They are perfectly sanitary, will not pack like cotton and can be made over more easily than hair. Soft and light—in fact, the lightest weight mattress we know of. These are one inch thicker than the usual mattress. Made in one or two sections, as you elect, at same price.

$15.00 Silk Floss Mattresses, 4-6x6-2 ..... $12.00
$14.25 Silk Floss Mattresses, 4x6-2 ..... $11.25

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit innoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

SAY BOYS KISSED AND HUGGED GIRLS.

Women With Brooms Drove Teacher Away—Held for Disorderly Conduct.

Bridgeton, Jan. 12.—The "smacks in school" at Black Neck, which led to the rout of the young principal by a "broom" brigade of irate women a month ago, had its sequel yesterday before Justice of the Peace McGear, in this city. There Mrs. Elizabeth Westcott and Mrs. Caroline Bowers, leaders of the broom brigade, were held formally upon a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by E. Coates Swing, president of the Board of Education of Fairfield township, in which the school is located. Both the Board of Education and women were represented by counsel. The 'Squire was unable to decide the case, because the women admitted their guilt, but asserted that their action was wholly justifiable under the circumstances, and that they would do likewise under similar conditions if called upon, since they were mothers with children to raise as good citizens. A decision will be rendered next Friday.

The episode, of which the hearing of yesterday was the sequel, was one of the liveliest ever recorded in the county. Back Neck is a little settlement about four miles south of this city, and othe district school is now in charge of a young woman.

A number of school children were called as witnesses at the hearing to show that the women appeared at the school house on December 5 and declared that they were there to "clean out the place" and ordered the children away, telling them there would be no school there for some time. When the children demurred the women swooped down upon them with the brooms. A guard was established about the building and maintained all of that day, so that all the children were prevented from again reaching the building.

Smith D. Westcott, 19 years old, at the time principal and only teacher of the school, testified that when he reached the schoolhouse in the morning he was confronted by a number of irate women all armed with brooms. Among them were the two defendants, who seemed to be the ringleaders of the movement. The women attacked him, and told him that he would not again be permitted to teach the school, and when he brushed past them and reached the building he found the doors barred against him, and the only way that he could gain entrance was through a rear window. The women remained on guard all day and chased everyone away with their brooms. A general petition was sent by the defendants to all of the women of the neighborhood to join in the Carrie Nation affair.

In their own defense the women said that they did what is charged in the complaint, but urged justification. They claimed that young Westcott was unfitted to be a teacher, that he permitted the children to mingle with each other without regard to sex, and that the boys and girls kissed and hugged each other in the presence of the entire school.

The teacher was also charged with throwing spit balls with the boys and offering indignities to the girls.

The pupils themselves were opposed to the teacher, and upon one occasion the larger boys had captured Westcott and locked him up in the coal bin in the horse shed, and had run the school themselves for the remainder of the day. It was to bring about the employment of a competent teacher that the broom campaign was waged.

—Miss Bertha Mitchell, of Grant avenue, a teacher in the public schools, is much improved from a recent operation for appendicitis.

THE FORUM.

Mr. Saunders Says It's Trickery.

Editor The Daily Press:

The statement in yesterday's papers in regard to my experience with the Fays creates an incorrect impression. It is not true that Mrs. Fay discovered that I had written a question in a little black memorandum book, nor is it true that she discovered what that question was. The matter is easily explained and is a very simple one, being probably like a great many others about which some Plainfield people seem to be so mystified. As I did not believe in the Fays, except as clever jugglers, I went there to get proof of the fact that what they are doing is trickery. Instead of using the prepared pads which are passed around in the audience I decided to write my question upon my memorandum book. This I did at my house before going to the Casino. Mrs. Fay called out my name during the seance, having evidently been posed that I was in the audience. Very promptly Mr. Fay came over to me and asked me if I had written a question. I told him that I had. He asked me where it was and I told him that it was in my pocket. He asked me to let him see it, and as the matter was one of very little importance I pulled out my little memorandum book and showed him the question. He read it and evidently reproduced it, passing it over to Mrs. Fay either by telephonic communication or, what is probably the case, through a little trap door in the stage. In the course of fifteen or twenty minutes Mrs. Fay calls my name again and tells me all about my little memorandum book and the question. This is all there is to the mysterious discovery by Mrs. Fay that I had written a question on consolidation in a little black memorandum book which I carried in my hip pocket.

ALMSHOUSE INMATES ATTEND THE INSANE.

Paupers and Lunatics Kept in the Same Buildings by Gloucester and Salem Counties.

Trenton, Jan. 12.—Governor Stokes yesterday received from the Board of Managers of the State Hospital for the Insane the annual report of that institution, also covering the county asylums in the southern part of the State. Gloucester and Salem counties are severely scored because of abuses alleged to exist in the almshouses where they have their insane for the sake of saving the expense of establishing regular asylums.

"These places," says the report, "are absolutely without organization, without adequate medical supervision and without nurses or attendants in any way qualified to care for the insane. The only attendants furnished by these counties are inmates of the almshouses.

"In Salem county both sexes were found housed in the same halls, with no means of separation excepting they be continually locked in cheerless and uninviting rooms. Only one bathtub is provided for the entire number of patients of both sexes, and this is also used by the women paupers. No hot water is furnished for any purpose unless it is carried in buckets."

BOY HELD ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

He Denies He Tripped Baseball Player Who Died of Injuries Received Last May.

Clinton Rosner, thirteen years old, son of Contractor Louis Rosner, of Allendale, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant issued by Justice M. W. Heath, of Hackensack, charging him with manslaughter. The boy was taken before Judge Zabriskie, who released him in $700 bail.

The complainant is W. F. Kronhoff, a baker, of Allendale, who holds Rosner responsible for the death of his son Frank, ten years old, who died a month ago from injuries received last May. It is said Rosner tripped young Kronhoff as he was running bases in a baseball game. The player was so injured that he had to be carried home. Complications followed and the lad finally succumbed.

The accused said yesterday:

"I wasn't playing with Frank Kronhoff the day he was hurt, and I don't know who tripped him. His father accused me a few days ago of hurting Frank and I denied it."

N. J. Club at U. of P.

Philadelphia, Jan. 12.—In Houston Hall, at the University of Pennsylvania, last Tuesday night, the old North Jersey Club disbanded, and a new organization of students was formed, under the name of the New Jersey Club. This will include men from all parts of the State. About fifty students were present, and were addressed by Provost Harrison and Vice Provost Smith. There are at present 268 students from New Jersey in the university. One object of the club will be to increase this number. The meeting was called to order by N. W. Harker, '08 C., acting as chairman. Walter F. Barry, '06 D., from Orange, was elected president; J. Logan, Jr., '07 C., E. Mt. Holly, vice president; N. W. Harker, '08 arts, Mt. Holly, secretary and treasurer. A committee, of J. D. Carpenter, '08 L.; N. W. Harker, '08 C., and S. R. Leap, '09 C., was appointed to frame a constitution and bylaws. The club adjourned to meet on February 9.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

George Ade is going to Egypt shortly to secure material for a new play. The Sphinx will surely sit up and take notice when George arrives.

Wyatt Barnes, of this city, is still in the cast of "The College Widow" eastern company. He is the leader of the football squad that has a prominent place in the piece.

It's worth a dollar to hear Tom Lewis say, "Gee, you've got a mean disposition." He's one of the best things in "Little Johnny Jones," though his part was meant to be secondary.

But three shows will be at the New Plainfield next week: "Little Johnny Jones," "No Mother to Guide Her" and Arnold Daly's Company. Matinees will be given by "Little Johnny Jones" and Arnold Daly.

Richard Lambert, who has been leading man for Miss Sophie Brand in "A Madcap Princess," closed with the show in Hot Springs, Ark., last week. His work when seen here last November was anything but satisfactory.

"The Redemption of David Corson," cradled at the New Plainfield, is making good at the Majestic, New York, where it opened Monday. Miss Julia Marie Taylor and Ralph Edwards, who originally played the leading roles, have been replaced by others.

Miss Emma Janvier, who plays the part of the wardrobe mistress in "The Mayor of Tokio," to be seen here next month, has signed with the Richard Carle Amusement Company to star next season in "Furnished Rooms to Let." In private life Miss Janvier is the wife of David Torrence, who plays "Lord Spotcash" in MacIntyre and Heath's "Ham Tree."

GERMS BY THOUSAND FOR JERSEY BABIES.

Veterinarians Say Farmers Send Out Unclean Milk to Customers—Fluid Shy on Fats and Solids.

People of certain sections of New Jersey, not in Plainfield, however, are drinking milk containing from 47,000 to 1,097,800 bacteria to the cubic centimeter, according to a paper read yesterday afternoon by Dr. L. P. Hurley, of Hopewell, at the twenty-second annual meeting of the Veterinary Medical Association of New Jersey, in room 100, at the Trenton House. Milk containing more than 10,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter, it was stated, is a menace to public health.

Dr. Hurley's paper was one of the interesting features of the meeting. He devoted his attention first to cleanliness in handling milk, and showed that many farmers are uncleanly to a large degree in caring for their milk. He insisted that attention should be paid to this important matter and a reformation wrought. The paper also referred to samples of Jersey milk that had been tested and in many instances showed less than nine per cent. of fats and solids. The standard of the State Board of Health requires that milk shall contain at least twelve per cent. of total solids.

Dr. Hurley presented a series of more than a dozen bacteria tests of milk from various sections of the State and the result was the figures already given. Dr. Hurley said that the standard towards which all milk producers should aim was not more than 5,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter, and 13.5 per cent. of solids, of which 4.5 per cent. should be butter fats.

Long Service as Guardsman.

First Lieutenant Henry Landhal, of Company H, New Brunswick, who received a bronze and gold medal from Governor Stokes at Trenton for twenty-five years' service in the State militia, has the distinction of holding the second longest record of service in the Second Regiment, and one of the longest in the State. There is only one man with a known longer record in the National Guard of the State, and he is Sergeant John G. Boss, of Trenton. He has served forty years and last night was given a gold medal studded with diamonds.

PRESS AGENT COULDN'T RUBBER AT MATINEE.

Wanted to Hear What Women Asked Mrs. Fay, But His Game Was Queered.

After tonight there will be only one more evening performance of the Fays and their company at the Casino this week. For five days they have astounded the public and the sensation caused by their first engagement has been surpassed by that created this last week in the city.

Their names are on everybody's tongue. One can go nowhere without hearing Mrs. Eva Fay discussed. At society functions the guests talk of her; at the dance young women tell their partners about her. Even between the acts at another theatre the listener hears Mrs. Fay and her work under discussion.

Yesterday afternoon she gave the first of the three special matinees for women only, and for more than two solid hours the listeners paid breathless attention to every answer from the seeress' lips. The Casino was packed to the doors, and not a man in the house. Mrs. Fay's press agent sneaked in to hear some of the questions, but a stout woman caught him wriggling under a back seat and indignantly yanked him out.

"If I could only have stayed," he sighed this morning. "One of the Russians told me the questions those women asked were birds. I'll get into the next one if I have to put on skirts."

COLBY IS READY WITH FIVE BILLS.

"Reform" Measures Will Be Introduced in the Legislature Next Monday Night.

Senator Everett Colby, of Essex county, and the Essex Assembly delegation and his other adherents are prepared to introduce five bills in the Legislature at next Monday night's meeting. The bills deal with the tax on railroad main stems and franchises, the tax on public until franchises, the giving of opportunity to voters to express preference for candidates for United States Senator, the Hillery tax repealer and limited franchises.

In the text of the proposed law for the taxation of railroad main stems and franchises, which has been given out, it is provided that the amount of tax levied under it is to be apportioned among the districts or sections of the State through which a railroad or canal runs. The amounts so to be paid are to be determined by applying the local tax rate to the proportionate value of the property as fixed for given districts by the State Board of Taxation.

DIGBY BELL A DROLL CHARACTER IN "MR. PIPP."

Famous Comedian Accorded An Enthusiastic Reception at the New Plainfield.

Strictly a high class production in every respect, Augustus Thomas' play, "The Education of Mr. Pipp," delighted a large audience at the New Plainfield theatre last night. It was presented by exactly the same cast that was engaged for the original Liberty theatre run, headed by the clever comedian, Digby Bell. The stage settings were wonderful in their wealth of detail.

Mr. Bell is not a newcomer here and he was accorded such an enthusiastic reception, last night, that he responded to the demands of his admirers and made a short speech. The part of "Mr. Pipp," who had his own ideas about things but had to do as his wife dictates, fits him admirably and gives him an opportunity to display his drollery. There is a possibility that Manager Counihan may book the play for a return date.

Thrown from Buggy.

Patrick McDonough and Thomas Mack, of this city, started with a horse and buggy for New Brunswick on Wednesday night to attend a theatrical performance. The journey was not completed. When they reached the crossing of the Port Richmond Railroad near South Plainfield an approaching locomotive frightened the horse. The buggy landed in a ditch. The two men were thrown out. The front axle of the wagon was broken. Quick action prevented a runaway and the men returned home horseback fashion, pulling the wagon behind them. Mr. McDonough is the owner of the rig.

Knew Kissam's Whereabouts.

B. E. Kissam, formerly of Duer street, who was killed by falling from a precipice in Alaska on Saturday, had had left enough money to cover unpaid debts when he disappeared from Oyster Bay about a year ago, according to his sister, Miss Josephine Kissam. The latter denies the story also published at the time in the New York papers that he had had trouble with a labor union. Since he left the States, she says, his relatives have been in constant communication with him at Kluane, B. C.

STATE CHARITY MEETING PLANS

Former Governor Murphy Made Chairman of Local Committee for Big Gathering.

Detailed plans for the big influx of charity workers expected to attend the convention of the New Jersey Conference of Charities and Correction, in Newark, on February 15, 16 and 17, were begun at a meeting of the local committee at the Free Public Library yesterday afternoon. Clergymen, representatives of the city and of most of the institutions of various kinds hereabouts form the committee, which is to have charge of all the local arrangements. The hospitality of the homes of many of those present yesterday was offered for the entertainment of delegates and others attending the conference, and preliminary arrangements for several big dinners and receptions, with which the three day sessions are to be enlivened, talked over.

Former Governor Franklin Murphy was elected local chairman, and, though he was not present at the meeting, it is understood that he will accept. There was an amusing little contretemps, occasioned by the eagerness of some to name Rev. Dr. James I. Vance as local chairman. The nomination was made by Rev. Louis Shreve Osborne, and immediately seconded, before it developed that Mr. Murphy had been asked to take the chairmanship and had accepted. Dr. Vance was made temporary chairman for the afternoon, Arthur W. McDougall secretary, and Benjamin Atha treasurer of the committee.

The place of meeting was discussed at length and it was decided that the Free Public Library assembly room would be altogether too small for the big sessions, though the use of it might be asked for the day meetings. An effort will be made to secure Wallace Hall for the evening sessions.

Bleecker Van Wagonen, of South Orange, president of the State Conference, in a brief talk set forth the aims of the conference and told of how it had grown since its organization. He predicted that the meeting in Newark would be the largest and most important yet held.

"The work of the State Conference," said Mr. Van Wagonen, "has now reached a point where it is desirable to go further than we have yet gone. In the past the meetings have brought together those who have been interested in various phases and developments of philanthropic work, to talk over what has been accomplished. Now we are to go on from these historical reviews to the ideals of service which lie before us. We have arranged a programme for this coming meeting which shall include a setting forth of the new ideas and ideals in charity."

There will be at least two receptions given at the homes of prominent citizens and special dinners to groups interested in the same things. On the Friday of the convention there will be a dinner for all of the overseers of the poor who will attend the convention, and others are yet to be arranged for.

Committees are to be appointed on the following matters by Mr. Murphy: Headquarters, printing and advertising, hospitality, finance, press, registration, visiting institutions and places of interest, and tuberculosis exhibit.

Edward J. Baldwin Dead.

Elizabeth, Jan. 12.—Edward J. Baldwin, cashier of the National Park Bank of New York, who died suddenly Wednesday at Atlantic City, was a member of the old Baldwin families of Newark and Lyons Farms. He was a brother of the wife of Chancellor William J. Magie and uncle of the wife of Judge Edward S. Atwater, of Elizabeth. The body was brought to this city Wednesday and the funeral services were conducted at Trinity Episcopal church. The interment was in the Baldwin family plot at Evergreen cemetery. He leaves a widow.

M. F. Gano, of 221 Park avenue, can either sell or lease you the finest property in this vicinity.

When you are ready to build consult Laury & Daudt, the masons. You will find the work entirely satisfactory.

A. F. Naylor, East Fifth street, is a musician of skill and experience. He will furnish sweet strains for your social affairs.

The Valantine Gas Engine Company, Sycamore street, will do machine repair jobs exactly as you want them done. Give them your commissions.

Levy Brothers, the dry goods merchants, are offering a large stock of the best quality of dress and dry goods, also millinery of the latest style.

Kirch & Zimmerman, the Somerset street cash grocers, are constantly increasing their trade by fair dealing and the handling of the best goods.

Start a savings account in the City National Bank. It is the best thing you can do. Don't hesitate, don't "think about it"—do it. You will feel better, surer and more confident of success, as your balance grows.

"Purity" has always been the great motto of the A. and P. Tea Co. business. The teas, coffees, spices and dry groceries sold at the store on West Front street to which so many customers flock, are always of the purest quality. High grade goods and liberal treatment give the key to the vast success of the A. and P. business.

BALL STARS TO BOWL.

Lou Wiltse and Jimmy Beisel Will Roll for Y. M. C. A. Team.

Baseball stars, one from the lime-lit world of professionalism, and the other from the lively-enough semi-professional world, will be mainstays of the new Y. M. C. A. bowling team.

Lou Wiltse, ex-Oriole and outlawed Tri-State twirler, is one of the rollers, and so is Jimmy Beisel, formerly pitcher for the Plainfields.

Lou has always taken a great interest in bowling, and rolls well up in the 200 class. Jimmy couldn't roll poorly to save his life.

Manager C. B. Koons expects to send his team against the Saturday Nnight Club, next week. His team will stand up to the alleys as follows: Beisel, Sutphen, Jeffery, Barlow, Koons and Wiltse.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

DIAMOND DUST.

It is rather difficult to get the fans talking baseball in the winter, but there are a number of cranks who frequently discuss the local situation and long for the opening of the season.

Lou Wiltse, of the New Madison, is visiting his former home at Syracuse, N. Y. He has not yet decided whether he will return to York, Pa., this year. Something equally as good or better may be offered and Lou is holding off.

"Warry" MacLaughlin, who has been a member of the New London team for several years, has not yet made up his mind whether he will return there this year. He has received an offer and contract, but may sign elsewhere.

GOLF.

Each one of the leading professional golfers now in Mexico, where they will take part in a big tournament, will receive, in addition to their expenses, a guarantee of $250, as an inducement for them to appear.

Will Colonel Hine Sue Trolley Co.?

Jersey City, Jan. 12.—Colonel Hine, assistant to President McCarter, of the Public Service, figured in a trolley accident in Hoboken Tuesday. He rode over from Jersey City in a Grove street car, and when it reached the car stables on Ferry street, Hoboken, it ran into an open switch and landed in the stable with a suddenness that startled the man who is next to the president. In trying to back out the trolley pole slipped off and broke the circuit. There was trouble for half an hour before the line was open again. The colonel has not said whether he will sue the P. S. C. for his detention. His closest friends are of the opinion that he will not.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK IN UNION COUNTY.

Visitation Committee Divides Territory Into Ten Groups.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Union County Sunday-school Association, held in the Dix building, Elizabeth, the treasurer reported $110 on hand, and it was decided to send $100 to the State treasurer, as part payment of the $400 pledged for the State work.

The committee on visitation of Sunday-schools in Union county, George H. Krause, of Cranford, chairman, reported that they had divided the county into ten groups, hoping thus to visit every school. The plan presented is as follows:

Group 1, Cranford, Roselle, Linden, 16 schools; Rev. J. B. J. Rhodes and Walter M. Irving, visitors; group 2, first district, Elizabeth, 12 schools; Rev. W. B. Hamilton, and Walter M Irving, visitors; group 3, second district, Elizabeth, 11 schools; Mrs. Alonzo Pettit and B. F. Midgley, visitors; group 4, third district, Elizabeth, 17 schools; Rev. B. H. Rankin, Elias D. Smith, visitors; group 5, first district, Plainfield, 11 schools; Orra S. Rogers, Clarence B. La Rue, visitors; group 6, second district, Plainfield, 12 schools; George E. Hall, A. V. Searing, Jr., visitors; group 7, Summit, New Providence, 10 schools; William D. Porter, L. B. Coddington, visitors; group 8, Springfield, Union, 6 schools; Rev. Almer Karnell, Rev. R. M. Saltar, visitors; group 9, Rahway, 16 schools; Rev. W. T. Stuchell, Thomas B. Lindsay, visitors; group 10, Clark, Fanwood, Westfield, 15 schools; George H. Krause, Rev. C. J. Greenwood, Rev. W. R. Mulford, visitors.

Revival Is Successful.

There has been quite an interest manifested in the Sunday evening evangelistic meetings at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Conversions have occurred at each meeting. Next Sunday evening Miss Fanny Taylor and her mother, who have been used of God in singing souls into the kingdom in Brooklyn, will sing at the evangelistic service.

GIANTESS BURIED.

Special Coffin and Hearse Required for Cassie Carter.

South Blue Hill, Me., Jan. 12.—Funeral services for Cassie Carter, the giantess of South Blue Hill, and the largest woman in Maine, were held yesterday at the home of Daniel Carter, her grandfather. Miss Carter was only 5 feet 4 inches tall, but because of her tremendous weight, 400 pounds, no ordinary coffin or hearse was adequate. The undertaker had a special coffin constructed, and an opening in the side of the house had to be made to get it in and out. This was done by removing a window, with its sash and frame. Six of the biggest men in the district were selected as pall bearers. A hearse being too small, a buckboard was used. Cassie Carter was 28 years old and throughout the county had been regarded with wonder for many years because of her great size and continued growth. She had been seen by many persons at the Blue Hill county fairs, but her parents had always refused offers to have her exhibited in museums.

Removal of Snow.

Editor The Daily Press:

Is it not the duty of the police to report failure to remove snow and ice as required by the ordinance, and if such report is made, is it not the duty of the proper officials to institute proceedings for the infraction of such ordinance? The trifling fall of snow on Monday last was the first of the season, but in many instances there has been no attempt to remove same within forty-eight hours of its fall. Many of our citizens cause the work of removal to be thoroughly attended to. Others make a pretense of so doing, while many give the matter absolutely no attention. It is exceedingly annoying to be compelled to tramp through snow on unshoveled sidewalks, not to speak of the danger of suit against the city for damages sustained by the pedestrian. The matter should not be left to whim or caprice, but the rule should apply to all and be thoroughly enforced.

MAIL POUCH STOLEN.

Mysteriously Vanished from Station Where It Awaited Train.

The Newark postoffice authorities, aided by the police and detectives of the Pennsylvania Railroad, searched all yesterday for a well filled mail sack, containing letters for distribution in Elizabeth, which strangely disappeared late Wednesday night from a truck at the Market Street station of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The pouch had been delivered to the railroad by the Newark postoffice employes and was duly receipted for. Just before the arrival of the train on which the mail was to be placed the discovery was made that somebody had taken the pouch.

The pouch was found last evening by Margaret Donahue in the yard in the rear of her brother's saloon, 23 Ailing street. The only thing in the bag was a newspaper and a child's letter. It is believed there was at least $1,000 in checks in the bag in addition to over 400 letters.

Board of Health Anxious that Municipal Collection System be Adopted.

COUNCIL MAY ACT

House-to-House Inspection to be More Thorough Than Even This Year—What Was Done in 1905.

In planning its work for this year, the Board of Health hopes to be able to continue the house-to-house inspection, begun in 1904. As a result of efforts in this direction last year 1,638 houses were inspected, 112 sewer connections were made and 226 vaults and 71 cesspools abolished. The three months' inspection cost the city $224.75, as against $86.27 for the inspection of 796 houses in 1904. The cost in 1905 was 13.7 per cent. for each house.

This year it will be the aim of the Board to continue the work until every house is inspected. The health authorities can see but one relief from the nuisances caused by accumulation of garbage and that is municipal collection and determined efforts are to be made to have the Common Council take this matter up at once.

The present indications are that considerable progress will be made in this improvement and possibly its adoption in the near future. Several members of the Common Council are known to be in favor of municipal collection of garbage and will be ready to vote for it if the right plan is presented.

The city still owns the plant formerly the property of the Plainfield Sanitary Company, and Mayor Buckle in his message urged that the question of making use of this plant be considered by the Common Council at the earliest possible date. The operation of the plant is sure to raise a storm of protests from residents living in the West End of the city, but what effect they will have remains to be seen. The Board of Health has asked for $5,000 this year, $1,000 of which has been advanced, to meet certain present expenses that are necessary before the annual appropriations are made. According to the conditions under which this amount is appropriated to the Board, all fees and fines received are turned over to the city treasurer.

THOMAS B. CARDNER DEAD AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

Widely Known and Was a Member of Many Local Organizations.

Following a long illness from a complication of troubles, Thomas B. Cardner, a well known local resident, died this morning at 5 o'clock at his home on Orange place. He had been confined to his bed for several months and though undergoing great suffering had borne it all with patient fortitude.

Mr. Cardner was a machinist by trade and for many years was employed at the Scott Press Works. He enjoyed a wide circle of acquaintances in every part of the city and was greatly liked for many excellent traits. He was a member of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M.; Freedom Castle, No. 42, Knights of the Golden Eagle; Woodmen of the World, and the Scott Beneficial Society. He leaves a widow and four children, the Misses Mabel, Susy and Harriet Cardner and Edson Cardner.

The funeral will be held from his late home Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. E. V. Stevenson, rector of Grace church. Interment will be at Hillside cemetery.

St. Peter's New Pastor.

Rev. J. Duerschner, who has been preaching at St. Peter's Lutheran church on Grove street, has received and accepted a call to the pastorate of the church, and is now residing at 20 Stone street, the borough. Tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock there will be a German service. During the next week a Sunday-school will be started. The school will meet at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Men's Club Affair.

OVERSEERS TO DISCUSS THE CARE OF THE POOR

LOCAL OFFICIAL ONE OF THOSE CALLED BY GOVERNOR STOKES.

Overseer of the Poor Alex Ayers has received from Governor Stokes notification of a meeting to be held in the Court House, Newark, on Wednesday, when representatives from all parts of the State will discuss ways and means to improve the laws relative to the care of the poor and persons confined in the asylums and other institutions of the State.

It is the purpose to bring about a thorough and proper investigation of all cases seeking aid from the township, city, county or State. It is now contended that many cases become State charges when they should either be cared for by relatives or the communities in which they live. In this work it has been found that relatives often try to put away members of their families in some institution when they are well able to care for them.

Governor Stokes and the new commissioner, Dr. Wight, feel sure that there is a laxity in the investigation of poor and insane cases, and it is to correct any evils that may exist that the meeting is to be held at Newark. It is hoped that much good will result, so that such changes as are thought wise and best can be made in the laws. Mr. Ayers expects to attend the meeting, and if called upon to do so, give his experience in the conduct of the poor department here.

F. A. HENCKEL NOT TO RETURN TO OLD POST.

His Trips Here to Circus Committee Meetings Gave Rise to Rumors.

There have been rumors among Y. M. C. A. men for several days that F. A. Henckel, who resigned as physical director last year to take an assistant directorship at the Brooklyn Central Branch, would return to the local association as Mr. Boardman's successor. General Secretary Harry Manning denied the truth of the rumor this morning very positively.

"Mr. Henckel hasn't the faintest idea of returning to Plainfield," said Mr. Manning. "He holds too good a position with too excellent a prospect, to consider a resumption of his work here."

Mr. Henckel has come out to this city twice in the past two weeks to advise the circus committee and assist in arranging the ring show. Thise visits probably gave rise to the rumor. The supposed possibility of Mr. Henckel's return has occasioned a good deal of comment among association members. He was a highly successful and popular director, and the announcement of his return would have caused universal pleasure in association circles.

GUARDSMEN AS SCALPERS

They Speculate in Tickets For Opening of New Armory at Trenton.

INVESTIGATION LIKELY

Cards of Admission Not Needed—Some Brought As High As $5 Apiece—An Invitation Affair.

Despite the fact that the formal opening of the new Second Regiment armory at Trenton Wednesday night was so successful, there was one marring feature to overshadow the brilliancy of the event. That was the ticket speculating which was carried on to a great extent. Many residents there paid fancy prices for the tickets, and then discovered to their regret that they were not necessary to gain admittance.

The matter may be investigated by the officers of the regiment and charges preferred against the guardsmen who disgraced their uniforms and their companies by becoming common ticket scalpers.

Several days before the event the South Jersey guardsmen, including some officers, it is said, disposed of all the tickets they could get for from $1 to $5 apiece. Before the event and on Wednesday a reporter at Trenton was offered tickets by regimental members who asked fancy prices.

When the armory opened Wednesday evening, guards and officers were stationed at the doors. The officers resolved to outwit the scalpers, and during the early part of the evening no tickets were collected. This gave the guardsmen and their friends who had not become scalpers already, an opportunity of making considerable money. The local soldiers had all been ordered to bring their tickets and were threatened with court martial if they did not do so. In consequence of their order, the soldiers saved one ticket, but when it was discovered that no tickets were necessary to enter the building, some of the guardsmen immediately made for the nearest exit and from there to State street, where numerous "easy marks" were found, who purchased tickets from five cents up. As the hour approached for the exercises to begin the price decreased.

Many of those who were not members of the guards were given the chance of making money also. They collected tickets from their friends who were allowed free access to the building and then hustled out to dispose of them.

Some of the soldiers proved more successful than others, as many after discovering that tickets were not needed, stood at the doors and collected many tickets, it is said, and then got some boys to sell them.

One guardsman admitted to a newspaper reporter that he had sold ten tickets for $2 apiece.

There was considerable dissatisfaction among a number of the soldiers who would not risk going outside and disposing of their pasteboards after once entering the building. These claimed they should have been informed that they did not need tickets to enter, and given the same opportunity as their fellow soldiers of making money.

Much indignation has been aroused over the affair, and those who fell victims to the scalpers and paid high prices for tickets when they could have been admitted without them, feel that they were badly "stung" and claim the scalpers should be court martialed.

LOCAL WOMEN GUESTS.

Attended Reception Given at Wallace House, Somerville.

Mrs. A. K. Currie, secretary; Miss Adelaide Dietrich, registrar; Mrs. Florence Howe Hall and Miss May Brown, first and second vice-regents, of Continental Chapter, Daughters American Revolution, attended the reception given at the Wallace House, Somerville, Thursday afternoon, by Frelinghuysen Chapter in commemoration of its tenth anniversary.

The Plainfield women were especially interested in the curious relics displayed at the Wallace House, as Continental Chapter contributed $200 for the preservation of this landmark. Refreshments were served and the occasion was a very pleasant one, many women from out of town attending.

Brief services were held from the residence last night, Rev. A. C. McCrea, of the First M. E. church, officiating.

The remains were taken to Jersey City this morning, and tonight services will be held from the residence of a brother at 36 Zabriskie street. Rev. Mr. Russell, of the Palisade M. E. church, will be in charge, and members of Summit Lodge, 182, I. O. O. F., and Palisade Encampment, No. 4, I. O. O. F., will attend. Services will be held at the same residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock for the family, and the interment will be in Jersey City.

Dr. MacMurray was born in New York, but resided in Jersey City Heights from childhood until a year and a half ago. He was graduated from the Denver Dental College, class '97, after which he practiced dentistry in Jersey City. Suffering from lung trouble he returned to Denver a year and a half ago, but the change was not beneficial. Four weeks ago he came to Plainfield to live with his sister. He was in charge of a trained nurse continually.

One sister, Mrs. E. S. Alpaugh, of East Ninth street, and three brothers, John William and George MacMurray, of Jersey City, survive Dr. MacMurray.

CLEANING OFF THE WALKS.

City's Men Removed Snow from 200 Properties.

Although the recent snow fall was a light one, many complaints were made that sidewalks were not cleaned off. Some property owners swept off the loose snow, leaving all that has been packed down by travel. The street department's men found no trouble in scaling off the packed snow. The street men have just removed the snow front in front of over 200 properties, many of them being reported by the police.

A section of the city ordinance provides for a fine of $5 for each failure to remove snow from sidewalks. Those who habitually leave their walks to be attended to by the city may find themselves facing the City Judge some snowy morning. The street committee has hesitated up to the present time to take harsh measures.

As the street force is limited in numbers, it requires several days to finish all the neglected walks. More men will be employed if they can be obtained.

Caught Runaway Horse.

A horse attached to a cab made its escape from the Plainfield Cab Company's stable yesterday afternoon and turned into North avenue. Attempts to stop it frightened the animal and it ran away at full speed toward Watchung avenue. It would undoubtedly have struck one of the long line of carriages at the depot but was caught by Michael Kennedy, who pluckily jumped for its bridle and hung on until it stopped.

A Holy Cross Tea.

The Ladies' Guild of Holy Cross church will give a silver tea on Wednesday afternoon at 30 Washington avenue, the rectory, from 4 to 6:30 o'clock. Cake, desserts and candy will be on sale at the same time.

Informal Dance.

Under the auspices of the entertainment committee an informal dance will be held at the Park Club tonight for the members and friends.

The principal speakers will be Senator T. J. Hillery, of Boonton; Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, and Father Bogan, of this city.

The topics have not been assigned yet, but they will be along matters of local public interest. A stringed orchestra has been engaged to furnish music. Mrs. Lena Hellstrom will serve the dinner.

Governor Stokes was invited to attend, but in his reply stated that he has every date in the month filled. The committe in charge of the banquet comprises Eugene M. Laing, chairman; James C. Pope, Amos Andrews, H. W. Marshall and DeWitt C. Ivins.

The banquet last year at the Hotel Iroquois was a pronounced success and the effort this year will be to eclipse it.

TOOTHACHE BRINGS ON TRIAL'S ADJOURNMENT

DEFENDANT'S SMALL SON HAD IT IN COURT AND SHE WENT TO DENTIST.

On account of a small boy's aching tooth, the adjourned hearing of Mrs. J. V. Taylor's charge of assault against Mrs. George Suydam in the city court was again put off this morning. The second adjournment came after Mrs. Suydam had disappeared from the court room, when all arrangements for the trial had been made.

Mrs. Suydam and the others interested in the trial were on hand before 9:15, as ordered. Mrs. Suydam had her small son with her. His face was swollen and he gave other and undoubted signs of dental trouble. A few minutes after he came into the room the boy let out a wail of anguish which was followed by a sudden and terrifying series of yelps. His tooth seemed to be jumping like a scared rabbit, and he expressed his woe with the fortissomo stop on.

Mrs. Suydam told a court officer that a physician had advised her to take the boy to a dentist, and she asked permission to do it then. Judge Runyon was expected momentarily, but the officer couldn't see any way out of it for Mrs. Suydam except to go. He told her to hurry back.

When Judge Runyon did arrive, there was a long wait for Mrs. Suydam. Officer Higgins was finally sent to a destist on Central avenue, to where Mrs. Suydam was understood to have gone. He couldn't find her, and the magistrate put the trial off to Monday morning.

After the adjournment had been taken Mrs. Suydam appeared, but the postponement stood.

LUMBER DEALERS HOLD A POW-WOW.

They Discuss Condition of the Trade, It Is Reported.

The present condition of the lumber trade was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of dealers held at the office of Boice, Runyon & Co. last night. Representatives from every town of importance between Elizabeth and Somerville were in attendance.

It was reported that the tendency of the lumber trade is upwards. There is a great deal of building and demands for lumber, while the supply is limited. Large firms, it is claimed, are retiring from business simply because they have cut their last timber. Report was made of the alleged ruthless cutting of trees in the big lumber districts.

A local dealer said today: "The time has passed when people can expect to purchase lumber at low prices. Prices may be higher than at present."

In this section of the State the dealers get their lumber from Maine, Wisconsin, Michigan, Washington State, British Columbia, Florida, Mississippi, many other points in the South and Western Pennsylvania.

JOHN GOFF CALLED OFF

Leader Advises Him Not to Apply Again For a Hotel License.

HE'D HAD SOME HOPES

But He Gave Them Up Thursday After a Talk With Andy McCardell on the Street.

Residents of the West End who been wondering whether John Goff would apply for a license again this year may rest in ease or sigh with regret, as their attitude toward a new saloon may move them. Goff, it may be said on very good authority, has been told by the political powers that he had better not apply for a license before the present Council. This is tantamount to instructions, and will be so regarded by Goff. He has had great hopes of the new Council, but he will give up hoping now.

Goff, it is said, was given his cue in the license matter Thursday. He met Andrew McCardell, leader of the Fourth ward, on the street and stopped him. He wanted to know what chance he had of getting a license.

Mr. McCardell, it is said, spoke very plainly to Goff. He told him that the time was the reverse of propitious for applying and advised him earnestly to give up all idea of it.

Goff was reluctant to abandon hope, but McCardell made it very plain that he stood no chance of securing either organization support or votes enough to send the proposition through. Goff finally bowed his head to the inevitable and assured Mr. McCardell that he wouldn't try to force his saloon on the Council.

Whether or not the Seeber-Goff-Rising Sun plans have been abandoned for all time is a question. George Seeber put up the hotel on West Front street for Goff, with no other idea in mind than to conduct a licensed place. That was the one sole, undivided raison d'etre, and there is much shaking of heads and dubious sighs in the Seeber-Rising Sun circles every time the Goff Hotel investment is mentioned. The prize is worth playing a waiting game for, and the license question may very easily come up again in one, two or three years hence. For the present, however, the residents of Goff's neighborhood may regard the license matter as dead.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

The plight of a woman in Plainfield who has just secured a big verdict from the P. S. C., because her sense of smell and taste were destroyed by an accident, has aroused comment among boroughites who read of the case in the papers. It happens that Dr. Brakeley, a victim of asthma, has not had the faculties of sense or smell except on rare occasions for years. Not much sympathy at his "apalling condition," seems exactly fitting. He gets along fairly well as he is. "The absence of smell and taste strikes me as more of a blessing than as an affliction, generally," said the doctor, speaking of his case yesterday.

L. L. Block is still negotiating through R. P. F. Von Minden, his lawyer, for a settlement of his claim for damages from the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. Suit will not be brought until it is absolutely certain this company will not settle on a basis satisfactory to Mr. Block.

Ball and Chain for Prisoners.

Belvidere, Jan. 13.—The Board of Freeholders of Warren county, in session this week in the Court House, was notified by Sheriff Merrick that the balls and chains to be used on tramps and a certain class of prisoners had arrived and awaited disposition. The board at once took steps to distribute them about the county, Phillipsburg, Washington, Hackettstown, Belvidere and Blairstown each getting a number. The sheriff will now designate a deputy in each of these places to see that all tramps, wife beaters and men arrested for non-support and handed over to these deputies, with instructions to make them workout their terms of sentence on the public roads or on public works. The ball and chain will be used to prevent their escape.

Right to "Sass" Policeman.

Bayonne, Jan. 13.—"None of your business," is a thoroughly civil reply in this city, even to a policeman, provided his question is in regard to a fact that really is none of his business. Recorder Lazarus made that point clear yesterday, when he held James J. Murphy, a special policeman, in $200 for the Grand Jury because Murphy had slapped Joseph Crosky in the face.

DR. JESSE L. HURLBUT NOT TO GIVE UP PREACHING.

Says He Will Take a Church When Appointments Are Made.

The announcement made a few days ago that in all probability the Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Hurlbut, pastor of the South Orange M. E. church, and formerly of Plainfield, would not be returned to that church next spring when the Newark Methodist Conference meets in Jersey City, but that the chances were, as things stand now, that the Rev. George Mooney, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, would be sent to South Orange, caused much comment in Methodist circles in that town. It has been hinted that perhaps Dr. Hurlbut, who is one of the best known preachers in the conference, would take up church literary labor, or would receive some appointment in the conference Sunday school work, but Dr. Hurlbut said yesterday that he wished to correct that rumor.

"Whoever authorized the statement," writes the preacher, "gave it without knowledge, and it is likely to do me some harm. I do expect to continue in the pastorate and to receive appointment to some church in the conference."

This is the first utterance on the matter for publication from Dr. Hurlbut, as he declined to talk when pressed for a statement. He will remain in pastoral work and will take a church, but it does not yet appear what church has signified its wish to have him sent to it.

Accused of Stealing Pig Iron.

Keyport, Jan. 13.—Ernest Fulcher and John Burlew, Jr., both of Port Monmouth, about five miles from here, have been arrested, charged with stealing eight tons of pig iron used as ballast in the sloops in that vicinity and a large quantity of rope and cables from nearly every sailboat in the Port Monmouth Creek. They have confessed having committed the robberies, the police say, and declare, according to the police, that the stolen goods were sold to Jacob Cohen, a junk dealer, of this place. Cohen was given a hearing and furnished bail. Burlew and Fulcher are both in the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"Monte Cristo" is one of the old plays likely to live as long as there is a hearty and healthy love for stirring narrative and melodramatic thrills. Alexander Dumas knew a thing or two in regard to the constitution and by-laws of a thrilling and sensational story, and there is no manner of doubt that the original novel known as "The Count of Monte Cristo" and the play transcribed from its pages fully justify his uncommon reputation. The production and company which Mr. O'Neill will present at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight is one of the best that he has ever given the famous old play.

Joe Miller and Ezra Kendall and Whitcomb Riley and a playwright got together and as a result "The Vinegar Buyer." There isn't a brighter wit than that of Kendall's in all the field of comedians, and there isn't a funmaker who knows better how to gain the calibre of his audience and then play up to it. As the star of a comedy drama, Kendall is satisfying in the same degree as he is satisfying as the star of vaudeville—for he is just Kendall. He goes ahead straightforwardly in his own way, and being a sensible, plain way it becomes most attractive. "The Vinegar Buyer," following the old style of comedy drama, with those whom we would have outwitted successfully and completely put beneath the table in the end, and those we would have successful finally triumphant, is still interesting, homely problemless and wholesome, with a story to tell and many good character types to assist in the telling. The supporting company is said to be competent and the staging of good effect. The play will be seen here Monday, January 22.

Only the largest cities in America had an opportunity last season of witnessing "Little Johnny Jones," George M. Cohan's very successful musical melodrama. That the play will be presented in this city at the Stella Tracy in "Little Johnny Jones," at New Plainfield Theatre Next Wednesday Night.

New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday afternoon and night has interested our theatregoers to such an extent that the demand for seats has been unusually large. "Little Johnny Jones" is promised as one of the most pretentious musical productions of the past dozen years and one of the most beautiful from a scenic standpoint on tour this season. It is in three acts and four scenes and will be presented here with the same massive and realistic scenery as seen for almost a solid year in New York and over three months in Chicago. The cast is a notable one, while the company numbers, with principals and chorus, seventy-five people.

The New Plainfield theatre will have a brilliant attraction next Saturday, January 20, in the engagement of Arnold Daly's company in Bernard Shaw's most interesting and amusing play, "You Never Can Tell." Mr. Shaw is undoubtedly the most brilliant literary man of the day and has occupied an unrivalled degree of public attention during the past few seasons. He undoubtedly owes much of his success, as well as his vogue as a dramatist in this country, to the fine histrionic ability and untiring intellectual energy of Mr. Daly, who, though still a very young man, already occupies a place in the very foremost rank of American actors. Shaw's merry comedy will be presented here with the same cast and production as during the New York run. Shaw's play, "Candida," will be given at the matinee performance.

A splendid cast and an elaborate scenic embellishment will be seen in Spencer and Aborn's successful emotional drama, "A Wife's Secret," which will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre February 5, for the first time in this city. From reports received from other cities where this attraction has played since its initiative last season, it is one of the biggest hits of recent years, being a play of strong human sentiment, clever and natural characterizations, thrilling realism, warm heart interest and winning comedy. It is described as a symphony of life today, in wit, humor and pathos, which should prove one of the best drawing cards to be seen at the New Plainfield this season.

FARMER TRAPPED FOX.

Dan Schenck Captures and Kills Destroyer of His Crops.

Daniel Schenck, who runs a farm in Piscataway near Fred Endress' place, captured a big red fox in a trap Wednesday night. The capture ended a long string of sudden deaths in the Schenck hennery.

For a week before the fox was captured Schenck's chickens and ducks were decimated nightly. By Tuesday night he had lost fifty or sixty fowls and his patience. He got out a lusty trap and set it, baited with a plump hen in the barnyard. At 2 o'clock he heard the bait squawk, which was followed by a yelp. He went downstairs and found one of the biggest red foxes he had ever seen, held by one leg in the jaws of the trap. Schenck carried a gun, and he lost no time in avenging the death of his fowls.

Mrs. C. Rosseter, of 127 Watchung avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Years ago I had backache and headaches, and was troubled also with attacks of rheumatism. On being advised that Doan's Kidney Pills were good for such troubles, I got a supply at Randolph's pharmacy, and found relief soon after I began using them. I now keep them in the house, and use them whenever I feel a twinge of pain in the back or any other symptom of kidney trouble, and it only requires a few doses to chase the pain away. I especially recommend them for rheumatic pain, for my system seemed to be filled with it before I used your medicine."

CENSUS OF CATHOLICS

Total in the Country 12,651,944, of Whom 1,066,207 are Children in Schools.

TWO CITIES EVEN

New York and Chicago Each Have Catholic Population of 1,200,000 — Boston Comes Next.

Milwaukee, Jan. 13.—From advance sheets of the official Catholic Directory, published in Milwaukee, it is found that the total Catholic population of the United States is 12,651,944, an increase of 189,151 over the previous year. The total number of Catholic priests, including seculars and regulars, is 14,484, an increase of 627.

There are in the United States one Papal Delegate, one cardinal, fourteen archbishops, ninety bishops and twenty-one abbots. The majority of the clergy are seculars, there being 10,789 secular priests and 3,695 regulars, who are members of religious orders. The total number of Catholic churches in the United States is 11,814, an increase of 427 over the previous year. There are eighty-six seminaries for ecclesiastical students.

The number of children attending Catholic parochial schools has increased to 1,066,207, an increase of almost 35,000, there being 4,281 parochial schools listed. The children who are under Catholic care, including those in orphan asylums, number 1,229,668. There are 869 institutions of higher education, and the total number of Catholic charitable institutions is 997. In addition to the secular clergy there are forty religious orders of priests represented in the United States, the principal ones being the Jesuits, Benedictines, Capuchins, Franciscans, Dominicans, Holy Cross Fathers, Paulists, Redemptorists and Oblates. Representatives of 122 sisterhoods are engaged in teaching in the country.

The archdioceses of New York and Chicago are each rated as having 1,200,000 Catholic inhabitants. In this county the village and suburban towns are also included. It must be taken into concern, however, that the archdioces of New York does not embrace the city of Brooklyn, which is a diocese itself. Boston follows with a Catholic population of 700,000, while the diocese of Brooklyn is fourth with 500,000.

The archdiocese of Philadelphia is fifth with 485,000, and the archdiocese of New Orleans sixth, with a population of 450,000, while the diocese of Pittsburg, archdiocese of St. Louis, diocese of Cleveland, diocese of Newark and diocese of Hartford follow. The archdiocese of Milwaukee is the fourteenth largest in the country, with a population of 235,000. The reason Milwaukee falls behind this year is because when the State of Wisconsin was ecclesiastically redivided Milwaukee lost over 60,000.

The archdiocese of New York heads the list as to the number of priests, there being 824 located in Gotham. Chicago follows with 643 clergymen; Boston, 598; Philadelphia, 521; St. Louis, 507; Pittsburg, 422; Baltimore, 405; Milwaukee, 362, and Cleveland, 353.

As these figures are given by the authorities of the various dioceses, they may be taken as official.

THAT RARITAN BRIDGE.

Longest Draw Span in America on N. Y. and L. B. Railroad.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13.—The New York and Long Branch Railroad, which is owned jointly by the Pennsylvania and Jersey Central companies, will replace the present wooden trestle and drawbridge between South Amboy and Perth Amboy, over the mouth of the Raritan River, with a steel structure having the longest draw span of any bridge in America. The new bridge will be a double-track structure and will be placed to the westward of the present bridge. Its construction will in no way interfere with the latter's operation. The alignment will be changed, thereby easing the curvature at the south end of the present bridge.

The new structure will be 3,000 feet long and will be erected upon stone piers resting upon pile foundations. The draw span will have an opening of 130 feet on either side of the pier. There will be ten spans on the south side of the draw and eighteen on the north side, each of ordinary length. The contract for the steel superstructure has already been awarded to the American Bridge Company, and those for the masonry piers and pile foundations will be awarded in a few days. The bridge is to be completed in time for the summer travel.

—E. S. F. Randolph will begin the erection of two new houses near his present home on Grant avenue, early in the spring.

—John B. Field and his son, Joseph Y. Field, have sold their farms at Fieldville, near Bound Brook, to L. F. Thompson, of Roseville. The consideration was $25,000.

—Alex Kane has just completed the work of tearing down and removing the old buildings of the Children's Home, located on the estate of Dr. Coles, Scotch Plains. The new additions are nearly completed.

PUBLIC SERVICE MOVES UP MANY OFFICIALS.

New Ones Created and Long Series of Promotions Is One of the Results.

Jersey City, Jan. 13.—Colonel Edwin W. Hine, assistant to President McCarter, of the Public Service Corporation, yesterday announced a long series of changes among Public Service Corporation officials. Every change made is in the nature of a promotion. New offices have been created and not a man has been dropped.

Hudson county benefits most by the changes. Five Hudson county men are promoted, chief of whom is Division Superintendent Newton N. Bolen, of Hoboken. Mr. Bolen's new title will be superintendent of transportation. He will have offices at 7 Central avenue, Newark. Under his old title he had charge of the lines between Hoboken and Newark. His promotion places him in charge of the lines of the entire Public Service Corporation system.

E. L. Williams, who had charge of the Greenville and Montgomery street districts, Jersey City, will succeed Mr. Bolen. His place will be taken by A. J. Bliss, of Hoboken, who had charge of the Hoboken district. Mr. Bliess' place will be filled by G. C. Dust, who comes from Paterson. W. B. Graham will take Mr. Dust's place at Paterson as district superintendent.

By the changes the office of traffic superintendent is abolished. John N. Akerman, who held the berth, and who was in Jersey City until the major portion of the Public Service Corporation forces were moved to Newark, will fill the newly created office of general passenger agent.

The office of James Leahy, who resigned as superintendent of maintenance and way over three months ago, is filled by the series of promotions. Martin White, who was one of Leahy's division men and was roadmaster of Division A, will take his place. P. A. Clerkin, a Jersey City boy, takes Mr. White's place as roadmaster of Division A. He will have offices at Spring and Anglique streets, West Hoboken.

The changes also create the position of chief engineer of maintenance and way. This post goes to Martin Schreiber, one of the company's corps of engineers.

"These men," said Colonel Hine, "deserved their promotions and they got them."

Genuine regret is being expressed among the men that Division Superintendent Bolen will go to Newark. He is well liked by those under him. The regret is leavened somewhat by the fact that E. L. Williams, who takes his place, is also a favorite with the men under him.

RUNS 3 MILES OFF TRACK.

Freight Car Trucks Take Rails Again on Switch.

Washington, N. J., Jan. 13.—The forward truck of a loaded eastbound freight train on the Lackawanna Railroad was thrown from the rails just before entering the Oxford tunnel through a brakebeam dropping to the tracks. The train was running about twenty miles an hour. It went to Port Washington, three miles away, without further mishap. At this point a sharp curve was taken, and the wheels took the rails again on a closed switch. None of the trainmen knew that anything had happened.

A strange feature of the affair was that the flanges of the wheels clipped off many of the spike heads holding the rails. Some of the rails were found to be without a whole spike. Many of them were without any fastenings, and how the rest of the train escaped being wrecked is inexplicable. All trains had to use the westbound tracks until the rails were respiked.

WIFE, ILL, SEARCHES FOR HER HUSBAND.

Police Think Worry Over Woman's Sickness Led Man to Take His Life.

After being discharged from the General Hospital, at Paterson, where she had been for the past four weeks suffering from an illness, Mrs. Joseph Ledmond began yesterday search for her missing husband, who has not been about his home for three or four days.

The couple lived at No. 33 Main street, Paterson. Mrs. Ledmond was taken ill about a month ago and she was sent to the hospital. Her husband became despondent and neighbors noticed that he took his wife's illness very much to heart.

Mrs. Ledmond was discharged from the hospital yesterday and when she returned to her home she was told of the mysterious actions of her husband and his strange disappearance. Weak as she was from her illness she insisted on making a search for him. She notified the police and visited several of her husband's old haunts, but found no trace of him.

A book was found in his room which contained such sentences as "God bless her" (referring to his wife) and "God help me."

The police believe the man has ended his life.

SOLVE HUMAN PUZZLE.

Mysterious Prisoner in New Brunswick Reveals His Identity.

New Brunswick, Jan. 13.—The "human puzzle" has been solved by Sheriff Church, County Physician Suydam and Jailor Rogers. The "puzzle" is a prisoner who has been in the county jail for nearly a month. He has been dumb and, apparently, deaf. There was no clue to his identity, and his continued silence was said to be indicative of insanity. Every effort to discover his identity failed until yesterday, when the happy thought struck some one of the officials to try writing.

The man could write, even if he could not hear, and he informed the officials this name was Daniel McCarty, of Rahway, and that he had a brother living at Park View, Rahway. The Rahway police hunted up the man's relatives and learned that he is subject to epileptic fits and these are followed by periods when he is unable to talk. The man will be returned to his relatives.

FINE 40-INCH WHITE LAWN 10c PER YARD.

BEAUTIFUL DOTTED AND FIGURED SUISSES 25c YARD.

All dictators of Fashion agree that the coming season is to be a White Goods season. Our judgment tells us that it will be a stupendous one. The demand seems to be universal. The above mentioned Waist and Robe patterns are foreign novelties which cannot be duplicated. Make your selections now.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Two boxes have already been spoken for for the performance by the Elks' minstrel troupe February 15.

The expenses of the "Little Johnny Jones" company average $4,500 a week, half as much again as it costs to run the ordinary musical comedy. The cast and chorus number eighty-seven people.

Miss Adele VonOhl, of this city, who attracted much attention by her riding in "The Raiders" at the Hippodrome, has a part in Thompson & Dundy's new spectacle, "A Society Circus." She is at present making her home in New York.

Arnold Daly, who comes to this city next Saturday, is very sensitive about noise while he is acting. In this respect he is somewhat eccentric and at every house he appears the stage hands must wear canvas shoes, his management furnishing them.

When James O'Neill presents "Monte Cristo" at the New Plainfield this afternoon, it will make the number of his appearances in the role just 5,106. He has stopped playing it several times but has always returned because of public clamor. The present tour, he states, is positively his last as the Count.

Jane Peyton, who last year played a grass widow in "The Earl of Pawtucket," is this season playing a real widow in "The Heir to the Hoorah," which comes to Plainfield January 29. Miss Peyton avers that she is becoming so habituated to lavender and black and a subdued manner that she never expects to regain her normal temperament and fondness for "glad raiment."

Mrs. Sarah A. Tyack Dead.

Mrs. Sarah A. Tyack, a life-long Methodist, the oldest one of that denomination in Elizabeth, died yesterday at her home, No. 333 Franklin street, Elizabethport, in her eighty-ninth year. She was the widow of William H. Tyack, and was well known here. Mrs. Tyack was born on Long Island. She came to Elizabeth in 1850 and joined the First Methodist church. She afterward became a member of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church, and later was one of the founders of the Fulton Street Methodist Episcopal church, Elizabethport. Mrs. Tyack leaves one son, William H. Tyack, and one daughter, Mrs. Susan Lewis. The funeral will take place next Monday night at No. 1,211 East Broad street. The burial will be in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. VanZandt, of Madison avenue, will spend today and Sunday with friends at Hopewell.

RAILROADS UNITE TO FIGHT STATE TAX BILL.

Eight Companies Retain Prosecutor Lloyd, of Camden, to Represent Them.

Camden, Jan. 13.—For the purpose of making a concerted and effective opposition to the equal taxation measures which are to be introduced in the Legislature, the various railroads operating in New Jersey have formed an organization and have retained Prosecutor Frank T. Lloyd, of this county, as special counsel to represent them at Trenton. The companies in the organization are the Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and Reading, Lehigh Valley New Jersey Central, Lackawanna, Erie, Delaware and Hudson and New York, Susquehanna and Western.

It is said to be the intention of the companies to see that, if any equal taxation bills are passed, they will make the taxation equal on all property in the State.

Mr. Lloyd said that the railroad companies will ask for a square deal. They desire no favors from any one, and none may expect to receive any from them.

The railroads of the State, he said, intend to stand on their rights under the law, and they will also see that the law is enforced, compelling all to pay the taxes imposed. All they desire is equality and justice to all.

Further, Mr. Lloyd said that no doubt there would be several bills presented to the present Legislature looking to equal taxation, and that he would appear before the committee to which these bills will be referred, and as the private counsel will insist on a square deal for all.

He said he would take charge of these matters in general from the legal phase of the situation.

Mr. Lloyd was a member of Assembly from Camden county in 1896 and 1897. He practises law both in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Frelinghuysen Chapter, of Somerville, Celebrates Tenth Anniversary.

Somerville, Jan. 13.—The General Frelinghuysen Chapter, D. A. R., entertained 200 guests Thursday afternoon at the Wallace House, once General Washington's headquarters. The occasion was the tenth anniversary of the chapter. The guests were received by the regent, Mrs. Hugh B. Reed; Vice-Regents Mrs. Hardwicke, Mrs. McWilliam and Miss Frelinghuysen. Other members assisting were Mrs. Osborn, Mrs. Van der Veer, Mrs. Charles J. Smith, Mrs. E. H. Southwicke, Mrs. Charles H. Batman, Mrs. George Sanborn, Miss Chambers, the Misses Nevins, Miss C. J. Otis and Miss Frelinghuysen.

Mrs. William Leupp Van der Veer poured coffee and Mrs. P. M. B. Swinton chocolate. They were assisted in the dining room by the young society girls of the town. The house was decorated with flags and cut flowers, red and white perdominating. The table decorations were all red and white, and the china was old blue. The house was brilliantly lighted with candles. One of the finest rooms has been furnished by the Nova Caesarea Chapter, of Newark.

The General Frelinghuysen Chapter has thirty members, ten of whom are direct descendants of General Frelinghuysen. Regrets were sent by Mrs. D. McLane, Mrs. E. E. Batchler Jerome, of Denver, Col., former State regent and for the first five years regent of General Frelinghuysen Chapter; Miss Ellen Mecum, State regent, of Salem; Mrs. E. J. Putman, vice-State regent, of Elizabeth, and many others. Among the guests present were Mrs. William D. Kearfott, regent of the Montclair Chapter, and several members; a large delegation from the Nova Caesarea Chapter, of Newark, the regent and ten members from the Jersey Blues at New Brunswick, the regent of the Flemington Chapter, regent and twenty members from Camp Middlebrook Chapter.

CORDOVA STATE'S WORST PRISONER.

High-Strung Temperament and Sense of Persecution Makes Him Surly.

"Cordova will not get a day off of his term if it depends on good behaviour."

Thus spoke a man yesterday who knows what is going on, as far as it refers to Cordova, within the sombre walls of the state prison at Trenton. Cordova, he said, is the worst prisoner in the place, as far as obedience to discipline goes. He is high-strung, quick-tempered and imagines himself a martyr to a popular clamor. He considers every command an insult and he obeys only in surliness.

Worse yet, this gentleman said, he is evidently losing his reason, as the Press recently declared it was being rumored. A well known Methodist preacher is authority for this. Lawyer Harry B. Cook is also personally aware of Cordova's decline. This makes the prisoner even more bitter and combative toward prison restrictions.

The movement to secure the pardon of the prisoner, which is now in the hands of the Mexican consul at New York, is proceeding with all due respect for red tape. The matter is expected to come before the board at its next meeting. The report of Cordova's mental decline comes entirely from without the circle of his friends, or those in the movement, and it is supposed it will in due time be used to give impetus to the efforts to free him. Policeman Wilcox, who was one of the three local people who have recently seen the prisoner, thinks his appearance bears out the reports of his condition.

THE FAYS HAVE EVERYONE GUESSING.

Their Work Remains a Puzzle to the People After a Week's Show.

For an entire week the marvelous Fays have kept the people of Plainfield guessing, wondering what power or gift they have. Everyone is curious to know really what it is, while almost all who have seen them have formed their own personal opinion as to what it is.

The Fays themselves have never at any time made any claims or pretenses to possessing anything more than the ordinary powers of human beings. They simply present their entertainment, experiments in "Thaumaturgy," as they call it, which means absolutely nothing, and leave it to the beholders to draw their own conclusions and style it as they may desire.

If it is a fraud, it surely is the cleverest ever perpetrated. For more than ten years they have been traveling over the country presenting continually the same entertainment, performing in front of the most learned scientists in this and other countries.

The knowledge which Mrs. Fay must possess of other people's innermost secrets, information which she has of the most hidden things, would probably, if put together and published in book form, make the spiciest and raciest book ever put on the market.

Mrs. W. H. Dunn, of New York, who has been visiting her sister on Washington avenue, is ill with typhoid fever.

WOODRUFF WOULD BE A REFORMER.

Sends Bill to Senator Jackson Which Is Like Barber Measure.

Because there was an agreement between Randolph Perkins, leader of the House of Assembly, and Senator Thomas Hillery, leader of the Senate, that no bills should be introduced at the opening session of the one hundred and thirtieth Legislature last Tuesday, Senator Barton B. Hutchinson and Assemblyman Alfred N. Barber were prevented from putting in bills for abolishing fees in the offices or sheriffs, county clerks and surrogates, bills that they had in their pockets.

Taking advantage of these facts, ex-Judge Woodruff, of Trenton, has had printed the text of the Barber bill in a Trenton paper and in an interview says that he has forwarded the bill to Senator Jackson, of Middlesex, asking him to introduce it Monday night.

The interference is that Woodruff intended to give the impression that he was the first in the field with a bill to abolish fees in county offices. Politics is the play of the ex-judge, and because he knew that the word of Assemblyman Barber in the last campaign, when he pledged himself to put in this bill or to support it if introduced, would be surely kept.

Senator Jackson has his own bill and the text of it has been printed. This bill will be introduced Monday night and also the bills of Senator Hutchinson and Assemblyman Barber.

"WE'VE ALWAYS BEEN PROVIDED FOR."

"Good wife, what are you singing for?
You know we've lost the hay,
And what we'll do with horse and kye is more than I can say;
While like as not, with storm and rain, we'll lose both corn and wheat,"
She looked up with a pleasant face, and answered low and sweet:
"There is a Heart, there is a Hand, we feel, but cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be."

He turned round with a sudden gloom.
She said: "Love be at rest;
You cut the grass, worked soon and late,
and did your very best.
That was your work; you'd naught at all to do with wind and rain.
And do not doubt but you will reap rich fields of golden grain;
For there's a Heart, and there's a Hand,
we feel, but cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be."

"That's like a woman's reasoning—we must, because we must."
She softly said: "I reason not, I only work and trust;
The harvest may redeem the hay, keep heart whate'er betide.
When one door shuts, I've always seen another open wide.
There is a Heart, there is a Hand, we
feel, but cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be."

He kissed the calm and trustful face, gone was his restless pain.
She heard him with a cheerful step go whistling down the lane.
And went about her household tasks, full of a glad content,
Singing to time her busy hands, as to and fro she went:
"There is a Heart, there is a Hand, we feel, but cannot se;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be."

Days come and go—'twas Christmastide, and the great fire burned clear.
The farmer said: "Dear wife, it's been a good and happy year;
The fruit was gain, the surplus corn has bought the hay, you know."
She lifted then a smiling face, and said:
"I told you so!
For there's a Heart, and there's a Hand,
we feel, but cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be."—Lillie E. Barr.

TAX UPON TRADING STAMPS UNLAWFUL.

Decision by Full Bench of Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Boston, Jan. 13.—The excise tax upon the business of merchants done with trading stamps has been held unconstitutional by the full bench of the Supreme Court in the case of Michael O'Keefe against the city of Somerville.

The tax was provided by chapter 403 of the year 1904 and was fixed at 3 per cent. of the gross receipts of sales of articles made by merchants in connection wit hthe delivery of trading stamps to their customers. They were required to make semi-annual returns of the amount of such business to the city clerk for the sake of having the tax computed.

O'Keefe sued to recover back such a tax he paid the city of Somerville, claiming the statute was unconstitutional and the tax invalid.

The court so decides.

The court holds the tax cannot be justified as an excise on commodities within the meanings of the State constitution, but that it is an unlawful discrimination against the natural right of merchants to deliver stamps or other devices or property right to their custmoers, in connection with the sale of articles. Such methods of doing business are lawful so long as there is no lottery or gambling about them, as being founded, decided the court, upon the principle of constitutional liberty that "the right of one to use his faculties in all lawful ways to live and work where he will, to earn his livelihood in any lawful calling and to pursue any lawful trade or avocation."

No reason is held to appear for the imposition of an excise tax on the business of selling articles, with an accompaniment of stamps, which entitle the customer to other property.

ROSELLE'S MAYOR A HERO.

Imperils His Life to Save Woman in St. Louis Wreck.

St. Louis, Jan. 13.—As the Pullman car Harcourt plunged from the terminal elevated tracks yesterday, W. E. Miner, Mayor of Roselle, N. J., imperiled his life to save Mrs. Lorenzo Dowmoore, of Chicago, a stranger to him.

When the car turned over Mrs. Dowmoore was hurled across the aisle toward a closed window. Mr. Miner caught her in his arms and kept her from going through the glass. He and Mrs. Dowmoore were later taken from the car through the same window.

Isaac Regensburg, a cigar salesman from New York, was treated at the City Dispensary for two severe scalp wounds and a gash on the right arm. He is now at the Planters' Hotel.

Is County Champion Turkey Raiser.

Hope, Jan. 13.—Saron B. Newman, of Hope township, is the champion turkey raiser of the county this year, and the crop has netted him a profit of $150. Mr. Newman sold forty turkeys dressed, and seventeen alive. He received $201.11 for the sixty-two birds, or an average of $3.24 for each one sold. Mr. Newman is an observing farmer. He changes either his hens or gobblers every year and now has a twenty-four-pound gobbler at the head of the flock.

Snapshotting Fierce Animals.

How would you like to have to photograph a lion who didn't want you to do it? A wonderful huntsman has recently succeeded in taking the most remarkable photographs of wild beasts in their native lairs, and in next Sunday's New York World these photographs will be reproduced. They will astonish you and give you an idea of what these creatures look like that you've never had before. Many other wonderful features also.

TO GOVERN DISPOSAL OF DEAD HUMAN BODIES.

State Undertakers' Association Has a Bill for Presentation to the Legislature.

Trenton, Jan. 13.—The undertakers of the State believe that at last success is about to crown their hard work for the passage of a law to regulate the practise of embalming, burial and disposal of dead human bodies. Two years ago they succeeded in securing the passage of such a bill through both houses of the Legislature, but it was not approved by the Governor. Last year they tried it again, but their measure got lost in the excitement of the Morris Canal investigation. This year they have prepared a bill, which, they believe, will meet the objections which were raised to their plan in former years.

On the advice of Governor Stokes, the legislative committee of the New Jersey State Funeral Directors' Association came to this city on Tuesday and had a conference with Dr. A. C. Hunt, of the State Board of Health, upon their new bill.

This committee consists of W. W. Slack, chairman, Burlington; J. F. Martin, Elizabeth; W. B. M. Burrell, Camden; L. J. Sayre, Newark; W. E. Bates, Vineland, and W. J. Moran, Jersey City. And with them were John F. Matthews, of Newark, president of the association, and former President Nelson M. Knapp, of Orange. One important change in this year's bill affects the composition of the board to be created by the act. The old bill provided for a board of five examiners, to be appointed from anywhere in the State the Governor might choose to take them. This was objected to on the ground that the different localities of the State might not be represented on the board, and that one section might dominate it to the exclusion of the others. This year's bill provides for a board of one members from each Congressional district.

At Tuesday's conference Dr. Hunt expressed his approval of the bill submitted, and it is expected that the State Health Board will do the same, and with the indorsement of that body the undertakers expect to have no difficulty in securing the enactment of their law.

MRS. HAYNOR'S DIVORCE.

Alleges that Husband is Mental Wreck from Drugs.

Pittsfield, Mass., Jan. 13.—A divorce was granted yesterday to Mrs. Mary L. P. Haynor, of Hinsdale, a daughter of Louis F. Payn, of Chatham, N. Y., from Dr. Asa Chase Haynor, of East Orange, N. J., former health officer of the Port of New York.

They were married December 27, 1882. While on their wedding trip in Washington, D. C., it is alleged that the bride discovered that Haynor was addicted to the use of drugs. Later he was committed to the Middletown Insane Asylum.

Mrs. Haynor's father got Haynor the health office on the promise that he would reform. The couple separated, and in 1900 Mrs. Haynor went to Hinsdale, where she has since lived.

Mr. Payn testified that Haynor was janitor of a clubhouse in East Orange and was a mental wreck.

TO OWN LIGHTING PLANT.

Town Has Tired of Paying to the Public Service Corporation.

The Kearny Common Council instructed Wednesday night Town Attorney J. Franklin Corwell to prepare a bill to be presented to the Legislature which will empower the Council to bond the town for the erection of a municipal lighting plant.

The Public Service Corporation now lights the streets of the town and is paid $100 a year for arc lights and $16 for incandescents. The contract expired last August and since that time the Council has refused to renew it or enter into a new one.

It is proposed to erect the plant at the foot of Johnston avenue, along the Erie Railroad and Passaic River on land owned by the town.

Paint Can Held Riches.

Salem, Jan. 13.—The finding of a paper in an old paint can at the house adjoining the home of the late Charles E. Lawrence, who committed suicide by hanging in August last, has enriched Irving Counsellor, of this city, to the extent of $1,000. During his lifetime Lawrence was often befriended by Counsellor, his neighbor, and it was generally expected that he would be remembered in the Lawrence will. When that document came to be probated, however, there was no reference whatever made to Counsellor. This was all the more strange because Counsellor had at times loaned Lawrence various sums of money, aggregating about $80. A due bill for $1,000, made out to Counsellor, was found in the paint can.

New Tiger Trainer.

Princeton, Jan. 13.—It was announced yesterday that the Princeton track management had secured the services of Al F. Copeland, of New York, as coach and trainer of the track team for the ensuing season. Mr. Copeland has had charge of the track teams representing the New York Athletic Club for the past few seasons and has been very successful. His engagement here is the result of a strong agitation among the alumni and undergraduates, who have become dissatisfied with the management and performances of the track team during the past few seasons.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Asienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Asienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." DRUNKARDS' CHILDREN WIN.

Saloonkeepers Must Pay $17,500 for Wrecking a Home.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Because their father, it is declared, was ruined by drink a jury in Judge Tuthill's court yesterday returned a verdict of $17,500 in favor of the five children of John Hedlund against three saloon keepers, Oscar Geyer, Ernest Thoren and Louis Lundquist.

According to the story told in court, Hedlund and his family were happy until five years ago, when he began the use of intoxicating liquors. He was employed as a carpenter, with an income of $1,500.

Peculiar Mishap of Coal Train.

Washington, N. J., Jan. 13.—Railroad men are discussing the experience of a heavy coal train, which was in danger of being wrecked Tuesday afternoon between the western end of the Oxford tunnel and Port Washington, a distance of nearly four miles. The train was in danger for the entire distance. As the coal cars passed the operator at the Oxford end of the tunnel he saw that the two hind wheels of one of the heavily laden cars was off the track and running on the ties. The operator telegraphed the fact to Washington, and when the train reached here the conductor was notified. He examined every car, and with the exception of a brake beam, found everything in good condition. The brake beam was lost. An investigation was made, and it was discovered by marks on the ties that the wheels had been off the track until Port Washington was reached. There the wheels had struck a frog and jumped back on the track.

Victim of Burns Buried.

Elizabeth, Jan. 13.—The funeral of Margaret Barker, the young woman who was burned to death here last Sunday in the house where she was employed as maid, took place yesterday from the residence, on Magnolia avenue, of Edward May, to whom she was engaged to be married next June. The services took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart. Rev. Ambrose Huebner, the rector, officiated. The victim, who was twenty-three years old, and whose parents live at Watervliet, N. Y., was to have acted last Sunday night as a bridesmaid at the wedding of a friend in Bayonne. The interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

The best comic opera in years, is what New York is enthusiastically calling Manager Charles B. Dillingham's brilliant production of "Mlle. Modiste," the new musical success now at the Knickerbocker theatre, with piquant little Fritzi Scheff its bright particular star. Produced initially but a fortnight ago, it has already taken first place in the affections of the light opera lovers of the metropolis. The production's success is of the big and popular kind. Miss Scheff's society following, carried with her from her grand opera triumphs, has crowded the Knickerbocker nightly since the gay little singer's advent there. In his book and lyrics, Henry Blossom has done the best work of his career, and Victor Herbert, the composer of the score, has nothing else quite so merry and clever to his credit. The stage pictures are gems of Parisian color and gaiety, especially the millinery shop on the rue de la Paix and the gardens of the Chateau de St. Mar with their stirring military ensembles. The supporting company is admittedly one of the most melodious and best acting organizations that has ever relaxed a Broadway audience. The demand for seats is so great that they have been forced on sale four weeks in advance.

Lew Dockstader and his great minstrel company will be the attraction at the New York theatre for two weeks, beginning Monday evening, the 15th inst. Mr. Dockstader will be seen at his best in the old fashioned olio and, later in his specialty. He is surrounded by a company of over a hundred men and furnishes an entertainment that is brimful of novelty from start to finish. While adhering to the best in minstrelsy, Mr. Dockstader has introduced many new ideas. His entertainment is regarded as the best in this field of amusements.

The announcement made last week that "The Walls of Jericho" would be temporarily withdrawn by Mr. Hackett, and that he and Miss Mannering would present for a limited period a new play, "The House of Silence," by Herman K. Viele, was somewhat of an astonishment to the knowing ones who were well informed that the former play, ranking prominently among the great successes of the present New York season, and now rapidly nearing the sixth month of its present run in New York, was far too profitable an enterprise to be retired without some urgent reason. But "The House of Silence," which Mr. Hackett tried for a few perfomances in Pittsburgh at the close of last season, was a play so attractive to that gentleman that he immediately contracted with the author to produce it in New York during the present season, and thought that he had placed the limit far enough when he had given "The Walls of Jericho" until the first of February to complete its run there. Mr. Hackett has fixed the date of January 22, at the Savoy theatre, for the first production of "The House of Silence," and at the same time has given notice that he will offer occasional matinee performances of "The Walls of Jericho" during the run of the new piece. Also that as soon as it is possible, under his contract, to temporarily retire "The House of Silence," "The Walls of Jericho" will again be presented.

Fay Templeton has made a sensational hit at the New Amsterdam theatre in Klaw & Erlanger's production of George M. Cohan's new music play, "45 Minutes from Broadway." Her first week in New York showed receipts of over $14,000, which indicates the number of people who saw her most inimitable impersonation of "Mary, the housemaid." This is the first serious part Miss Templeton has acted in many years and is a most interesting exposition of the great talent which has led her to be regarded as the most artistic actress in character roles on the American stage. In Victor Moore, who plays the role of "Kid Burns," a worldly-wise youth with a wonderful vocabulary of piquant slang, Miss Templeton has an excellent foil. He plays the role of the "Kid" with a quiet unction that makes the character appeal to everyone in the audience. They are real characters and "taken from life" does not at all exaggerate their merits. Miss Templeton's songs, "Mary is a Grand Old Name" and "So Long, Mary," have become the hits of the town and the airs are played in all the hotel restaurants and whistled on the streets. Seats are now on sale for every performance in the next four weeks and can be secured by mail or telegraph.

The New York premiere of Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr.'s, play, "The Clansman," took place at the Liberty theatre last Monday evening, and scored a remarkable hit. The house was packed to the doors and hundreds of people were turned away. The piece took the audience by storm and proved a powerful melodrama, dealing in strict historic fidelity with a great theme—the relation of the white and the colored people in South Carolina in 1867 and the conditions which led to the formation of the Ku Klux Klan in that State. A more enthusiastic audience was never seen in a theatre than that of Monday evening. Applause was so spontaneous that even most interesting situations were interrupted, so powerfully were the people moved. At the end of the second act Rev. Mr. Dixon was called before the curtain and made a brief speech. At the conclusion of the play the audience arose as one person and cheered.

LITERARY NOTES.

An exquisite portrait of Mrs. Potter Palmer is the frontispiece of the February Smart Set. This new feature of the magazine has met with universal appreciation, and the publishers announce that future issues will contain equally fine portraits of beautiful and prominent women. "News and the Man," a novel of love, journalism and intrigue, by Jesse Lynch Williams, is the leading piece of fiction. It is safe to say that no more realistic picture of the exciting life of Park Row has ever been drawn. The story is dramatic to a degree, and of the final scene in the newspaper office, particularly, Mr. Williams writes vividly and with brilliance. Richard Le Gallienne and Irma Perry have collaborated in an essay which they call "The Laurel of Gossip," wherein they discuss, with unusual cleverness, the little scandal-mongers who infest every society. The paper is delightfully satirical, and will be much enjoyed. "Half-Gods and Gods," by Emery Pottle, is a strong story of two sisters in a provincial town, whose simple romance is told with great art. John Regnault Ellyson, in "The Wolf-Prince," has written another of his fantastic tales; and "The Face," by Stephen Chalmers, is almost equally weird. "In Bluebeard's Closet," by Virginia Woodward Cloud, is one of this author's finely wrought tales, and "A Splendid Decadence," by G. Vere Tyler, will be read by every woman. Zona Gale, Mabel Herbert Urner, W. Carey Wonderly and William C. de Mille are among the other writers who contribute fiction. Bliss Carman's important poem, "The Miracle," is a feature of this number. The well known Canadian poet has done nothing better for several years. Edith M. Thomas, Lizette Woodworth Reese, Kate Jordan, Beatrix Demarest Lloyd and Algernon Tassin also contribute verse, while Tom Masson, Tom P. Morgan and Richard Fechheimer supply the humor. The February Smart Set is a most attractive number of this always delightful magazine.

Since California has entered the epoch of newspapers, she has, with her usual progressiveness, spared no expense in securing the best equipment for their production. Time was, however, when she dreamed life away without a desire for the printed page, and the first six decades of her civilized career glided by without one typographical apparatus within her borders. To Augustin V. Zamorano is due the credit of introducing the printing press into California. His order was sent from Monterey to Boston in 1832, and two years later a wooden Ramage hand press was brought out by Captain Shaw at a cost of $460. Whether Zamorano had wished to expend but little money on the new venture, or whether the Yankeetraders thought any machine good enough for the unsophisticated Californians is not known; but it is evident that the press had done hard service before embarking for the West. Its first product in Monterey, in 1834, indicates that the press gave an uneven impression and that the type was much worn. * * * There was evidently no call for a periodical in the State, and the press was used chiefly for official proclamations and some little school books. About 1837, Zamorano sold the press to the government, and in that year it was taken to Sonoma by Vallejo. Later it was returned to Monterey and seems to have fallen into disuse until after the American occupation.—Katherine Chandler in Sunset Magazine for January.

Suggestion is a journal of the New Psychology for health, happiness, and success; it teaches how to apply the great basic Law of Suggestion in the everyday affairs of life through auto-suggestion. How shall I succeed in life? Suggestion is the publication that point the way. It is the only publication in the world that shows why some fail and why some succeed; the teachings of Suggestion, if followed consistently, will turn sickness into health, despondency into cheerfulness and failure into brilliant success. Why not read Suggestion? Why not understand the secret of power, health, success? Why not? Do it now. Suggestion is a magazine for thinkers; for those who will not shy at an idea; for those who do not use predigested thought; for those who wear no tag or brand or collar; for those who want facts. Do you want to see a copy of a magazine that is an exponent of such ideas? Send a postal card—4020 Drexel Boulevard, Chicago.

Elks' Building Ready February 1.

The new building of the Elks, in New Brunswick, will be ready for the occupancy of the Elks about February 1, it is expected. No arrangements have been made as yet for any ceremonies attendant upon the opening, but it is likely that such ceremonies will be held. The lodge rooms of the Elks are now being finished up, but some of the decorators are slow in their work. A change in plans caused some delay. There will be a handsome stained glass front put in the building, ornamenting the lodge rooms. There will also be stained glass effects in other parts of the building.

MAN AND BOY BITTEN BY TERRIER WITH RABIES.

Dog Caused Much Excitement Until It Was Shot and Killed by a Policeman.

There was a mad dog scare yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of Sycamore, Vine, Hickory and Walnut streets, Bloomfield. It was caused by a fox terrier owned by Frederick Gemp, of Sycamore street, which suddenly had rabies and bit Gemp's nephew, a lad named Miller, on the hand. Charles Weston, who was passing, was bitten on the leg before he could get out of the way. The wounds of the two were cauterized by a physician.

Dogs belonging to John Gordon and James Dillon were bitten by the mad terrier and they were shot by their owners. Other dogs, it is said, were attacked and they were tied up to await future developments.

Residents kept close to their homes while the mad dog was about and telephones were used to send a warning to the ploice station, and Policeman Lawrence H. Shorter was sent out. The dog was foaming at the mouth and sprang at Shorter just as he shot it, breaking one of its forelegs. Shorter than ended its life with a second shot.

The two persons bitten will go to the Pasteur Institute, Manhattan.

Repairs to Ice Houses.

William H. Kirch, of Duer street, contractor, has just completed extensive improvements at the plant of the Natural Ice Company on the big pond at Watchung, and repairs at the old ice house on Wilson's pond. At the big pond a new steam conveyor has been installed in the ice house which will carry ice to any part of the structure by steam power. The old shute has also been repaired. A new shute has been constructed at the ice house on Wilson's pond and other needed repairs made. All of this work has been under way since last October.

Ladies' Auxiliary Elects.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., held the annual meeting yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. W. S. Angleman; vice president, Mrs. W. R. Coddington; treasurer, Mrs. Casper Bolsterle; secretary, Mrs. Julius Williams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry Marshall. The reports are to be presented at a later meeting. Arrangements were made to have the annual social gathering on January 29.

Robert V. Hoffman has recovered from a brief illness.

Harry Taylor, who was operated upon recently at the hospital for appendicitis and at the same time was attacked by hiccoughs, is out of danger. He is steadily improving.

—Charles L. Stanley, the North avenue florist, who had charge of the decorations for the Shepard-Lowe wedding, furnished a very elaborate display of flowers and palms both at the house and the church. The artistic groupings and tasteful effects were greatly admired.

Your selfish man is the centre of an admiring crowd—and he's the crowd.

Every German carries a soldier on his back, and every American keeps a politician.

BALL PLAYERS' DOINGS

How the Members of the Plainfield Team are Spending Their Time.

COSGROVE A ROVER

Connolly a Printer; Dalton An Inventor; Leonard in Rubber Business; O'Neill a Bowler.

Since the close of the 1905 baseball season it may be of interest to the local fans to know how some of the Plainfield team stars have been spending the winter months. "Tip" O'Neil, who was very popular here as a catcher, is an expert on the bowling alleys. He is recognized as the champion of the Bronx and is to be seen almost every night smashing pins. The 200 mark is easy for the plucky catcher. He maintains that the exercise is beneficial and every player should bowl in the winter to keep his muscles in condition. Recently "Tip" said: "I am in better condition than ever and expect to play the game of my life next summer. Why, I felt like going in a game Christmas Day, it was so warm."

Owing to a slackness in work, the versatile shortstop, "Happy Kiernan, has been enjoying a mid-winter vacation. He is another player longing for "the good old summer time."

"Billy" Beck, who did good work here last summer in the box, is very busy these days at his trade, that of plumbing. In the evening he is an instructor in a trades school. He has an offer to pitch for Central Islip this summer and will probably accept.

"Pete" Lamar, "Dave" Driscoll and "Wally" Cosgrove are regular attendants at the three-round boxing shows in New York. According to report, "Wally" Cosgrove is rapidly becoming an expert on pugilistic affairs. His friend, "Bill" Tierney, has offered to back him against any bantam weight in the profession.

Connolly, who covered right garden so faultlessly last season, is still in the printing business and is waiting for the time when he can pull down long drives and crack out three base hits and home runs.

It is said that "Rube" Oldring will be seen in a Jersey City uniform this summer. Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Athletics, will attach a string to him and allow him to gambol in Jersey pastures for another season.

Advices from Peekskill state that "Pete" Cregan is enjoying daily excursions on the Hudson River with his ice yacht, when not engaged in looking after the yeast factory.

William A. Dalton, the fast second baseman of the Plainfields, has perfected a patent on a telephone appliance which he hopes will increase his supply of worldly goods in the near future.

"Mike" Leonard, the best third baseman in the semi-professional ranks, is holding down a good job in the rubber business in New York. "Mike" is anxious for spring and summer weather.

The recent marriage of "Willie" Deegan to a rich and charming widow has caused consternation in the semi-professional ranks. The players invariably ask, "Is she really rich?" and other kindred questions. "Willie" was generally considered a bashful boy and his team mates cannot account for his action in becoming a benedict.

In every case the players comprising the Plainfield team last year are axious for the baseball season to open, and it is not too much to hope that local fandom will have the opportunity of seeing this fast aggregation again when the summer time arrives.

HE SUES FOR $10,000

Former Plainfielder's Case Against P. S. C. on Trial at Elizabeth Today.

MARLEY THE PLAINTIFF

Claims That He Was Thrown Off Trolley Car and Suffered Injury—Defense is That He Was Intoxicated.

Thomas Marley, formerly of this city, is the plaintiff in a $10,000 damage suit against the Public Service Corporation, which was begun before Judge Fort in the Supreme Court, Elizabeth, this morning.

Mr. Marley claims that he was a passenger on a trolley car, running from Elizabeth to Plainfield on October 19, 1900. When the car reached the B. and O. Railroad crossing near Cranford, the conductor asked him for a five cent fare. He claimed that he paid ten cents when he boarded the car at Elizabeth and refused to give up another fare. He further alleges that he was thrown off the car by the crew, and that his hands and knees were severely injured.

As a result he says that he was laid up at home for six weeks, seven weeks in a hospital and for a year and a half his leg was in a plaster cast and that even now he is unable to walk on that leg or bend the knee.

When asked by Howard McSherry, counsel for the defense, whether he had not been convicted of a crime since the accident, Marley at first denied it, but later said that he did plead guilty to attending a prize fight and was fined $50. He further explained that he could not make his escape, because of the injury to his leg. The trolley company claims that Marley was intoxicated at the time of the accident, that he was not thrown off the car, but taken off and left standing in the road. Marley is represented by W. M. Atkinson, Esq., of Elizabeth. The case will probably occupy the entire day.

TABLET UNVEILED IN MEMORY OF S. A. GINNA

PRESENTED TO BETHEL CHAPEL BY ITS MEMBERS AT EXERCISES YESTERDAY

In memory of the late Stephen A. Ginna, who was superintendent of the school for many years, a tablet was unveiled at Bethel chapel, yesterday afternoon. It was a gift from the members of the chapel and Sunday-school, steps having been taken to secure it shortly after his death. A portrait of the late superintendent, presented by Mrs. Ginna, was placed to the right of the pulpit at the same time the tablet was put up.

The latter is of brass mounted on oak, letters in black giving an appropriate inscription.

The exercises attending the unveiling were in charge of Superintendent Duxbury, who, with Mr. Ginna, started Bethel chapel twenty years ago. Hymns were sung by the school and addresses were made by Dr. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church; Rev. J. O. McKelvey and L. N. Lovell, of Warren chapel.

WORK ON STORM SEWER.

West End Avenue Sewer to Be Begun Tomorrow.

Work will be started tomorrow on the West End avenue storm sewer and rushed rapidly toward completion. The sewer will extend from Green brook, where there will be two outlets and catch basins. One of these will be on either side of the boulevard running to Myrtle avenue, the plan being to carry the surface drainage from the intersecting streets as well as the boulevard.

The work will be done under the direction of the borough street committee, Mayor Smalley believing that it can be accomplished just as well and for less money than by an outside contractor. The necessary pipe has been delivered.

Mrs. Fred Emmons Buried.

A funeral service over the body of Mrs. Fred Emmons was held last night at the home of Mr. Emmons' sister, Mrs. A. D. Thorn, of Stone street, last night. It was conducted by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, and was attended by a gathering of relatives and friends. Interment was made at Hillside cemetery this morning.

Rev. Mr. Herring's Reception.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will hold one of his regular receptions in the chapel of the church on Thursday night. There will be an informal programme. All members of the church and congregation are invited.

FLOOD OF BILLS READY

Tonight's Session of Legislature Promises to be a Record Breaker.

COLBY MEN ARE ACTIVE

Measures Dealing on Limited Franchise and Repealer on Hillery Tax Law.

The session of the Legislature tonight promises to be a record breaker so far as the number of prominent bills to be introduced is concerned. What will be known as the Colby measures will start on their career. Their measures deal with the tax on railroad main stems and franchises, the tax on public service franchises, the chance of voters to express a preference for candidates for United States Senator, a repealer of the Hillery maximum tax rate and the limitation of franchises. Senator Colby is expected to be the introducer of all of these big bills, except that providing for equal taxation. That has to originate in the House, as do all measures involving the appropriation of money. Therefore, Assemblyman William P. Martin will be the introducer, as he was to a large extent the author.

The limited franchise bill is brief and right to the point. No officer, board or body of any first or second class city shall grant any right, privilege or franchise in any public highway or place in such city for a period longer than twenty-five years. In other than first and second class cities such rights or franchises may be granted for thirty-five years, but not for a greater period without a popular vote of approval at the next general election. The provisions of this bill are understood to meet the Governor's approval.

Governor Stokes made no reference in his message to the question of the people expressing a preference for United States Senators. The Colby measure on that subject is rather long and provides so many details that its popularity may be doubted. It is a hard arrangement to make so that every candidate can have a show and yet every voter express a preference. The number of preferences is apt to be so great as to mix up the whole situation.

The real machine measure will not be one like Colby's, nor one indorsed by the Governor. It will be a subterfuge to cause trouble, and is likely to come from the railroad combination just announced. That combination, by the way, if the reports are true, is a clever manipulation of matters. The leading railroads, united to defeat equal taxation, have employed one man for counsel and legislative representation.

That man is Frank S. Lloyd, of Camden, Prosecutor of the Pleas in that county for a long time, a member of the House for several terms, extremely popular and far superior to the ordinary lobbyist in appearance and manner. He presents himself as the accredited agent of the companies, has no admissions to make or evasions to attempt, and is opposed to bribery or corruption personally, and so are the roads presumably, and in every way presents a clean path for the doing of business. This "political Lloyd's," as it may be called, promises to be one of the features of the session. Since its birth was advertised, it doubtless has no aversion to free advertising as it progresses.

Of course, there will be the regular flood of bills presented tonight in addition to the prominent ones mentioned. The temperance people assert that they will make a start with one of their local option series. Unless the announcement was premature, a Morris Canal abandonment measure of some sort will be put in, although it is hard to discover who intends to act as its author.

The smothering of bills in committee has been a crying evil for a quarter of a century. Every effort to prevent it in some shape or other has failed. Martin submitted the simpliest and really the most likely of any plan for relief. He put in the shape of an amendment to the current rules of the House a rule which would read that no committee should hold a bill in its keeping for more than two weeks, unless by special permission of the House. Nothing can be plainer. It becomes a rule to be universally obeyed by the committees. The committees must attend to business promptly and keep up with it. The old trick of asking for hearings would be cut short. If a hearing or two were really necessary, then they must be quickly arranged, or if, in some important case, more time were absolutely required, the House could pass a special resolution covering just that feature.

In other words, good bills and bad would get the same treatment, so far

MINISTER DRAGGED IN UPSET CARRIAGE

REV. DR. DWIGHT, FORMERLY OF THIS CITY, HURT IN NEW YORK.

Hurled about in his wrecked brougham as it was whirled across Union Square in New York, Saturday, upset by a Broadway car and twice in collision with other vehicles; the Rev. Melatiah E. Dwight, a wealthy retired Congregational minister, who formerly lived in Rockview avenue, North Plainfield, barely escaped serious injury. His coachman risked his life to save the helpless passenger.

Driving up town soon after twelve o'clock, James F. Keenan, coachman for the Rev. Mr. Dwight, turned his horses into Fourth avenue, at Union Square. At Fifteenth street a truck coming from the eastward struck the rear wheel of the brougham so sharply that the pole was snapped at its middle. This also swung the horses around and they dashed down Fourth avenue, in spite of Keenan's efforts to stop them.

Crossing "Dead Man's Curve," where the Broadway cars swing into Fourteenth street, the carriage was struck, and upset by a southbound car. Keenan was pitched from his box and alighted on his face, receiving severe injuries, but preserving sufficient consciousness to yell to Policeman Frank Hefferen:

"There's a man in the carriage." Hefferen, a traffic squad man, was running to stop the horses as the car struck them. He caught the bridle of one after the carriage was overturned, but was dragged along helpless.

Directly in front of the runaways was the Lincoln statue and the iron fence about it. Hefferen caught the other horse's nose strap. With a determined pull he made them both turn south of the statue without hitting the fence. He brought the horses to a standstill in front of the old Tiffany building.

Opening the carriage door the Rev. Mr. Dwight was found in a state of collapse in a corner. He quickly recovered, however, and did not require the services of Dr. R. L. Graham, of 158 East Seventy-ninth street, who bound up the coachman's lacerated face. Mr. Dwight, at his home, No. 31 Mount Morris Park West, was reported to have suffered no serious harm.

PLAINFIELDER ONCE CAPT. OF CHEROKEE

BENJ. DOANE TOOK STRANDED VESSEL ON MAIDEN TRIP.

In the heroic rescue of fifty-six passengers taken off the steamship Cherokee, of the Clyde Line, while stranded in a fierce gale near Atlantic City yesterday afternoon, there is a local interest. It was Captain Benjamin Doane, of East Seventh street, father-in-law of J. Hervey Doane, who took the boat on her maiden voyage and for many years afterward had charge of her. Not once during his long career as a sea captain did he meet with an accident and he was considered one of the best men in the employ of the Clyde Line.

With daring and perfect seamanship that took no heed of the gale or mountain waves, while ten thousand persons looked on for hours, the passengers and all of the crew of the stranded Cherokee, except the captain, two other officers and the carpenter, were rescued yesterday afternoon by Captain Mark Casto and his crew in the fishing sloop Alberta.

The Cherokee has been stranded on the Brigantine Shoals for three days and she rests solidly on the sands with twelve feet of water in her hold. The old salts say that it will be impossible to get her off. Except for the nervous strain of twenty-four hours at the mercy of the gale and the privations of the four hours tossing in the little boat all the passengers and crew are well and the majority left last night for New York.

Eleven Indictments Presented.

The Union County Grand Jury came into court this morning and presented eleven indictments. As its labors are not yet completed, the members returned to the Grand Jury room to continue its work. It is not known definitely just when the jurors will finish the business before them.

Bowling Tourney Tonight.

The cocked hat bowling tournament will begin at the Park Club tonight. The entry list is large and unusual interest is being shown. The tournament will continue for several weeks. There will also be a ten pin tournament.

FORT SHOWS NO MERCY

Justice in Middlesex County Imposes Severe Sentences on Slot Machine Men.

NO POLITICAL PULLS

Court Deals Heavy Punishment to Men Alleged to Have Been Shielded by "Men Higher Up."

New Brunswick, Jan. 15.—Supreme Court Justice Fort paralyzed lawyers, laymen, defendants and political wiseacres Saturday morning by the severity of the sentences he imposed upon all the slot machine defendants, and the plainness of the language he used in declaring that the obvious determination of certain of the defendants to shield "the men higher up" justfied the severity.

Wilbur J. Flynn, whom public opinion designates as the phincipal head of the alleged syndicate, was sentenced to a total of $1,500 fine and costs on the two convictions for "aiding and abetting" the supply and use of gambling devices. He was held in $6,000 bail, and Justice Fort served notice that such bail must be free and unencumbered to be approved by the court.

Adolph May, indicted with Flynn on three charges, and pleading non vult to the indictments, was fined a total of $450 after Justice Fort gave him an opportunity to disclose the names of the men "back of the enterprise" an opportunity which May did not take.

Charles Willett, one of the saloonkeepers indicted for having machines in their places, was fined $150 and costs, after being flayed by Justice Fort for his attitude on the stand on the trial of the indictments against Flynn.

Eleven other saloon-keepers, who had pleaded non vult soon after the finding of the indictments, were fined $100 and costs. From the very beginning there had been a persistent rumor that $50 would be the fine of eoch saloon-keeper.

When he imposed sentence upon the saloon-keepers, Justice Fort declared that in future the slot machine must me proscribed, and that so long as he held court in Middlesex county no license would be granted in the Court of Common Pleas to any saloon-keeper in whose place there was a slot machine or other gambling device, and that this rule would be observed if he had to come to Middlesex himself and sit in license application cases.

Court was opened at once and Justice Fort said that certain of the saloon-keepers indicted on the charge of having machine in their places of business, who had not pleaded not guilty, wished to change their plea, and this would be done at once, so that he might dispose of all that class of indictments at once.

Cornelius Farley, of New Brunswick, and Sander Kish and William Duff, of Carteret, withdrew their plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult. Hugh Crosson, a cigar dealer of New Brunswick; Antonio Espositor, Riverside Park; Joseph Deak, South River; John Mudrack, Carteret; William Walling, Woodbridge; Henry Weidenhaupt and Joseph Walters, Iselin, were arraigned for sentence. all the others having pleaded non vult.

Justice Fort, in imposing sentence, said:

"You have been convicted on your own plea. This to some extent extenuates the charges against you. I also believe that in no case would you have had a machine if some one had not persuaded you. However, that does not affect the gravity of the offense in the eyes of the law. I will say that it had been my purpose to revoke the license of every man indicted and confessedly guilty of having a slot machine in his place, but on a study of the facts I see that there might be some question of my right to do this where no trial has been held. I will say now and give fair warning that in future no man in Middlesex county can have a license from the Court of Common Pleas who has had or shall have a slot machine or other gambling device in his place. This rule will be enforced if I have to come to Middlesex county myself and sit in license application cases. I shall take charge of such cases, if necessary, but I am sure it will not be necessary as I am certain Judge Strong will observe this ruling. This ruling will be enforced, that is positive."

The court then imposed a fine of $100 and costs for each indictment.

Charles Willett was then arraigned. In sentencing him, Justice Fort declared that his attitude when a witness in the Flynn case had convinced the court the witness was not telling the truth, and, in addition to withholding the truth, went out of the way to commit perjury. Taking

SEEK W. A. SHOEMAKER

New York Police Say He Guided Seton Stock Swindle.

IS DISBARRED LAWYER

Tried to Sell, It is Alleged, a Forged $1,000 Certificate for $400, Intimating That It Was Stolen.

William A. Shoemaker, who was disbarred in Philadelphia nine years ago, is being sought by Central Office detectives and by the Pinkertons, on the charge that he is connected with the Norfolk and Western Railway Company's certificate swindle. Telegraphic orders for his arrest have been sent to nearly every large city in this country. The European police have also been asked to look for Shoemaker.

Shoemaker, it is charged, is the brains of the entire swindle which resulted in the printing of $4,300,000 worth of bogus securities of the Norfolk and Western.

Ten years ago he became prominent as chief counsel for H. H. Holmes, the murderer, who was tried and convicted in Philadelphia and hanged. It was subornation of perjury in connection with the defense of Holmes that led to his disbarment.

Since then Shoemaker has been a great deal in New York. He is well known as a shrewd operator and promoter.

Shoemaker first appeared in connection with the railway certificate swindle six or eight weeks ago.

Cornelius E. Baird, a member of the Stock Exchange, with offices at 18 Broad street, was visited one day recently by Humphries, who had with him a well dressed man about forty years old and wearing a heavy mustache. Humphries introduced his companion as "Mr. Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, a prominent member of the bar." He told Mr. Baird that Shoemaker was the owner of a ten-share certificate of Norfolk and Western stock and was anxious to secure a loan upon it.

Mr. Baird was in no hurry to make the loan. Though nothing was detected to show that the certificate was bogus, the police believe that this was one of the certificates printed at the direction of Charles Augustus Seton.

A few days later Shoemaker returned alone to Baird's office.

"I want to know if you will make the loan on the surety which I offered you the other day," Shoemaker said. "You know," Shoemaker is alleged to have said to Mr. Baird, "you can make some money out of this little transaction. I really do not want a loan on this stock; I want to sell it. If you will let me have, say as little as $400 for the certificate, which is negotiable, why, it is yours. The certificate is worth, at par, $1,000, and all I ask for it is $400."

It is alleged that the reason Shoemaker gave for his desire to sell the stock so cheaply was that the certificate had really been stolen. At that time Mr. Baird ordered his visitor out.

Mr. Baird heard of Humphries arrest in connection with the Norfolk and Western stock swindle and communicated with Inspector O'Brien at police headquarters.

The police were unable to get anything out of Humphries till on Saturday night they confronted him with Mr. Baird. Then he wilted. "I am going to tell the whole truth now," said Humphries.

It was not until then that Humphries really furnished information of value. At once detectives were sent out to hunt for Shoemaker. There is a possibility, however, that he may have gone to Europe. The examination of Humphries will be continued today. The authorities hope that they will be able to apprehend Shoemaker.

Musical Entertainment.

Miss C. C. Sampson's piano pupils had a pleasant musicale at her home in East Fifth street Saturday afternoon. The affair was followed with games and refreshments that were enjoyed by all present. Selections were played by Miss Eleanor Browning, Edythe Bechtle, Isabelle Sherwood and Ruth Delhunt. A very pleasing feature was a selection played by Miss Thelma Curits.

A Strong Team.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team plays the Parthians tonight at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The Parthian team is from New York City and is composed principally of college graduates. A good, fast game is expected.

P. S. C.'s New Offices.

The offices of the gas and electric light departments of the Public Service Corporation will be located at 129 East Front street after today.

Rasores Club Meets.

The Rasores Club will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. J. S. Ziele, 813 Rock avenue.

MGR. DAAB'S POSITION

He Will Not Bring Hoboken's Here Again Without Associational Support.

BIG CUT IN EXPENSES

An Organization Could Save $1,000 in Running Expenses and Daab Could Top Off Salaries to Same Amount.

Manager Phil Daab, of the Hoboken nine, is engaged in careful and interesting calculation as to his bearings in the Plainfield baesball world. After one searching look around, he is still undecided as to where he is at. The whole question of the return of the Hoboken combination to Plainfield is very much in doubt.

One important factor in deciding the question will be the extent to which patrons of the sport, who have means, will consent to give Mr. Daab support in carrying the team through the season here. Mr. Daab made up his mind that he is through going it alone in Saturday games. He would like to manage the team for Plainfield, but he cannot do it if he must carry the burden himself. Unless an association or a partnership is formed to put in one half of the money required, Daab will not come back here.

Such an association may be formed, and this week or next may decide the matter. Mr. Daab has seen and talked with well-known baseball supporters here about the association plan. He made a special trip to this city for the purpose last week, and since then he has written of the proposition to all the men likely to fall in with it. A meeting will probably be held this week, and almost certainly before the end of next.

Mr. Daab's desire is to have an association of about six men, who will jointly contribute one-half of the sinews of war. With such an association the game could be made to pay. Without it, the season—if a first-class team is maintained—and Plainfield will have no other—must be a financial failure, as was the case last year.

Two things will work to make an association a financial gainer this year—a cut in salaries and a saving in running expenses. Saturday salaries must come down. That is settled. The players realize, as well as the managers, that the Saturday gaem with a fast team is a losing proposition at the salary rate of the past few seasons, and to prevent the lopping off of all income on Saturday the ball chasers are willing to take a cut.

As matters were last year it cost about $120 to send a team into each game. A saving of $40 a game on salaries will amount to about $1,000 in the course of the season. An associational manage can save $1,000 on the running expenses in the course of a season. Last year Mr. Daab had to hire men to take tickets, to keep an eye on the grounds to carry messages, to do the forty-seven different things that must be done. An association of six men can do these things themselves and save at least $1,000. With attendance as good as last year's, and a $2,000 drop in expenses, the game will pay.

Should Mr. Daab take hold of the team again he will cut the season as well as salaries. In his judgment—and most students of local conditions agree with him—a season opening the first Saturday in May and closing after Labor Day is as long as is good for the sport in Plainfield.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

A strike is threatened at the Hall Signal Works at Garwood. The men have been asked of late to work overtime. The union rule is time and a half for overtime work. A number refused to comply unless the company paid the union schedule. This they refused to do. The result was twenty men were discharged Friday. This started trouble, and Sunday afternoon a meeting was held to consider the advisability of ordering a strike.

CUPID STEALS A TEACHER.

Pretty Miss Lyons Is Married Now and Wants to Quit School.

Verona, N. J., Jan. 15.—Miss Harriet Lyons, a pretty young teacher, just out of her teens and a favorite among the pupils, gave the members of the Board of Education a surprise Saturday when she asked the committee on teachers to relieve her of her duties.

When asked to give her reasons the pretty teacher, smiling and blushing, said:

"I am married."

Miss Lyons, which name she retained in school after her marriage, was married in Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 31 last, to H. B. Place, of that city. The trustees were not inclined to release Mrs. Place, as a change at this time would, in the estimation of the trustees, be detrimental to the interests of the pupils. Mrs. Place's contract does not expire until June.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SPLENDID RECORD OF CAPT. WILLIAM B. MARTIN

HEAD OF COMPANY K, ONE OF THOSE TO RECEIVE SERVICE MEDALS.

Captain William B. Martin, who is at the head of Company K, was one of the State guardsmen who received twenty years service medals at the exercises in Trenton, Thursday night. He is one of the most popular officers in the Second Regiment and has a record that is one to be proud of.

He enlisted in the old Third Regiment on December 16, 1884, and was discharged January 7, 1891. Through successive re-enlistments he served until the disbandment of the regiment May 2, 1889. He was then commissary sergeant but re-enlisted as a private in Company I, Second Regiment, May 3, 1899, serving steadily since that time. He entered service in the Spanish-American War April 27, 1898, as commisary sergeant and was in the Third New Jersey National Guard Volunteer Infantry and was first lieutenant and battalion adjutant when discharged February 11, 1899.

As a rifle shot his record is a brilliant one. He won the Wimbledon match at Sea Girt, in 1901; the Gerstenberg trophy at Washington, in 1902, and the Hayes and Spencer match at Sea Girt in 1905. He shot on the American team against Canada in 1901 and against Canada and Great Britain at Ottawa, Canada, in 1902. In 1903 he shot on the American team at Bisley, England. He is the senior member of the New Jersey State team, having been a member since 1899. He holds the world's record with the military rifle at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. On May 19, 1903, he made 73 at 800 yards, 72 at 900 and 68 at 1,000 yards, a total of 213. On September 9, 1905, he made 24 consecutive bullseyes at 600 yards, which gave him second place for that distance and on the same day 17 consecutive bullseyes at 800 yards, winning the Spencer medal.

By the members of Company K, Captain Martin is held in high esteem and he has done a great deal to bring the organization to its present state of efficiency.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, of the city, and Mayor N. B. Smalley have each secured a box for the Elks' minstrel show on February 15. Two others have been spoken for and the remaining two will be sold within a few days.

The star and supporting company were flawless and the audiences were fully satisfied with the production. It will be at the Metropolis theatre, New York, all this week and will be O'Neill's farewell to the city as the "Count" as he is to appear in a new play next season.

A special train carrying the second "Little Johnny Jones" theatrical company to Pensacola, Pa., ran into a log train between Monroe and Repton, Ala., on the Louisville and Nashville road, Saturday. Five members of the company were hunt, among them being two chorus girls who are not expected to live. The scenery and baggage was rendered useless. The first company is the one that will appear here Wednesday afternoon and night.

Plainfield, N. J., January 15, 1906.

The annual report of City Treasurer William F. Arnold, published on Saturday, was gotten up in a way that made it easily understood. The taxpayer could see at a glance the condition of the municipality's finances, how the money was received and how expended during the last twelve months. In every sense it was an excellently arranged report.

It will not take very little hard thinking to discover that the New Brunswick Times' remedy for corrupt practises is indeed a poor one. The principle advanced by the Middlesex county paper is that "if it be proved that a vote was bought or a voter suborned, the candidate in whose interest the corruption was practiced loses his office, even though only a single voter was approached and the candidate had 1,000 majority." Such a penalty according to the Times would make all elections honest, but would it? Suppose some "heeler" offers a bribe for a vote for a candidate opposed to his "boss," what then? And again suppose that friends of both rival candidates are convicted of offering a bribe, what then? If the Times really wants to solve this question of political corruption it will have to think again.

CLERGYMAN ASKS FAGAN.

Through Church Paper Requests Reason for Transfer of Police.

"Why have you removed John Clos?" the Rev. Dr. E. L. Stoddard, rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, in Summit avenue, Jersey City, asked of Mayor Fagan in the current issue of St. John's Bulletin, a weekly paper published in the interests of the parish.

Clos, appointed to the police force forty years ago next May, served as desk sergeant in police headquarters for fifteen years. A few days ago he was transferred to do detective work in the Sixth precinct, known as Goatville.

The Mayor's reply to the clergyman's question could not be obtained last night. It is said the police board transferred Clos expecting he would apply for retirement.

FARMERS UNDER ARMS.

Posses at Mt. Holly Patrolling to Capture a Firebug.

Mount Holly, Jan. 15.—Three incendiary fires in three successive nights have caused farmers to organize for their own protcetion in the vicinity of Mount Holly, and armed posses are patrolling the country districts.

On Friday night Thomas Dolan lost his outbuildings, crops and live stock. Last night Alfred Bowne, of the John P. Hutchinson farm, was burned out with a loss of over $10,000. Every building on the Samuel H. Chambers farm, on the Jobstown turnpike, occupied by Horace Atkinson, was burned except the house. Two horses, four cows and other live stock perished. The loss is more than $6,000.

Colored Cop for Elizabeth.

If the endorsement of the Colored County Republican Committee, which met Friday night in Union Hall, Elizabeth, will have any effect, then the colored citizens of that city will be represented on the police force. The person endorsed by the committee is Mahlon Y. Gibbs, and one of the colored members of the city central committee.

Elks Lodge Reception.

Elizabeth Lodge, No. 289, B. P. O. Elks, will have a "ladies' night" and reception at Turn Hall, Elizabeth, Wednesday evening, January 24. The programme for the evening will be in charge of Harry Wetton, and he has selected music a la Elkdom, to which the bucks and does will prance.

as consideration is concerned. Good measures could be promptly reported favorably. Bad measures could be promptly reported adversely. Then the House would settle each and every measure presented on its merits. And that is what the House was intended for. The very fact that a man hesitates about supporting the Martin resolution raises a suspicion. The resolution should have been unanimously adopted last Tuesday. It should have no opposition tonight. It will not—except from the machine.

LEG CUT OFF TO FREE VICTIM FROM MACHINERY.

Paterson Mill Foreman, Caught Between Cog Wheels, Suffered Until Death Came.

His leg caught between a set of bevelled cog wheels and slowly drawn in up to the thigh before the machinery could be stopped, Thomas Pierson, foreman in one of the departments of the Passaic Steel Works at Paterson, suffered intense agony for half an hour Saturday night. He remained conscious while men with crowbars tried to release him.

The machine is so constructed that no matter which way the wheels were turned the leg would be drawn further in. The ambulance from St. Joseph's Hospital arrived with Dr. Smallman. The surgeon adopted the only course left for him to release the imprisoned foreman. He administered an anaesthetic and then amputated the leg. Pierson died an hour later at the hospital. He was to sail for Europe in a few days on a pleasure trip with his wife and child.

EX-ASSEMBLYMAN FEENEY DIES

Started in Life as Newsboy in Jersey City—Became Police Commissioner.

John P. Feeney, who was a police commissioner in Jersey City for nine years and who served three terms in the State Legislature, died yesterday at his home, Eighth and Erie streets, Jersey City, after a long illness. A widow and two children survive him.

Mr. Feeney was forty-six years old. He was born in Jersey City. Educated in the public and parochial schools he began life as a newsboy. He took an active part in Democratic politics in the old "Horseshoe" district of Jersey City, was elected a constable in 1882, re-elected in 1885, and in the fall of 1886 he was elected an Assemblyman. He was re-elected in 1887 and 1888. He served on important committees and was one of the leaders in the movement to make the late Governor Leon Abbett a United States Senator in the place of the late John R. McPherson in 1888.

He served as a detective on the staff of the late Prosecutor of the Pleas Charles H. Winfield, and in 1889, when a State Constabuary was formed, Governor Abbett made him its chief. He was appointed a member of the Board of Police Commissioners of Jersey City by the late Mayor Orestes Cleveland, and in the nine years he served was president of the board for three terms. It was through his efforts that the police telegraph and patrol box systems were established.

Upon his retirement from active politics in 1890 Mr. Feeney became an adjuster for the North Jersey Street Railway Company, and when the Public Service Corporation absorbed the trolley systems in Northern New Jersey he was made chief adjuster. He held that position at his death. He was an extensive property owner in Jersey City and Hoboken.

State to Buy 100 Deer.

Delaware, Jan. 15.—C. C. Worthington, the millionaire pump manufacturer, who has a large game preserve in Pahaquarry Township, is preparing to make the annual shipment of deer from Buckwood Park. Orders have been received for 100 deer from the New Jersey State Game Commission. Last year the State of New Jersey received seventy-six deer. Of recent years the deer have been mutiplying so fast the owner had to dispose of many of the animals. A few years ago he turned the deer out of the park, but the farmers raised a protest, as the animals, it is said, destroyed their grain fields.

$15,000 For Fight.

Tom O'Rourke wired to Herrera yesterday offering him a match with "Young" Erne at the new Tuxedo Club, outside of Philadelphia. Herrera wired back that he would not bind himself to fight any one but Nelson or Britt. O'Rourke then sent a second message to the Mexican stating that the Tuxedo Club would give $15,000 for a twenty-round battle between Nelson and him.

SAYS DRINK MENACES WOMEN.

Dr. Peters Thinks Fashionable Tippling Threatens the Republic.

The Rev. Madison C. Peters has discovered that there is inebriety among "society women," and he talked about it yesterday at the people's meeting in the Epiphany Baptist church.

"The fashion that encourages women inebriates among the society women of New York," said Dr. Peters, "presents a deplorable outlook for the future of the Republic. The fashionable of this city are establishing a custom which is being followed by millions of American women, to the detriment of the race.

"Closely observe the goings on in the fashionable drinking places of our city, and nine out of ten women drink habitually, their tipples identical with those of men and the calls as frequent, drinking with men and women and alone, at luncheon, at dinner, at supper, and between times, young women and old, to say nothing of the drinking in their own homes, where nobody except their maids see them.

"Fashionable physicians know that I tell the truth. Alcoholism among women is alarmingly on the increase. I appeal to every woman who loves her kind to discourage the custom of social drinking and help to save the womanhood of the Nation from the curse of drunkenness."

Through Floor With Stove.

Mrs. Anna Ward, of Washington street, Bloomfield, was standing in front of the kitchen range yesterday, when a section of the floor gave way and she was precipitated into the cellar with great force. The stove would have probably fallen upon and killed her but for the fact that one of its legs caught in a gas pipe, which stopped it in its fall. Mrs. Ward was rendered unconscious. Dr. John D. Moore found that she was suffering from severe contusions on her head and body. Her condition is serious.

these facts in consideration, the court sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of $500 and costs.

Adolph May, who pleaded non vult to three indictments for maintaining machines and aiding and abetting in the maintenance of gambling devices, was next arraigned. Opportunities to tell who were behind him were given by the court, but he remained silent, and was fined $150 on each of the three indictments on which he pleaded non vult.

Wilbur J. Flynn, who had been convicted on two indictments, one for installing a machine in Weidenhaupt & Malters' saloon at Iselin and one for installing machines at Willett's saloon at South River, was called.

"You have been convicted on two indictments out of five found against you," said Justice Fort. "Willett knew and you knew that you had something to do with the installation of these machines. There is a strong opinion on the part of the court that you ought to be sent to State prison."

An opportunity was given to Flynn to affirm or deny that there had been men back of him in the syndicate, promising political protection, but he made no reply to the suggestion of the judge. Justice Fort then sentenced him to a fine of $1,000 on the first conviction and a fine of $500 on the second conviction. Costs were assessed upon the defendant in each case. C. T. Cowenhoven, his counsel, took out a writ of error at once. Justice Fort allowed the writ.

$347 CONSUMED IN STOVE.

Woman Put the Money on Counter and Then Waited on Customer.

Millville, Jan. 15.—To have $347 consumed with paper rubbish in a stove fire is the loss that befell Mrs. May B. Wilson, one of Millville's milliners.

Mrs. Wilson had counted the money out, intending to take it to the bank, when a customer called for her. The money was all in bills, with the exception of three silver dollars.

When she went to attend the customer she laid the money on the counter, and, as the room was being cleaned at the time, it must have been knocked off the counter and swept up with the sweepings, for this morning the three silver dollars were found in the ashes taken from the stove.

Revival at New Providence Ends.

New Providence, Jan. 15.—Friday night the last of a series of revival meetings was held at the Presbyterian church here. Rev. Dr. William Reid has conducted all of the meetings, and the large attendance and the many converts testify to his ability as speaker and power as a revivalist. It is expected that as a result of his energetic camaign the membership of the Presbyterian church will show an increase of at least twenty-five per cent. The music throughout the series of meetings has been excellent. There was a choir of thirty voices, conducted by Elmer Dixon, the second tenor in the Schubert Male Quartette of Newark.

This Borough Has Been a Success.

New Providence, Jan. 15.—The fiscal year has just ended here and the local authorities look with satisfaction upon the management of borough affairs during the last year. After all accounts are settled and all appropriations made, the treasury shows a balance of over $2,000 cash surplus. Electric lights and city water have been installed, and the roads have been kept in excellent condition. In the face of all this, taxes have been twenty-five per cent. lower than they ever were under the old township form of government.

Baking Powder Girls Strike.

Hoboken, Jan. 15.—Because the Davis Baking Powder Company, of this city, refused to grant them an increase in wages, thirty girls employed by the concern went out on strike Saturday. The girls label the cans and thought they were not getting paid enough. Their leader waited on Superintendent Gild, who refused to accede to the request. The strikers, who posted pickets to prevent other girls from taking their positions, wan an increase of ten cents per thousand.

FAMOUS HOTEL PROPRIETOR DEAD.

Peter Katzenbach 65 Years Landlord in Trenton, Entertained Many Prominent People.

Trenton, Jan. 15.—Peter Katzenbach, for sixty-five years proprietor of the Trenton House, formerly the Trenton Tavern of Colonial fame, died here yesterday morning at the advanced age of eighty-six years. For more than half a century he was active in the management of the hotel and during that time he entertained practically all of the public men of the State, as well as several Presidents and many foreign dignitaries, who visited the city. He acquired the hotel through his own efforts, having risen from a humble position which he took at the age of eight years, when his father died and left him practically on his own resources. He was born in Germany and came to Trenton with his parents when a mere child.

His surviving children are Dr. William H. Katzenbach, vice-president of the Polyclinic Hospital, New York; Mrs. Frank Bartlett, wife of a Newark lawyer; Frank S. Katzenbach and Fred F. Katzenbach, both of this city. He had eight grandchildren, including ex-Mayor Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., and three great-grandchildrne.

The funeral will be held tomorrow, with services by his old friend, Dr. Samuel M. Studdiford, for thirty-five years pastor of the Third Presbyterian church.

CONDEMNS RICE FOR THE BRIDE AND GROOM.

Monsignor Fox Takes Decided Stand on That and Question of Flowers.

Monsignor Fox condemned the sending of flowers to funerals in a sermon yesterday morning at St. Mary's Cathedral, Trenton, and also the custom of showering rice over a bridal couple after leaving the church door.

The speaker began by stating that he wished to condemn certain customs that existed to a great extent in that city and elsewhere. The first one, he said, was the showering of rice over persons just married while they were leaving the church, also the "vulgar custom" of throwing old shoes into the coach and placing placards on it.

Monsignor Fox strongly advised against the foolish display of flowers at funerals. He declared that no flowers should surround a casket only in the case of an infant. In this case the monsignor said one wreath of white roses or lilies should be placed on the casket as a symbol of the baby's innocence and purity.

The priest told the congregation that there was not sense in the wasteful display of flowers at funerals, and urged the people to discontinue the custom.

Gas Meter Robbers Arrested.

Elizabeth, Jan. 15—Edward Clark, twenty-eight years old, was a prisoner Saturday in police court charged with robbing gas meters. When searched after being arrested $9.85 was found in his pockets which he confessed to have taken out of a gas meter in a house at 82 Court street, Elizabethport. He was remanded to a cell pending further developments. John Cavanagh and Joseph O'Donnell, small boys, were arrested for robbing the gas meter in the house of Gustave Hory, 312 Second street, Elizabethport. Judge Mahon turned them over to Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, the probation officer.

Colby Lawmakers' Conference.

Jersey City, Jan. 15.—The Essex and Hudson lawmakers of the Colby cult met in George L. Record's office here late Friday afternoon to again go over the measures they expect to introduce next Monday night. One of these bills—the Hillery tax act repealer—will be discussed particularly. While all of the conferees agree that the principle of the Hillery act is correct, they object to some of its details, and some of the members are not sure that the proposed repealer should be offered in its present form at least.

Father Pays Daughter's Fine.

Martha Brown, the young colored girl who was fined $10 by Mayor Smalley and given seven days in jail in addition for attempted robbery of a clothes line, was released by the borough police today. The fine was paid by her father, otherwise she would have been sent to Somerville to serve out an equivalent number of days.

FIFTEEN MINUTES TO HERALD SQUARE.

Pennsylvania and Associated Companies to Provide Fast Transit from Newark.

Fifteen minutes from Newark to Herald Square, to Church street, or to Ninth street and Broadway, New York, and establishment of a gigantic trunk line terminal in Harrison, are plans of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. In these things it is working with the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, the McAdoo tunnel companies and the Belmont-Ryan syndicate of New York.

Plans for improved transit between New Jersey's cities and towns west of the Hackensack meadows have been in course of formation for many months. They took definite shape recently when Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Public Service Corporation, announced that a piece of property had been purchased in Park place, opposite Military Park, Newark, as the terminal point of a fast electric care system to be established between Newark and New York.

JAMES DE GRAW STRICKEN.

Well-Known Character Seized With Apoplexy at Bedside.

With his right side entirely paralyzed, James De Graw, brother of Charles De Graw, and one of the best known characters in the center of town, is lying in a critical condition in his home on West Front street. He was seized suddenly Saturday night, as he was about to go to bed.

De Graw prepared for bed at 10:30 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later his brother discovered him lying on the floor at the side of the bed, unconscious. Apoplexy had stricken him, apparently, just as he was about to lie down.

Dr. D. C. Adams was summoned, and has attended him since. He is hopeful of saving his life.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Publication of the Laws.

The fact is recalled by the Mount Holly Mirror that when Franklin Murphy was Governor a delegation of newspaper men waited on him in reference to the publication of the laws in the newspapers, and he suggested that a bill providing for the publication of a synopsis of the laws be prepared and introduced in the Legislature. If that body passed it he would give it his signature. Such a bill went through, but it failed at the point where the Governor was to attach his name. The delegation referred to were influenced less by a desire that the people should be informed as to the sessional laws than by the object of getting official advertising to print. But their motives could not serve to condemn the principle of publication of the laws in a form to avoid unnecessary expense. Governor Murphy's suggestion was business-like. A synopsis of the laws is all that is necessary, and there are many legislative acts, of interest only in certain localities, that need not be promulgated in other localities. To the more important daily papers of the State the publication of the laws in any shape would be of no commercial profit at the rates usually fixed by the State. They would use the publication more particularly as information for their readers. The Paterson Press undertook to print a synopsis of the laws several years ago, but private enterprise in such a matter lacks the essential of certainty in the correctness of the version given. The synopsis should be officially made, and be given out by State authority.—Newark Advertiser.

New Jersey.

Governor Stokes, of New Jersey, in his annual message recommends the licensing of automobile drivers after examination and the revocation of the licenses of lawbreaking drivers. He adds: "It might be provided that deliberate reckless driving, whether of automobiles or horses, resulting in injury to person or property, should be punished by imprisonment." No State has a greater interest than New Jersey, with its magnificent roads and its situation athwart the great lines of travel between New York and Philadelphia, in the repression of the crime of road recklessness and the punishment of manslaughter by speed madness. The message as a whole is disappointing. Governor Stokes recommends fewer laws, the creation of Assembly districts, a Corrupt Practices act based on English and Massachusetts models, forestry reservations, the taxation of railroad "main stems," by and for the State rather than locally—a suggestion that will be severely criticised—and the limitation and taxation of local franchises. But there is nowhere the ringing word to the people of the State calling upon them to rid their Commonwealth of the shame of issuing letters of marque to pirate corporations to prey upon the people of the other States. Governor Stokes has even the effrontery to follow Senator Dryden in the assumption that Federal control of life insurance "is but a question of a few years."—The World.

Fowler Rose to It.

Representative Charles N. Fowler, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, evidently knows a psychological moment when he sees one. It may have been Banker Schiff's Chamber of Commerce "panic" speech, and the subsequent hue and cry for something in the way of currency reform, which created the moment which carried with it so many possibilities for the right man who could do the right thing; but it was a New Jersey representative in Congress who rose to the occasion by introducing a new and improved credit currency bill—in violation apparently of all the so-called understandings that there was to be no financial legislation this winter. It was a most timely act, being pitched into the public eye just when the Schiff and other denunciations of our currency system, and the disaster it is calculated to produce, were still ringing in the ears.

It is too much, of course, to predict now, that the bill, in any form, will become a law at this session. That it, or something like it, ought to pass, there is no gainsaying. It should have fair treatment in the House, with the chairman of the right committee as its sponsor. But whatever the result there, little is to be hoped for in the Senate, where the Committee on Finance has decided, as reported, that nothing beyond a slight amendment to the existing national banking act will be given favorable consideration at this session —the removing the prohibition against retiring to exceed $3,000,000 of bank notes within a month. But whatever happens to this ,the latest Fowler currency bill, one which is planned to furnish flexibility and security and provide for the elimination of the greenbacks, it is enough of an improvement on former Fowler bills to win a still greater indorsement among the bankers of the land.

The present law permits national banks to issue currency to the extent of their capital, secured by government bonds. The new Fowler bill merely prescribes that national banks may issue credit currency equal to half their capital. This is to be secured by a five per cent. fund, which would have been more than enough, as shown by Treasury records, to take good the notes of all failed national banks to date. The tax on these notes, under the Fowler plan, would be only two per cent., which, with the two per cent. it is proposed to have banks pay on deposits of government funds, would go toward the purchase of gold bullion, to be used in retiring the greenbacks, a process which, as projected, would take fifteen or twenty years. It is also planned that government deposits in national banks shall not exceed half the amount of the bank's capital, thus tending to distribute the public funds more generally throughout the country.

From the earlier synopsis of the bill it would seem, therefore, that nothing like inflation is involved. The total of a national bank's currency issue may equal its capital, but only half that may be of the credit variety, it being left to the bank to decide whether to issue both credit and bond secured notes at once. In any case, it would relieve a bank from tying up some of its funds in bonds, when a money strain came. Calling for interest on government deposits should bring friends to the measure and as soon as Representative Fowler makes it clear to objecting bankers and others how his plan for retiring the credit notes will work, it might prove another long step forward in acquiring the needed education to push through this or some similar panic preventer.—Newark News.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." ABOUT PEOPLE.

Senator Knox and his stenographer are frequently at work as early as 5 o'clock in the morning, and by breakfast time the shorthand man has work enough to last him all day.

Nathan Wesley Hale, a Republican Congressman from Tennessee, can claim descent from Oliver Cromwell, and one of his ancestors, General Nathan Towson, was a quartermaster-general under George Washington.

Mrs. Russell Sage sent every one of the 200 laborers of Central Park, New York, $5 as a New Year present, because, as she says, she is pleased to see the excellent condition in which they maintain the drives.

Mme. Marta S. Bramsen, head of the vocal department in a fashionable musical school at Pittsburg, has not worn stockings since she was 14 years old. Her antipathy to hosiery was only discovered recently when she attended a reception at a musical institute, and a careless movement of her gown disclosed a bare foot in a sandal of ancient pattern.

It is asserted that Frank H. Hitchcock, first assistant to the Postmaster-General, has worked from 9 a. m. until midnight for three years, his only vacation in this time consisting of two days to vote.

The New York Tribune Almanac.

Of course, it is possible to worry through life without keeping a Tribune Almanac at your elbow, but is it worth while—does it pay? For 25 cents a year this publication supplies you with a really marvellous amount of information, and the man who has it is an authority in his neighborhood. He doesn't have to be "guessing" or "supposing" about election pluralities, the names of cabinet ministers, Senators, Congressmen, Governors or judges. He doesn't have to depend upon his memory when anything comes up about the big events of the preceding year, or in relation to our army or navy, or sporting records, or, in fact, almost anything else of record worth knowing. If you have never examined The Tribune Almanac just invest a quarter for one, and see how well pleased you'll be. The 1906 one will be on sale January 1, and may be had from your newsdealer, through your local paper or direct from The Tribune Office, New York.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Henrietta Crosman, an actress incomparable in comedy, whose Rosalind in "As You Like It" is acknowledged as the most brilliant interpretation of Shakespeare's delightful heroine that the stage has seen in this generation, will soon appear in this city in "As You Like It," when all admirers of the loftiest and best in dramatic art will have their tastes gratified to the full. Miss Crosman's visit in "As You Like It" is a theatrical offering that ought to awaken wide interest. Her portrayal of Rosalind ranks as the greatest since the time of Adelaide Neilson. New York showed its favor of the actress in Shakespeare by rewarding her with a run of 100 nights, the longest on record. This metropolitan endorsement speaks for the worth of the attraction.

Everybody is talking about the engagement of "Little Johnny Jones" at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday afternoon and night, and it is a foregone conclusion that George M. Cohan's merry singing and dancing players will be greeted by an audience that will test the capacity of this popular place of amusement. "Little Johnny Jones" has enjoyed phenomenal runs in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, but especially in the first named city has this celebrated musical play obtained much vogue, for its tenure of Broadway now numbers thirty-four weeks. The original production will be seen here.

The advance sale of seats for the coming engagement of Lillian Mortimer in "No Mother to Guide Her" opened today and judging by the interest created in this new play of this talented woman the engagement should be a prosperous one. This melodrama bids for public favor by reason of the strength of its natural story, the exciting incidents used for the purpose of giving the star an opportunity of displaying her versatility, for heretofore she has been seen in emotional roles, while this vehicle gives her a character comedy part to furnish laguhs as well as tears in the human interest theme that it furnishes. The play will be at the New Plainfield theatre Thursday night.

The New Plainfield theatre will have for its attraction next Saturday matinee and night Arnold Daly's company in Bernard Shaw's most brilliant and amusing comedy, "You Never Can Tell," and "Candida." Both actor and author have been very much in the public notice during the past few seasons, and there presence in this city will undoubtedly add to the merriment and enjoyment of the theatrical season. "You Never Can Tell" ran for 150 nights at the Garrick theatre, New York. It will be presented here with the original company and production. The company is one of unusual excellence and includes Miss Katherine Grey, Miss Isabelle Urquhart, Miss Hungerford, Miss Bruna, John Findlay, George Farren, Dodson Mitchell, Fred Tyler and Joseph Maddern.

WHERE AUTOS CANNOT GO.

Federal Barrier on a Jersey Road—Defiant Freeholders Back Down.

Morristown, Jan. 15.—There is one highway in New Jersey where automobiles are forbidden. It is the road leading to the Government Powder Works at Picatinny. Major O. H. Mitchell, the commandant, has placed a flagpole in the road, on which waves an American flag, surrounded by signs reading:

o.....o
: NO AUTOMOBILES ALLOWED
o.....o

When Freeholder John D. Smith, of Rockaway, chief of the village fire department and a politician, encountered the obstruction he sent for Major Mitchell and remonstrated, saying that it was against the laws of the State to in any wise obstruct a highway. The Major informed him that the State had ceded the grounds to the Federal Government, and that he had absolute jurisdiction.

Smith called a meeting of the Rockaway authorities, and suggested a trip to the Government works in automobiles to demand that the flagpole be taken down with the trespass notices.

"What's the matter with notifying the Governor," said one. "You know they have soldiers up there, and our Executive can call out the National Guard if necessary to enforce the laws."

Just before the time agreed on to go to Picatinny one freeholder became nervous of visions of bristling cannon. Others became similarly afflicted and the trip was given up. Then they proposed taking the matter before the Morris County Grand Jury.
